2021-2022 Catalog

This program has been elevated to a stand-alone degree, BS in Fashion Merchandising and Management in compliance with EO 1071. The remaining concentration in Family and Consumer Sciences is out of compliance with EO 1071, and per that order, should be discontinued.

The discontinuation of this program will not have any future fiscal or programmatic effects on other academic units' programs. The elevated major has taken the place of this concentration and the programmatic impacts of that have already been realized.

Consultation occurred with affected units in the Form B process of elevating the curriculum to a stand-alone degree, BS in Fashion Merchandising and Management.

Currently enrolled students have the option between the two majors: BS in Fashion Merchandising and Management, or BS Family and Consumer Sciences concentration in Fashion Merchandising and Design. We have mitigated any impact on the number of units a student completes in the new major through course substitutions based on catalog rights.

All resources available to support the Family and Consumer Sciences concentration in Fashion Merchandising and Design have been shifted to the BS in Fashion Merchandising and Management
