

Residence halls moving forward

The University's goal of becoming a more residential campus takes a big step forward this week, as would-be developers of new apartment-style residence halls visit campus to refine their proposals.

The developers will be here this Tuesday for a site visit that's required of any firm hoping to handle the project. They'll have a chance to ask questions of CSUS officials and get a firsthand look at the location before submitting their proposals in late April.

At least one new structure is expected to be built and ready to house students by fall 2007. The remainder will likely be finished within the following four years.

Eventually, as many as 5,000 students will be able to live on campus, up from just 1,100 now.

The complete rebuilding of residence halls is part of CSUS President Alexander Gonzalez' "Destination 2010" initiative. Allowing more students to live on campus is a key part of the effort, which seeks to make the University a "destination campus for the West and a flagship of the CSU system."

Matthew Altier, the University's associate vice president for facilities management, says the top three or four proposals will be scrutinized by a campus committee, with the winner chosen in the fall. It will then be taken to the CSU Board of Trustees to seek approval.

More than 30 developers have been given a series of requirements for what the project should include, but they will have a lot of flexibility about how it should be done. The developer will be responsible both for building new halls and tearing down the old ones.

The project is expected to be completed in stages so that student housing doesn't dip below its current level. It will also be self-funded, so it won't require waiting for state bonds or other funds to become available.

Altier says the self-funding approach is the key to making the residence hall project happen sooner rather than later.

Though other options are possible, in all likelihood the land would be leased to the developer, who would then either lease the buildings back to CSUS or collect rent from students. After an agreed-upon number of years, the University would take ownership of the buildings.

Photo by Steve McKay

SURFIN' SAFARI – With a laptop or PDA and a SacLink account, the world is available via the Internet from Riverfront Center, the Library Quad, the Outdoor Theatre, the Library, Tahoe Hall, and other indoor and outdoor locations on campus over the University's expanded wireless network.

Wireless network makes outdoor surfing possible

CSUS students and faculty will likely be engaging in a new rite of spring this year as they find that they can enjoy the sunshine and stay connected to the Internet in ever-increasing outside areas around campus.

Members of the campus community, equipped with a laptop or a personal digital assistant (PDA) and a wireless network card, can now connect to the campus network while enjoying a mocha outside of the Riverfront Center, having lunch around the fountain in the Library Quad, stretching out in the shade of the redwoods near the Outpost and Outdoor Theatre, or lying on the lawn between the University Library and Tahoe Hall.

"We're curious to see how much outside use there'll be as students become aware of the access," says David Hill, director of University computing and communications. The University has been growing its wireless network incrementally over the last few years. Currently 22 campus buildings have wireless connectivity in at least part of the building and the invisible web of connectivity is covering larger areas outdoors. Users can be assured the data they transmit is secured if they use Virtual Personal Network, or VPN, software that

See WIRELESS, Page 4

Luncheon to honor staff

The annual Staff Employees Award Luncheon will be from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 27 in the University Union Ballroom

The event will honor CSUS staff and administrators as well as employees of the CSUS Foundation for 10, 15, 20, 25 30 and 35 years of service. Tickets are $8 per person and must be purchased before April 16. They will not be available at the door.

See STAFF AWARDS, Page 2

Survey: Region still divided on Iraq War

One year after the U.S.-led coalition began its invasion of Iraq, Capital Region residents remain divided about whether it was a good idea, according to a survey released last week by researchers at CSUS.

The survey found 50 percent of the region's residents think the Iraq War was worthwhile, down from 52 percent last year, while 45 percent think the war wasn't worth it, up from 42 percent last year. That's similar to a national Gallup Poll in late January showing 49 percent of Americans approve of the Iraq War and 49 percent do not.

The survey also found President Bush losing overall support in the region, from 57 percent last year to 50 percent this year.

About half continue to support the president's handling of the situation with Iraq (46 percent in 2003 and 2004) and his handling of the economy (48 percent in 2004 vs. 47 percent in 2003). But just 36 percent approve of his handling of the budget, 34 percent approve of his handling of Social Security and 31 percent approve of his handling of Medicare.

The findings are from the third "Annual Survey of Public Opinion and Life Quality in the Sacramento Region," conducted by sociology professor Amy Liu and more than 30 students. It covers El Dorado, Placer, Sacramento and Yolo counties.

