The Geography Graduate Group Presents

GEOGRAPHY IN PRACTICE
LOOKING, LEARNING, AND WORKING IN OUR WORLD

Fall Quarter 2012
Wednesdays
4:10 – 5:30 pm
230 Wellman Hall

Sponsored By:
Department of Environmental Science & Policy,
Department of Human Ecology, Institute of
Transportation Studies, Office of Graduate Studies

Please Contact Jennifer McHenry for more information: jlmchenry@ucdavis.edu

Watercolor Map by Stamen Designs

October 3
MATT SCHMIDTLEIN
California State University, Sacramento
Modeling Pedestrian Evacuations for Near-Field Tsunamis

October 10
WALDO TOBLER
University of California, Santa Barbara
Migration, Maps, and Models

October 17
PAUL STARRS
University of Nevada, Reno
Practicing Field Geography: Are We Being ‘Theoretical’ Yet?

October 24
JAY LUND
University of California, Davis
Water and California’s Physical, Economic and Political Geography

November 7
HEATHER DAY
Community Alliance for Global Justice
Fighting for Food Sovereignty: The Intra-Scalar Activist Geographies of Community Alliance for Global Justice

November 14
NATHANIEL KELSO
Stamen Designs, San Francisco
Building Maps From Scratch: A Narrative Journey

November 21
RYAN GALT
University of California, Davis
Thinking Regionally About Community Supported Agriculture

November 28
ANDREW RAYBURN
University of California, Davis
Linking Ecological Patterns and Processes Across Spatiotemporal Scales

December 5
JIM WANKET
California State University, Sacramento
Reconstructing Prehistoric Vegetation & Climate in Northern California & Nevada

Sponsored By:
Department of Environmental Science & Policy,
Department of Human Ecology, Institute of
Transportation Studies, Office of Graduate Studies

Please Contact Jennifer McHenry for more information: jlmchenry@ucdavis.edu

Watercolor Map by Stamen Designs