Type of Program Proposal:

Concentration

Program Change Type:

Substantive

Title of the Program:

BA in Philosophy (Ethics, Politics, and Law)

Designation: (degree terminology)

Bachelor of Arts

Briefly describe the program proposal (new or change) and provide a justification:

All Philosophy concentrations are being revised for the following reasons: (1) To achieve greater uniformity across the concentrations in core subject and total unit requirements; (2) to bring the major into unambiguous conformity with EO 1071; (3) to respond to a recent program review suggestion to create a required entry level Philosophical Methods (PHIL 89) course that will both prepare majors for advanced study and serve as an entry level assessment vehicle in conjunction with our Senior Seminar (PHIL 189). (4) To better prepare majors for advanced study by creating uniform prerequisites to upper division core courses. The 2 unit increase in the General Concentration results from the addition of PHIL 89. This will not require additional resources. Indeed we ultimately expect the preparatory value of this course to facilitate more timely graduation. (Note: Please examine Schematic Overview of Program Changes which has been attached as an additional unrequested document.)

Briefly describe the change:
Changes reflect new courses, changes in total units and changes to prerequisites.

Catalog Description:
Units required for Major: 42
Total units required for BA: 120

Program Description

The concentration in Ethics, Politics, and Law is designed as a preparation for the study of law as well as for advanced professional study in applied ethics. It is also intended to give undergraduates a foundation in rational decision-making, embodying the conviction that such an intellectual capacity has broad application.

The concentration gives students an understanding of the theories behind moral and legal principles as well as training in the process of decision-making applying those principles. Students will be called upon to make decisions in particular cases; state the facts impartially; convey their decisions and their reasoning cogently and persuasively; and justify their decisions by showing how they are both a reasonable consequence of those principles and not overturned by overriding conflicting principles. There will be a particular emphasis on clear and effective writing.

Admission Requirements: Course prerequisites and other criteria for admission of students to the degree major program, and for their continuation in it.
None

As defined by policy http://www.csus.edu/umanual/acadaff/fsm00010.htm, a change in units constitutes a substantive change to the program. If your changes constitute a substantive change, please refer back to the "Program Change Type" field above to ensure that "Substantive" is selected.

Program Requirements: (If new courses are being created as part of a new program, it will be useful to propose courses first.)