The findings on Iraq and President Bush are the first portions of the survey to be analyzed and released.

In Sacramento and Yolo counties, approval for the war is 48 percent and 31 percent respectively, while in El Dorado and Placer counties support is 68 percent and 57 percent. Republicans (80 percent) and Caucasians (55 percent) showed stronger support than Democrats (26 percent), voters of other parties (43 percent) and ethnic minorities (38 percent).

The survey included 1,003 randomly selected adults in the Capital Region who were interviewed from Feb. 7 to March 2. The margin of error is 3 percent.

The full report is available from the news release at www.csus.edu/news.

Students to kick off rec center campaign

Associated Students will host a day of activities on Tuesday, March 23 to inform the campus and the community about plans to make the proposed Recreation/Wellness/Events Center a reality for the campus. Students will vote on the project during the ASI elections April 27-28.

Tuesday's events will begin at 10 a.m. with a news conference near the proposed site of the planned complex at the Field House on the north of Hornet Stadium. ASI President Peter Ucovich, University President Alexander Gonzalez, and other members of the campus community will announce the launch of the campaign and plans for the project.

The news conference will be followed at noon by a rally in the Library Quad. The festivities will close with a 5 p.m. concert in the Residence Halls Quad.

For more information, contact Peter Ucovich at 224-5972.

professional activities

The CSUS Bulletin welcomes submissions to the Professional Activities Section from faculty, administration and staff. Items are run on a space available basis. They should be no longer than 75 words and may be submitted to bulletin@csus.edu or faxed to 278-5290.

students

MATT NICHOLS, graduate student, history, presented "Language, Learning and National Identity: English-Only Education in Wales, 1847-1870" at the 26th annual University of California International Celtic Studies Conference at UCLA, March 4-7.

in the news

BARBARA O'CONNOR, communication studies, was quoted in the San Francisco Chronicle on Oct. 24 on Gray Davis' last minute political appointments and on Oct. 28 on Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger's pledge of a more open government. The Sacramento Bee quoted her on Oct. 16 on television stations opening news bureaus in Sacramento and on Oct. 22 on independent voters. She was on KCRA

Channel 3, on Nov. 20 discussing John F. Kennedy's assassination. She was also quoted in the Sacramento Bee in a Nov. 2 article on the demise of plans for a downtown arena, a Nov. 5 article on Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger's Sacramento living plans, a Nov. 23 article on the spending habits of the Sacramento City Council and a Nov. 29 article on Schwarzenegger lobbying the legislature. The San Jose Mercury News quoted her in a Nov. 2 article on the political benefits of disaster management.

NICK EWING, biological sciences, was quoted in the Sacramento Bee and on KXJZ on Dec. 19 on problems with biotech tomatoes and on Dec. 31 in the Sacramento Bee on the effect of those problems on his research.

KEN FUTERNICK, teacher education, was on KFBK on Dec. 3 discussing the need for qualified teachers in classrooms.

MATTHEW NEWMAN, California Institute for County Government, was on KFBK on Dec. 12 and KXJZ on Dec. 19 discussing the job outlook for California. He was also quoted in Sacramento Bee articles on Dec. 7 and Dec. 20 on regional housing prices.

AYAD AL-QAZZAZ, sociology, was on KOVR Channel 13 on Dec. 15 talking about the capture of Saddam Hussein.

HARRY CHAMBERS, history, was on KMAX Channel 31 on Dec. 15 talking about the capture of Saddam Hussein.

JOHN SYER, government, was on KFBK on Dec. 17 talking about the capture of Saddam Hussein. He was also quoted in a Dec. 5 Placerville Mountain Democrat article on Democratic politics.

DUANE CAMPBELL, bilingual/multicultural education, was new faces

ANNE BRADLEY
Business reference librarian

Background and expertise

Bradley earned a master's degree in library information science from the University of Washington and a bachelor's degree from the University of North Dakota. She comes to CSUS from Saint Louis University where she served as a reference librarian. Her areas of expertise include assisting research using library electronic and print materials.

