Course Description
“A representative selection of philosophical problems will be explored in areas such as knowledge, reality, religion, science, politics, art and morals.”
This course will introduce you to some of the most important philosophical questions of the present day.
You will see:

- How philosophical questions arise out of our natural and cultural history;
- Why these particular questions have become important at this time in our history;
- What is ‘at stake’ for us in answering them.

You will also be introduced to some recent attempts at answering these philosophical questions. From this you will learn how to think well about them; you will also learn what a habit of thinking this way can contribute to your life and to your society.

Finally, you will be required to do some philosophical thinking, and some writing, yourself.

Course Objectives

- Investigate major philosophical problems by a careful study of some good, representative philosophical texts.
- Encourage you to question and examine your own presuppositions and deep-rooted prejudices.
- To defend your own position on a philosophical issue by careful argument.

Students will demonstrate their achievement of the course objectives through:

- Reading comprehension quizzes on each reading assignment;
- Exams which test for a deeper understanding of the philosophical questions, as well as of the arguments for or against particular answers; students will show their understanding via essay answers;
- Participation in in-class and/or online discussion;
- Composition of argumentative papers on particular philosophical questions.

Access to the Course

This course is televised and ‘web-assisted.’ That is, it will be broadcast on cable (Channel 16), and it will use the SacCT 9.1 course management system. Students may use their Saclink account to log into the course from the SacCT Login page (http://www.csus.edu/sacct/).

If you do not have a Saclink account yet, refer to the Setting Up a Saclink Account webpage (http://www.csus.edu/saclink/settingUp.stm).
To get started using SacCT visit the Student Resources webpage (http://www.csus.edu/WebCT/student/). There you will find Online Tutorials, Frequently Asked Questions, and other help resources. You can also ask me for help.

Course Delivery

The course will be offered in four ways:

1. I will be lecturing in Library 53, a television studio that functions exactly like an ordinary university classroom. The class will meet on Tuesday/Thursday, 12:00-1:15. Students attending will be expected to answer questions and participate in discussions just as they would in any university class.
2. The class meeting can also be watched live via CCTV in Sequoia Hall 316 for the first few weeks in the semester. (After a few weeks I plan close that classroom down.)
3. Classes will be broadcast on Sacramento Cable channel 16, Tuesday/Thursday, 2:00-3:15 pm. Note that this is time-shifted back two hours. I will be available online during that broadcast in the SacCT ‘Discussions’ space to answer questions and participate. I will also look in at other times.
4. The televised and recorded class lectures will also be archived as streaming video in the ‘Course Content’ folder within SacCT. In addition, my lecture notes will appear in the relevant folder within ‘Course Content’ after the conclusion of the broadcast.

Exams, quizzes, papers, and other work will be submitted through SacCT.

That is, it is possible to take this course without ever coming to class, so long as you keep up with the lectures on video (either broadcast or streaming) and do the required work.

Communications

The course will use the communication tools built into SacCT:

- Announcements: It’s a good idea to check for announcements from time to time
- Mail: You may send me a message using the ‘Mail’ function in SacCT. I will respond promptly.
- Discussions: You will be expected to participate in discussions, whether in class or through the ‘Discussions’ function in SacCT.
- Calendar: Exams and due dates for papers will all appear in the Calendar.

Technical Requirements

To access a course on SacCT you will need access to the Internet and an internet browser (Internet Explorer, Firefox, Safari, Chrome). To ensure that you are using a supported browser and have required plug-ins please run the Check Browser from your SacCT course. Refer to the SacCT Browser Tune-up page for instructions.
For help or to report a problem with SacCT you can:
- Visit the Student SacCT FAQ's webpage
- Submit a SacCT Problem Form
- Contact the University Help Desk at (916) 278-7337

Work for Course

1. Quizzes on Reading Assignments (10%)
   You will be responsible for the readings assigned for a particular class day. While you will be responsible for the whole reading, I may indicate in the Schedule below that you should pay particular attention of some part of the reading. As a result, it may happen that other parts will not be treated in class. You will be responsible for them anyway. The quiz for the reading assignment must be taken by the beginning of the class period for which it is assigned. That will be true even for those watching it via cable.

2. Midterm Exam (20%) The midterm will be a combination of multiple-choice, fill-in, true/false questions, plus some essay questions. The questions will be on the readings, lectures, and discussions.

3. Final Exam (20%) Same as the midterm. The final will cover all the readings, lectures, and discussions since the midterm.

