The History Department at Sacramento State is a vibrant intellectual community. The department offers two BA programs in History, three minor programs (History, Middle Eastern and Islamic Studies, and Hellenic Studies), three MA programs (History, Public History, and History/Humanities), and a joint PhD in Public History with UC Santa Barbara. The combined expertise of our award-winning faculty literally covers the globe and the span of history from the ancient world to the contemporary period.

Each of the two History BA programs offered by the History Department require lower-division coursework that may be completed at community college. This handout will help you determine which courses to take before transferring to Sac State so you can complete your degree as efficiently as possible.