JESSICA HOWELL

Assistant professor of economics

Background and expertise

Howell's expertise includes labor, economics of education, and cross-section econometrics. She holds a bachelor's degree in economics from James Madison University and a master's degree in economics from Miami University of Ohio. She earned a doctorate in economics from the University of Virginia.

on KXTV Channel 10 on Dec. 19 talking about the impact of Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger's budget cuts on student outreach programs.

ROBERT METCALF, biological sciences, was quoted in a December Comstock's article on solar cooker use in developing countries.

Staff awards

Continued from page 1

To purchase tickets contact: Julie Bard at 278-7001, Arlette Barnard at 278-4339, Amanda Cruz-Golberg at 278-6326, Jody Gayvert at 278-6297, Lillie Jones at 278-3635, Denise Nicholls at 278-6127, Barbara Oseto at 278-5694, Katy Romo at 278-7012 and Shirley Vicari at 278-6923.

Those to be honored are:

Academic Affairs 15 years

Judith Dean, Services to Students with Disabilities
20 years
Elsa Favila, Vice President's Office
La Tina Gago, Center for Teaching and Learning
Sabina Wilford, Services to Students with Disabilities
25 years
Richard Torres, EOP (2001)

Administration and Business Affairs 10 years

Jane Chan, Management Services
Randy Davis, Mail Services
Patricia Evans, UTAPS
15 years

Monica Flood, Management Services
Michael Gill, Budget Planning and Administration
Ronald Grant, Support Services
20 years

Nancy McCarty, Accounting Services
25 years

Teresa Mills, Payroll
Sarah Whyte, Vice President's Office
30 years
Irene Webb, Payroll

Computing, Communications and Media Services 10 years

Robert Doolin, UCCS
James Lew, UCCS
Carl Sanger, UCCS
Brian Smyth, UCCS
15 years

Randy Kirkbride, UMS
Robert Matthews, UTS
Merle Rae Meusborn, UMS
Gregory Porter, UTS
Adoracion Rominque, UMS
20 years

Kenneth Montgomery, UCCS
Linda Orozco, UCCS
Tony Wiench, UCCS
25 years
Gary Dunham, UCCS
30 years
Jenny Miller, UMS
Stephen Sparks, UMS

College of Arts and Letters 20 years

Karen Fujii, Humanities and Religious Studies (2000)
25 years
Teresa Gomez, Music
C. Willard Haynes, II, Theatre Arts
Rose Perez, Foreign Languages (2002)
Nancy Tooker, Dean's Office
Baldwin Wong, Music
35 years
Elaine Maeda, English

College of Business Administration 15 years

Carol Downey, Office of Student Affairs
Lizza Roy, Associate Dean's Office
25 years
Valerie Davis, Degree Program Center

College of Continuing Education 10 years

Alice Tom, Dean
15 years
Maria Crandall, Administrative Operations
Rina DeRose-Swinscoe, Program Dev. and Sup.

Susan Gonzalez, Conference and Training Services
Scott Holliday, Marketing
Barbara Lowell, Conference and Training Services
20 years

Babette Jimenez, Program Dev. and Sup.

College of Engineering and Computer Science 15 years

Marianna Rivera, MESA
Bruce Scott, Dean's Office
25 years
Cecilia Mattiuzzi, Dean's Office

College of Education 15 years

Suzanne Lunstead, Dean's Office

College of Health and Human Services 10 years

Roberta Fleet, Nursing
Adrienne Thompson, Social Work

College of Natural Science and Mathematics 10 years

Laurice Heflin, Dean's Office
Pamela King, Science Educational Equity
15 years
Sharon Jordan, Mathematics and Statistics
20 years
Steve Frank, Chemistry
25 years
Jana Shober, Biological Sciences

College of Social Sciences and Interdisciplinary Studies 10 years

Frank Preuss, ITC Shop
Marsha Robinson, Environmental Studies

Facilities Management 10 years

Steven Borden, Custodial Services
Fe Dasalla, Custodial Services
Robert Gardner, Engineering Services
Linda Hafar, Utilities and Facilities
Emiliano Julian, Jr., Custodial Services
Eric McWilliams, Custodial Services
Rolando Nonog, Custodial Services
Paul Serafimidis, Engineering Services
Frank Williams, Custodial Services
Yoon Yum, Housing and Residential Life
15 years

