PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

Welcome to California State University, Sacramento

We are the Hornet Family – a family of over 30,000 students, staff, and faculty. It is an exciting and transformational time at Sacramento State and our campus undergoes significant construction. We have recently opened new residence halls, a downtown location, a parking garage, expanded our University Union, and our state-of-the-art science complex is rising from the ground. It is truly an exciting time to be a Hornet.

Over the past few years, we have seen numerous accomplishments that are redefining Sacramento State. Our four-year and six-year graduation rates continue to improve, and we were awarded with the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU) Student Success and College Completion Award for our Finish in Four plan for student success. In the spring, we began construction on a 1,100 bed student housing apartment complex on the southeast side of campus, we purchased a building on Folsom Boulevard to use as a training facility for our gymnastics’ team, and we are excited about the completion of the University Union expansion. Our programs and students would not have these successes without the outstanding faculty and curriculum at Sacramento State. Our faculty spend countless hours developing courses that will give our students the highest-quality and most relevant education for their field.

The catalog is designed to help you navigate your academic pathways to success throughout your time here at Sacramento State. It is a resource for courses, programs, and several academically-related policies; following its guidelines will help you graduate on time. I am proud to welcome you to the 2019-2020 catalog, and I look forward to seeing you on campus. Stingers Up!

Sincerely,

Robert S. Nelsen
President
CALIFORNIA PROMISE

The California Promise Program (http://www.calstate.edu/sas/california-promise.shtml) enables a specific number of CSU campuses to establish pledge programs for entering first-time students who are both interested and able to complete baccalaureate degrees in 4-years. All campuses have established programs for students with Associate Degrees for Transfer from any California Community College to complete their baccalaureate degrees in 2-years. The program is limited to students who are residents of California.

Students who commit to enter either the 4-year or 2-year pledge will be given a priority registration appointment for each state-supported enrollment period and will be provided with routine and thorough academic advisement. In order to remain in the program, students must meet with their advisors as prescribed, develop an enrollment plan and complete 30 semester units or the quarter equivalent within each academic year, including summer. Participating campuses may stipulate other requirements as well. Interested students entering the CSU should contact campus offices or visit CalState.edu (http://www2.calstate.edu/apply/freshman/getting_into_the_csu/pages/the-california-promise-program.aspx).

At Sacramento State, the “California Promise” is delivered through the “Finish in Four” program for first-year students and the “Through in Two” program for transfer students. These programs provide incentives and support for students who commit to taking a minimum number of units per year with the goal of completing their degrees in 4 years or 2 years, respectively.

Only admitted, incoming first-year students are eligible for the pledge.

Commitment:

• Enrollment in at least 15 units per semester, or 30 units per year, as required to complete your bachelor’s degree, including summer session classes, if needed.
• Use of Smart Planner to plan all courses through graduation.
• One appointment per semester with a major advisor to review courses and degree planning.
• Keep “on-track” with degree road map as determined by the Academic Requirements Report.
• An overall GPA of at least 2.0 each semester of enrollment until the completion of your degree.

Benefits:

• Priority registration for fall semester, spring semester, and summer session classes to stay “on track.”
• Grants of up to $1,000 for summer session courses.
• In-person appointments with an advisor each semester to review courses and degree progression.
• The Sac State Rewards Program, which provides additional incentives through vouchers and discounts on campus goods and services.

Through in Two Pledge (http://www.csus.edu/excellence/take15)

Only admitted, incoming transfer students are eligible for the pledge.

Commitment:

• Enrollment in at least 15 units per semester, or 30 units per year, as required to complete your bachelor’s degree, including summer session classes, if needed.

Finish in Four Pledge (http://www.csus.edu/excellence/take15)
Welcome to the California State University (CSU) – the nation’s largest comprehensive higher education system with 23 unique campuses serving approximately 481,000 students with more than 52,000 faculty and staff.

Each year, the university awards more than 125,000 degrees. CSU graduates are serving as leaders in the industries that drive California’s economy, including business, agriculture, entertainment, engineering, teaching, hospitality and healthcare. Learn more at the California State University website (http://www.calstate.edu).

Facts

• 1 in every 10 employees in California is a CSU alumnus.
• The CSU awards 45 percent of the bachelor’s degrees earned in California.
• More than half of all the nurses in the state earn their degrees from the CSU.
• The CSU awards 95 percent of the hospitality/tourism degrees in the state.
• Nearly half of all of the state’s engineers earn their degrees from the CSU.
• The CSU is the leading provider of teacher preparation programs in the state.
• The CSU offers more than 125 fully online and 100 hybrid degree programs and concentrations.
• The CSU offers more than 4,700 online courses per term, providing more educational options to students who may prefer an online format to a traditional classroom setting.
• The CSU’s online concurrent enrollment program gives students the ability to enroll in courses offered by other campuses in the CSU.
• Over a recent four year period, the CSU has issued nearly 50,000 professional development certificates in education, health services, business and technology, leisure and hospitality, manufacturing, international trade and many other industries.
• Nearly half of the CSU’s 481,000 students are engaged in some type of community service, totaling 32 million hours of service annually.
• More than 13,000 students participate in STEM (science, technology engineering and mathematics) service-learning courses.

For every $1 that the state invests in the CSU, the university generates $5.43 for California’s economy.

Governance

The CSU is governed by the Board of Trustees, most of whom are appointed by the governor and serve with faculty and student representatives. The CSU chancellor is the chief executive officer, reporting to the board. The campus presidents serve as the campus-level chief executive officers. The trustees, chancellor and presidents develop systemwide educational policy. The presidents, in consultation with the CSU Academic Senate and other campus stakeholder groups, render and implement local policy decisions.

CSU Historical Milestones

The individual California State Colleges were established as a system with a Board of Trustees and a chancellor in 1960 by the Donahoe Higher Education Act. In 1972, the system was designated as the California State University and Colleges, and in 1982 the system became the California State University. Today, the CSU is comprised of 23 campuses, including comprehensive and polytechnic universities and, since July 1995, the California Maritime Academy, a specialized campus.

The oldest campus—San José State University—was founded in 1857 and became the first institution of public higher education in California. The newest—CSU Channel Islands—opened in fall 2002, with freshmen arriving in fall 2003.

In 1963, the CSU’s Academic Senate was established to act as the official voice of CSU faculty in systemwide matters. Also, the California State College Student Presidents Association—which was later renamed the California State Students Association—was founded to represent each campus student association on issues affecting students.

Through its many decades of service, the CSU has continued to adapt to address societal changes, student needs and workforce trends. While the CSU’s core mission has always focused on providing high-quality, affordable bachelor’s and master’s degree programs, over time the university has added a wide range of services and programs to support student success — from adding health centers and special programs for veterans to building student residential facilities to provide a comprehensive educational experience.

To improve degree completion and accommodate students working full- or part-time, the educational paradigm was expanded to give students the ability to complete upper-division and graduate requirements through part-time, late afternoon, and evening study. The university also expanded its programs to include a variety of teaching and school service credential programs, specially designed for working professionals.

The CSU marked another significant educational milestone when it broadened its degree offerings to include doctoral degrees. The CSU independently offers Doctor of Education (Ed.D.), Doctor of Physical Therapy (DPT), Doctor of Audiology (AuD) and Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) degree programs. A limited number of other doctoral degrees are offered jointly with the University of California and private institutions in California.

In 2010, in an effort to accommodate community college transfer students, the CSU, in concert with the California Community Colleges (CCC), launched the Associate Degree for Transfer (ADT), which guarantees CCC transfer students with an ADT admission to the CSU with... junior status. ADT has since proven to be the most effective path to a CSU for transfer students.

Always adapting to changes in technology and societal trends to support student learning and degree completion, the CSU achieved another milestone in 2013, when it launched Cal State Online, a systemwide collection of services that support the delivery of fully online programs from campuses. Now, full-time students have access to fully online courses offered at other CSU campuses.

By providing an accessible, hands-on education that prepares graduates for career success, the CSU has created a network of alumni that is so extensive and renowned that it spans across the globe. As of 2018-19, more than 3.7 million CSU alumni are making a difference in the lives of the people of California and the world.

The CSU strives to continually develop innovative programs, services and opportunities that will give students the tools they need to meet their full potential. In 2016, the university launched Graduation Initiative 2025, a bold plan to support students, increase the number of California’s graduates earning high-quality degrees and eliminate achievement and equity gaps for all students. Through this initiative, the CSU is ensuring that all students have the opportunity to graduate according to their personal goals, positively impacting their lives, families and communities. The CSU is committed to providing a quality higher education that prepare students to become leaders in the changing workforce.

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

California State University, Sacramento

California State University, Sacramento offers life-changing possibilities for our students, preparing them to be leaders in their careers and communities. Our professors are known for their dedication to great teaching, and direct interaction with students helps to create extensive learning and research opportunities. Sacramento State's location in California's capital city also provides access to internships and job opportunities with some of the nation's most influential public and private institutions.

A vibrant, metropolitan university, Sacramento State enrolls a multicultural student body and graduates about 7,000 students each year. The University has an annual economic impact on the region of nearly $900 million and more than $1 billion on the statewide economy.

Sacramento State remains one of the nation's best higher education values, with student tuition fees among the lowest in the nation. About half of our students receive some form of financial assistance.

Our students choose from numerous fields of study. We offer a strong and diverse academic curriculum that includes nearly 60 undergraduate programs and more than 40 graduate programs, as well as two doctorates. In addition, numerous offerings, such as the Honors Program, help students pursue excellence, meet others with similar interests and develop strong ties with professors. Among our programs linked to state government is the nationally renowned Capital Fellows Program, in which graduate students work as full-time staff in the legislative, executive or judicial branch.

Preparing for a career is a vital part of a Sacramento State education. We have one of the largest cooperative education programs in California, placing students in paid positions where they receive academic credit. Hundreds of other students participate in internships in business and government. One third of Sacramento State students work as volunteers – many through a service-learning project in class gaining valuable work experience while helping their community. Our Career Center helps students with identifying a career interest, developing interview skills and finding jobs through the extensive Hornet Career Connection, a partnership with local and global employers. Numerous academic programs also have direct links to employers that recruit directly on campus.

Outside the classroom, Sacramento State students lead active lives. Campus-sponsored arts programs, speeches, debates, comedy shows and concerts enrich the community throughout the year, and there are abundant cultural and entertainment options in the surrounding area. More than half the University's students join at least one of 250 student organizations, and thousands participate in the intramural sports program. About 400 intercollegiate athletes compete at the NCAA Division I level.

We're particularly proud of our beautiful 300-acre campus, with its lush landscaping and more than 3,500 trees. Sacramento State also has recently completed the two greenest buildings in the history of the University. The American River Courtyard is a suite-style residence hall on campus that offers amenities such as private bedrooms, kitchenettes and in-suite bathrooms for students. The WELL, a state-of-the-art recreation and wellness center, combines gym space, fitness equipment, medical facilities, an indoor track and a large rock-climbing wall. Both buildings are LEED Gold certified for their energy-saving and sustainability features.

Miles of riverfront trails for runners and bicyclists stretch along the adjacent American River Parkway, linking our campus and student housing with recreational areas such as Folsom Lake and Old Sacramento.

University Mission and Strategic Planning

The Division of Academic Affairs strives every day to enable students, faculty, and staff to achieve their full potential and create a learning environment that promotes success and accomplishment. In the 2017-18 academic year, the Division endeavors to enhance our efforts for students to “finish in four” and broaden diversity and inclusion.

Hornet Honor Code

As proud members and representatives of the Sacramento State Hornet community, we commit ourselves to actively promoting honesty, integrity, respect, and care for every person, ensuring a welcoming campus environment, and striving to help every member of our Hornet Family feel a strong sense of belonging.

As Hornets, we will:

1. Promote an inclusive campus and community.
2. Listen and respect each other’s thoughts, interests, and views.
3. Value diversity and learn from one another.
4. Engage daily with mutual trust, care, and integrity.
5. Support a culture of honor and adhere to campus policies for honesty, ethics, and conduct.
6. Be proud to be Sac State Hornets

University Foundation at Sacramento State

The Foundation is an organization that was established to help raise and invest private gifts for the benefit of Sacramento State. It encourages philanthropy to the University and also provides a structure for accepting and managing gifts and endowments on behalf of Sac State.

Mission Statement

The University Foundation at Sacramento State promotes philanthropy to provide a level of excellence at the University beyond what is possible through state funds.

The members of the board of directors of The University Foundation accomplish this goal by helping to raise private resources that advance the mission and priorities of the University, and serving as ambassadors for philanthropy in the University community. The board provides stewardship in the prudent investment of resources, ensuring the integrity of the Foundation through accountability and transparency in its dealings.

ACCREDITATION

California State University, Sacramento is fully accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges, and for teacher education by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing; the University is also a member of the National Council of Graduate Schools and the Western Association of Graduate Schools, and is on the list of approved colleges by the American Association of University Women.

Licensure and Credentialing Disclosure
Admission into programs leading to licensure and credentialing does not guarantee that students will obtain a license or credential. Licensure and credentialing requirements are set by agencies that are not controlled by or affiliated with the CSU and requirements can change at any time. For example, licensure or credentialing requirements can include evidence of the right to work in the United States (e.g., social security number or tax payer identification number) or successfully passing a criminal background check. Students are responsible for determining whether they can meet licensure or credentialing requirements. Information concerning licensure and credentialing requirements are available from the Dean of Undergraduate Studies, Sacramento Hall 234, (916) 278-5344.

For employees in these bargaining units, any holiday(s) or winter break listed subsequent to the expiration date of the current agreement(s) are tentative and subject to negotiations with the appropriate exclusive representative.
ACADEMIC POLICIES

Changes in Rules and Policies
Although every effort has been made to assure the accuracy of the information in this catalog, students and others who use this catalog should note that laws, rules, and policies change from time to time and that these changes might alter the information contained in this publication. Changes may come in the form of statutes enacted by the Legislature, rules and policies adopted by The Board of Trustees of the California State University, by the Chancellor or designee of the California State University, or by the President or designee of the campus. It is not possible in a publication of this size to include all of the rules, policies and other information that pertain to students, the institution, and the California State University. More current or complete information may be obtained from the appropriate department, school, or administrative office.

Nothing in this catalog shall be construed as, operate as or have the effect of an abridgment or a limitation of any rights, powers, or privileges of The Board of Trustees of the California State University, the Chancellor of the California State University, or the President of the campus. The Trustees, the Chancellor, and the President are authorized by law to adopt, amend, or repeal rules and policies that apply to students. This catalog does not constitute a contract or the terms and conditions of a contract between the student and the campus or the California State University. The relationship of students to the campus and the California State University is one governed by statute, rules, and policy adopted by the Legislature, the Trustees, the Chancellor, the Presidents and their duly authorized designees.

