Create a writing/word processing class activity for one or more days of instruction. Include:

- a description of the class (e.g., grade level, subject, any special characteristics), computer resources and organization

- how you will organize the students for the activity (including use of computers),

- specific, behavioral objectives for the activity,

- a description of the activity, including assignments sheets or files (include examples of handouts, task sheets, or other materials used by the students.),

- a description of how the activity fits into and enhances learning of the writing process, and

- how you will evaluate the final product, both their product and your activity.

Due: Thursday, April 8, 1999

Note: Please don't use covers unless necessary; just staple pages together.
