

The Sacramento State Department of Philosophy
presents

Nammour 2009

A Matter of Feelings

an inquiry into the relation between reason and emotion

April 21-22 Hinde Auditorium University Union

April 21 10-12 AM The value of negative emotions Randy Mayes Losing it Christina Bellon Hope schmope: why pessimism is more rational than optimism Hakan Ozcelik When anger can do good: exploring boundary conditions	April 21 1-3 PM The ethics of revulsion Jeremy Garrett Too disgusting to be legal David Denman The other, other white meat Russell Disilvestro Repugnance revisited: what emotion tells us about morality
April 22 10-12 AM Feelings for another world Garret Merriam Reason, emotion, and the afterlife Matt McCormick Dead as a doornail: out of body and near death experiences David Corner Pascal and the transcendence of acuity	April 22 1-3 PM A slave to passion? Winners of the Nammour Student Essay Competition: TBA