Chair Update

Human Subjects Proposal
The College of Education Human Subjects Committee is officially in existence. Dr. Gruskin is the committee chair and Dr. Lozano is the GPSE liaison. Online submissions for Human Subjects proposals are now available.

NOTE: Next Human Subjects meeting is Thursday, February 20 at 1:30pm.

EDC/VRC Faculty Hire
Career Counseling and Vocational Rehabilitation will share a new faculty position in fall 2014. The hiring committee consists of Drs. Levin, Liles and Deaner (Committee Chair). To date, there are 10 applicants, but the position is open until filled.

Establish 250 & 251 Area Groups
In fall 2013 EDGR 260 (Writing Across the Disciplines) was required of students in BMED, Special Education, School Psych and Child Development as a pre-requisite to 250 (Educational Research). Faculty teaching 250 this spring will meet this month to discuss how EDGR 260 impacted the students’ understanding of educational research and the teaching of this semester’s 250 classes. In addition, a 250 area group will meet the 4th Tuesday of each month, noon – 1:15pm in EUR 435D.

In previous years, several sections of 251 (Education for a Democratic Pluralistic Society) or a similar course were offered to MA students within their specific program. This semester two sections were offered at large to address the matter of low student enrollment. A 251 area group will address this issue and consider formalizing course readings and activities for this course. The area group will meet the 3rd Tuesday of each month, noon – 1:15pm in EUR 435D.

Program Coordinator Updates

- Counselor Education (Liles) – Fall 2014 admissions cycle finished on January 10 with over 200 applicants. The three disciplines will accept a total of 100 applicants.
- School Psychology (Brock) – Faculty and students will attend the National School Psychology conference in mid-February. The faculty and six (6) students will be presenting at the conference.
- Continuing Education (Mejorado) – Dr. Maria Mejorado oversees the Career Technology and the Workforce Development and Advocacy programs in the College of Continuing Education. It’s proposed that the programs accept applications for fall 2015.
- Educational Leadership & Policy Studies (Cowan) – Faculty are rewriting their credential program to address the new CTC standards.
- Vocational Rehabilitation (Deaner) – Dr. Deaner is working with Dr. Al Levin (Career Counseling) in identifying courses students that can meet the requires for students in both programs. This effort will help to address the low number of VR students in some courses.
- Special Education (Gonsier-Gerdin) – Faculty members are monitoring and will evaluate the course changes they made last year. They are also looking forward to admissions.
- Curriculum & Instruction/Gender Equity (Carinci) – Dr. Carinci has been busy recruiting for fall 2014 by visiting schools, promoting our programs at conferences and speaking to groups of students in the college.
- Center for Counseling and Diagnostics (Henderson) – CCDS has approximately 300 clients this spring for students enrolled in practicum. Students not assigned to the center are placed in schools or agencies that expand their experience of working with a variety of students and adults. The Center is also considering an invitation to work with the Veteran Affairs. This partnership would provide a valuable resource to the community and offer our students to engage with a different client population.
- Educational Technology (IMET) (Chung) – Faculty are focusing on recruiting for fall 2014.
- Doctorate in Educational Leadership (Nevarez) – On April 18 from 4-6pm in AIRC 1009, EDD will be host a panel for Distinguished Dissertations from EDD alumni.

Announcements
Reminder the 20th Annual Multicultural Conference will be held on April 26 and is free to the public. The Call for Papers deadline has been extended to February 6.
