RE: Revisions to Student Rights and Responsibilities and approval of revisions to various faculty policies

Student Rights and Responsibilities

The Academic Policies Committee voted on March 16, 2012 to approve the following changes to the Student Rights and Responsibilities policy (see attached). A summary of the changes is given below:

- Student responsibilities section, which states, “It is the student’s right and responsibility to know the policies, procedures, standards, and regulations which affect student rights; and it shall be the student’s responsibility to obtain and act appropriately on such information. Ignorance of the information made accessible to the student shall not be cause to waive policies, procedures, standards, and regulations.” was moved the preamble, to be placed after the fourth paragraph.
- The following statement, “That graduating seniors have the right to complete all requirements for a course before Commencement.” under the Right in the Classroom section should be placed in the Faculty Responsibilities to Students in the Instructional Environment

Attached is the revised documents with changes noted and where the policy is superseded/overlaps with existing campus policy. Also, at the end, I have included the revised document as it would appear in the University Policy Manual.

Preamble This University exists to provide an opportunity for education to enable students to live a more perceptive and fulfilling life. Its aim is to inspire them in creative and critical thinking and to encourage them to contribute their ideas for the improvement of the society in which they live. Basic to the achievement of these purposes is freedom of expression and communication. Without this freedom, effective sifting and testing of ideas ceases, and research, teaching and learning are stifled. Knowledge is as broad and diverse as life itself, and the need for freedom is equally broad. The University always must strive to strike that balance between maximum freedom and necessary order which best promotes its basic purposes by providing the environment most conducive to the many- faceted activities of research, teaching, and learning. Upon enrollment, the student becomes a member of the academic community and thereby accepts both the rights and responsibilities associated with that membership. As a member of the academic community, students have the right to challenge any attempt to deprive them of their rights, either as a citizen or as a student. The policies and procedures contained in this document attempt to define both the students' freedom and the limits to those freedoms rights and responsibilities. Statement of Student Rights and Responsibilities is subject to and limited by all applicable regulations of the Constitution of the United States and of state law, including regulations passed by the Trustees of the California State University and local campus regulations duly instituted by the President of the University. It is the student's right and responsibility to know the policies, procedures, standards, and regulations which affect student rights; and it shall be the student's responsibility to obtain and act appropriately on such information. Ignorance of the information made accessible to the student shall not be cause to waive policies, procedures, standards, and regulations. The campus is not a sanctuary immune from civil law and authority, and students may be prosecuted for violation of the law, whether an action occurs on the campus or off; however, University sanctions will be imposed only for those violations that interfere with University functions. It is the responsibility of each student, faculty, administrative, and staff person to adhere to all policies in this document. A number of policies are in place to protect student rights and to facilitate the definition of student responsibilities at California State University, Sacramento. (hereafter referred to as Sacramento State). The following statements sections of California State University, Sacramento's policy manual contain those policies. Students are encouraged to carefully review the policies below in order to be informed of their rights and responsibilities. are set forth:	The changes to the preamble adopted by APC are in bold. A single strikethrough is used to identify language that was removed in the preamble. All of the items below the preamble are to be stricken, except for the links to existing policies.

Rights in the Classroom The classroom is the essential part of the University, and the freedom to learn should be promoted and encouraged by the instructor. Students have the right to assume and expect: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • That they will be evaluated solely on an academic basis, not on opinions or conduct in matters unrelated to academic standards. Students will be free to take reasoned exception to the data or views offered in any course of study and to reserve judgment about matters of opinion, but they are responsible for learning the content of any course of study for which they are enrolled. • That they will receive thoughtfully prepared presentations which are purposefully related to the stated objectives of the course, consonant with the description in the University catalog. • That instructors will inform them of the course requirements, the methods to be employed in determining the final course grade, and of any special requirements, including attendance, prior to the last day to drop a course without penalty. • That they will be provided with an opportunity to review and discuss any graded examinations and papers. It is expected that examinations will be graded within a sufficiently appropriate time to make the examinations part of the student's learning experience. Students have the right to review and discuss all tests and papers by the last academic day of each semester, if feasible. *Faculty must keep all examinations and papers submitted by students for at least one semester after the completion of the course to enable students to review their work if it was not possible for this review to take place by the last academic day of the semester as noted above. • That all instructors will meet their classes regularly and at scheduled times and that an effort will be made to notify students when class is not being held or when an instructor is to be late. • That all instructors will provide a reasonable proportion of time for student conferences, and office hours for these student conferences shall be posted and adhered to. • That their course grade represents the instructor's good-faith judgment of the student's performance in the course. (A lack of good faith may be established by adequate demonstration that a grade was based on something other than the student's performance in the class, as outlined in grievance procedures. 	Contract Statement on Faculty Responsibilities and Professional Ethics Student Grade Appeal Process (2010) Contract Statement on Faculty Responsibilities and Professional Ethics Student Grade Appeal Process (2010)

