

Living on Campus

Living on campus at California State University, Sacramento can have a significant impact on your academic success and personal growth. The Residence Halls are not only comfortable and convenient, but they also offer you ample opportunities to make new friends and to be involved with floor, hall, and campus-wide activities. Best of all, living on campus is fun!

Residence halls are staffed by live-in professionals and trained student Resident Advisors who want to help you succeed. Staff help organize study sessions, social activities and field trips, and serve as a source of campus information for you. Personal satisfaction with campus life is largely dependent upon the choices you make. That's why choosing to live on campus is so important to making your college experience the best it can be at Sacramento State!

The Application Process

To begin the application process for living in the residence halls on campus, you must get on the mailing list. Submit your name online by visiting the web address listed at top left. Everyone on the mailing list will receive an application packet which includes pricing information as well as the License Agreement and forms you must complete to request a space to live in the halls. For students interested in academic housing (Fall and Spring), the application packets will be mailed to you by early May. For Spring Semester Only students, packets will be mailed to you in November. Priority for housing space is based on the date all required forms and payments are received. Simply placing your name on mailing list, however, does not guarantee you a bed space nor does it obligate you to live on campus. You must follow through with the process.

The Benefits of Campus Living

- Close to classes, library, dining and campus events.
- No commuting costs or trouble finding a parking space.
- No cooking necessary.
