

College of Health & Human Services
Center for African Peace & Conflict Resolution (CAPCR), in collaboration with the Center for Health & Human Services Research (CHHSR), presents a forum on

Research Opportunities in Africa

for faculty engaged or interested in research and teaching activities in or on Africa.

Tuesday, October 6, from 12-1:30pm
Walnut Room, University Union 2nd floor
Lunch will be provided

This forum is an opportunity to learn of prospects and support (i.e. grants, scholarship, teaching, travel) for faculty professional development activities in Africa in the areas of peace and conflict resolution; law and justice; democracy and governance; health; social work; education; information technology and communication; the environment; energy; science and engineering; and business and social/economic development.

Discussants:

- Ernest Uwazie, Professor of Criminal Justice and Director of CAPCR
- Bonnie Raingruber, Professor of Nursing and Director of CHHSR
- Sylvester Bowie, Associate Professor of Social Work
- Don Taylor, Director of Academic Planning and Quality
- Boatamo Mosupyoe, Associate Professor of Ethnic Studies and Director of Pan African Studies
- David Earwicker, Assistant Vice President for Research Administration and Contract Administration
- Jean-Pierre Bayard, Director of Academic Technology and Creative Services
- Kimo Ah Yun, Director, Center for Teaching and Learning

Co-Sponsors of this forum include:

- Academic Technology and Creative Services
- Center for Teaching and Learning
- Office of Research Administration
- Pan African Studies Program

Register at <http://www.csus.edu/research/workshops/registration/workshops.htm>.

For more information, contact Ernest Uwazie at 278-6282 or email uwazieeee@csus.edu; or Bonnie Raingruber at walkerbj@csus.edu.