FLUTE STUDIES

The flute program at CSUS, chaired by Laurel Zucker, offers students the opportunity to pursue Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Music, and Masters of Music degrees in flute performance. In addition to taking specialized courses in flute studies, students also study flute chamber music, tone development through interpretation, articulation, and intonation in a weekly Flute Repertoire Class for flute majors. Flute majors are encouraged to perform frequently and to participate in research activities. For 1998/99 CSUS flute majors are working on a CD Recording, funded by a Monetary Grant from The Academic Senate's Research & Creativity Subcommittee, entitled "Native American Stories Within Classical Flute Music." Additionally The Faculty Senate's Faculty Endowment Fund Committee selected a flute major as the recipient for an 1998 Undergraduate Scholarly & Creative Activity Award in order to create a Supplemental Study Guide to Tone Development Through Interpretation. CSUS flute majors have performed concertos in Russia through The International Fine Arts Institute, and flute majors have performed on various television shows, "Choices", "We Seniors", and "Creativity and Crisis".

Audition Requirements for Flute Majors Students must demonstrate technical proficiency in playing major scales. They will be asked to perform the following works or their technical equivalent:

Bachelor of Arts

Two movements from a sonata by Handel, J.S. Bach, Mozart or equivalent.

Bachelor of Music

First movement from a concerto in D or G by Mozart. A movement from a sonata by Poulenc, Hindemith or equivalent.

Master's of Music

Two movements from Prokofiev Sonata, Martinu Sonata, or Ibert Concerto.