4. First Paper (2-3 pages) (20%)
   Topic: Given what you have learned about ‘fictional’ concepts, a. Give an example of a fictional concept you consider, for some reason, particularly significant.
   b. Argue for why you think it is fictional.
   c. Argue for its significance. (For instance, is it especially useful? Especially mischievous?)
   d. What should we do about this fictional concept?

5. Second Paper (4-5 pages) (20%)
   Topic: Given what you have learned this semester,
   a. What do you think is the most important philosophical question facing us?
   b. What do you think is the answer?
   c. Argue for your position.

6. Discussion Contributions (10%)
   You will be expected to make regular contributions to discussion either in the class period itself or in the online “Discussion” folder in SacCT.
Assignment Submission Instructions

Papers: Papers will be submitted in SacCT. In writing the paper, follow the instructions for argumentative papers found in the “Guidelines for Writing Philosophy Papers” at the Philosophy Department website: http://www.csus.edu/phil/WritingGuidelines&GradingStandardsforPapers.htm

To submit a paper in SacCT:
- Create the paper on your own computer (editable file, remember);
- Enter SacCT at https://online.csus.edu;
- Open the main page for PHIL 6;
- On the Course Menu select ‘Assignments’;
- Open the correct assignment; on the “Upload Assignment” click “Browse My Computer” to find the file;
- Select the file;
- Click ‘Submit’ (important);
- A success message should appear: “This assignment is complete. Review the submission history.”
- Attach your paper as an editable file that will open in Microsoft Word (not a .pdf or .htm file); if you’re unsure, attach it as a ‘text’ (.txt) or ‘rich text’ (.rtf); those options are available in all word-processing programs;
- Late papers will be lowered a grade increment for every day past the due date. I leave the window open for submitting papers for five days past the date.

Discussions

Philosophy involves discussion and argument. It’s the best way to explore philosophical questions, the best way to learn how to philosophize. So I will expect you to participate in the discussions. You will either receive full credit for participation (10%) or no credit, depending on how seriously you take your responsibility to make contributions. If I notice that you are not participating, I will let you know that I expect more.

To participate in an online discussion:
- Enter SacCT;
- Open ‘Discussions’ (under ‘Course Tools’ on the left margin’);
- Click on one of the topics; you will be able to read the other contributions;
- You can contribute to the discussion by clicking ‘Create Message’.

Online Quizzes/Exams

Reading Quizzes: There will be a reading quiz on every assignment. A reading quiz will consist of five to ten multiple-choice questions designed so that a careful reader should be able to answer them. The quiz will ‘open’ a week before it is due; it will 'close' at the beginning of the Tuesday/Thursday class period in which the reading will be discussed.

To take a reading quiz in SacCT:
Enter SacCT at https://online.csus.edu;
• Open the main page for PHIL 6;
• Answer the questions (make sure you ‘submit’ each question as well as the entire exam).
You will have only one chance to take the quiz, so check your answers before submitting.

Since you have a week to take a quiz, and the instructions to ‘save’ questions are clear, I will under no circumstances reset a quiz you have messed up or not taken. It’s your responsibility to figure out how to take exams and keep track of due dates.

Exams: The exam window will open a week before it is due. You must take the exam during that time.

To take an exam in SacCT, follow the instructions for taking a reading quiz. The difference between an exam and a quiz will be the time constraints. You will have 75 minutes to take the midterm, two hours (120 minutes) to take the final. In addition, each individual question will have a time limit.

Grading

Exams: Exams will receive numerical grades; your score will be ‘out of’ 100.

Papers: Papers will receive letter grades. To determine the final grade, those letter grades will be converted into the highest number in the grade range under ‘Grading Criteria’ below. (For example, a B grade on a paper converts to 89.)

Reading Quizzes: Reading quizzes will receive a grade of 2 (full credit), 1 (inadequate comprehension), or 0 (not taken). An average of 1.7 or above will receive full credit (100). Lower scores will be prorated.

Discussion: Discussion participation will receive either complete credit (100) or none (0). Periodically (according to the schedule in the Syllabus) I will post progress reports in the form of a grade. That grade is not final and will not count toward your final grade. It is merely an indication of the grade you will receive if you contribute at your current rate.

Final Grade: The final grade for the course will be determined by the weighted sum of the exams, quizzes, discussion, and papers.

