Participation may be a factor in determining your course grade. Attending class regularly and making constructive contributions to class discussions may raise your grade by one-half (e.g., from a B to a B+). Conversely, irregular attendance and disruptive behavior (talking out of turn, allowing cell phone to ring, text messaging, etc.) may lower your course grade by one-half.

There are no make-up quizzes. However, you can miss one quiz without penalty since only your three best quiz scores will be considered in the calculation of your course grade.

Please do not tell me at any point during the semester what grade you might need.

PAPERS:
The course requirements include two papers. Paper assignments will be distributed at the beginning and midpoints of the semester.

General Grading Criteria for Papers:
“A” papers clearly state their topic and how it will be addressed. They make good points and support them with appropriate examples. “A” papers are logical and correct in their grammar and word usage. Although “B” papers possess these strengths to a lesser degree, their arguments are generally clear and reasonably well supported. “B” papers make few mistakes in grammar and word usage. “C” papers are weak in stating and supporting their theses and in their grammar and word usage. These deficiencies can make passages in a “C” paper difficult to understand and the argument as a whole ineffective. “D” papers possess the same weaknesses as “C” papers but to a greater degree. As a result, “D” papers can be difficult to understand and usually give the impression that the author has little understanding of his/her subject.

PAPER #1 REWRITES:
You may rewrite Paper #1 for additional credit of up to 10 points (i.e., a paper that receives an initial grade of 78 points might receive a final grade as high as 88 points. Rewrites must be submitted at any time before the end of class on the date indicated above. No rewrites will be accepted after this time. Rewrites must be stapled to the original paper (no photocopies or re-printings).

SAC-CT
Every student should be prepared to make use of SacCT, the CSUS online course management system. On SacCT you will find your grades, the course syllabus, and paper assignments. To log into SacCT, go to the CSUS website and take the WebCT/SacCT link to the login page.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION AND POLICIES:
HRS 140 is a lecture/discussion course. It has no prerequisites other than a passing score on the WPE exam. It is a required course for Humanities and Religious Studies majors. It also satisfies the 3-unit General Education Category C3 requirement and the Writing Intensive Course requirement.
Academic dishonesty will not be tolerated. See the campus policy on academic dishonesty at www.csus.edu/admbus/umanual/UMA00150.htm.

No electronic devices, including laptop computers, are to be used in class.

In fairness to others, students who leave the room during a quiz or exam will not be allowed to return. If this policy creates a documentable difficulty for you, please make necessary arrangements with the Testing Center.

I will consider requests for a grade of “Incomplete” when, in the words of the University catalog, “required coursework has not been completed and evaluated during the course due to unforeseen but fully justified reasons.”

Students with disabilities who require special arrangements of any kind should contact me during the first week of the semester.
