Subject: HR/Benefits Workshops & Information Sessions
Date: Friday, July 24, 2009 9:27:06 AM

The Human Resources Benefits Office has scheduled the following series of informational workshops and sessions addressing the most frequently asked questions regarding furloughs and the effect of furloughs on benefits. Also scheduled are workshops on pre-retirement planning (what you should think about before considering retirement) with information on online tools to assist. In addition, representatives from the Department of Personnel Administration (401k and 457 plans) and the CSU Tax-Sheltered Annuity (430b plans) approved vendors will provide information regarding managing finances and your investment contributions. Representatives will be available for scheduled one-on-one client meetings. The HR Benefits Office is available for scheduled one-on-one employee meetings regarding this information. However, due to reduced availability of staff in the HR Benefits Office, individuals are asked to please consider attending these workshops before scheduling appointments.

Individuals must register for these workshops online at the HR Benefits website at www.csus.edu/hr/benefits/workshops.htm.
