March 8, 2012

Sac State student organization works to feed homeless

Sacramento State’s Residence Hall Association (RHA) will help feed the homeless 8-11 a.m. Saturday, March 16, at B and 16th streets. Program Director Beta (Sii) Fakasiieiki says volunteers are welcome to join this community service in conjunction with Americans Helping America.

“Our association has been very proactive in trying to promote community events,” she says. So far the organization has held social mixers, Activity Saturday with games and music, and Open Mic night where more than 100 students have displayed their talents. When Sac State football player John Bloomfield told Sii about feeding the hungry, she saw this as an opportunity for the RHA to help the needy “in our own backyard.”

Sii and several Sacramento State students will appear on Comcast Channel Public Access 17 at 10 p.m. Wednesday, March 21.

RHA has a sign-up sheet for volunteers. For further information contact SiiFakasiieiki@gmail.com.

For media assistance, contact Sacramento State’s Public Affairs office at (916) 278-6156.

– Alan Miller
amiller@csus.edu

---

Sacramento State is making a difference in California’s Capital Region and beyond. We offer a life-changing opportunity for our 28,000 students, preparing them to be leaders in their professions and communities. Our professors are known for their dedication to great teaching. And our location in the capital of the nation’s most populous state allows students to pursue unique internships and research.

###

44-S11-AM