Change to:

Subject Area (prefix) & Catalog Nbr (course no.): Music 119 C	Title: World Music: Latin America	Units: 03
---	---	---------------------

JUSTIFICATION:
Music 119 has long been a GE course. We are proposing offering Music 119 A (World Music: Asia), Music 119 B (World Music: Africa) and Music 119 C (World Music: The Americas). This would strengthen and expand the range of courses we offer in world music and provide us with an easy way to grow towards offering more courses dealing with international and multicultural topics. This would give us courses that other prospective job prospects could readily be hired to teach.

NEW COURSE DESCRIPTION: (Not to exceed 80 words, and language should conform to catalog copy. See <http://www.csus.edu/acaf/univmanual/crspsl.htm> - Guidelines for Catalog Course Description)

This is a General Education course (C2: Introduction to the Arts) that examines music from cultures in Latin America. Music is examined as a cultural process, a cultural object and as sound. Musical instruments, forms and styles are discussed along with the roles and functions of music. Although traditional music will be emphasized, contemporary and popular music will also be discussed.

REQUIRED TEXT BOOKS and LISTENING CDs

The Garland Handbook of Latin American Music Edited by Dale Olsen and Daniel Sheehy. Garland, 2000. The book includes a listening CD

Also Required: Music 119 Supplemental Listening CD (-on Reserve in the Library Media Area and available)- these are available on line through the library web site and will be made available in class

GRADES

Grades will be determined by writing assignments and tests that are based on material covered in class as well as material in the required books. Approximately 10-15% of your overall grade will be based on listening questions based on the two CDs sold with the textbook AND the Music 119 Supplemental Listening CD that are in the media section of the main library. These are available on line through the library web site and will be made available in class. Course assignments will be weighted in the following manner to determine your final grade

First Test-----	25%
Second Test-----	25%
Concert Reports-----	20%
Final exam-----	30%

DO NOT MISS THE TESTS ! makeup tests are more difficult than regular tests and they can be difficult (or impossible) to schedule. Do not miss the tests.

Final course letter grades will be assigned as follows:

A-----	90-100 %
B-----	78-89 %
C-----	65-77 %
D-----	55-64 %
F-----	below 55 %

Concert Reports

Each student is required to turn in two reports (at least 3-4 pages for each report). Each report will be based on attending a live performance of "Non-Western" music or dance. Concert reports must be submitted in class within one week from the date of the performance. Reports turned in more than one week after the performance will not be graded. Assignments may be turned in early. All reports should be turned in, in class.

The performances that may be used for review are events that have been approved in advance by your instructor. This means events that have been announced in class or events that you have discussed in advance with your instructor. This will include regularly scheduled concerts as well as some general ethnic and multicultural presentations on and off campus.

You are to write a report about the concert you attended. In your report describe what you saw and what you heard. Concentrate on the music as much as possible. Your report should not only make it clear that you really did attend the performance, but that you paid close attention and thought about what you were seeing and hearing.

BE SURE THAT YOUR REPORT ANSWERS THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS:

What did the music sound like and what was your reaction to it? What did the performers do? What happened during the performance ?

Describe the entire concert, not just the first half.

Try to describe the performance in as much detail as possible. Describe individual pieces as well as the overall event. You must include the program for the performance if there is one. It will be returned to you. Describe what actually happened in the concert. Keep in mind that most of you will be attending concerts, performances, events--- but NOT “shows.”

Do not use the word “guy” to describe a person, or a performer.

 ALL REPORTS MUST BE TYPED ***

DO discuss your response to the music, as well as what happened in the performance and the event as a whole. DO NOT spend time discussing how you found the location of the concert, getting to your seat or who was in the audience. DO NOT COPY OR REWRITE THE PROGRAM NOTES! The report must be in your own words and should be related to concepts discussed in class as much as possible. Reports that are very vague (as though written by someone who did not really attend the whole performance) will NOT be given a passing grade. It is up to you to write a convincing report. POORLY WRITTEN REPORTS (poor grammar and spelling) will NOT receive a passing grade.

Write in past tense, and proofread carefully.

There are NO rewrites, take it seriously and do well the first time!
