

Collaborative Democracy Network

Summary of Fifth Roundtable Discussion

Association for Conflict Resolution, Annual Conference
Thursday September 30, 2004, 2:30-5:30 PM, Sacramento Convention Center, Sacramento, CA

Panel on: "Collaborative Policy and Democracy: Building Capable Institutions of Governance for Network Society"

"Introduction."

David Booher, FAICP, Senior Policy Advisor, Center for Collaborative Policy, Sacramento, CA.

Session 1. Collaborative Policy and Democracy in Europe.

Paper 1

"From collaborative episodes to institutional transformations: Experiences in strategic spatial planning in Europe."

Patsy Healey, Professor of Town and Country Planning, University of Newcastle upon Tyne, United Kingdom.

Paper 2

"Participation through authentic dialogue: Equality, diversity and interdependence in Northern Ireland.

Michael Murray, Queens University, Northern Ireland

Commentary on Session 1

Bill Potapchuk, President, Community Building Institute, Annandale, VA.

Judith Innes, Professor of City and Regional Planning, UC Berkeley.

Session 2. Collaborative Policy and Democracy in the United States.

Paper 3

"Overview of the Civil Society Model"

W. Lovan, U.S. Department of Agriculture

Paper 4

"Generic Strategies for Governance in a Networked World."

Nancy Roberts, Professor of Strategic Management, Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey, CA.

Paper 5

"Origins of interpersonal trust during extended environmental negotiations: Testing predictions from political theory."

Bill Leach, Research Director, Center for Collaborative Policy, Sacramento, CA.

Commentary on Session 2

Bill Potapchuk, President, Community Building Institute, Annandale, VA.

Judith Innes, Professor of City and Regional Planning, UC Berkeley.

Session 3. Open-floor discussion