Subject: Invitation from Provost Sheley to attend Futures Initiative Focus Groups

To all faculty,

I am writing to extend an invitation, on behalf of the Strategic Planning Council (SPC), to participate in a small focus group on shaping our University's future. Looking ahead ten years: What will attract the next generation of students to Sacramento State? What will they experience here? What will their education mean for them when they graduate?

A small number of focus groups that we conducted earlier in the semester provided SPC with exceptional data as we prepare to engage the campus in a new Futures Initiative. Indeed, the focus groups were so successful that SPC is moving to a second round of them scheduled from April 29 to May 8. Again, we seek a cross section of people from the University community.

We invite you to attend one of the many focus groups that we have scheduled. To learn more about the focus groups and to sign up, please visit:
