Learn about Sac State’s doctoral program

The Doctorate in Educational Leadership Program will host an information session for prospective applicants from 5:30-6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 18, in Eureka Hall, Room 329.

The program provides students an opportunity to complete a doctoral degree in three years.

The Ed.D. is an independent educational doctoral degree, and is designed for working professionals and practitioners in the field of education, with class meetings held on weekends and evenings. The three-year advanced study plan is data-driven and emphasizes hands-on practice, policy analysis, leadership skills and individual initiative. Classes follow the cohort learning model, and students progress and develop their skills as a team.

For more information about the Doctorate in Educational Leadership Program, contact the office at (916) 278-2282 or visit www.edweb.csus.edu/edd/about/description.html. For media assistance, contact Sacramento State’s Public Affairs office at (916) 278-6156.

– Alan Miller
amiller@csus.edu

Sacramento State is making a difference in California’s Capital Region and beyond. We offer a life-changing opportunity for our 28,000 students, preparing them to be leaders in their professions and communities. Our professors are known for their dedication to great teaching. And our location in the capital of the nation’s most populous state allows students to pursue unique internships and research.

###

77-S11-AM