Justification for course proposal:

This course is being modified to fit with new program requirements (please see appropriate form B); a significant portfolio project that becomes part of a student's e-portfolio is being added to the course and the number of units changed appropriately (4-unit course). A course description (previously missing) has been added.

Course Description: (Not to exceed 80 words and language should conform to catalog copy.)

This course examines African American literature and film. Focusing on the emergence of a distinctly black modernist and post-modernist literary discourse, we will also study how neo-slave narratives illuminate the difficulties of comparative freedom and the legacies of Caribbean and American slaveries and oppression.
