Course Description: An introduction to the literature, art, music, history and philosophy of the West from the Renaissance to the present. General Education Area C3

Course Objectives: This course is designed as an introductory survey of a vast expanse of Western cultural history. The aim of this course is to attain a clear understanding of key historical developments and their relatedness to concurrent and evolving cultural, intellectual and artistic ideas. By the end of the semester:

- Students will be able to identify and analyze the stylistic expression of specific ideas in art, architecture, music literature and philosophy and show how they vary across national boundaries and disciplines.
- Students will be able to analyze the impact that key historical events have on changing styles and concepts in art, literature and music (or on the changing cultural landscapes of their time).
- Students will develop keen analytical skills through close and careful readings of the texts, thoughtful, well-written essays and class discussion.

Required Texts:

Mathews and Platt, The Western Humanities, 6th ed. Vol. II (WH)

Mathews and Platt, Readings in the Western Humanities, 6th ed. Vol. II (Readings)

Shelley, Frankenstein

Tolstoy, The Death of Ivan Ilyich

Conrad, Heart of Darkness

Grading and Assignments: Class Attendance and Participation are essential requirements of the course. Students are expected to come to class prepared with their own questions, ideas, comments and creative input to discuss in an open-minded and stimulating environment. Failure to prepare, participate or attend class will seriously lower your grade. Departmental Policy states that more than one week of absences from class will result in the lowering of the student's grade one-half step per each additional absence. Please do not schedule appointments that conflict or coincide with the scheduled meeting time of this class. Leaving early for an appointment will count as an unexcused absence. In addition, doing other work in class, chatting with neighbors, answering cell phones, sending text messages, falling asleep, surfing the internet or behaving or speaking in an uncivil or aggressive manner to any member of the class including the instructor, will automatically lower your participation grade by one full grade each time you do so. Laptops are not permitted without the expressed permission of the instructor.

Your final grade for the course will be based on the following:

Essay	25%
Midterm	25%
Final/Essay	25%
Participation	25%

Please Note: No make-up exams will be given. Failure to attend class will result in an F for the exam.

Essays: Late papers will be marked down one grade and will not be accepted after one week of the due date. Essays sent to me as e-mail attachments will not be opened.

Plagiarism: Should you plagiarize intentionally or unintentionally regulations require that the assignment receive the grade of F and that the matter be referred to Student Affairs for further disciplinary action.

All Assignments should be completed by the day listed on the syllabus. Please bring relevant books to each class meeting.
