March is a time when heroines of all stripes are recognized as Sacramento State’s Women’s Resource Center celebrates Women’s History Month with an array of educational events highlighting women’s history, culture and achievements.

At 3 p.m. Tuesday, March 13, “Love and Plurality” will be the subject of a panel discussion in the Orchard Suite. At 7 p.m. Wednesday, March 14, is the “Campus Calm Lecture” in the Delta Room.

The celebration will conclude at 4 p.m. Wednesday, March 28, with the Women of Influence Awards Ceremony in the American River Courtyard. On Thursday, March 29, “Pleasure Yourself and Your Partner” will be held in the University Union lobby for those 18 years of age or older.

Weston, interim director of the Women’s Resource Center is pleased with the festivities thus far. “Women’s ‘Herstory’ Month,” he says, “captures the leadership, spirit and contributions of woman around the world. Through many wonderful events it also captures the amazing talents of our Women’s Resource Center staff.”

For media assistance, contact Public Affairs at (916) 278-6156.

– Alan Miller
amiller@csus.edu