Summary

You may check the status of your application by navigating to your student center. The approval process may take several weeks before it is forwarded to the Degree Evaluations office for review.

We recognize how important it is to have an evaluation of your remaining graduation requirements in a timely manner but a thorough review of your requirements takes careful review and possible discussion with major/minor departments. We thank you for your patience and hope the new online process was easy to use.

If any of your programs are not available via the online application process, you will receive a message that you must file a paper application. Please be aware that if you do not file the paper application, you will not receive a degree evaluation and your registration and ability to graduate may be delayed or denied.