Viewing Grades in SacCT

For reading quizzes you will be able to see your score as soon as you have submitted your quiz.
For exams, and papers I will post the grades as soon as I have finished grading them.
You can see your grades during the semester by going to ‘MyGrades’ in SacCT.

Course Policies

Attendance

I expect every student to watch the classes. To ensure this, in every lecture I will ask a question at some random point. The in-class students will answer that question on a roll-sheet distributed in class. Those watching the lectures via cable or archived video must send me the answer via the SacCT e-mail utility within five days of the class period.

I will lower you a final grade increment for every ‘absence’. So keep up.

Make-Up Exams

Since you may take exams at your convenience over a period of a week, there will be no make-up exams. The opening and closing dates and times for exams will be listed in the calendar.
Late Work

For papers, I will leave the assignment window open for five days after the due date. The grade will be lowered a grade increment for every day it’s late.

University Policies

Academic Honesty

Students are expected to be familiar with the University’s Academic Honesty, Policy & Procedures. The policy on Academic Honesty and other information regarding student conduct can be accessed from the University Policy Manual (http://www.csus.edu/umanual/index.htm).

The University Library has a helpful treatment of plagiarism at http://library.csus.edu/content2.asp?pageID=353

Originality is an over-rated virtue in undergraduate papers, ranking well below unity, clarity, and cogency of argument. You can borrow other people’s ideas and arguments all you like. You just need to cite them when you do. Use any method of citation you find comfortable and convenient. (I like MLA myself.) Don’t borrow their words: you mustn’t submit a paper consisting of a bunch of quotations. Since you can borrow ideas, you have no excuse for plagiarism except laziness.

Reasonable Accommodation Policy

If you have a disability and require accommodations, you need to provide disability documentation to Services for Students with Disabilities (SSWD). For more information please visit the SSWD website (http://www.csus.edu/sswd/). They are located in Lassen Hall 1008 and can be contacted by phone at (916) 278-6955 (Voice) (916) 278-7239 (TDD only) or via email at sswd@csus.edu.

Please discuss your accommodation needs with me early in the semester - within the first week. It is difficult and time-consuming to make certain accommodations in SacCT. If you wait until the first quiz or paper is due to announce your disability it may simply not be humanly possible to make the accommodation. You will then have to do as best you can.

A tendency toward procrastination is not a recognized disability.

University Resources

The CSUS Writing Center

The Writing Center provides encouraging, focused, and non-judgmental one-to-one tutorials in writing. Their tutors can help with writing at all points in the process, from initial planning and organizing through developing and revising a paper. You can bring the assignment to them for help.

Sac State Library

The Sac State Library's webpage is http://library.csus.edu. To find a book or periodical, click on “Eureka: Library Catalogue” under “Resources and Collections” or go directly to http://eureka.lib.csus.edu/

For an undergraduate library Sac State’s philosophy holdings are pretty good.

I particularly recommend Sac State librarian Lisa Roberts’ website “Philosophy: Resources.” Two ways to find it: through “Research Guides” under “Resources and Collections”, or go directly to http://library.csus.edu/guides/robertsl/philoguide.htm

Student Computing Labs

To access SacCT from campus, or use any of the other campus online resources, you can use the IRT managed student computer labs on campus. See University Labs website for information about locations, hours, and resources available.

SacCT

SacCT is the course management system used on the Sac State campus for web-assisted courses. To access a course on SacCT, you must login from the SacCT Login Page (https://online.csus.edu).

To learn more about SacCT visit the Student Resources webpage (http://www.csus.edu/WebCT/student/) where you can view online Tutorials, FAQ’s and other help resources.

Course Schedule

The contents of square brackets are readings from the text. If the material for a meeting is not from the text you will see [Lecture] instead.

If something is due for a given day the “Due Date” box will indicate so. The SacCT calendar will also show due dates.
Introduction: What Makes a Question ‘Philosophical’?

Philosophy in an important sense has no special subject-matter which stands to it as other subject-matters stand to other special disciplines.

If philosophers did have such a special subject-matter, they could turn it over to a new group of specialists as they have turned over other special subject-matters to non-philosophers over the past 2500 years, first with mathematics, more recently psychology and sociology, and, currently, certain aspects of theoretical linguistics.

What is characteristic of Philosophy is not its special subject-matter, but the aim of knowing one’s way around with respect to the subject-matters of all the special disciplines.

Under ‘things in the broadest possible sense’ I include such radically different items as not only ‘cabbages and kings,’ but numbers and duties, possibilities and finger snaps, aesthetic experience and death.
