Justification for course proposal:

Bachelor of Science Career Technical Studies is undergoing major curriculum revisions to be more inclusive and relevant to educators and career professionals. This course is being redesigned to be more focused on the workforce development aspect of the program. This course would help better serve our students by offering practical applications using workforce development competencies and educational theoretical frameworks for research and professional development implications by providing content related to leadership development, ethical decision making, and motivation concept for the workplace setting. These topics are central the content of EDUC 106.

Course Description: (Not to exceed 80 words and language should conform to catalog copy.)

This course is designed as a primer for EDUC 107 by introducing concepts, exercises, and research that focus on the personal elements associated with leadership and self-growth. Participants will develop greater self-awareness and understanding of key personal assets/issues that impact leadership development and enhance organizational communication and growth. The impact of life experiences and personal philosophies will be discussed as they relate to effective leadership development. An inter-disciplinary approach to personal growth and development will be emphasized.