John Irwin, Building Trades
Rick Pasalo, Custodial Services
Paul Williams, Custodial Services
20 years
David Prato, Housing and Residential Life

Kevin Simpson, Engineering Services
Rosetta Thomas, Housing and Residential Life
25 years

James Knight, Custodial Services
Oscar Untalasco, Custodial Services
30 years
Bo Caballero, Grounds
Rodolfo Opinaldo, Custodial Services
35 years

Roy C. Almeda, Custodial Services

CSUS Associated Students 15 years

Cindi Dular, CSUS Aquatic Center

CSUS Foundation 10 years

Margaret Hannah, Water Programs
Juanita Ruiz, Grants and Contracts
15 years
Michael Babiarz, Dining Commons
Desiree Baker, Central Dining Services
Teresa L. Dean, Central Dining Services
Annamarie Hildebrand, Payroll
Thomas Jenkins, Business Services
Edward Lee, University Union
Dining Services
Scarlet Maurin, Academic Talent Search

Nancy Pennebaker, Marketing
Richard Popovich, Building Services
Rolando Pungan, University Union
Brenda Rivero, Business Services
Laura Romero, Bookstore
Rosanna Smith, Business Services
Robertta Van Hill, Central Dining Services
Helen Winchester, Risk Management
20 years

Larry Harrison, Central Dining Services
Kathy Marcum, Payroll
25 years
Steve Robinson, Dining Commons
30 years
Doris Gorin, Bookstore

University Library 15 years

Fred Batt, Administration
Richard Cotenos, Bibliographic Control
Erika Keyser, Bibliographic Control
Tamara Trujillo, Administration
20 years
Lynn O'Farrell, Reference
Ellen Young, Budget/Procurement
30 years
Pairlee Berry, Information Systems
Inez Curtin, Bibliographic Control
Donna Gollihur, Acquisitions

Human Resources 15 years

Anita Bird, Faculty Affairs (2001)
20 years
Mary Ford, Staff Affairs
25 years
Sheila Orman, Faculty Affairs
30 years
Fran Sato, Staff Affairs

President's Office 15 years

Celene Harwell, President's Office
Tim Hodson, Center for California Studies (2001)

Student Affairs 10 years

Barbara Angle, Admissions and Records
Steven Iwasa, Athletics
Kimberly Kernan, Admissions and Records
15 years
Jane Heaton, Residence Halls
Debra Preciado, University Outreach
20 years
Boyana Barbula, Admissions and Records
Gary Belchamber, Financial Aid
Philip Siegel, Student Health Center
Lee Wright, Financial Aid
25 years

Laurie Bisset Grady, Student Health Center
Eva Gabbe, Career Center
Edward Perhay, Academic Advising
30 years
Raymond Grant, Admissions and Records
Barbara Oseto, Vice President's Office
Joanne Reilly, Student Activities
Shirley Uplinger, Vice President for Student Affairs

University Affairs 10 years

Susan Garcia, University Advancement
Ann Reed, Public Affairs

CSUS bulletin

Volume 10, Number 24

The Office of University Affairs
California State University,
Sacramento
6000 J Street
Sacramento, CA 95819-6026

Vice President, University Affairs
Robert G. Jones
Associate Vice President,
Public Affairs
Ann Reed

Writers
Laurie Hall
Steve McKay
Frank Whitlatch
Student Interns
Terry Filipowicz
Matt Nichols
Tim Wright

Director of Publications
Geri Welch
Design
Sharon M. Okada

TO SUBMIT MATERIAL FOR PUBLICATION:

The CSUS Bulletin is published on Mondays of the academic year. Campus news may be submitted by e-mail to bulletin@csus.edu or may be delivered on disk or paper to Public Affairs, Sacramento Hall Room 215, campus mail code 6026. Deadline for all materials is 10 a.m. on the Wednesday before publication. Items will be published on a space available basis and are subject to editing. Writing should be in news style, short and direct. For inquiries call (916) 278-6156.

Local fly-fishing classic gets an update

Thanks in part to floods and pesky acquaintances, anglers on the North Yuba River will soon have another chance to read the fly-fishing wisdom of Ed Klingelhofer, who has fished the river for 35 years.

