The Sacramento State Police Department is currently investigating a bicycle theft series. Seven bicycles have been stolen from various locations on the campus since 9-11-2009. The principle location of the thefts has been in the vicinity of the Library Quad.

The campus community is reminded to lock their bicycles with a heavy duty bicycle lock or chain to deter theft, and to record the make, model and serial number of their bicycles to aid in recovery if their bicycle is stolen.

Additionally, the University Police Department does offer free bicycle licensing to members of the campus community.

The campus community is encouraged to contact the department with any information regarding these thefts by calling the Sacramento State Police Department Dispatch Center at (916) 278-6851. Callers may remain anonymous.
