Dear [Student Name],

The Psychology Department at Sacramento State University was declared impacted by the Chancellor’s Office in Fall of 2012. In order to declare the Psychology Major, all interested students must go through an application process. You have received this message due to having an academic plan of Expressed Interest in Psychology. Currently you are NOT a Psychology major.

There are requirements that need to be met before applying to the Psychology program:

1. Get admitted to Sacramento State University
2. Complete PSYC 2 (Introductory Psychology) within two attempts with a “C” or above.
3. Complete 30 units of college coursework.
4. Have a cumulative GPA of 2.3 in all college coursework.

The next application cycle will begin on September 22 and it will close on October 17. Decisions will be e-mailed by November 7.

All students interested in applying to the major are strongly encouraged to attend an Information Session to go over the application requirements in more detail, application process, transcripts needed, and supplemental application. These will be held on:

• September 18; 5:30pm – 6:30pm; AMD 252
• October 1; 5:30pm – 6:30pm; AMD 262
• October 14; 5:30pm – 6:30pm; AMD 217

For additional information about program impaction, application requirements, and accessing the supplemental application, please visit our website at www.csus.edu/psyc or contact Cheryl Lugo at clugo@csus.edu.