The retired CSUS psychology professor has printed an addendum to his Fly-Fishing California's North Yuba River, an underground classic among locals. It's being sold with a reprint of the original, of which just 1,500 were originally available in 1993.

"It has tips that have worked for me, and information on how to access the river. It's the only book I know of that has that kind of information about the North Yuba River," Klingelhofer says. "And I have to admit, I enjoyed the research."

The book and addendum are packed with illustrations by one of Klingelhofer's longtime fishing buddies, Robert Else, a prominent Sacramento artist and retired CSUS professor.

Klingelhofer says the update was needed because of changes since the first book was published, the most important being the floods of 1997, which greatly altered the streams. The limited printing of the original book only intensified demand for a new edition, with the clincher coming from a request by a woman whose friend wouldn't let her use his tattered copy.

Just as when it was first published, all profits will be donated. The first edition profits bolstered a scholarship in Doug Michell's name at CSUS, and profits from this printing will go to the Sierra County Arts Council. If all the books sell, that could be as much as $10,000.

Klingelhofer has printed 1,500 sets of the original book and addendum. They're $15 at select local businesses in Downieville, Nevada City and Grass Valley, as well as the CSUS Hornet Bookstore and two Sacramento fly-fishing shops—American Fly Fishing and Kiene's Fly Shop. For those who already own the original, the addendums are available separately from the author.

For more, including a complete list of businesses carrying the book, visit Klingelhofer's website at <http://webpages.csus.edu/~salmo>, or contact him at 485-8454 or salmo@csus.edu.

— Frank Whitlatch

COBY offers self-service books

The University Library has a speedy new way for faculty, staff, and students to check out books.

The system is called Check Out Books Yourself, or COBY. The machine is designed much like an automated teller machine, requiring a One Card and a personal identification number. It sits next to the circulation desk on the Library's first floor.

The name COBY was an original idea from one of the 206 students who submitted names in the library's contest to title the new machine. Child development student Terri Stove won for "COBY" and received a $50 gift certificate to the bookstore. Five honorable mentions were given for the suggestions of Otto, Scott or Scot, Alice, E-go, and Hal.

Access service librarian Rhonda Rios Kravitz says the library hopes the campus community will utilize COBY. "It's fun. It's easy. It's convenient," she says.

Dolores Huerta brings her message to campus

Civil rights icon Dolores Huerta will give a free talk as part of the University's Women's History Month celebrations. Huerta will speak in the University Union Ballroom at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, March 25.

Huerta, 73, perhaps best known for her role as a co-founder of the United Farm Workers of America in 1962, began her civil rights activism in 1955 when she helped found the Stockton chapter of the Community Service Organization. There she fought segregation and police brutality, led voter registration drives, pushed for improved public services and worked to enact new legislation.

She became involved in farm worker rights in 1960 and successfully fought to extend Aid to Families with Dependent Children to them in 1963. In 1962 she joined with Cesar Chavez to create the National Farm Workers Association which later became the UFW.

Huerta has been repeatedly honored for her work in labor and civil rights activism. Those honors include the American Civil Liberties Union's Roger Baldwin Medal of Liberty Award, the Eugene V. Debs Foundation's Outstanding American Award, the Ellis Island Medal of Freedom Award and induction into the National Women's Hall of Fame.

In 1998 she was named one of the "100 Most Important Women of the 20th Century" by Ladies' Home Journal and she is currently vice president of the Coalition for Labor Union Women, vice-president of the California AFL-CIO, and a member of the Fund for the Feminist Majority which advocates for political and equal rights for women.

For more information, call 278-7388 or visit the CSUS Women's Resource Center's website at www.csus.edu/wrc.

news digest

■ CARNEGIE CONCERT PREVIEW

The CSUS Symphonic Wind Ensemble will perform an identical program to its upcoming concert at Carnegie Hall at 7:30 p.m., Monday, March 29 in the Music Recital Hall in Capistrano Hall.

Tickets are $8 general, $5 students and seniors, and available from the CSUS Ticket Office at 278-4323 or Tickets.com.

The ensemble will play at Carnegie Hall on April 13 as part of the New York Wind Band Festival, and is continuing its fundraising efforts for the trip. To make a donation, call Gary Montgomery at 278-5547.

Details: 278-5155.