Academic Honesty
(916) 278-6060

Honesty is essential to the integrity of any institution of higher education. Accordingly, Sacramento State expects all faculty, staff, and students to protect the integrity of the curriculum and fair grading. Sacramento State is a publicly-assisted institution legislatively empowered to certify competence and accomplishment in general and discrete categories of knowledge. Because academic dishonesty devalues all those who depend upon the integrity of the University, Sacramento State must diligently defend the integrity of all academic programs.

Grading System
Lower division courses (numbered 1-99), upper division courses (100-199), graduate level courses (200-299 and 500 and above) and some postbaccalaureate Education courses (300-499) are graded:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade</th>
<th>Grade Points</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A</td>
<td>4.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A-</td>
<td>3.7</td>

<tr>
<td>B-</td>
<td>2.7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C+</td>
<td>2.3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C</td>
<td>2.0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Certain designated courses, e.g., co-curricular courses, fieldwork, field tours, workshops, theses, supervised teaching and similar courses are graded Credit (“CR”) or No Credit (“NC”). The Credit (“CR”) grade will equate to “A”, “B” or “C” level competence for undergraduate courses and “A” or “B” level competence for graduate courses. The University uses a plus/minus grading system for letter grades. The grade of “C-” equates to a Credit for undergraduate courses and the “B-” equates to a Credit for graduate courses.

A student’s academic standing is determined by grade point average (GPA). Grade point average is computed by dividing quality points (the total number of grade points earned) by the number of quality hours (total attempted hours excluding courses graded “CR” or “NC”). A grade point average of 2.0 indicates a “C” average, a 3.0 indicates a “B” average, etc. The University does not award a grade of “A+”.

Definition of Grade Symbols

Withdrawal Unauthorized indicates that an enrolled student did not withdraw from the course and also failed to complete course requirements. It is used when, in the opinion of the instructor, completed assignments or course activities, or both, were insufficient to make normal evaluation of academic performance possible. For purposes of grade point average, this symbol is equivalent to an “F”. (See Deletion Policy)

Satisfactory achievement of course objectives. (Not used in Sacramento State grade point calculation.)

Unsatisfactory achievement of course objectives. (Not used in Sacramento State grade point calculation, but is calculated as “F” by many graduate and professional schools.)

Incomplete Authorized. A portion of the requirements usually completed during one term remains to be completed and evaluated. (Not used in grade point calculation.) See Incomplete Grade policy, which follows.

Report in progress. Work is in progress on thesis, project or similar course extending beyond one term. (Not used in grade point calculation.) See “RP” Grade Policy, which follows.

The symbol “W” indicates that the student was permitted to withdraw from the course after the fourth week of instruction with the approval of the instructor and appropriate campus officials. It carries no connotation of quality of student performance and is not used in grade point calculation.

Report Delayed because a grade has not been reported to the registrar due to circumstances beyond control of student. (Not used in grade point calculation.)

Audit symbol indicates student’s status as auditor and does not earn degree credit. (See Admission of Auditors.)

Audit Grade Symbol

Enrollment as an auditor is subject to permission of the instructor provided that enrollment in a course as an auditor shall be permitted only after students otherwise eligible to enroll on a credit basis have had an opportunity to do so. Auditors are subject to the same fee structure as credit students and regular class attendance is expected. Once enrolled as an auditor, a student may not change to credit status unless such a change is requested no later than the last day to add classes in that term. A student who is enrolled for credit may not change to audit after the fourth week of instruction.

An auditor is a student who enrolls in a course for informational purposes only. Regular attendance is customary and expected, but an auditor does not participate in the class, does not take examinations, and does not receive academic credit for the course. Auditors are not permitted to enroll in activity, curricular, or participatory courses.

Incomplete Grades

The symbol “I” (Incomplete Authorized) indicates that a portion of required coursework has not been completed and evaluated during the course due to unforeseen but fully justified reasons and that there is still a possibility of earning credit. It is the responsibility of the student to bring pertinent information to the attention of the instructor and to determine from the instructor the remaining course requirements that must be satisfied to remove the Incomplete. A final grade is assigned when the work agreed upon has been completed and evaluated. An “I” (Incomplete Authorized) should not be assigned when it is necessary for the student to attend additional class meetings to complete the course requirements. When assigning an “I” grade faculty will complete an online contract visible to student indicating assignments needing to be completed to meet the terms of the contract. An Incomplete must be made up within the time limit specified by the instructor when the completed “I” grade is assigned. The time limit may not extend beyond 12 months. If the instructor does not specify a time limit, then the student must meet the conditions specified by the instructor within 12 months from the day grades are due on the Academic Calendar (the last day of the term) the same term in which the “I” grade was assigned. This limitation prevails whether or not the student maintains continuous enrollment.

Failure to complete the assigned work will result in an Incomplete being converted to an “F” or “NC” on the academic transcript.

Incomplete Grades

If a graduating senior has an incomplete “I” grade in a course in which

1. the student has not completed the course requirements, and
2. the time limit has not yet expired on the student’s graduation date, and
3. the course is not required for the degree,

then the “I” grade remains on the official transcript as “I/Not Completed”.

Graduating Seniors

If a graduating senior has an incomplete “I” grade in a course in which

1. the student has not completed the course requirements, and
2. the time limit has not yet expired on the student’s graduation date, and
3. the course is not required for the degree,

then the “I” grade remains on the official transcript as “I/Not Completed”.

Graduating Seniors

The “RP” symbol is used in connection with courses that extend beyond one semester. It indicates that work is in progress, but assignment of a final grade must await completion of additional work. The “RP” symbol shall be replaced with the appropriate final grade within one year of its assignment (within two years for master’s culminating requirement). If no final grade is reported by the instructor within the time limit, the “RP” will be converted to “F” or “NC” on the academic transcript.

C- Grades for Prerequisite Courses

A grade of “C-” or better is required for prerequisite courses. If a department requires a “C” or better in a prerequisite course and will not accept a “C-” grade, then the department must specify so in the catalog course description. This policy applies to all undergraduate-level courses.

Credit/No Credit Grading Option
With the exception of certain designated courses, e.g., co-curricular courses, fieldwork, field tours, workshops, theses, supervised teaching, and similar courses, academic achievement is evaluated on a letter grade basis (“A”-“F”). Sacramento State students may choose to substitute Credit/No Credit (“CR”/“NC”) grading for a maximum of 15 letter-graded Sacramento State credit hours/units subject to the following conditions:

Undergraduate Students
1. No more than 15 units taken under the Sacramento State “CR”/“NC” option may apply toward a baccalaureate degree (this does not include credits obtained from challenge or Advanced Placement examinations).
2. Any course which is graded “CR”/“NC” cannot be used to satisfy requirements in the major, the minor, or general education unless the course is identified in the catalog as graded “CR”/“NC”. This applies to all University graduation requirements.
3. Students must submit the appropriate form requesting “CR”/“NC” grading to Office of the University Registrar before the census date of the semester.
4. The instructor will assign a letter grade on the grade roll. If the grade earned by the student who elected the “CR”/“NC” option is “C-” or higher, “CR” will be posted to the student’s transcript. If the assigned grade is lower than “C-”, “NC” will be posted.

Graduate Students
1. Classified or conditionally classified graduate students, with the consent of their advisor and department, may elect “CR”/“NC” grading in courses normally letter graded. Units earned in this manner may not count toward graduate degree requirements.
2. Unclassified graduate students and postbaccalaureate credential students also may elect “CR”/“NC” grading in courses normally letter graded. Units earned in this manner may not be used to meet course requirements for admission to classified status or be applied to meeting second bachelor’s, certificate or credential requirements (unless department policy specifies otherwise).
3. Graduate students must submit the appropriate form requesting “CR”/“NC” grading, including approved signatures if required, to the Registrar’s Office before the census date of the semester.
4. The instructor will assign a letter grade on the grade roster. If the grade earned by the student who elected the “CR”/“NC” option is “B-” or higher, “CR” will be posted to the student’s transcript. If the assigned grade is lower than “B-”, it will be posted as “NC”.

Co-Curricular Courses
Co-curricular courses are designed to enhance student development, enrich the student’s educational experience and/or facilitate involvement in University life. Co-curricular courses are graded “CR”/“NC”. No more than 15 units of co-curricular coursework may be applied toward a baccalaureate degree.

Co-curricular courses include the following categories of courses (fieldwork and internships required in a major or minor program are not subsumed in this category):
1. elective courses that provide students opportunities to practice in a field related to their major, e.g., cooperative education, field tours, workshops, tutoring, fieldwork and internships;
2. courses that allow students to apply an individual talent or skill as a participant in intercollegiate competition or other extracurricular activities and events organized by the University;
3. orientation courses, e.g., introduction to college studies, academic strategies and study skills, career orientation; and
4. courses that promote student involvement in University governance and service, e.g., participation in student government, peer advising, residence hall advisor training.

Grade Corrections, Deletions, and Appeals
Grade Correction Policy
A grade correction is possible only in the case of a declared administrative error. A correction in letter grade must be approved by the instructor of record and the department chairperson by the last day of the semester, either spring or fall, after the grade is posted to the student’s record. The definition of administrative error is an error made by the instructor or assistant in grade determination or posting.

A grade Change may not be made as a result of work completed or presented following the close of a grade period, except for completion of work when an Incomplete grade was issued. Grades cannot be changed to “W” nor can they be changed from a letter grade to Credit/No Credit.

A grade correction after the semester following grade award will be allowed only if the course instructor and chair of the department where the course was offered submit the grade change and an explanation for the late grade correction to the Registrar. In the case where the course instructor and/or department chair is unavailable, the department faculty or a committee of department faculty must approve the grade correction. In such a case, a statement of the nature of the exception, the department’s method of approval, and the date of approval, must be forwarded with the grade correction.

Deletion Policy
A petition to delete grades may be submitted for consideration by the Academic Standards Committee for the following reasons only:
1. to remove penalty grades assigned due to failure to complete a course for causes related to illness. Medical verification is required;
2. to correct errors by academic departments. Department verification is required;
3. to correct errors made in registration (e.g., use of wrong class code). The Registrar’s Office must confirm this error.

Petitions to delete grades must be submitted within one academic year from the end of the semester in which the grade was received. After a degree has been awarded, no petitions will be considered to delete grades posted prior to that award.

Grade Appeal Procedures
The campus has a single grade appeal procedure available to students in all academic disciplines. Copies of the procedure are available in each academic department office, in the Office of the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs and the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs. Information in its entirety about the grade appeal process can be accessed on the Sacramento State Web site at http://www.csus.edu/umanual/Acad%20Affairs/Grade_Appeal_Policy.htm.
Unauthorized Withdrawal Policy - WU (Withdrawal Unauthorized)

The University requires that students process an official drop or withdrawal online or by petition within published deadlines. Failure to withdraw properly from a course may result in assignment of a "WU", "F", or "NC" grade in the course.

The "WU" may be assigned in the case where the student has not completed sufficient course assignments or participated in sufficient course activity to make it possible, in the opinion of the instructor, to report satisfactory or unsatisfactory completion of the class by use of a letter grade (A - F).

For purposes of grade point average, a "WU" grade is equivalent to an "F". However, in courses which are graded Credit/No Credit, the use of the "NC" grade should be assigned and not the "WU" grade.

Petition to Discount First WU Grade. In the first term that a student receives one or more "WU" grades, the student may petition to have the "WU" grades dropped from their GPA calculation. To do so the student must obtain a "Petition to Discount First WU Grade" from the University Registrar’s Office or the Academic Advising Center.

The student may submit a petition at any time prior to conferral of degree. While the petition will result in the "WU" grades being excluded from the GPA calculation, the "WU" grade remains on the student’s transcript. The "Petition to Discount First WU Grade" only applies to the first term in which the student receives one or more "WU" grades. This "Discount" policy does not apply to "WU" grades earned in subsequent terms or "WU" grades received at institutions other than Sacramento State.

A student re-enrolling in a course in which the student previously received a discounted first WU grade, will not be considered to be officially repeating the course. These units will not be considered "repeat units" as specified in the University’s Repeat Policy.

Student Complaint Hearing Policy

(916) 278-6060

The Student Complaint Hearing Policy addresses grievances that result from alleged inequitable treatment by a University employee, enforcement of an unfair policy, or failure to adhere to a University policy that does not fall into the categories of grades, student discipline, or harassment/discrimination issues. This policy reflects the University’s desire to resolve disputes within each program center at an informal level. If such a resolution is not possible, this complaint procedure provides a fair and collegial hearing process.

For a copy of the policy, contact the offices of the Vice President for Student Affairs, any Program Center administrators or refer to the governing shelf at the University Library.

Student Complaint Procedure (Complaints Regarding the CSU)

The California State University takes complaints and concerns regarding the institution very seriously. If you have a complaint regarding the CSU, you may present your complaint as follows:

1. If your complaint concerns CSU's compliance with academic program quality and accrediting standards, you may present your complaint to the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC) at http://www.wasc-six.org/. WASC is the agency that accredits the CSU's academic program. If you believe that your complaint warrants further attention after you have exhausted all the steps outlined by WASC, you may file an appeal with the Assistant Vice Chancellor, Academic and Student Affairs at the CSU Chancellor's Office.

2. If your complaint concerns an alleged violation by CSU of any law that prohibits discrimination, harassment or retaliation based on a protected status (such as age, disability, gender (or sex), gender identity, gender expression, nationality, race or ethnicity (including color or ancestry), religion or veteran or military status), you may present your complaint as described in Section XVI (Nondiscrimination Policy).

3. If your complaint concerns an alleged violation by CSU of other state law, including laws prohibiting fraud and false advertising, you may present your complaint to the campus president or designee at nelsen@csus.edu. See Procedure for Student Complaints—Executive Order No. 1063 for details regarding the complaint requirements and complaint process: http://www.calstate.edu/eo/eo-1063.html.

The president or designee will provide guidance on the appropriate campus process for addressing your particular issue.

4. Other complaints regarding the CSU may be presented to the campus dean of students, who will provide guidance on the appropriate campus process for addressing your particular issue.

This procedure should not be construed to limit any right that you may have to take action to resolve your complaint.

