JUSTIFICATION:

At present, the catalogue offerings for BM Vocal Performance and BM Education show only one course apart from Applied Voice specific to a professional career in teaching voice (Diction). Most departments of our size require voice majors to complete a pedagogy course in the degree plan in order to document their complete understanding of the vocal apparatus and vocal teaching methodology (its history and current trends). Other area disciplines such as keyboard and strings offer methods and pedagogy courses.

NEW COURSE DESCRIPTION: (Not to exceed 80 words, and language should conform to catalog copy. See <http://www.csus.edu/acaf/univmanual/crsp1.htm> - Guidelines for Catalog Course Description)

MUSC 136B. Vocal Pedagogy. A study of the methods, problems and practical application of teaching singing. Topics will include the functional unity of the singing voice, pedagogical principles and current methods/resources in voice training, teaching the beginning singer. Designed for Voice majors; others admitted by instructor permission.