■ PSYCHOLOGIST DISCUSSES COLUMBINE

Renowned psychologist and author Elliot Aronson discusses the 1999 shootings at Columbine High School at 3 p.m., Wednesday, March 24 in Amador Hall 150.

In a lecture titled "The Elephant in the Living Room: How the Columbine Massacre

Could Have Been Prevented," Aronson will also discuss ways to prevent future incidents of student-on-student violence.

An award-winning teacher, writer and researcher, Aronson is professor emeritus of psychology at UC Santa Cruz and visiting professor at Stanford University. He was also named one of the 100 most eminent psychologists of the 20th century by the American Psychological Association.

Details: 278-6254.

■ EDUCATOR EXPO

Representatives from more than 67 school districts will attend the Career Center's upcoming Educator Expo, Monday, April 5 in the University Union Ballroom. The Expo will open to CSUS students and alumni at 9 a.m., and to the general public at 10:30 a.m., with interviews being held throughout the day. Interview slots will be limited so candidates are encouraged to arrive early.

Details: www.csus.edu/careercenter or 278-6231.

■ GEO TALKS

The geology department's spring colloquium series continues April 27 with a talk by graduate student Robert Burns. All talks are at 4 p.m., Tuesday in Placer Hall 1013, followed by a short reception in the Placer Hall Commons Room on the second floor. The remaining schedule is:

- April 27, Robert Burns, CSUS graduate geology student, "Examining Flood Frequency and Magnitude Relationships in the Cosumnes and Mokelumne River Watersheds Using Regression Techniques"

- May 4, Mark List, CSUS graduate geology student, "Geologic Remote Sensing and GIS Evaluation of Mammoth Mountain, California: Mapping Spatial and Temporal Variations in Volcanogenic CO₂-Induced Tree Kills, 1989 to Present"

- Also May 4, Eric Morita, CSUS graduate geology student, "The Relationship Between Streambed Topography, Hyporheic Flow, and Pore Water Geochemistry on the Lower American River, Sacramento."

Details: 278-6337

■ HONORING EISNER

The Sacramento Gold Country Chamber Orchestra's 2003-04 season will end with Beethoven's 9th Symphony (Ode to Joy) in honor of Bob Eisner, a retired CSUS foreign languages professor who died March 9. Eisner was a board member and treasurer of the orchestra.

The concert will be 8 p.m., Thursday, March 25 at Jackson Hall of the Mondavi Center at UC Davis. It will be preceded by a pre-concert talk at 7 p.m.

Tickets are $25 general, $20 seniors, $15 students and children and can be purchased by calling the Mondavi Center Ticket Office at (530) 754-ARTS or (866) 754-ARTS.

■ ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

The CSUS chapter of the National Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi will hold its annual reception and banquet for new members at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, April 24 in the University Union Ballroom.

Scholarships totaling $2,000 will be awarded to students. President Alexander Gonzalez, as well as deans and other members of Phi Kappa Phi, will participate. This year's Outstanding Faculty Initiate will also be named.

Details: Joseph DiGiorgio at 278-6600 or jbdig@csus.edu.

■ OLYMPIC TRIALS PARKING

Special parking arrangements will be in place during the U.S. Olympic Track and Field Trials, on campus July 9-18.

During the event, most campus parking will be limited to the north end of campus. Daily parking permits will only be allowed for a designated portion of Lot 2. Employees and students may purchase temporary one-week permits for $6.75 or summer permits for $72.

A campus map illustrating planned parking arrangements is available at www.csus.edu/utaps.

Details: Nancy Fox at 278-5241 or Ron Grant at 278-6014.

All events are free unless otherwise noted. For a complete events calendar click on www.csus.edu/events.

ongoing

Exhibit, photography by Rachel Brault, 8 a.m. - 9 p.m., Mon. - Fri., Java City Coffee House, University Union. (916) 278-6997.

Exhibit, "April Greiman: Graphic Design Work," Festival of the Arts, Design Gallery, Mariposa 5000, call (916) 278-3962 for gallery hours. Continues to April 2.

monday, march 22

Athletics, Baseball vs. UC Riverside, 1 p.m., Hornet Field. $10 reserved/$5 general/$2 youth. Tickets at the field (916) 278-6481.

