Description of the Expected Learning Outcomes: Describe outcomes using the following format: "Students will be able to: 1), 2), etc."
See the example at <http://www.csus.edu/acaf/example.htm>

Students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate familiarity with the cycle of teaching: including lesson planning, implementing, reflection and application.
2. Recognize the parts of a lesson, demonstrate their ability to label the parts of observed lessons and then create simple lesson plans that have adaptations for diverse learners.
3. Refine their lesson planning skills by tailoring their lesson plans to the individual needs of their students, the curriculum, and differentiating instruction to the individual needs of diverse learners.
4. Demonstrate an understanding of classroom management and discipline, showing how to guide children toward the goal of self-discipline.
5. Progress through developmental stages of understanding about classroom management and discipline, from awareness, to describing, to categorizing, to generalizing, and finally to making insightful decisions about their own belief systems related to encouraging and supporting (or controlling) children's behavior.
6. Analyze videotapes demonstrating teaching and management styles which incorporate a variety of strategies and both intrinsic and extrinsic motivation systems.
7. Demonstrate a familiarity, on a variety of levels, with models of respectful, supportive, caring, positive classroom communities. The components of these environments will continually be made explicit to the candidates with the goal of encouraging transfer of these methods to their own classrooms.
8. Use guided role-play, vignettes, case-studies, dilemmas, and group problem-solving processes to practice applying appropriate professionalism, decision-making, professional attitudes and dispositions, and professional articulation skills.
9. Differentiate instruction and address the individual needs of diverse learners by making appropriate adaptations to their lesson plans.
10. Demonstrate an ability to work with individual special-needs children in the fieldwork setting.
11. Practice the habit of continual reflection by an ongoing, built-in structure that encourages critical thinking, both backward and forward, at each step in the cycle of teaching.
12. Demonstrates knowledge of key resources available for teachers to meet the needs of diverse students.
13. Seeks, accepts, and utilizes constructive feedback for professional growth.

*Attach a list of the required/recommended course readings and activities [Note: it is understood that these are updated and modified as needed by the instructor(s).] This attachment should be forwarded only to your Dean's office, not Academic Affairs.

Assessment Strategies: A description of the assessment strategies (e.g., portfolios, examinations, performances, pre-and post-tests, conferences with students, student papers) which will be used by the instructor to determine the extent to which students have achieved the learning outcomes noted above:

Assessment will be based upon:

1. Attendance and active participation.
2. Written lesson plans, created in pairs, small groups, and individually, integrated with technology (Taskstream.) and in a variety of formats.
3. Written self-reflection on experiences, connections, skills, and knowledge gained in course and field.
4. Portfolio development, including components of an e-portfolio.
5. Demonstration of the skill of learning professional SELF-evaluation.
6. Discussion of experiences in the field.