Repeating Courses

The policy governing course repeats at California State University, Sacramento follows Executive Order 1037: Grading Symbols, Minimum Standards Governing the Assignment of Grades, Policies on the Repetition of Courses, Policies on Academic Renewal, and Grade Appeals.¹

1. Undergraduate students may repeat courses only if they earned grades lower than a C (C+, D+, D, D-, F, WU, NC).

2. Course repeats with "Grade Forgiveness" (Grade Forgiveness is the circumstances in which the new grade replaces the former grade in terms of the calculation of GPA, etc.):
   a. Undergraduate students may repeat up to 16 semester-units with grade forgiveness.²
   b. Undergraduate students may repeat an individual course for grade forgiveness no more than one time. A course may be repeated no more than two times without petition.
   c. Grade forgiveness shall not be applicable to course for which the original grade was the result of a finding of academic dishonesty.

3. Course Repeats with "Grades Averaged": Undergraduate students may repeat an additional 12 semester-units, i.e., units in addition to the 16 semester-units for which grade "replacement" is permitted. In such instances the repeat grades shall not replace the original grade; instead all grades (except any forgiveness grades) shall be calculated into the student's overall grade-point average.²

4. Departments and Colleges may not have a repeat policy that differs from the campus policy. (Note: restrictions on repeats for enrolled and declared majors, pre-majors, minors, and certification students within specific programs, represent substantive program changes and not exceptions to the repeat policy.)

5. The limits apply only to units completed at the campus (i.e., While courses taken elsewhere may be repeated here or used to replace grades previously earned here (if the original grade was below a C), only the courses taken here will be counted towards the repeat caps).

1 California State University, Executive Order 1037 - Grading Symbols, Minimum Standards Governing the Assignment of Grades, Policies on the Repetition of Courses, Policies on Academic Renewal, and Grade Appeals. eff. August 1, 2009, https://www.calstate.edu/EO/EO-1037.html

2 The default sequence for applying forgiven and averaged grades is to forgive grades for repeated courses that are eligible (that have not already been repeated once) until the forgiveness cap has been reached, whereupon they will be averaged until the repeat cap is reached. Grades for a course that has already been forgiven once will be averaged. Any residual units from the forgiveness cap that are not used for forgiveness may be used for averaging, within the 28 unit total repeat cap.

Any exception to the Repeat Policy may be granted through petition to the student’s major department and the Registrar’s Office.

Addendum - Transfer Credit

The existing repeat policy above will apply to transfer credit unless otherwise noted (see Number 5 above). Undergraduate students may repeat courses at California State University, Sacramento OR another college or university only if they earned grades lower than a C (C-, D+, D, D-, F, WU, NC). This policy applies to students who are repeating a course first taken at California State University, Sacramento and repeated at another college or university. This policy also applies to students who are repeating a course first taken at another college or university and repeated at California State University, Sacramento.

If a student has repeated a course in which that student has earned a grade of C or higher, neither the course credit nor grade will be recognized as a valid repeat and will not be forgiven or averaged. In these instances, the original grade will remain on the student’s record.

Academic Renewal

When all the policy conditions are met, Sacramento State may disregard previous unsatisfactory academic coursework, taken at any college, from all considerations associated with requirements for the baccalaureate degree. The request is limited to two semesters or three quarters of coursework. The policy action removes the earned hours, quality hours, and quality points (grade points) for the entire semester(s) or quarter(s) under consideration. The Academic Renewal policy does not allow for partial deletion of coursework within any semester or quarter. (See Grade Deletion Policy.) Sacramento State does not consider requests to delete any course completed and applied toward a baccalaureate degree after the degree has been awarded.

Requirements and Procedure

1. Using the Academic Renewal Petition, the student must present evidence that:
   a. the level of performance was due to extenuating circumstances;
   b. one or more additional terms of enrollment would be required to complete baccalaureate requirements if the request was not approved, i.e., all degree requirements would be met except the required minimum Sacramento State and overall GPA (2.000);
   c. five years have elapsed since the most recent coursework to be disregarded was completed (e.g., Fall 2001 semester will be considered after the Fall 2006 semester);
   d. the student has completed additional academic coursework at Sacramento State subsequent to the work to be disregarded;
   e. the additional academic coursework completed conforms with the following sliding scale: 15 semester units with at least a 3.0 GPA, 30 semester units with at least a 2.500 GPA, or 45 semester units with at least a 2.000 GPA (work completed at another college/university cannot be used to satisfy this requirement); and
   f. the petitioner is currently attending Sacramento State, has filed to graduate from Sacramento State and has met with a degree evaluator from the Evaluations Office to determine if additional coursework is needed.

2. If another accredited college has acted to remove previous work from degree consideration, such action will be honored in terms of its policy. However, elimination of any work in a term by any other institution will reduce by one term the two-semester maximum that may be disregarded by Sacramento State.

3. When such action is taken, the student’s permanent academic record will be annotated so that it is readily evident that no work taken during the disregarded term(s), even if satisfactory, may apply toward baccalaureate requirements. However, all work must remain legible on the record ensuring a true and complete academic history.

4. Final determination that one or more terms will be disregarded will be based on careful review of evidence by a committee, which will include the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs, the College Dean of the major, the University Registrar, the Associate Registrar for Graduation and Evaluation, and the Vice President for Student Affairs.

Scholastic Standards

The University recognizes superior academic achievement at the time of admission, at the end of each semester and at the time of graduation. In addition, academic standards have been set for continuation of enrollment privileges based on minimum achievement required for completion of degree requirements.

Recognition of Academic Achievement

Honors List

Semester honors are awarded and the notation “Dean’s Honor List” is posted to the permanent academic record for freshmen earning a 3.000 grade point average and other undergraduates earning a 3.250 grade point average. To be eligible in either category, students must complete a minimum of 12 letter-graded units with no Incomplete grades and no grade lower than “C-”.

Graduation with Honors

Honors at Graduation are awarded to Sacramento State bachelor’s degree graduates who complete a minimum of 30 graded units in residence with a qualifying grade point average.

Honors are awarded based on the following grade point average ranges:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Honors</th>
<th>GPA Range</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Cum Laude</td>
<td>3.50-3.749</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Magna Cum Laude</td>
<td>3.75-3.899</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Summa Cum Laude</td>
<td>3.90-4.000</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

For posting of honors on the transcript, the GPA calculation will include all Sacramento State coursework, including the final semester. Second bachelor’s degree graduates are not eligible for Honors at Graduation.

Scholastic Standards for Continuation of Enrollment

Undergraduate Students
The grade point average in all courses attempted at Sacramento State plus the overall GPA in courses attempted at all accredited colleges are used in determining whether a student is demonstrating satisfactory progress toward degree completion. Students must maintain a 2.000 ("C") average each semester, at Sacramento State, and overall. Failure to do so will subject the student to the loss of enrollment privileges as indicated in the following rules.

To be eligible for a bachelor’s degree, a student must earn a grade point average of 2.000 in the overall college record, in the cumulative Sacramento State record, in all upper division courses used to complete the major, in all courses used to complete the minor, and in all courses used to complete General Education.

Graduate Students

See Graduate Degree Requirements/Scholarship.

Undergraduate Academic Action Categories

Good Standing
Undergraduate students whose Sacramento State and cumulative grade point average (GPA) is 2.0 or above are considered in good academic standing.

Academic Probation
Students whose cumulative Sacramento State grade point average or overall grade point average falls below 2.000 will be placed on academic probation. Students on probation are eligible to enroll in the subsequent semester.

Continued Probation
Students on probation will be placed on Continued Probation if they:
- earn a 2.000 in the current semester, but have a Sacramento State GPA or overall GPA below 2.000.
Students placed on Continued Probation will be limited to a maximum course load of 14 units per semester until they return to academic good standing.

Academic Disqualification
If a student is on academic probation and the Sacramento State or cumulative grade point average is below the following levels, the student will be academically disqualified if their Sacramento State or cumulative GPA is below a:

- Freshman (30 units) will be academically disqualified if their Sacramento State GPA is below a 1.50;
- Sophomores (30-59.9 units) will be academically disqualified if their Sacramento State GPA is below 1.70;
- Juniors (60-89.9 units) will be academically disqualified if their Sacramento State GPA is below a 1.85;
- Seniors (90 or more units) will be academically disqualified if their Sacramento State GPA is below a 1.95.

Students not on probation will be disqualified if the cumulative GPA is 1.00 or less. Disqualified students will not be allowed to register unless they are formally reinstated and/or readmitted to the University.

Academic Dismissal
A student reinstated after disqualification who earns a semester GPA below 2.00 or fails to meet other requirements specified in the reinstatement contract will be dismissed. Academic Dismissal means that enrollment privileges have been withdrawn. Dismissed students are not eligible to use the immediate reinstatement procedure. Academically dismissed students are not eligible for readmission without the permission of the department chair or designee for that major.

Administrative Probation and Administrative Disqualification
Undergraduate students are subject to Administrative Probation for the following reasons:

1. Withdrawal from all or a substantial portion of their courses in two successive terms or in any three terms.
2. Repeated failure to progress toward a degree or other program objective, when such failure is due to circumstances within the control of the student.
3. Failure to comply, after due notice, with an academic requirement or regulation.

Students who do not meet the conditions for removal of administrative probation may be subject to further administrative actions, including Administrative Disqualification.

Notification
Student Service Center
Office of the University Registrar
Lassen Hall 1000
(916) 278-1000

Students will be notified of their academic status (academic probation, continued probation, academic disqualification or academic dismissal) by letter, and/or My Sacramento State message and/or email at the end of each semester. Students on Probation or Continued Probation are required to meet with an advisor in their major department. Departments may block registration of students who fail to meet advising appointments. Students receiving veterans’ educational benefits may be ruled ineligible for continued benefits if, after one semester of unsatisfactory achievement (probation or disqualification), they do not return to academic Good Standing at the completion of the next semester.

Reinstatement of Disqualified Students
Students who have been academically disqualified may petition for reinstatement. The Petition for Reinstatement may be obtained from the reinstatement website (https://www.csus.edu/registrar/reinstatements/).

Reinstatement petitions are reviewed by a committee of faculty and professional advisors, who make recommendations for a student's future academic standing. If reinstated, students will be placed on an academic contract that may stipulate maximum units, specific courses, and achievement levels. Failure to meet the conditions of the reinstatement contract and/or failure to achieve a subsequent semester GPA of 2.00 or higher will result in academic dismissal.

Students not recommended by their academic department for continuation in the first choice major may be considered for University reinstatement into a different major when approved by the department offering that major. Students reinstated as undeclared will not be allowed to enroll in upper division major courses during the period of the contract without the permission of the department chair or designee for that major.

Deadlines to petition for immediate reinstatement are as follows:

Spring Semester: Third week of January
Fall Semester: End of June

Note: Deadlines are strictly enforced.

Students whose petitions are approved are subject to review each semester until the Sacramento State GPA reaches the minimum standard of 2.00 for academic Good Standing.

Readmission of Academically Dismissed Students
Students who are academically dismissed will not be considered for continued enrollment at the University for at least one semester depending on semester of dismissal. Academically dismissed students need to meet with an advisor for advice on developing a plan to remedy the conditions that led to dismissal.

After the mandatory interruption in enrollment, students who were academically dismissed must submit a petition for “Readmission after Dismissal” which is available on the Reinstatement website (https://www.csus.edu/registrar/reinstatements/). Petitions for Readmission after Dismissal are available during the month of August in order to be reviewed for possible Spring term admission. The appeal must include a recommendation from the student's major department. A student whose appeal is granted is subject to academic review each semester until the Sacramento State GPA and overall cumulative GPA reach the minimum standard of 2.00 for academic Good Standing. Readmitted students who fail to meet conditions specified for readmission will be academically dismissed. A second dismissal will result in a mandatory interruption of at least two years.

Note: Deadlines are strictly enforced.

Reinstatement Procedure for College of Business Administration Undergraduate Students
Business students who have been disqualified or dismissed from the University for academic reasons are no longer considered business administration students. This means that disqualified or dismissed students will not be allowed to enroll in 100-level business courses until they have been reinstated into the business major.
Undergraduate students who did not enroll in the University the semester(s) immediately following their disqualification must obtain a Petition for Reinstatement or Petition for Readmission. Following Dismissal from the Academic Advising and Career Center or the Student Services Counter, Lassen Hall. If enrolled in the University for non-business classes the semester(s) immediately following disqualification, the student must obtain a Change of Major - Reinstatement Petition from the Undergraduate Business Advising Center (UBAC), indicating the request for reinstatement into the major. All petitions, along with supporting documentation of explanation and a complete set of transcripts of all college-level courses taken, must be submitted to the UBAC, Tahoe Hall 1030, no later than the first Friday of any given month. Petitions are evaluated each month and recommendations are made for the subsequent semester.

All students must check with the Academic Advising and Career Center to assure they comply with the University's reinstatement policy and procedures.

Official Transcripts
Student Service Center
Office of University Registrar
Lassen Hall 1000
(916) 278-1000

Sacramento State issues official transcripts only. There is a charge per transcript. Transcripts may be ordered in person, by mail (student's signature required), or online (for an additional fee). Orders are not accepted by telephone, fax, or email. When ordering transcripts in person, please be sure to bring a government issued photo ID. Transcript requests will be returned if you owe any financial or administrative obligation to the University. Please refer to the Office of the University Registrar's Web site at: www.csus.edu/registrar/transcripts (http://www.csus.edu/registrar/transcripts).

Information to Include with a Request
Full name and any other names you may have attended under; student identification number, if known; complete social security number; date of birth; dates of attendance/graduation from Sacramento State. Please print legibly the address(es) where you would like the transcript(s) mailed. Provide any special instructions such as "Hold for current semester grades" or "Hold for the degree posting" or "Hold for grade change". If someone other than yourself will be picking up the transcript, you need to provide a signed release authorizing the third party to pick up your transcript. And, your signature is required on each transcript request.

To avoid delays in processing, include your full name, student identification number, date of birth, and previously used names. Submit the correct fee payment with written requests and specify any special handling instructions. Currently enrolled students may obtain unofficial transcripts from My Sacramento State. For current information on how to order transcripts and fees, please refer to the Office of the University Registrar's Web site.

Schedule of Final Examinations
Final examinations, including major section exams offered in lieu of a final exam, may not be scheduled during the last week of classes.

However, quizzes, lab exams, and other academic assignments may be scheduled for the last week of classes provided they are specified on the course syllabus. No unscheduled (i.e., not included in the course syllabus) or additional requirements may be imposed on students during the last week of classes. Any exceptions that necessitate giving a final prior to final exam week must be stated on the course syllabus and require prior approval of the Dean.