Exhibit, works by studio art graduate student Mike Rowden, Festival of the Arts, noon - 4:30 p.m., Mon. - Fri., Else Gallery. (916) 278-6166. Continues to April 2.

Lecture, "Drinking from the Fountain of History: Giving Black Women Their Due," Patricia Washington, Women's History Month, noon, University Union Orchard Suite. (916) 278-7388.

tuesday, march 23

Athletics, Softball vs. Tennessee State, 1 p.m., CSUS Shea Stadium. $10 reserved/$5 general/$2 youth. Tickets at the field (916) 278-6481.

Lecture, "The Role of the Arts in a Democratic Society," CSUS president Alexander Gonzalez, Festival of the Arts, 6:30 p.m., University Union Hinde Auditorium. Reception follows in University Union Forest Suite. (916) 278-6997.

"Decorate Your Speculum," Women's History Month, 10 a.m. - 2 p.m., University Union Lobby. (916) 278-7388.

Panel discussion, "The Iraq War: A Year Later," CSUS professors

OUTSIDE THE LINES

Art by a clerical worker and a mental patient, an architect and a homeless person – more than 20 California "outsider" artists – will come to the Library Gallery during "The Eyes Have It: An Exhibition of California Visionaries" opening at 10 a.m., Friday, March 26. A reception will be held the same evening from 5 to 8 p.m. in the gallery.

The show can be seen through June 4 during regular gallery hours, Tuesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The exhibition is part of part of the University's 12th annual Festival of the Arts.

"The Eyes Have It" features works by individuals who follow their own creative instincts, often without formal training, free from the constraints of artistic tradition. "This work reflects the unadulterated inner feelings of the artists," says gallery director Phil Hitchcock, also a professor of art at CSUS. "My feeling is that it's really 'insider' art."

The pieces come to CSUS from the collections of co-curators Bonnie Grossman, founder of the Ames Gallery in Berkeley, and Steve Vanoni, head of Gallery Horse Cow in Sacramento. Drawings by Alex Maldonado, Martin Ramirez and A.G. Rizzolli, sculpture by Jim Bauer and Julio Garcia and paintings by Dorothy Binger and Jon Serl and others combine to create the powerful show. "It was very difficult to whittle down the choices to the pieces we included," says Vanoni.

From more information, contact the gallery at 278-2368.

Patrick Cannon, William Dorman, Buzz Fozouni and Joseph Palermo, noon - 2 p.m., University Union Hinde Auditorium. (916) 278-6997.

wednesday, march 24

Music, Ross Hammond Trio, jazz, noon, University Union Redwood Room. (916) 278-6997.

Artists in Residency Performances, film on contemporary feminist art by Tatiana Reinoza, presentation based on work of Augusto Boal and movements for social change, Women's History Month, 7 p.m., University Union Redwood Room. (916) 278-7388.

Lecture, "The Elephant in the Living Room: How the Columbine Massacre Could Have Been Prevented," UC Santa Cruz professor emeritus Elliot Aronson, 3 p.m., Amador Hall 150. (916) 278-6254.

Exhibit, "April Greiman: Graphic Design Work," Festival of the Arts, Design Gallery, Mariposa 5000, call (916) 278-3962 for gallery hours. Continues to April 2.

Exhibit, works by studio art graduate student Mike Rowden, Festival of the Arts, noon - 4:30 p.m., Mon. - Fri., Else Gallery. (916) 278-6166. Continues to April 2.

Exhibit, works by Linda Day and Marie Thibeault, CSU Long Beach professors, Festival of the Arts, Witt Gallery, call (916) 278-6166 for gallery hours. Continues to March 25.

Lecture, artists Linda Day and Marie Thibeault, CSU Long Beach professors, Festival of the Arts, 2 p.m., Mariposa Hall 1001. (916) 278-6166. Reception 4 - 6 p.m., Kadema Hall breeze-way.

thursday, march 25

Lecture, Dolores Huerta, labor rights activist, Women's History Month, 7:30 p.m., University Union Ballroom. (916) 278-6997.

Music, Liberace Woodwind Quintet, Festival of the Arts, 4 p.m., Capistrano Hall 151. (916) 278-5155.

