In-class assignment #2: Using Library Resources

In your groups, you read through a news article related to economics and considered how this related to economic theory and analysis. You will be asked to find a few resources related to the topic of your news article.

For the following, refer to your APA Style guidelines for how to provide an appropriate citation.

1. Locate an economics survey article directly related to your research topic (or your Journal of Economics Perspective paper if you’re not sure about your topic yet) from the Journal of Economic Literature. Provide a complete citation of the article.

2. Locate an economics research article directly related to your research topic (or your Journal of Economics Perspective paper if you’re not sure about your topic yet) from a journal listed on a database OTHER than JSTOR (using EconLit). Provide a complete citation of the article.

3. Locate one book related to your research topic. Provide a complete citation of the book.

4. Locate a data source that you could use to evaluate the information from research question. Provide a complete citation and list which data you would use from this source.