Credit Hour
As of July 1, 2011 federal law (Title 34, Code of Federal Regulations, sections 600.2 and 600.4) requires all accredited institutions to comply with the federal definition of the credit hour. For all CSU degree programs and courses bearing academic credit, the “credit hour” is defined as “the amount of work represented in intended learning outcomes and verified by evidence of student achievement that is an institutionally established equivalency that reasonably approximates not less than:

1. One hour of classroom or direct faculty instruction and a minimum of two hours of out-of-class student work each week for approximately 15 weeks for one semester or trimester hour of credit, or ten to twelve weeks for one quarter hour of credit, or the equivalent amount of work over a different amount of time; or
2. At least an equivalent amount of work as required in paragraph (1) of this definition for other academic activities as established by the institution, including laboratory work, internships, practice, studio work, and other academic work leading to the award of credit hours.”

A credit hour is assumed to be a 50-minute period. In courses in which “seat time” does not apply, a credit hour may be measured by an equivalent amount of work, as demonstrated by student achievement.

Credit by Examination
Students may challenge courses by taking examinations developed at Sacramento State. Credit shall be awarded to those who pass them successfully.

Systemwide Credit by Examination
Sacramento State grants credit to those students who pass examinations that have been approved for credit systemwide. These include the Advanced Placement (AP) Examination, the CSU English Equivalency Examination, and some College-Level Examination Program (CLEP) examinations. The following examinations (chart below) are accepted for the amount of credit indicated, subject to the achievement scores noted.

Official Transfer Evaluations

Office of the University Registrar
Lassen Hall 1000
(916) 278-1000

The Office of the University Registrar will prepare an official transfer credit evaluation summarizing prior college credit and indicating...
Sacramento State General Education requirements met. Students may access their Transfer Credit Evaluation through their MySacState account.

Questions about the evaluation can be discussed with the Student Services Center, Lassen 1000 or by calling the Help Line at (916) 278-1000.

from challenge. Campus challenge procedure is open only to matriculated challenged. Departments may exclude performance or other courses on the student's transcript. Only courses listed in this catalog may be the campus. Results of the examination ("CR" or "NC") will be noted.

Students may challenge courses by taking examinations developed at Sacramento State. Credit by Examination, who earn a score of 48 or above, earn 3 units of Natural Science credit.

Students taking the CLEP Subject Examination, General Chemistry and education in lieu of English 1A. Students passing the English Equivalency Examination administered after 1972-73 may earn up to 6 units of credit to be applied in general education in lieu of English 1A.

Students taking the CLEP Subject Examination, General Chemistry and who earn a score of 48 or above, earn 3 units of Natural Science credit.

Campus Credit by Examination

Students may challenge courses by taking examinations developed at the campus. Results of the examination ("CR" or "NC") will be noted on the student's transcript. Only courses listed in this catalog may be challenged. Departments may exclude performance or other courses from challenge. Campus challenge procedure is open only to matriculated students enrolled during summer, fall, and spring semesters. A course may be challenged only once.

Individual departments may require students to enroll in courses they wish to challenge. The deadline for returning forms showing challenge results to the Office of the University Registrar, Student Services Counter, Lassen Hall.

Other Conditions Governing Award of Credit by Examination

1. A student may not challenge a course if the course (or its equivalent) appears on the student's transcript with any grade other than "W".
2. Credit will not be awarded for successful passage of any systemwide examination if the student has taken that examination previously within the past term. Campus examinations may only be attempted one time.
3. Credit will not be awarded when equivalent degree credit has been granted for regular coursework, credit by evaluation or other instructional process, such as correspondence, at any institution.
4. Credit will not be awarded when credit has been granted at a level more advanced than that represented by the examination in question.
5. Where there is partial overlap with prior credit granted, the amount of examination credit will be reduced accordingly.
6. The total amount of credit earned on the basis of externally or internally developed tests that may be applied to a baccalaureate degree will not exceed 30 semester units. Advanced Placement credit is excluded from the limit. Total examination credit earned toward a master's or doctoral degree may not exceed 6 units.
7. Credit earned by examination will be so identified on the student's permanent record. The name of the examination is included for systemwide examinations; the course number and title will be shown for campus examinations. An unsuccessful challenge will result in a grade of "NC", also noted as "by examination".
8. Neither systemwide nor campus examination nor advanced placement examination credits count toward the degree residence requirement.
9. Additional conditions affecting campus examinations only:
   a. Individual departments may require a specific grade point average for credit.
   b. Departments or divisions may have established limits on the number of credits within the area. A maximum of 12 units in any one foreign language may be earned by exam; the total of foreign language units earned by examination may not exceed 16.
   c. Credit awarded for campus examinations is for elective purposes unless approved by appropriate department chairs for use in meeting major or minor requirements. Credit by examination may not be used for General Education requirements except as noted.

Amount and Use of Examination Credit for General Education

Students who present scores of three or better on the Advanced Placement Examinations may earn up to 6 units of college credit and meet applicable General Education Area Requirements. Advanced Placement credit is excluded from the credit by examination limit of 30 units.

Students passing the English Equivalency Examination administered after 1972-73 may earn up to 6 units of credit to be applied in general education in lieu of English 1A.

Students taking the CLEP Subject Examination, General Chemistry and who earn a score of 48 or above, earn 3 units of Natural Science credit.

International Baccalaureate Examination

Sacramento is a college preparatory program. Advanced standing credit may be earned for scores of 4, 5, 6 or 7 for the "Higher Level" examination. Students will be obliged to submit a copy of their official IB transcript. See table for Sacramento State Equivalencies.
A minimum score of 5 is required on some Higher Level IB exams in order to receive credit. Please see the table below for specific information regarding exams; exams requiring a minimum score of 5 will be marked with an asterisk (*).

Waiver of Regulations

Rules and regulations in this catalog have been adopted by the faculty and administration to maintain appropriate academic standards and to facilitate the administration of the programs of the University. A student who finds that extenuating circumstances might justify the waiver of a particular regulation may file a petition with the Office of the University Registrar, Student Services Counter, Lassen Hall.

Undergraduate Admissions

Application Information and Forms
Office of Admissions and Outreach
Lassen Hall - Room 1102
Office of Admissions and Outreach Website (http://www.csus.edu/admissions)

Requirements for admission to California State University, Sacramento are in accordance with Title 5, Chapter 1, Subchapter 3, of the California Code of Regulations. Complete information is available at the Chancellor's Office website (http://calstate.edu).

The Office of Admissions and Outreach provides prospective students with information about academic programs, admission requirements, and the application process.

All CSU applications must be submitted online (http://calstate.edu/apply). An acknowledgement will be sent to the applicant when the online application has been submitted.

Students who want to enroll for residence credit in either a fall or spring semester must file an application for admission. A student who has been in attendance at Sacramento State in either of the two preceding semesters is considered a continuing student and does not need to reapply or pay the $55 application fee. The application and fee are necessary when reentering California State University, Sacramento after an absence of two or more semesters, but are not required for students desiring to enroll only in extension or intersession.

Sacramento State Affirmative Action and Non-Discrimination Policy
Sacramento State seeks the participation in all its programs and activities, including admission and access, by all individuals without regard to race, color, religion, origin, age, sex, gender, gender identity/expression, sexual orientation, genetic information, medical condition, marital status, veteran status, or disability. Discrimination based on these factors is prohibited by University policy. Sacramento State has established nondiscrimination and affirmative action programs that conform to applicable federal statutes, as well as pertinent laws, regulations, and directives of the State of California. These statutes prohibit discrimination and harassment (including sexual harassment) against applicants, students and employees. Sacramento State is committed to provide equal opportunities to all its students in all campus programs, including intercollegiate athletics. William "Skip" Bishop, the Director of Equal Opportunity, has been designated to coordinate the efforts of Sacramento State to comply with all applicable federal and state laws prohibiting discrimination and harassment on these bases.

For further information, or should you feel that you have been discriminated against in any one of the areas mentioned, including Title IX, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the provisions of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, as amended, contact the Office for Equal Opportunity at (916) 278-5770, email (equalopportunity@csus.edu), or visit our website (http://www.csus.edu/hr/departments/equal-opportunity).

Social Security Number
Applicants are required to include their correct social security numbers in designated places on applications for admission pursuant to the authority contained in Section 41201, Title 5, California Code of Regulations, and Section 6109 of the Internal Revenue Code (26 U.S.C. 6109). The university uses the social security number to identify students and their records including identification for purposes of financial aid eligibility and disbursement and the repayment of financial aid and other debts payable to the institution. Also, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) requires the university to file information returns that include the student's social security number and other information such as the amount paid for qualified tuition, related expenses, and interest on educational loans. This information is used by the IRS to help determine whether a student, or a person claiming a student as a dependent, may take a credit or deduction to reduce federal income taxes.

The student’s social security number is not used as the individual identifier in all student records which may include:

1. application and admissions records,
2. registration records,
3. enrollment/transcript records,
4. financial aid records,
5. alumni records, and
6. records maintained by other University operated programs.

A student is assigned a unique Sacramento State ID upon submission of an application for admission to the University, which is used as the student identifier in all student records.

Such personally identifiable records are not shared or distributed to private individuals or agencies unless such sharing or distribution is authorized by the student or unless otherwise lawfully available. (See Appendix D).

Undergraduate Application Procedures
Prospective students applying for part-time or full-time undergraduate programs of study must submit a completed undergraduate application. The $55 nonrefundable application fee should be paid online at the time of application via credit card or PayPal and may not be transferred or used to apply to another term. An alternate major may be requested on the application if desired by the campus. The applications of persons denied admission to an impacted campus may be redirected to another campus at no cost, but only if the applicant is CSU eligible.

Importance of Filing Complete, Accurate, and Authentic Application Documents
Sacramento State advises prospective students that they must supply complete and accurate information on the application for admission, residency questionnaire, and financial aid forms. Further, applicants must, when requested, submit authentic and official transcripts of all previous academic work attempted. Failure to file complete, accurate, and authentic application documents may result in denial of admission, cancellation of registration or academic credit, suspension, or expulsion (Section 41301, Article 1.1, Title 5, California Code of Regulations).
Impacted Programs

The CSU designates programs as impacted when more applications from regularly eligible applicants are received in the initial filing period (October and November for fall terms, June for winter terms, August for spring terms, February for summer terms) than can be accommodated. Some programs are impacted at every campus which they are offered; others are impacted only at a few campuses. Candidates for admission must meet all of the campus’ specified supplementary admission criteria if applying to an impacted program or campus.

The CSU will announce during the fall filing period those campuses or programs that are impacted. Detailed information on campus and program impaction will be available at the Chancellor’s Office website (http://www2.calstate.edu/attend/impaction-at-the-csu).

Campuses will communicate supplementary admission criteria for all impacted programs to high schools and community colleges in their application service area and will disseminate this information to the public through appropriate media. This information will also be published on the Sacramento State website and made available online (http://www.calstate.edu).

Applicants must file applications for admission to an impacted program during the initial filing period. Applicants who wish to be considered for impacted programs at more than one campus should file an application at each campus for which they seek admission consideration.

Supplementary Admission Criteria

Each campus with impacted programs or class-level admission categories uses supplementary admission criteria in screening applicants. Supplementary criteria may include rank-ordering of freshman applicants based on the CSU eligibility index or rank-ordering of transfer applicants based on verification of the Associate in Arts for Transfer (AA-T) or Associate in Science Transfer (AS-T) degrees, the overall transfer grade point average (GPA), completion of specified prerequisite courses and a combination of campus-developed criteria. Applicants for freshman admission to impacted campuses or programs are required to submit scores on either the SAT or the ACT, regardless of GPA. For fall admission, applicants should take tests as early as possible, but no later than November or December of the preceding year.

The supplementary admission criteria used by individual campuses to screen applicants are made available by the campuses to all applicants seeking admission to an impacted program.

Sacramento State Designated Impacted Programs

Biological Sciences has been officially designated as an impacted program on the Sacramento State campus. Check with the Department of Biological Sciences, (916) 278-6535, to confirm current criteria.

See Academic Programs/Biological Sciences (p. 717)

All undergraduate programs in Business Administration have been officially designated as impacted programs on the Sacramento State campus. Check with the Undergraduate Business Advising Center to confirm current criteria at (916) 278-BIZZ (2499).

See Academic Programs/Business Administration (p. 325).

The upper division Clinical Nursing Program has been officially designated as an impacted program on the Sacramento State campus. Check with the Division of Nursing to confirm current criteria at (916) 278-6525.

See Academic Programs/Nursing (p. 661).

The upper division Graphic Design program has officially designated as an impacted program on the Sacramento State campus. Check with the Department of Design, (916) 278-3962, to confirm current criteria.

See Academic Programs/Graphic Design (p. 158).

All programs in Criminal Justice have been officially designated as impacted programs on the Sacramento State campus. Check with the Department of Criminal Justice to confirm current criteria at (916) 278-6487.

See Academic Programs/Criminal Justice (p. 614).

All undergraduate programs in Health Science have been officially designated as impacted programs on the Sacramento State campus. Check with the Department of Health Science to confirm current criteria at (916) 278-6441.

See Academic Programs/Health Science (p. 630).

All programs in Psychology have been officially designated as impacted programs on the Sacramento State campus. Check with the Department of Psychology to confirm current criteria at (916) 278-6254.

See Academic Programs/Psychology (p. 985).

In addition to the Biological Sciences, Business Administration, Clinical Nursing, Criminal Justice, Graphic Design, Health Science and Psychology programs, it is possible that any class level or program categories may be impacted if more applications are received in the initial application filing period than can be accommodated by the University. Preapproved criteria are announced prior to the beginning of each application cycle. Admission criteria are subject to revision.

English Language Requirement

All undergraduate applicants whose native language is not English and who have not attended schools at the secondary level or above for at least three years full-time where English is the principal language of instruction\(^1\) must demonstrate English language proficiency through one of the following acceptable tests.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>

Some majors and some campuses may require a higher score. A few campuses may also use alternative methods of assessing English fluency: Pearson Test of English Academic (PTE Academic), the International English Language Testing System (IELTS) and the International Test of English Proficiency (ITEP). Each campus will post the tests it accepts on its website and will notify students after they apply about the tests it accepts and when to submit scores.
CSU minimum TOEFL standards are:

- Undergraduate 61 - INTERNET, 500 - PAPER
- Graduate 80 - INTERNET, 550 – PAPER

At the graduate level, a TOEFL score of 550 (or 80 internet based test) is required for admission for all students, with the following exceptions:

- Communication Studies,
- English,
- International Affairs,
- Speech Pathology and Audiology,
- Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) require higher scores.

1 Note: Sacramento State interprets “where English was the principal language of instruction” to mean that a school is located in a country where English is the native language (the daily medium of communication of the majority of residents is English), and that the students receive academic instruction in all subjects (except foreign language courses) at all levels of education in English.