Music, CSUS Jazz Ensemble with guest saxophonist Bob Mintzer, Festival of the Arts, 8 p.m., Music Recital Hall in Capistrano Hall, $10 general/$8 students and seniors. Tickets at CSUS Ticket Office at (916) 278-4323 or Tickets.com.

Theater, Crazy for You, by Ken Ludwig, directed by Ed Brazo, Festival of the Arts, 8 p.m. Thursday - Saturday, 2 p.m. Sundays. Playwrights' Theatre, Shasta Hall. $18 general/$11 students and seniors. Tickets at CSUS Ticket Office at (916) 278-4323 or at Tickets.com. Performances March 25-28.

Lecture, mixed media and installation artist Mildred Howard, Women Make Art Lecture Series, Festival of the Arts, 6 p.m., University Union Redwood Room. (916) 278-6997.

Distinguished Service Awards Dinner, honors recipients of the alumni award, 7:30 p.m., Alumni Center, $75 per person/$600 for table, reservations required by March 19, advanced reservations recommended. Tickets at CSUS Alumni Center at (916) 278-7718.

Dance, Between The Lines, Dale Scholl Dance/Art, Festival of the Arts, 8 p.m., Dancespace, Solano Hall 1010. $18 general/$16 students and seniors/$15 CSUS students/$9 ages 12 and under. Tickets at CSUS Ticket Office at (916) 278-4323 or at Tickets.com. Performances March 25-27.

friday, march 26

Faculty Workshop, "Teaching and Scholarship," noon, University Library 4026. (916) 278-5945.

Forum, Renaissance Society, "The Historical Jesus" CSUS professor emeritus Stephen Harris, 3 p.m., University Union Redwood Room. (916) 278-7834.

Exhibit, "The Eyes Have It: An Exhibition of California Visionaries," Festival of the Arts, 10 a.m.-5 p.m., Tues. - Sat., Library Gallery. (916) 278-2368. Continues to June 4. Opening reception 5 - 8 p.m., March 26.

Music, El Mundo, Festival of the Arts, 8 p.m., Music Recital Hall in Capistrano Hall, $8 general/$5 students and seniors. Tickets at CSUS Ticket Office at (916) 278-4323 or Tickets.com.

Wireless

Continued from page 1

encrypts their data before being sent into the air.

"You could probably pick up a connection outside Brighton Hall and stay connected all the way to Tahoe Hall," Hill says. But he also emphasizes the "probably" because wireless connectivity offers its own challenges.

"Our wireless network operates just like your cordless phone," he says. Its range and the quality of the signal can be affected by physical obstructions, like walls or floors, or interference from other electronic devices, like microwave ovens or 2.4 GHz cordless phones.

"Sometimes it works really well and sometimes it doesn't,"

he says. "A lot of it depends on the construction of the building." Generally, the more steel used in a building, the more limited the range of the wireless connections.

Outside connectivity has its challenges, too, he says.

"Atmospheric conditions can affect the range and so can the leaves on the trees," he says. As a result, a place that might have wireless access in the fall or winter could be a dead zone in the spring or summer.

A possible solution, he says, may be "3G"—for "third-generation" wireless, an emerging area in wireless technology that could allow the University to provide wireless connectivity to faculty and staff anywhere within three to five miles of the campus—at their homes, their favorite coffee-houses or in their backyards.

"That would serve a significant part of our campus population," Hill says. It is an option the University is still exploring and issues such as whether the signal would be able to penetrate some campus and off-campus buildings well enough to provide a solid signal will need to be addressed.

For a complete and updated list of wireless sites around campus and information on how to get connected, visit www.csus.edu/wireless.

– Tim Wright

faculty senate

■ Tuesday, March 23
1:30 p.m., Program Review Subcommittee
3 p.m., Executive Committee

■ Wednesday, March 24
9 a.m. Writing and Reading Subcommittee
3 p.m., G.E. Course Review Subcommittee

■ Thursday, March 25
3 p.m., Senate, University Union Foothill Suite

■ Friday, March 26
1 p.m. Academic Information Technology Committee

■ Monday, March 29
2 p.m., CODE (tentative)
3 p.m., GEP/GRE (tentative)

All meetings are in Sacramento Hall 275 unless otherwise noted.