Doctorate in Educational Leadership publishes latest journal
The Doctorate in Educational Leadership program is proud to announce our Journal of Transformative Leadership and Policy Studies, Volume 4, Issue 1. In this volume, you will find praiseworthy articles that are both challenging and thought-provoking. Like our previous volume, the various genres illustrate innovativeness, emergent strategies and timely critical perspectives. Of particular interest and relevance is a reflective essay by Francisco Rodriguez. As the newly appointed chancellor of the Los Angeles Community College District, he expertly portrays his vision for institutional change for the 21st century through the “Three C’s”: Courage, Conviction and Coraje (valor and boldness). Other topics include an inner-city superintendent’s view of transformational leadership; imagining alternatives for assessment; and pedagogical perspectives and practices that embrace Native American culture. Additionally, three book reviews and a STEM report underscore issues of public policy, access, and arguments both for and against the new Common Core State Standards (CCSS) across P-20 education.

You can read or download the complete Journal by visiting the JTLPS website at www.csus.edu/coe/academics/doctorate/jtlps/index.html.

University Policy Manual updates
Please note the following announcements of two revised policies in the University Policy Manual:

Since the Bank Accounts and Cash Management policy was approved in 2008, several new Integrated California State University Administrative Manual (ICSUAM) policies regarding cash management were released by the Chancellor’s Office. These new ICSUAM policies required the cash management portion to be separated and expanded from the Bank Accounts portion. Additionally, the Chancellor’s Office released updated bank account ICSUAM policies, requiring this campus policy be updated. Therefore, the current Bank Accounts and Cash Management policy was revised and split into two separate policies to address the new requirements:

ADM-0113 – Cash Management Policy www.csus.edu/umanual/admin/ADM-0113.html (revised). The Cash Management Policy formalizes the campus’ strong internal controls necessary for cash collection in accordance with new ICSUAM policies.

ADM 0108 – Bank Accounts and Bank Reconciliation (formerly Bank Accounts and Cash Management) www.csus.edu/umanual/admin/ADM-0108.html (revised): The Bank Accounts and Bank Reconciliation Policy is an existing campus policy with changes to reflect current statewide requirements for the use of the University name on bank accounts and bank reconciliations. This policy applies to any University department or related entity that uses the University’s name, initials, logo, mascot or address, including student clubs and organizations, and affiliated organizations.

Security tip: If I find a USB drive, should I use it?
Let’s say you find a lost USB drive on the sidewalk – and the USB drive you’ve been using for work is full, and you haven’t gotten around to getting another one. Should you use this free drive to store files? No. Never attach a USB drive (also called a flash drive, thumb drive or memory stick) unless you are certain of the origin and contents of the drive. It is possible for an attacker to attempt to access campus information systems by planting nefarious software (often called malware) onto a USB drive in an attempt to have an authorized user activate the software. This is called “baiting.” Advanced baiting techniques include placing corporate logos or interesting titles on the media to entice use. For more information, contact the Information Security Office. You will find contact information at www.csus.edu/irt/is.