Returning and Adult Students

Returning Students

Sacramento State students are granted an automatic leave of absence for one semester. This leave maintains the continuous attendance status of the student with eligibility to register in the following semesters and holds the catalog that determines degree requirements.

Former Sacramento State students who have been absent for two or more semesters must apply for readmission. An application fee is charged. Following a mandatory interruption of one or more semesters, students who have left in a negative academic standing may not be eligible to return until they complete additional coursework. Students who have been academically disqualified or dismissed must file an appeal for reinstatement/readmission.

1 Visit csus.edu/admissions (http://www.csus.edu/admissions) for more information
2 See Academic Policies/Readmission of Academically Dismissed Student (p. 23)

Reservation

The University reserves the right to select its students and deny admission to the University or any of its programs as the University, in its sole discretion, determines appropriate based on an applicant's suitability and the best interests of the University.

Steps in the Application Process

Application Filing Periods

(Not all campuses/programs are open for admission to every term.)

Sacramento State uses a semester-based academic calendar. The initial filing periods for applications are the previous October through November for fall semester and the previous August for spring semester. All applications received during the initial filing period will be given equal consideration within established enrollment categories and quotas.

Additional selection criteria may be used to select applicants if more applications are received during the initial filing period than can be accommodated in specific enrollment categories. If the campus is designated an “impacted campus,” supplemental criteria may be used to select applicants.

If any enrollment categories are not filled during the initial filing period, the University will continue to accept applications during an extended filing period until capacity is reached. Enrollment priorities within the extended period will be in chronological order of receipt of applications.

Filing Period Duration

Each non-impacted campus accepts applications until capacities are reached. Many campuses limit undergraduate admission in an enrollment category due to overall enrollment limits. If applying after the initial filing period, consult the campus admissions office for current information.

Application Acknowledgment

On-time applicants may expect to receive an acknowledgment from the campuses to which they have applied within two to four weeks of filing the application. The notice may also include a request that applicants submit additional records necessary to evaluate academic qualifications. Applicants may be assured of admission if the evaluation of relevant qualifications indicates that applicants meet CSU admission requirements, and in the case of admission impaction, supplemental criteria for admission to an impacted program. Unless specific written approval/confirmation is received, an offer of admission is not transferable to another term or to another campus.

Transcript and Test Score Requirements

Undergraduate students are required to comply with the following transcript and test score requirements as part of the application procedures for admission. Applicants project their class level as of the date of intended initial enrollment.

- Applicants with No College Units:
  - Transcripts: One from high school showing final senior grades and date of graduation. Tests: Either ACT or SAT Reasoning Test score.
- Applicants with Fewer Than 60 Semester Units:
  - Sacramento State is not accepting applications from lower division transfer applicants with fewer than 60 transferable units.
- Applicants with 60 or More Transferable Semester Units:
  - Transcripts: One official copy of final record from each college attended; one showing work-in-progress if currently enrolled.
- Returning Students:
  - Transcripts: One official copy of final record from each college attended since last enrollment at Sacramento State; one showing work in progress if currently enrolled.

All transcripts become the property of the University and will not be released or copied. Processing of applications cannot be guaranteed unless all required documents and test scores are received during the appropriate application period. Individuals who do not file an application for admission are advised that transcripts are retained for one year only. Failure to disclose enrollment in each college or university attended constitutes grounds for denial of admission or dismissal from the University for unethical conduct. The University reserves the right to determine whether or not a record can be accepted as official.
Notification of Admission

Applicants will receive confirmation of their admission or a statement of ineligibility beginning in March for fall semesters and September for spring semesters, if they filed during the first month of the filing periods and all necessary documents have been received. If the campus has been designated an “impacted campus,” notification of admission status may be delayed while supplemental criteria are applied to applications received after the initial filing period.

Information about registration, placement testing, advising, and orientation will be e-mailed to all admitted students before registration when possible. Late applicants will be considered on a space-available basis.

Hardship Petitions

The campus has established procedures for consideration of qualified applicants who would be faced with extreme hardship if not admitted. Petitioners should write the campus Admission Offices regarding specific policies governing hardship admission.

Appeal of Admission Decision

Section 89030.7 of the California Education Code requires that the CSU establishes specific requirements for appeal procedures for a denial of admission. Each CSU campus must publish appeal procedures for applicants denied admission to the University. The procedure is limited to addressing campus decisions to deny an applicant admission to the University.

Admissions appeal procedures must address the basis for appeals, provide 15 business days for an applicant to submit an appeal, stipulate a maximum of one appeal per academic term, provide specific contact information for the individual or office to which the appeal should be submitted, and indicate a time estimate for when the campus expects to respond to an appeal. The appeal procedures must be included in all denial of admission notifications to students, and must also be published on the campus website.

Visit the "I was not admitted" link at the Office of Admissions and Outreach website (http://www.csus.edu/admissions) for more information.

Freshman Requirements

Office of Admissions and Outreach
Lassen Hall Lobby - Room 1102
Office of Admissions and Outreach Website (http://www.csus.edu/admissions)

The following section outlines the requirements for admission to Sacramento State and other CSU campuses. Prospective applicants should contact a high school or community college counselor or the Admissions and Outreach Office at California State University, Sacramento if they have further questions.

Generally, applicants will qualify for consideration for first-time freshman admission if they meet the following requirements:

1. Have graduated from high school, have earned a Certificate of General Education Development (GED), or have passed the California High School Proficiency Examination (CHSPE);
2. Have a qualifying minimum Eligibility Index score (see "Eligibility Index"); and
3. Have completed with grades of C- or better each of the courses in the comprehensive pattern of college preparatory subject requirements also known as the "a-g" pattern (see "Subject Requirements").

Honors Courses

Up to eight semesters of approved honors courses taken in the last two years of high school including up to two approved courses taken in the tenth grade, can be accepted toward students' high school GPA (see "Eligibility Index"). Each unit (one year) of grade “A” in an honors course will receive 5 points; grade "B," 4 points; and grade "C," 3 points.

Test Requirements

Freshman and transfer applicants who have fewer than 60 semester or 90 quarter units of transferable college credit are strongly encouraged to submit scores, unless exempt (see "Eligibility Index"), from either the ACT or the SAT of the College Board. Persons who apply to an impacted program may be required to submit test scores and should take the test no later than November or December. Test scores also are used for advising and placement purposes.

Students may contact:

ACT Registration Unit
P.O. Box 414
Iowa City, Iowa 52240
(319) 337-1270
ACT.org (http://www.act.org)

The CSU uses only the ACT composite score, the mathematics and Evidence-Based Reading and Writing scores on the new SAT in its admission eligibility equation. The SAT or ACT writing scores are not currently used by CSU campuses.

Sacramento State University requires all first-year student applicants to submit an ACT or SAT score, regardless of high school grade point average.

Subject Requirements

The CSU requires that first-time freshman applicants complete, with grades of "C-" or better, a comprehensive pattern of college preparatory study totaling 15 units (a "unit" is one year of study in high school).

- 2 years of social science, including 1 year of U.S. history, or U.S. history and government
- 4 years of English
- 3 years of math (algebra, geometry, and intermediate algebra; four years recommended)
- 2 years of laboratory science (1 biological and 1 physical, both must have laboratory instruction)
- 2 years in the same foreign language (subject to waiver for applicants demonstrating equivalent competence)
- 1 year of visual and performing arts: art, dance, drama/theater, or music
- 1 year of electives: selected from English, advanced mathematics, social science, history, laboratory science, foreign language, visual and performing arts or other courses approved and included on the UC/CSU “a-g” list.

Note: All admission requirements (i.e., grade point average, test scores, and subjects) must be completed by the end of the spring term for a fall enrollment and the end of summer for a spring enrollment.

Advanced Placement (AP) Exams and Advanced Standing Credit
Sacramento State grants credit toward its undergraduate degrees for successful completion of examinations of the Advanced Placement Program of the College Board.

- Students may be granted up to 6 units for each Advanced Placement (AP) examination for which a score of 3, 4, or 5 is earned.
- Transferable college courses completed as a high school student will be evaluated for possible college credit upon receipt of an official college transcript. For the Official Transfer Evaluations click here (p. 23).

Foreign Language Subject Requirements
The foreign language subject requirement may be satisfied by applicants who demonstrate competence in a language other than English equivalent to or higher than expected of students who complete two years of foreign language study. Consult with a school counselor or any CSU admissions office for information.

International Baccalaureate (IB)
Sacramento State recognizes completion of the International Baccalaureate (IB) program as satisfying the college preparatory subject requirements for admission. ¹ The applicant’s high school GPA and score on the ACT or SAT will also be used in determining eligibility for admission.

Eligibility Index
Eligibility Index – The eligibility index is the combination of the high school GPA and scores on either the ACT or the SAT. GPA is based on grades earned in courses taken during the final three years of high school. Included in the calculation of GPA are grades earned in all college preparatory “a-g” subject requirements and bonus points for approved honors courses. Up to eight semesters of honors courses taken in the last three years of high school, including up to two approved courses taken in the tenth grade can be accepted. Each unit of A in an honors course will receive a total of 5 points; B, 4 points; and C, 3 points.

A CSU eligibility index can be calculated by multiplying a GPA by 800 and adding the total score on the SAT exam (mathematics and Evidence-Based Reading and Writing). For students who took the ACT, multiply the GPA by 200 and add 10 times the ACT composite score. Persons who are California high school graduates (or residents of California for tuition purposes) need a minimum index of 2950 or 694 using the ACT. The Eligibility Index Table illustrates several combinations of required test scores and averages. The University has no current plans to include the writing scores from either of the admissions tests in the computation of the CSU eligibility index.

Persons who neither graduated from a California high school nor are a resident of California for tuition purposes need a minimum index of 3570 or 842 using the ACT. Graduates of secondary schools in foreign countries must be judged to have academic preparation and abilities equivalent to applicants eligible under this section. An applicant with a grade point average of 3.00 or above (3.61 for nonresidents) is not required to submit test scores. However, all applicants for admission are urged to take the SAT or ACT and provide the scores of such tests to each CSU campus to which they seek admission. Campuses use these test results for advising and placement purposes and may require them for admission to impacted majors or programs. Impacted CSU campuses require SAT or ACT scores of all applicants for freshman admission.

Registration forms and the dates for either test may be obtained from school or college counselors or from a campus Testing Office. Testing information is also available at the Sacramento State Testing website (http://www.csus.edu/testing), or by writing to:

American College Testing Program (ACT)
Registration Unit, P.O. Box 414
(319) 337-1270

Applicants will qualify for regular (non-provisional) admission when the University verifies that they have graduated and received a diploma from high school, have a qualifiable minimum eligibility index, have completed the comprehensive pattern of college preparatory “a-g” subjects, and, if applying to an impacted program or campus, have met all supplementary criteria.

Graduates of secondary schools in foreign countries will be judged to have academic preparation and abilities equivalent to applicants eligible under this section.

Refer to Application to Sacramento State/Undergraduate/Impacted Programs (p. 23).

ACT - A GPA below 2.45 does not qualify for admission

SAT - A GPA below 2.47 does not qualify for admission

1. For admission purposes, the CSU uses only the new SAT scores for mathematics and evidence based on reading and writing.

Subject Requirements Substitution for Students with Disabilities

Applicants with disabilities are strongly encouraged to complete college preparatory course requirements if at all possible. If an applicant is judged unable to fulfill a specific course requirement because of his or her disability, alternate college preparatory courses may be substituted for specific subject requirements.

Substitutions may be authorized on an individual basis after review and recommendation by the applicant’s academic advisor or guidance counselor in consultation with the director of a CSU disabled student services program. Although the distribution may be slightly different from the course pattern required of other students, students qualifying for substitutions will still be held accountable for 15 units of college preparatory study.

Students should be aware that course substitutions might limit later enrollment in certain majors, particularly those involving mathematics. For further information and substitution forms, please call the director of disabled student services at the nearest CSU campus.

Provisional Admission

Sacramento State may provisionally admit first-time freshman applicants based on their academic preparation through the junior year of high school and planned coursework for the senior year. The campus will monitor the final terms of study to ensure that admitted students complete their secondary school studies satisfactorily, including the required college preparatory subjects, and graduate from high school. Students are required to submit an official transcript after graduation to certify that all coursework has been satisfactorily completed. Official high school transcripts must be received prior to the deadline set by the university. In no case may documentation of high school graduation be received any later than the census date for a student’s first term of CSU enrollment. A campus may rescind admission decisions, cancel financial aid awards, withdraw housing contracts and cancel any university registration for students who are found to be ineligible after the final transcript has been evaluated.

Applicants will qualify for regular (non-provisional) admission when the university verifies that they have graduated and received a high school diploma, have earned a qualifiable minimum eligibility index, have completed the comprehensive pattern of college preparatory “a-g” subjects and, if applying to an impacted program or campus, have met all supplementary criteria.

Special Categories

Adult Students

As an alternative to regular admission criteria, an applicant who is twenty-five (25) years of age or older may be considered for admission as an adult student if he or she meets all of the following conditions:
1. Possesses a high school diploma (or has established equivalence through either the General Educational Development or California High School Proficiency Examinations).
2. Has not been enrolled in college as a full-time student for more than one term during the past five years.
3. If there has been any college attendance in the last five years, has earned a 2.00 GPA or better in all college work attempted.

Consideration will be based upon a judgment as to whether the applicant is as likely to succeed as a regularly admitted freshman or transfer student and will include an assessment of basic skills in the English language and mathematical computation.

Educational Opportunity Program
EOP, a special admission and support program for students who possess the potential and motivation to succeed, is designed to improve access and retention of low-income and educationally disadvantaged students among California residents who wish to pursue a college education.\(^1\)

Veterans
See the Veterans Success Center website (http://www.csus.edu/vets).

High School Students
Lassen Hall 1102

High school students may be considered for enrollment in certain special programs if recommended by the principal and the appropriate campus department chair and if preparation is equivalent to that required of eligible California high school graduates. Such admission is only for a given specific program and does not constitute a right to continued enrollment.

These programs include:

1. Accelerated College Entrance (ACE) for talented students who can benefit from accelerated academic studies, available by phone at (916) 278-7032;
2. Capitol Center MESA for underrepresented students in CSU mathematics, engineering, and science programs, available by phone at (916) 278-6699.

Students accepted into these programs qualify for reduced fees.

High school students other than those accepted into the above programs may also enroll concurrently in college courses without fee reduction upon approval of parents, high school principal, and appropriate Sacramento State academic department chairs.

Applicants Not Regularly Eligible
Applicants not admissible under one of the above provisions should enroll at a community college or another appropriate institution in preparatory courses to meet eligibility requirements. Only under the most unusual circumstances and only by special action will such applicants be admitted to Sacramento State.

