Catalog Description. Advance readings, lectures, and discussions dealing with a panoramic view of Spanish Literature from early works through the Golden Age and up to the 1800.

PREREQUISITE: SPAN 100. 3 Units.

Course Description. A general study of Spanish Literature to 1800. In this survey course we will examine a series of representative literary movements and schools. Students will be reading a diversity of literary genres in the textbook, Voces de España. Each work will be studied and analyzed in class. Students will become familiar with the historical context, each author's biography, along with the culture and literary style of the period. Students also will have the opportunity to develop critical thinking skills. Students are expected to read in advance the works presented in class and be prepared to answer questions. Students also will be asked to do some additional research on the authors, the culture of the times, and the background history.

Text: Voces de España. Author, Paredes-Méndez. Publisher, Cengage Learning, 2008

Method of Instruction: This course will be conducted entirely in Spanish. Lectures and small group discussions on the readings and an in-depth analysis of the works of the writers will comprise some of the activities of the class. Students will have the opportunity to experience some online classes during the semester.

Students Learning Objectives/Outcomes: After successful completion of the course students will be able to:

I Identify:

- a. authors who have been discussed in class and their works.
- b. writer's style of thinking and the society of the different centuries
- c. the impact of the economy, the arts, the political, social and religious institutions on the authors and their works
- d. Literary terminology.

II Read actively and critically to

- a. understand authors and their works.
- b. develop critical skills
- c. identify the major features of the works discussed in class
- d. articulate relevant ideas about the works and the authors

III Students also will be able to:

- a. formulate ideas about what they are reading
- b. gather evidence from the work to support their own ideas.

Exams: There will be one midterm exam and a final exam. Students also will write 4 small papers during the semester.
