SUBJECT: Recruitment for Committee Membership for the 2009-2010 Academic Year

Faculty membership on Senate committees and subcommittees as well as membership on university committees provide for faculty representation in the governance of California State University, Sacramento. As a member of a Faculty Senate committee and subcommittee you will be involved in the development and oversight of the policies and programs relating to academic standards, faculty development and professional activities, our instructional programs, and general education and graduation requirements. Membership on university committees provides opportunities for you to be involved in the development and oversight of policies and programs covering all other aspects of university life.

Faculty service is important at all levels of the University, providing for faculty participation in decision-making affecting all aspects of our campus community. Through these service involvements, we insure that a faculty voice is represented in the governance of our University. This service adds value to the University and in so doing fulfills an essential faculty role and responsibility as articulated in our ARTP Policy (Section 5.05H).