Admissions Appeal
Section 89030.7 of the California Education Code requires that the California State University establishes specific requirements for appeal procedures for a denial of admission. Each CSU campus must publish appeal procedures for applicants denied admission to the University. The procedure is limited to addressing campus decisions to deny an applicant admission to the University.

Admissions appeal procedures must address the basis for appeals, provide 15 business days for an applicant to submit an appeal, stipulate a maximum of one appeal per academic term, provide specific contact information for the individual or office to which the appeal should be submitted, and indicate a time estimate for when the campus expects to respond to an appeal. The appeal procedures must be included in all denial of admission notifications to students, and must also be published on the campus website. Visit the “I was not admitted” link at the Admissions and Outreach website (http://www.csus.edu/admissions) for more information.

Reservation
The University reserves the right to select its students and deny admission to the University or any of its programs as the University, in its sole discretion, determines appropriate based on an applicant's suitability and the best interests of the University.

Transfer Student Preparation
Prospective transfer students may obtain general information on Sacramento State educational opportunities and matriculation procedures from Sacramento State admission and outreach representatives at California community college transfer day and regional college night programs. Representatives are also available at selected transfer centers on a regular basis to provide specific information on CSU matriculation procedures, eligibility for admission, and evaluation of credit. Prospective students who don't have access to a transfer center can schedule an appointment with an admission counselor for a pre-admission advising session. Applicants should bring unofficial transcripts to these sessions. Contact the Office of Admissions & Outreach for admission counseling hours and availability.

To make an appointment with academic department faculty to discuss academic program requirements and career alternatives, prospective students should call the relevant department office.

Hour-long student-led weekday campus tours are scheduled one week in advance for small and large groups. To schedule a tour on line visit the Campus Tours website (http://www.csus.edu/admissions/CampusTours).

Acceptance of Transfer Courses
Sacramento State annually enrolls more than 5,000 new transfer students from more than 300 different colleges and universities, mostly California community colleges.

Frequently, course titles and numbers differ from campus to campus, making it difficult for transfer students to know in advance which courses will be accepted for transfer to another college. In order to provide students with the assurance that courses taken at their campus prior to transfer will meet Sacramento State lower-division requirements for either General Education or a specific major, three methods of prior approval exist.

General Education Courses
The CSU system has authorized California community colleges and other approved colleges to designate "transferable" courses planned for use in a four-year baccalaureate program. In addition, they have jointly designated courses that may be used to certify a portion of... the CSU General Education objectives to a maximum of 39 semester units. Sacramento State will apply courses completed at a California community college toward the CSU General Education objectives as listed on the community college certification form.

Students may have their lower division General Education courses certified by a California community college as meeting either the CSU GE Breadth Requirements or the Intersegmental General Education Transfer Core Curriculum (IGETC) in partial completion of the General Education requirements for the baccalaureate degree.¹

Upon matriculation, the Degree Evaluations Office will review courses completed at non-CSU colleges and universities; credit will be granted toward the Sacramento State General Education requirements in compliance with applicable CSU system, Sacramento State, and academic department policies.

Lower Division Major Prerequisites
Sacramento State also has developed an extensive program of major preparation agreements called “Articulation” or “Transfer Credit Agreements.” These are official documents prepared by Sacramento State faculty who carefully review coursework at other institutions and identify courses at those campuses that would be acceptable in lieu of Sacramento State courses. Students who take these courses can be assured they will receive credit toward their academic major at Sacramento State.

Articulation Agreements
Sacramento State has thousands of Articulation Agreements with community colleges and four-year institutions throughout the state. These Articulation Agreements are widely distributed and should be readily available to students at their home campus Counseling Centers or online at www.assist.org (http://www.assist.org/web-assist/welcome.html).

Transfer Centers
University representatives staffing Transfer Centers on community college campuses advise community college students on transfer issues, providing an excellent resource for prospective transfer students.

Transfer Student Assistance
Students may receive assistance in transferring to Sacramento State through the Transfer Centers at the following campuses:

- American River College (916) 484-8685
- Cosumnes River College (916) 691-7456
- Folsom Lake College (916) 608-6510
- Napa Valley College (707) 253-3115
- Sacramento City College (916) 558-2181
- San Joaquin Delta College (209) 954-5634
- Santa Rosa Junior College (707) 527-4874
- Sierra College (916) 660-7441
- Solano College (707) 864-7158
- Yuba College (530) 741-6790

Undergraduate Transfer Admission Requirements

Transfer Policies of CSU Campuses
Most commonly, college-level credits earned from an institution of higher education accredited by a regional accrediting agency are accepted for transfer to campuses of the CSU; however, authority for decisions regarding the transfer of undergraduate credits is delegated to each CSU campus.

California Community Colleges and other authorized certifying institutions can certify up to 39 semester (58.5 quarter) units of General Education-Breadth (GE-Breadth) or 37 semester (55.5 quarter) units of the Intersegmental General Education Transfer Curriculum (IGETC) for transfer students to fulfill lower-division general education requirements for any CSU campus prior to transfer.

“Certification” is the official notification from a California Community College or authorized institution that a transfer student has completed courses fulfilling lower-division general education requirements. The CSU GE-Breadth and the Intersegmental General Education Transfer Curriculum (IGETC) certification course lists for particular community colleges can be accessed at Assist.org (http://www.assist.org).

CSU campuses may enter into course-to-course or program-to-program articulation agreements with other CSU campuses, any or all of the California community colleges and other regionally accredited institutions. Established CSU and CCC articulations may be found on Assist.org (http://www.assist.org). Students may be permitted to transfer no more than 70 semester (105 quarter) units to a CSU campus from an institution which does not offer bachelor’s degrees or their equivalents, for example, community colleges. Given the university’s 30-semester (45-quarter) unit residency requirement, no more than a total of 90 semester (135 quarter) units may be transferred into the university from all sources.

Transfer Requirements
Applicants who have completed fewer than 60 transferable semester college units (fewer than 90 quarter units) are considered lower-division transfer students. Applicants who have completed 60 or more transferable semester college units (90 or more quarter units) are considered upper-division transfer students. Applicants who complete college units during high school or through the summer immediately following high school graduation are considered first-time freshmen and must meet the CSU minimum eligibility requirements for first-time freshman admission. Transferable courses are those designated for baccalaureate credit by the college or university offering the courses and accepted as such by the campus to which the applicant seeks admission.

Lower Division Transfers Requirements
Due to increased enrollment demands, most CSU campuses do not admit lower-division transfer applicants. Sacramento State is not currently accepting admission applications from lower-division transfers.

An applicant who completes fewer than 60 semester (90 quarter) units of college credit is considered a lower-division transfer student. Due to enrollment pressures, most CSU campuses do not admit lower-division transfers so that more upper-division transfers can be accommodated.
Having fewer than 60 semester (90 quarter) units at the point of transfer may affect eligibility for registration priority at CSU campuses and may affect the student’s financial aid status.

California resident transfer applicants with fewer than 60 semester or 90 quarter units must:

- Have a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 (C) or better in all transferable units attempted;
- Have completed, with a grade of C- or better, a course in written communication and a course in mathematics or quantitative reasoning at a level satisfying CSU General Education Breadth Area A2 and B4 requirements, respectively;
- Be in good standing at the last institution attended; and
- Meet any one of the following eligibility standards.

Transfer Based on Current Admission Criteria

The applicant meets the freshman admission requirements in effect for the term for which the application is filed; - OR -

Transfer Based on High School Eligibility

The applicant was eligible as a freshman at the time of high school graduation and has been in continuous attendance in an accredited college since high school graduation; - OR -

Transfer Based on Making Up Missing Subjects

The applicant had a qualifiable eligibility index at the time of high school graduation (combination of GPA and test scores if needed), has made up any missing college preparatory subject requirements with a grade of C- or better, and has been in continuous attendance in an accredited college since high school graduation. One baccalaureate-level course of at least 3 semester (4 quarter) units is usually considered equivalent to one year of high school study.

(Note: Some campuses may require lower-division transfer students to complete specific college coursework, for example the four basic skill courses, as part of their admission criteria.)

Upper Division Transfers Requirements

Generally, applicants will qualify for consideration for upper-division transfer admission if they meet all of the following requirements:

1. Cumulative grade point average of at least 2.0 in all transferable units attempted;
2. In good standing at the last college or university attended; and
3. Completed at least sixty (60) transferable semester (90 quarter) units of college level coursework with a grade point average of 2.0 or higher and a grade of C- or better in each course used to meet the CSU general education requirements in written communication, oral communication, critical thinking, and quantitative reasoning, e.g. mathematics.

The 60 units must include at least 30 units of courses that meet CSU general education requirements, including all of the general education requirements in communication in the English language (both oral and written) and critical thinking and the requirement in mathematics/quantitative reasoning (usually 3 semester units) OR the Intersegmental General Education Transfer Curriculum (IGETC) requirements in English communication and mathematical concepts and quantitative reasoning.

Associate Degrees for Transfer (AA-T or AS-T)

The Associate in Arts for Transfer (AA-T) and the Associate in Science for Transfer (AS-T) degrees offered at the California Community Colleges (CCC) are designed to provide a California community college student the optimum transfer preparation and a clear admission pathway to the CSU degree majors.

CCC students who earn an Associate Degree for Transfer (AA-T or AS-T) are guaranteed admission with junior standing to a CSU and given priority admission over other transfer applicants when applying to a local CSU campus or non-impacted CSU program. AA-T or AS-T admission applicants are given limited priority consideration based on their eligibility ranking to an impacted campus/program or to campuses/programs that have been deemed similar to the degree completed at the community college. Students who have completed an AA-T/AS-T in a program deemed similar to a CSU major are able to complete remaining requirements for graduation within 60 semester (90 quarter) units. It is the responsibility of the student who has earned an AA-T/AS-T to provide documentation of the degree to the CSU campus.

Provisional Admission

Sacramento State may provisionally or conditionally admit transfer applicants based on their academic preparation and courses planned for completion. The campus will monitor the final terms to ensure that those admitted complete all required courses satisfactorily. All accepted applicants are required to submit an official transcript of all college-level work completed. Campuses may rescind admission for any student who is found to be ineligible after the final transcript has been evaluated. In no case may such documents be received and validated by the university any later than a student’s registration for their second term of CSU enrollment.

Local Area for Admission

First-year freshmen applicants who graduate from high school in one of the following counties are considered in Sacramento State’s local admission area: Sacramento, El Dorado, Nevada, Placer, San Joaquin, Solano, Woodland or Yolo.

Transfer applicants transferring with the majority of units from one of the following community colleges are considered in Sacramento State’s local admission area: American River, Cosumnes River, Folsom Lake, Lake Tahoe, Sacramento City, Sierra, San Joaquin Delta, Solano, Woodland or Yuba.

Applicants from the local admission area who meet minimum admission eligibility requirements will be offered admission to the university. However, they may not be admitted to the major of their choice due to impaction.

Wait List

For application terms for which the number of eligible applicants for admission exceeds enrollment capacity, a waitlist will be established. Students who accept the offer to remain on the admission waitlist will be notified of an admission decision as space becomes available.

Special Admission Categories

Refer to Admission to Sacramento State (p. 23)/Special Categories. Veterans also refer to Application to Sacramento State/CSU Impacted Programs/Supplemental Criteria.
Admission of Auditors for Undergraduate Courses
Admission as auditor may be restricted during periods of over-enrollment. Applicants may check with the Office of Admissions and Outreach or the Office of the University Registrar.

Impacted Programs
To obtain the most current information on impacted programs and supplemental criteria, please contact the Office of Admissions and Outreach.

Catalog Rights for Degree Requirements
Transfer students may choose Sacramento State requirements in effect

1. at the time they began their college study at a California community college or a CSU,
2. at the time they entered Sacramento State, or
3. at the time they graduate from Sacramento State, provided they maintain attendance in college.1

1 See Degree Requirements (p. 23)/Catalog Rights.

Reservation
The University reserves the right to select its students and deny admission to the University or any of its programs as the University, in its sole discretion, determines appropriate based on an applicant's suitability and the best interests of the University.

Evaluation of Transfer Credit

Allowance of Transfer Credit from Accredited Colleges and Universities
Generally, students will be granted credit for baccalaureate level courses successfully completed at regionally accredited two or four-year colleges.

All courses, except remedial, are accepted for degree credit from institutions awarding four-year degrees. Credit is reviewed by the Degree Evaluations Office and is granted in compliance with applicable national, state, Title 5, CSU system, and University policies and procedures. Such credit may be applied toward fulfillment of major, minor, or general education requirements when applicable; other courses may count as elective credit toward the baccalaureate degree. This credit will be listed in summary form on the Sacramento State transcript of academic record.

Transfer credit generally is not posted to the Sacramento State transcript of postbaccalaureate students, including those seeking a Second Bachelor's degree. Check with the Office of Graduate Studies ((916) 278-6470) for exceptions.

Advanced Placement Examinations
Sacramento State grants credit toward its undergraduate degrees for successful completion of examinations of the Advanced Placement Program of the College Board. Students who present scores of three or better will be granted up to six semester units of college credit.

Use of Advanced Placement Credit (p. 23)

Credit For Instruction in Non-Collegiate Instruction
Sacramento State grants undergraduate degree credit for successful completion of non-collegiate instruction, either military or civilian, appropriate to the baccalaureate degree, which has been recommended by the Commission on Educational Credit and Credentials of the American Council on Education. The numbers of units allowed are those recommended in the Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experience in the Armed Services and the National Guide to Educational Credit for Training Programs.

Credit For Prior Learning
College of Social Sciences and Interdisciplinary Studies
Amador Hall 255
(916) 278-6504

Sacramento State grants up to six units of credit for learning, knowledge, or skills-based experience that has been documented and evaluated according to campus policy. Students should be aware, however, that policies for earning credit for prior learning vary from campus to campus in the CSU.

Transfer Credit From Overseas Institutions
Credit is granted from recognized overseas institutions. Awarding of advanced standing varies depending on the educational system of the country. Certified copies of transcripts and degrees must be submitted in English translation. Sacramento State students who plan to study abroad through independent programs, CSU International Programs or through Sacramento State partnerships should contact International Programs and Global Engagement for information.