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • That unjustified failure of the instructor to meet classes, repeated lack of preparation which results in incompetent performance by the instructor, or discrimination against a student because of his or her race, religion, creed, sex, national origin, ethnic background, political affiliation, economic status, handicap, or age, is a legitimate ground for student complaint to the department, or division, or the dean of the college. • That they may participate in procedures designed to solicit their opinion on teaching effectiveness. The school/division deans/chairs, with adequate input from faculty and students, shall be responsible for developing procedures for obtaining and utilizing student opinion on teaching effectiveness. The results may be made available by the department. • That race, ethnicity, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, marital status, pregnancy, age, disability or veteran status shall not be used in a derogatory manner in the classroom. • That graduating seniors have the right to complete all requirements for a course before Commencement. • That they not be given tests or additional work beyond what has already been assigned during the week prior to final examinations of each semester. With the permission of the instructor, graduating seniors may waive the rights stated in Section K. Right to Privacy <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The student has a right to protection against improper disclosure of information concerning grades, personal views, beliefs, political associations, health, counseling, or character which any faculty, administrative, or staff person acquires in the course of his/her professional relationship with the student. Exceptions will be made only where law dictates. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> o To minimize the risk of improper disclosure of information contained in a student's cumulative record file, separate files shall be kept for each student. The conditions of access to each individual's file shall be contained in a policy statement available in the office of the Vice President of Student Affairs. Transcripts of academic records will contain only information about academic status and performance. Disciplinary status will be added to transcripts only when authorized by the President, with notification to the student. Information from cumulative record files will not be available to any person, on-campus or off-campus, without the express written consent of the student involved except where authorized by law. Provision shall be made, in accordance with state law, for routine destruction of non-current disciplinary records in accordance with the "Policy on Disciplinary Records" on file in the office of the Vice President of Student Affairs. o Students shall have the right to see all cumulative record files pertaining to them and the right to include a response to any information contained therein. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Members of the University community enjoy rights of privacy in their living quarters as do members of the general community. The rooms of University residency students shall not be searched and personal possessions of students shall not be seized unless authorized by University regulations as stated in the housing license or by laws of California. Routine sanitary inspection may be conducted by campus officials in on-campus housing when they are accompanied by resident assistants, but only upon prior notice of at least 24 hours. The student must be present during any search or inspection by University officials. Rights to Freedom of Association Students are free to organize, join associations, and promote their common interests. Students shall be free to discuss openly all questions of interest to them; and to express their opinions publicly or privately. The membership policies and actions of Sacramento State student organizations will be determined by those students who hold bona fide membership in the University, as long as they are non-discriminatory and in accordance with law, Trustee, and University policy. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • No student, shall, on the basis of sex, race, religion, national origin, creed, ethnic background, political affiliation, economic status, handicap, or age, be denied the benefits of participation in student organizations at Sacramento State. 	CMS Implementation Student Conduct Procedures Notice to Students of their Rights Under (FERPA) Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act. Housing Contract Office of Student Organizations and Leadership Discrimination Complaint Procedures for Current Students or Applicants for Admission Student Conduct Code

Student organizations and interest groups are required to submit a current list of officers, a statement of non-discrimination, and a faculty advisor where appropriate, to the Vice President of Student Affairs or designee. They are not required to submit a list of members as a condition of recognition. Students and student organizations are free to invite and to hear any person of their choosing. However, speakers or programs funded from mandatory student body fees are subject to prior review to assure conformance to Trustee and campus policy. If campus facilities are needed and available, the scheduling procedure will insure order and adequate preparation for the event, but in no instance will the University be used as a device for censorship or restraint beyond valid Trustee regulation, University policy, or law. The students, through their official governing body, the Associated Students of California State University, Sacramento, have the right to an effective and representative role in expressing their wishes.
