Title of the Program:

Minor in Counseling

Designation: (degree terminology)

Minor

Briefly describe the program proposal (new or change) and provide a justification:

The Counseling minor includes a number of Child and Adolescent Development courses, which have been undergoing major changes since the program review. The current proposal involves changes consistent with proposed changes in in the Child and Adolescent Development Major.

Changes include (a) a reduction in units in CHDV 138 (remove 138L), (b) an increase in units for methods courses (3 to 4), and (c) changes to prerequisites. In addition, CHDV 135 (Cross-cultural development) is being replaced with CHDV 156 (Child and Adolescent Development in Context), as it is deemed more closely aligned to the students' career goals.

Objectives of the degree program:

Students will:

1. describe and critically examine the theory and research on social and emotional development
2. identify the role of the family context in developmental processes, with specific attention to dynamic family processes within the larger society.
3. apply knowledge of child and adolescent development to the career of counseling and the cultural, social, and emotional factors that contribute to unhealthy psychological adjustment and abnormal behavior within developmental and social contexts.

University Learning Goals

Undergraduate Learning Goals:

Competence in the disciplines
Knowledge of human cultures and the physical and natural world
Integrative learning
Personal and social responsibility
Intellectual and practical skills

Will this program be required as part of a teaching credential program, a single subject, or multiple subject waiver program (e.g., Liberal Studies, Biology) or other school personnel preparation program (e.g., School of Nursing)?

No

Catalog Description:

Units required for Minor: 19

Program Description

The Counseling minor consists of 10 upper division units of Child and Adolescent Development coursework and 9 upper division units of Counseling coursework (EDUC). Students will critically examine the theory and research on social and emotional development, and specifically explore the role of the family context in developmental processes, with specific attention to dynamic family processes within the larger society. Students will explore the career of counseling, and the cultural, social, and emotional factors that contribute to unhealthy psychological adjustment and abnormal behavior within developmental and social contexts.

Admission Requirements: Course prerequisites and other criteria for admission of students to the degree major program, and for their continuation in it.

Minimum Grade Requirement

A grade of 'C-' or higher is required for all coursework in the Counseling minor.

As defined by policy <http://www.csus.edu/umannual/acadaff/fsm00010.htm>, a change in units constitutes a substantive change to the program. If your changes constitute a substantive change, please refer back to the 'Program Change Type' field above to ensure that 'Substantive' is selected.

Program Requirements: (If new courses are being created as part of a new program, it will be useful to propose courses first.)

Program Requirements

Code	Title	Units
Required courses		19
CHDV 133	Quantitative Methods in Human Development ¹
CHDV 156	Course CHDV 156 Not Found
CHDV 138	Social and Emotional Development