Nontraditional Credits
Sacramento State allows the following degree credit, based on evaluation of nontraditional academic experiences and/or examinations to apply toward the baccalaureate degree:

1. Baccalaureate-level course credit certified by the Defense Activities in Nontraditional Education Support (DANTES). The amount of credit is limited to 24 semester units, the limit on the number of extension/conference course units that can be applied toward the degree.
2. Standardized examinations designated for system-wide credit by the Chancellor of the California State University. The names of these examinations, the passing scores required, and the number of semester units to be awarded is listed under system wide Credit by Examination.1 The total amount of examination credit applied to the baccalaureate degree cannot exceed 30 semester units.
3. The Advanced Placement Examinations of the College Entrance Examination Board on which the student receives a score of 3, 4, or 5. Up to six semester units may be awarded for each Advanced Placement Examination passed.
4. Credit for basic training and commissions in the military service. The American Council on Education's Commission on Education Credit and Credentials recommends the number of units allowed for each branch.
5. Commissions held while in the military service: 12 upper division units.
6. Civilian and military courses and schools recommended for credit by the American Council on Education's Commission on Education Credit and Credentials.

1 See Academic Policies (p. 23)/system wide Credit by Examination.
Additional Degree Credits Allowed
1. Credit for selected vocational/technical courses applicable to the Special Major in Fire Services and Construction Management and/or Mechanical Engineering Technology programs.

2. Transfer credit from provisionally accredited colleges may be granted upon completion of 24 residence units with a “C” grade point average at Sacramento State. Credits granted would normally be in course areas commonly taught in four-year baccalaureate degree programs. Credit is granted only for courses in which at least “C” grades are earned. No credit will be granted for courses in religion, education, psychology, or philosophy if completed at a sectarian college. Credit may be restricted when the institution is specialized, e.g., offering only one or a small number of related programs. Credit to be used toward the student’s major or minor must receive the recommendation of the appropriate department. Students who have attended institutions that are listed as business schools only may receive credit through challenge examination.

Limitations on the Transfer of Credit
Unit limitations apply to specific categories of credit that may be used to meet baccalaureate degree requirements:

1. A maximum of 70 hours transferred from two-year or community colleges.

2. A maximum of 30 hours of examination credit.

3. A maximum of 24 hours in extension and correspondence (transfer, Sacramento State or in combination).

4. A maximum of 30 hours of any combination of correspondence, extension, and military service credit.

5. A maximum of 24 units in Special Sessions

Transfer Grade Policies
Sacramento State utilizes the following policies in evaluating grades earned in courses accepted for transfer:

1. The grading policy of the regionally accredited institution where credit was earned is honored by accepting at face value all official transcript entries, including those:
   a. reflecting academic forgiveness actions;
   b. reflecting acceptance of grade point remediation for repeated courses; and
   c. regarding “incomplete” grades (e.g., “I”, “IS”, and “IU”).

2. All transfer courses graded Pass/No Pass or Credit/No Credit are computed at neutral value, except in those cases where the specific grading symbol is identified by the source institution as equivalent to a grade less than “C” in which case it will be taken at face value.

3. All transfer course grades or symbols used to designate unsatisfactory, failing, or non-passing work at time of withdrawal such as “UW”, “WU”, or “WF” are evaluated as failing grades “F” unless otherwise defined by the source institution.

Official Transfer Evaluations
Office of the University Registrar
Lassen Hall 1000
(916) 278-1000

The Office of the University Registrar will prepare an official transfer credit evaluation summarizing prior college credit and indicating Sacramento State General Education requirements met. Students may access their Transfer Credit Evaluation through their MySacState account.

Questions about the evaluation can be discussed with the Student Services Center, Lassen 1000 or by calling the Help Line at (916) 278-1000.

Placement Measures for First-Year GE Written Communication and Mathematics/Quantitative Reasoning Courses
Freshman skills assessment and placement for general education written communication and mathematics/quantitative reasoning shall be based on systemwide skills assessment standards that include the Early Assessment Program/Smarter Balanced Achievement Levels, ACT scores and/or SAT scores, high school coursework, high school GPA and math GPA.

Skills assessments are not a condition for admission to the CSU; they are a condition of enrollment.

These skills assessments are designed to inform entering freshmen of placement in appropriate baccalaureate-level courses based on their skills and needs.

First-time freshmen in need of support as determined by the skills assessment will be placed in supported instruction. Supported instruction is designed to assist students in credit bearing courses. Students may also be required to participate in the Early Start Program.

The Early Start Program gives students the opportunity to earn college credit in written communication and mathematics/quantitative reasoning the summer before their first term.

Assessments and Placement for GE Written Communications
Has Fulfilled the GE Subarea A2 English Requirement
The student has met the requirement via completion of one of the following:

- Advanced Placement (AP) Test
  - 3 or above: AP Language and Composition
  - 3 or above: AP Composition and Literature

- College Transfer Coursework
  - Completed approved college course that satisfies CSU GE Area A2 (written communication) with a grade of C- or better

Placement in a GE Subarea A2 English Course
The student has met examination standards and/or multiple measures-informed standards via one of the criteria below:

- English CAASPP/EAP Test:
  - Standard Exceeded
  - Standard Met and completed 12th grade approved year-long English course (CSU ERWC, AP Weighted Honors English) with grade of C- or better

- English New SAT Test
  - 3 or above: AP Language and Composition
  - 3 or above: AP Composition and Literature

- College Transfer Coursework
  - Completed approved college course that satisfies CSU GE Area A2 (written communication) with a grade of C- or better

- Placement in a GE Subarea A2 English Course
  - The student has met examination standards and/or multiple measures-informed standards via one of the criteria below:

- Placement in a GE Subarea A2 English Course
  - The student has met examination standards and/or multiple measures-informed standards via one of the criteria below:
• 550 or above
• 510 – 540 and completed 12th grade approved year-long English course (CSU ERWC, AP, Weighted Honors English) with grade of C- or better English

ACT Test:
• 22 or higher
• 19-21 and completed 12th grade approved year-long English course (CSU ERWC, AP, Weighted Honors English) with grade of C- or better

High School Courses and GPA:
• Weighted GPA 3.3 or above
• GPA 3.0 or above and completed approved 12 grade year-long English course (AP, CSU ERWC, Weighted Honors English)
• GPA 3.0 or above and completed Honors English
• GPA 3.0 or above and 5 or more years of high school English

Placement in a Supported GE Subarea A2 English Course
The student has met examination standards and/or multiple measures-informed standards via one of the criteria below:

English New SAT Test¹:
• 510 – 540 and 4 or more years of high school English

ACT Test:
• 19-21 and 4 or more years of high school English

High School Courses and GPA:
• Weighted GPA 3.0 or above and 4 or more years of high school English

Placement in a Supported GE Subarea A2 English Course and Participation in the Early Start Program Required
Based on multiple measures evaluation, student needs additional academic support including participation in the Early Start Program. Visit the Early Start Page to learn about the Early Start Program.

Assessments and Placement for GE Mathematics/Quantitative Reasoning: Non-Math Intensive Majors (Algebra and Statistics Disciplines, Non-STEM and Undecided Majors)
Has Fulfilled the GE Subarea B4 Math/Quantitative Reasoning Requirement
The student has met the requirement via completion of one of the following:

Advanced Placement (AP) Test:
• 3 or above: Calculus AB
• 3 or above on AP Calculus BC
• 3 or above on AP Statistics
• 3 or above on AP Computer Science Principles

International Baccalaureate (IB) Test:

• 4 or above on Math Higher Level (HL)

College Level Examination Program (CLEP):
• 50 or above on: Calculus, College Algebra, College Algebra-Trigonometry, Pre-Calculus or Trigonometry

College Transfer Coursework:
• Completed math/quantitative reasoning college course with a C- or better that satisfies CSU GE Area B4

Placement in a GE Subarea B4 Math/Quantitative Reasoning Requirement
The student has met examination standards and/or multiple measures-informed standards via one of the following criteria:

CAASPP/EAP Math Exam:
• Standard Exceeded
• Standard Met and completed 12th grade approved year-long math course beyond Algebra 2 with a C- or better
• Standard Met and 4 or more years of high school math or quantitative reasoning

New SAT Math Test¹:
• 570 or above
• 550 or above on Subject Test in Math Level 1 or 2
• 520 – 560 and completed 12th grade approved year-long math course beyond Algebra 2 with a C- or better

ACT Math Test:
• 23 or above
• 20-22 and completed 12th grade approved year-long math course beyond Algebra 2 with a C- or better

High School Courses and GPA:
• Weighted math GPA 3.0 or above and completed 12th grade approved year-long math course beyond Algebra 2 with a C- or better
• Weighted math GPA 3.0 or above and 5 or more years of high school math or quantitative reasoning
• Weighted high school GPA 3.7 or above
• Weighted high school GPA 3.5 or above and 4 or more years of high school math or quantitative reasoning

Placement in a Supported GE Subarea B4 Math/Quantitative Reasoning Requirement
The student has met examination standards and/or multiple measures-informed standards via one of the criteria below:

High School GPA:
• Weighted math GPA 3.3 or above
• Weighted high school GPA 3.0 or above
Placement in a Supported GE Subarea B4 Math/ Quantitative Reasoning Requirement and Participation in the Early Start Program Required

Based on multiple measures evaluation, student needs additional academic support including participation in the Early Start Program. Visit the Early Start page to learn about the Early Start Program.

Assessments and Placement for GE Mathematics/ Quantitative Reasoning: Pre-STEM/STEM and Other Math- Intensive Majors

Has Fulfilled the GE Subarea B4 Math/Quantitative Reasoning Requirement

The student has met the requirement via completion of one of the following:

- Advanced Placement (AP) Test:
  - 3 or above on AP Calculus AB
  - 3 or above on AP Calculus BC
  - 3 or above on AP Statistics
  - 3 or above on AP Computer Science Principles

- International Baccalaureate (IB) Test:
  - 4 or above on Math Higher Level (HL)

- College Level Examination Program (CLEP):
  - 50 or above on: Calculus, College Algebra, College Algebra-Trigonometry, Pre-Calculus or Trigonometry

- College Transfer Coursework:
  - Completed math/quantitative reasoning college course with a C- or better that satisfies CSU GE Area B4

Placement in a GE Subarea B4 Math/Quantitative Reasoning Requirement

The student has met examination standards and/or multiple measures-informed standards via one of the criteria below:

- CAASPP/EAP Math Exam:
  - Standard Exceeded
  - Standard Met and completed 12th grade approved year-long math course beyond Algebra 2 with a C- or better

- New SAT Math Test
  - 570 or above
  - 550 or above on Subject Test in Math Level 1 or 2
  - 520 – 560 and completed 12th grade approved year-long math course beyond Algebra 2 with a C- or better

- ACT Math Test:
  - 23 or above
  - 20-22 and completed 12th grade approved year-long math course beyond Algebra 2 with a C- or better

- High School Courses and GPA:
  - Weighted math GPA 3.5 or above and completed 12th grade approved year-long math course beyond Algebra 2 with a grade of C- or better

  - Weighted math GPA 3.3 or above

Placement in a Supported GE Subarea B4 Math/ Quantitative Reasoning Requirement and Participation in the Early Start Program Required

Based on multiple measures evaluation, student needs additional academic support including participation in the Early Start Program. Visit the Early Start page to learn about the Early Start Program.

Early Start Program

The goal of the Early Start Program (ESP) is to:

- Better prepare students in written composition and mathematics/quantitative reasoning before the fall term of freshman year, improving students’ chances of successful completion of a baccalaureate degree.
- If required to participate in ESP, as determined by multiple measures, students will begin in the summer before the start of the freshman year.
- For general information about ESP including fees and course listings, visit csustudentsuccess.org/earlystart. Students are encouraged to visit the campus website for ESP information once admitted.
- Eligible financial aid applicants with an Estimated Family Contribution (EFC) of $5,000 or less will be eligible for waiver of the per unit ESP fee. For more information on assessments, placements and the Early Start Program, please visit www.csustudentsuccess.org

Directed Self Placement (DSP)

All first time freshmen must participate in Directed Self-Placement (DSP). For additional information about DSP please visit the DSP website (http://www.csus.edu/writing/directedselfplacement).

First-year Composition Course Options:

By engaging in the Directed-Self Placement activities prior to coming to orientation and before enrolling in courses, students will receive a recommendation to help them choose from the options below:

The Semester-Long Program—English 5 or 5M: Accelerated Academic Literacies. Intensive, semester-long course to help students use reading, writing, discussion, and research for discovery, intellectual curiosity, and personal academic growth—students will work in collaborative groups to share, critique, and revise their reading and writing. Students will engage in reading and writing as communal and diverse processes; read and write effectively in and beyond the university; develop a metacognitive understanding of their reading, writing, and thinking processes; and understand that everyone develops and uses multiple discourses. 3 units.
The Year-Long “Stretch” Program—English 10/11 or 10M/11M 1. Academic Literacies I & II. Year-long course to help students use reading, writing, discussion, and research for discovery, intellectual curiosity, and personal academic growth—students will work in collaborative groups to share, critique, and revise their reading and writing. Students will engage in reading and writing as communal and diverse processes; read and write effectively in and beyond the university; develop a metacognitive understanding of their reading, writing, and thinking processes; and understand that everyone develops and uses multiple discourses. 6 units.

One-Unit Small Group Tutorial — ENGL 1X: Composition Tutorial. Taken in conjunction with one of the courses above, this composition tutorial offers supplemental instruction in elements of composition and assists students in mastering the writing process with special emphasis on planning and revising essays. Instruction takes place in both traditional classroom setting and in small group and individual tutorials. Students enrolled in this tutorial must be co-enrolled in a first-year composition course as the focus will be drafting and revising the work done in the primary writing course. 1 unit 5/5M or 10/10M, 11/11M.

1 “M” course instructors are specifically trained to help students with different language backgrounds develop the skills necessary for success in their university reading and writing. “M” courses focus on the experiences and languages that multilingual students bring to the classroom—using them as a resource for learning and refining students’ academic reading and writing.

Additional Course Placement Examination Requirements

Chemistry
Sequoia Hall 156
(916) 278-6684

Students enrolling in Chemistry 1A are required to take a General Chemistry Placement Examination. This examination must be taken in the first laboratory period during the first week of the semester.

Writing Placement for Juniors (WPJ) exam

All students must satisfy the Graduation Writing Assessment Requirement (GWAR) in order to graduate. The Writing Placement for Juniors (WPJ) exam is a prerequisite for all Writing Intensive courses. For additional information, please visit the GWAR website (http://www.csus.edu/gwar) or call the Writing Programs Office in the English Department at (916) 278-6409.

Foreign Language
Mariposa Hall 2051
(916) 278-6333

Sacramento State students who continue their study of a foreign language begun elsewhere must enroll in a course that does not duplicate previous college credits received. A placement test will be given prior to registration or at the first class meeting. If given prior to registration, it will be listed in the Class Schedule. Adjustment of registration, if necessary, will be made in accordance with the results of the placement exam.

