March brings a parade of art exhibits, lectures to Sac State

Fine-art events are springing up this spring at Sacramento State.

The University’s Art Department (www.al.csus.edu/art/) has scheduled several exhibits, lectures and other presentations throughout March.

Former Sac State professors Steve Kaltenbach, Peter VandenBerge and Jerry Walburg will share their memories of TB9 during a discussion from 6 to 7:30 p.m. Thursday, March 6, in Kadema Hall Room 145. TB9 refers to Temporary Building 9 at UC Davis, which birthed a ceramics revolution in the 1960s and '70s. The professors emeritus were among the first generation of TB9 grad students.

Pardee will be part of a double lecture Thursday, March 13. He will present an artist’s talk in Kadema 145 at 5:30 p.m. At 7 p.m., Katherine Burnett will present a lecture, “Speculations on Why Originality Can’t Be a ‘Traditional Chinese’ Value (When It Is).” Burnett is a professor of art history at UC Davis and director of its East Asian Studies Program. A reception for both artists will be held in the Else Gallery at 6 p.m.

On Wednesday, March 12, Sac State Art Professor Ian Harvey and Art Professor Emeritus Koo Kyung Sook, from Chungnam National University in South Korea, will present a public lecture from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. at the University Library Gallery. Harvey and Koo are co-curators, with Korean art critic Kim Jin Ha, of “The Land and the People,” an exhibition of Korean prints at the Library Gallery.

For more information on Art Department events and programs, visit the website or call (916) 278-6166. For media assistance, call Sacramento State’s Public Affairs office at (916) 278-6156. – Craig Koscho

Sacramento State is making a difference in California’s Capital Region and beyond. We offer a life-changing opportunity for our 28,000 students, preparing them to be leaders in their professions and communities. Our professors are known for their dedication to great teaching. And our location in the capital of the nation’s most populous state allows students to pursue unique internships and research.