Your Classes are subject to Cancellation

Your Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) review is complete. Unfortunately, you did not meet SAP standards. As a result, your tuition fee deferment for the Fall 2014 term has expired.

To keep your classes you will need to pay your fees by July 2, 2014, regardless if you have filed a SAP appeal.

If you choose to appeal for financial aid eligibility, you will want to submit your appeal no later than July 11, in order to receive a decision by August 15. An approval of your SAP appeal will allow you to take advantage of late registration beginning August 18. If your appeal is denied, you will then have time for the following options:

- Enroll in the Installment Payment Plan (IPP) and pay your own way
- Drop to part-time (6 or fewer units) to pay reduced tuition fees
- Withdraw before school starts to receive a refund of fees paid
- Enroll at a community college

If you are not able to pay the full balance by July 2, you may choose the Installment Payment Plan (IPP). Be aware that your down payment must be paid no later than July 2. The next three payments will be due September 17, October 17, and November 17.

SAP appeals will continue to be accepted up to the Fall 2014 deadline of September 29. The timeline for appeal decisions is three to five weeks. More details can be found at the first link below.
