Importance of Accreditation

Dr. Erika Cameron
Provost and Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs

Why Accreditation Matters

Assures educational quality and accountability in service of students, families, and the public

Continuous improvement through regular assessment and evidence-based decision-making

Access to federal financial aid programs (e.g., Pell Grants and federal loans)

Supports credit transfer and degree value for employers and graduate schools

Institutional Vision

As California's capital university, Sac State's mission is to transform lives by preparing all students to lead, serve, and succeed and to champion access, equity, and excellence for all students.

Our vision is to be a welcoming, caring, and inclusive leader in education, innovation, and engagement, a place where every student is seen, supported, and empowered to thrive.

Our university's accreditation review is an opportunity to reflect on our efforts, to celebrate our progress, and to identify issues that affect our ability to meet our mission goal.

Who coordinates Sac State's WSCUC Reaccreditation Efforts?

Accreditation Liaison Officer (ALO)

Elisa Trimboli, ALO

Director of Academic Excellence and Strategic Engagement

Accreditation activities are coordinated through the unit of Academic Excellence within the Office of the Provost in the Division of Academic Affairs.

WSCUC Overview

Recognized by the U.S. Department of Education as a reliable authority on higher education quality

Conducts peer-review-based accreditation reviews to ensure:

- Institutional accountability
- Compliance with federal regulations
- Continuous institutional improvement

Established in 1962 to evaluate and accredit institutions in the Western Region, but now institutions in the US and internationally

Advances educational quality by promoting:

- Educational effectiveness and student learning
- Evidence-based decision-making

WASC Senior College and University Commission (WSCUC)

How Institutions Meet WSCUC's Requirement for Success of Students (Institutional Report)

1. KNOW STUDENTS

Analyze student population based on characteristics and metrics that matter most to your institution's unique mission and context

2. TAKE ACTION

Design and implement support systems that best serve your students' specific needs

3. EVALUATE RESULTS

Use the findings to enhance student support systems aligned with your institution's goals

Telling Our Institutional Story

The WSCUC Institutional Report

WSCUC is not looking for perfection. They are looking for credibility, reflection, and follow-through.

Name what's Happening

- Be clear about strengths and challenges
- Use evidence to describe current reality
- Avoid over-polishing or defensive

Explain Why

- Provide context for results and gaps
- Acknowledge structural, historical, or equity factors
- Show institutional self-awareness

Act with Intention

- Describe actions already underway
- Align strategies to mission and priorities
- Be realistic about scope and capacity

Commit to Improvement

- Identify how effectiveness will be evaluated
- Describe how results will inform next steps
- Demonstrate a sustainable cycle of improvement

Honest analysis + intentional action + evidence of learning = trust
