This course was replaced by EDSS 266B when the Single Subject Credential Program switched from an older Teaching Performance Assessment (referred to in this course description as the Performance Assessment for California Teachers) to a newer Teaching Performance Assessment, the edTPA. Because of the switch, this course is no longer applicable and can be removed from the catalog for this reason. Program change forms will be submitted in August/September for other reasons, and will include removing this course from all programs.

Course Description: (Not to exceed 80 words and language should conform to catalog copy.)
Candidates in the Teacher Preparation Program must complete the Teaching Event for the Performance Assessment for California Teachers. The Teaching Event requires candidates to plan and teach an instructional sequence in their student teaching placement. They must also assess student learning during this lesson sequence and submit a videotape with material recorded during the lesson sequence. The Teaching Event is a summative assessment and one of several requirements that must be completed in order to receive a recommendation for a teaching credential.
