With respect to tests, examinations, graded assignments, deadlines or class participation that may have a significant impact on grading, instructors shall reasonably accommodate students’ planned absence(s) for religious observance(s). Students shall make a good faith effort to notify their instructor(s) as soon as possible when seeking such accommodation. For requirements published in the course syllabus, students are strongly encouraged to request accommodation before the end of the open add deadline (adds without petition). For class requirements announced after the open add deadline, students are strongly encouraged to notify their instructor(s) by the end of the class period following the announcement.