Students who have begun the study of any foreign language in high school and who will enroll before taking the placement test may use the following as a guide for their first enrollment:

- if the student has less than one year of satisfactory high school study
- if the student has one year but less than two years of high school study
- if students have completed up to two years of high school study or one year of college French or German or Spanish with failing or unsatisfactory achievement or evaluation; and if students have had an extended interruption of beginning or intermediate formal language study
- if the student has two but less than three years of high school study
- if the student has three years of high school study

Students who have acquired knowledge of a foreign language without having received high school or college credit should consult with an advisor for placement.

Graduate Admissions
Office of Graduate Studies
River Front Center 215
(916) 278-6470
Office of Graduate Studies Website (http://www.csus.edu/gradstudies)

California State University, Sacramento is authorized to offer graduate programs culminating in the Doctor of Education, Doctor of Physical Therapy, Master of Arts, Master of Science, Master of Business Administration, Master of Music, Master of Public Policy and Administration, Master of Social Work, and Education Specialist in School Psychology degrees. Sacramento State also offers a joint doctoral program in Public History in cooperation with UC Santa Barbara. In keeping with the objectives of the degrees offered, the University has developed a broad framework of requirements.

Degrees Offered

Master of Arts

Master of Arts programs are designed to provide improvement in professional competence in educational service, competence for self-directed study (research) in areas of specialization, broadening of cultural backgrounds, development of personal and social responsibility, and preparation for community leadership.

Master of Science

Objectives of the Master of Science programs are to increase competence in particular professional areas and to develop ability for independent self-directed study in selected fields. Provisions have been made in the various curricula for individual planning in light of each student’s objectives, previous education, and experience.

Master of Business Administration

The Master of Business Administration curriculum is designed to broaden the participants’ knowledge and understanding of business administration, to improve their capacity for effective decision-making, and to facilitate their professional growth and development for positions of greater responsibility. The curriculum is intended for individuals who seek careers as professional managers in business and business-oriented government organizations and as community college instructors of business administration. In addition, the curriculum prepares superior students for entry into doctoral programs in business administration.
Master of Music
The graduate program leading to the Master of Music degree is designed to provide opportunity for a variety of advanced studies in music. The Master of Music may be earned either with an academic or a performance emphasis. The program will effectively prepare students for continuation into doctoral study. Students may focus their studies in one of three areas: choral and instrumental conducting, composition, or performance.

Master of Public Policy and Administration
The Master of Public Policy and Administration curriculum is designed to prepare individuals committed to public service as effective and ethical leaders and advisors, managers and administrators, analysts and advocates. Students develop competence in three areas: management of the organizational context of policy implementation and administration; understanding of the political environment and process of policy making; and the analytic and research tools to plan, design, and evaluate public policy.

Master of Social Work
The curriculum leading to the Master of Social Work degree is designed to enable the student to develop professional competence in working with individuals and groups, participate knowledgeably in the implementation of social welfare policy and administration, understand human growth and development as they affect social and personal functioning, and develop social philosophies, ethics, and values relating to the practice of professional social work.

Master of Arts or Master of Science in Special Major
The special major for either a Master of Arts or a Master of Science degree provides an alternative for those individuals whose special needs and interests cannot adequately be met by any single existing or planned master's degree program. A suitable interdisciplinary program may be planned for the superior graduate student who meets requirements established for admission to the special major graduate degree program. A student who wishes to undertake such a program should obtain an application to the program from the Office of Graduate Studies.

Ed.S. in School Psychology
The Specialist in Education, School Psychology (Ed.S.) degree can lead to professional degrees in the application of advanced educational theory. Completion of the Ed.S. requires coursework focused on identifying and addressing school-related issues that arise during school psychology practice. The School Psychology program at Sacramento State is approved as a Specialist level program by the National Association of School Psychologists.

Ed.D Educational Leadership
The independent doctoral program in Educational Leadership is offered through the College of Education to help meet the need for leadership in California's schools and community colleges. The program in educational leadership is geared to working professionals. Three key curricular themes are emphasized and provide the focus for all coursework in the program. These themes are:

1. Transformational Leadership,
2. Critical Policy Analysis and Action, and

It will lead to a Doctor of Education awarded by the CSU system.

Doctor of Physical Therapy
The Doctor of Physical Therapy (DPT) is a three-year program dedicated to graduating professional, evidence-informed physical therapists who have the knowledge and skills to provide patient care in any practice environment. The program's curriculum is designed to provide a foundation in the science and art of physical therapy, one that engages students in clinical reasoning through problem-solving within the context of patient cases, both actual and simulated. In addition, students complete 36 weeks of full-time internships at three locations to learn by doing in their respective practice settings. The program is fully accredited by the Commission on Accreditation in Physical Therapy Education (CAPTE) and graduates are eligible to take the national licensure examination.

Ph.D. Public History
The joint doctoral program in Public History offered in cooperation with UC Santa Barbara provides training in public history, particularly in the following professional fields: history of public policy, cultural resource management, business and institutional history, and community and local history. Supporting courses are offered in oral history, archives and records administration, museum management, historical editing, and policy and litigation support.

Admission Requirements
The minimum requirements for admission to Master's and Doctoral graduate degree programs and post-baccalaureate studies at a CSU campus are in accordance with University regulations as well as Title 5 chapter 1, subchapter 3 of the California Code of Regulations.

Master's and Post-Baccalaureate Program Admissions
Master's and post-baccalaureate applicants may apply for a degree objective, a credential or certificate objective, or where approved, may have no program objective. Depending on the objective, the CSU will consider an application for admission as follows:

- General Requirements — The minimum requirements for admission to master's and post-baccalaureate studies at a California State University campus are in accordance with university regulations as well as Title 5, Chapter 1, Subchapter 3 of the California Code of Regulations.

- Specifically, a student shall at the time of enrollment:
  1. Have completed a four-year college course of study and hold an acceptable baccalaureate degree from an institution accredited by a regional accrediting association, or shall have completed equivalent academic preparation as determined by appropriate campus authorities;
  2. Be in good academic standing at the last college or university attended;
  3. Have earned a grade point average of at least 2.5 on the last degree completed by the candidate or have attained a grade point average of at least 2.5 (A=4.0) in the last 60 semester (90 quarter) units attempted; and
  4. Satisfactorily meet the professional, personal, scholastic, and other standards for graduate study, including qualifying examinations, as appropriate campus authorities may prescribe. In unusual circumstances, a campus may make exceptions to these criteria.
Doctoral Program Admissions
Doctor of Audiology applicants may apply for admission, in accordance with University regulations as well as Title 5, Chapter 1 Subchapter 3 of the California Code of Regulations. Specifically, a student shall at the time of enrollment:

1. The applicant holds an acceptable baccalaureate degree earned at an institution accredited by a regional accrediting association or the applicant has completed equivalent academic preparation as determined by the appropriate campus authority.
2. The applicant has an overall cumulative grade point average of at least 3.00 in upper-division baccalaureate study, postbaccalaureate and master’s study combined.
3. The student has completed all campus-required prerequisite coursework.
4. The applicant must have been in good academic standing at the last institution.
5. The applicant has met any additional requirements established by the chancellor in consultation with the faculty and any additional requirements prescribed by the appropriate campus authority.

Doctor of Education applicants may apply for admission, in accordance with University regulations as well as Title 5, Chapter 1 Subchapter 3 of the California Code of Regulations. Specifically, a student shall at the time of enrollment:

1. Have completed a four-year college course of study and hold an acceptable baccalaureate degree from an institution accredited by a regional accrediting association, or shall have completed equivalent academic preparation as determined by appropriate campus authorities;
2. Hold an acceptable master’s degree earned at an institution accredited by a regional accrediting association, or have completed equivalent academic preparation as determined by the appropriate campus authority;
3. Have attained a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0 in upper division and graduate study combined;
4. Have completed the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) with scores from the three subsections of the General Examination;
5. Be in good standing at the last institution of higher education attended;
6. Demonstrated sufficient preparation and experience pertinent to educational leadership to benefit from the program; and
7. Meet any additional requirements established by the Chancellor in consultation with the faculty and any additional requirements prescribed by the appropriate campus authority.

Doctor of Physical Therapy applicants may apply for admission, in accordance with University regulations as well as Title 5, Chapter 1 Subchapter 3 of the California Code of Regulations. At the time of enrollment:

1. The applicant holds an acceptable baccalaureate degree earned at an institution accredited by a regional accrediting association, or the applicant has completed equivalent academic preparation as determined by the appropriate campus authority;
2. The applicant has completed all required prerequisite coursework for the campus program(s) to which the applicant has applied with a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0;
3. The applicant must have been in good academic, professional and clinical standing at the last institution and if applicable, in the last entry level physical therapist educational program attended;
4. The applicant has met any additional requirements established by the chancellor in consultation with the faculty and any additional requirements prescribed by the appropriate campus authority. Only those students who continue to demonstrate a satisfactory level or scholastic, professional, and clinical competence shall be eligible to continue in Doctor of Physical Therapy programs.

In unusual circumstances, a campus may make exceptions to these criteria.

THESE AND OTHER CSU ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS ARE SUBJECT TO CHANGE AS POLICIES ARE REVISED AND LAWS ARE AMENDED. THE CSU WEBSITE (http://www.calstate.edu) AND THE CSU ADMISSIONS PORTAL CAL STATE APPLY (http://www.calstate.edu/apply) ARE GOOD SOURCES FOR THE MOST UP-TO-DATE INFORMATION.

Graduate Programs Application Procedures
All graduate and post-baccalaureate applicants (e.g., DPT, Ed.D., Ed.S., joint Ph.D. applicants, master’s degree applicants, those seeking educational credentials or certificates, and where permitted, holders of baccalaureate degrees interested in taking courses for personal or professional growth) must file a complete graduate application as described in the graduate and post-baccalaureate admission materials at Cal State Apply (http://www.calstate.edu/apply). Applicants seeking a second bachelor’s degree must submit the undergraduate application for admission. Applicants who completed undergraduate degree requirements in the preceding term are also required to complete and submit an application and the $55 nonrefundable application fee.

To be assured of initial consideration by more than one campus, it is necessary to submit separate applications (including fees) to each. All CSU applications must be submitted online at Cal State Apply (http://www.calstate.edu/apply). An acknowledgement will be sent to the applicant when the online application has been submitted.

The application and fee are not required for students desiring to enroll only in Summer Session, Winter Intersession, or Open University through the College of Continuing Education.

Filing Period Duration
Each non-impacted campus accepts applications until capacities are reached. Many campuses limit undergraduate admission in an enrollment category due to overall enrollment limits. If applying after the initial filing period, consult the campus admission office for current information.
On-time applicants may expect to receive an acknowledgment from the campuses to which they have applied within two to four weeks of filing the application. The notice may also include a request that applicants submit additional records necessary to evaluate academic qualifications. Applicants may be assured of admission if the evaluation of relevant qualifications indicates that applicants meet CSU admission requirements, and in the case of admission impaction, supplemental criteria for admission to an impacted program. Unless specific written approval/confirmation is received, an offer of admission is not transferable to another term or to another campus.

Categories of Admission and Classification

Students wishing to pursue a doctoral or master's degree must be admitted to the specific program under which the student intends to study. At the time of application for admission to the University, the student indicates his or her proposed major and is evaluated against the admission requirements for that program. Students who meet the minimum requirements for graduate and post-baccalaureate studies may be considered for admission in one of the following four categories:

- Graduate Classified — To pursue a graduate degree, applicants are required to fulfill all of the professional, personal, scholastic, and other standards, including qualifying examinations, prescribed by the campus.

- Graduate Conditionally Classified — Persons wishing to enroll in a credential or certificate program will be required to satisfy additional professional, personal, scholastic, and other standards, including qualifying examinations, prescribed by the campus.

- Post-Baccalaureate Classified, e.g., admission to an education credential program — Persons wishing to enroll in a credential or certificate program will be required to satisfy additional professional, personal, scholastic, and other standards, including qualifying examinations, prescribed by the campus.

- Post-Baccalaureate Unclassified — To enroll in undergraduate courses as preparation for advanced degree programs or to enroll in graduate courses for professional or personal growth, applicants must be admitted as post-baccalaureate unclassified students. By meeting the general requirements, applicants are eligible for admission as post-baccalaureate unclassified students. Admission in this status does not constitute admission to, or assurance of consideration for admission to, any graduate degree or credential program. (Most CSU campuses do not offer admission to unclassified post-baccalaureate students).

Admission of students not wishing to pursue a doctoral or master's degree is limited. Students admitted as an unclassified graduate student may not use more than six units earned in unclassified status to apply toward a subsequent doctoral or master's program. Therefore, unclassified students shall seek classification during their first semester's enrollment if they wish to pursue a graduate degree. Unclassified students are allowed no more than two terms of enrollment.

Returning Post-baccalaureate, Master, Doctoral Students

Former Sacramento State students who have been absent for two or more semesters does not maintain catalog rights, must apply for readmission and a non-refundable application fee is charged. Following a mandatory interruption of one or more semesters, students who have left in a negative academic standing may not be eligible to return until they complete additional coursework. Students who have been academically disqualified or dismissed must in conjunction to applying for readmission must also file an appeal for reinstatement. At the time of readmission, student may be required to satisfy new university and/or program requirements.

Second Bachelor's Degree

Applicants seeking a second bachelor's degree should submit the undergraduate application for admission unless specifically requested to do otherwise. Admission is limited to a few select programs for students who have earned a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited institution with a GPA of 2.5 or higher in the last 60 semester units of baccalaureate or graduate level courses at Sacramento State. Students admitted in post-baccalaureate standing (unclassified) must meet residence and other specified requirements.1

Applicants to an impacted program will be considered in the upper division quota category for admission purposes. Coursework completed in this status forms part of the post-baccalaureate grade point average and will affect the student's eligibility for classified standing.

Candidates must file for graduation TWO SEMESTERS prior to the date of graduation. Forms are available from the Office of the University Registrar. A second bachelor's cannot be awarded in the same major or closely related field as the first degree. Only students admitted into the second baccalaureate classification may petition to graduate with a second baccalaureate degree.

1 Refer to Baccalaureate Degree Requirements (p. 72)/Second Bachelor's Degree.

International Applicants Requiring an International Student Visa and Domestic Applicants with International Documents

Graduation from a college or university recognized by the Ministry of Education, or appropriate governing agency, with a degree requiring at least 16 years of prior education is required for graduate standing. Typically, this is 12 years of primary and secondary education and 4 years of post-secondary education.

For more information please go to Office of Graduate Studies Applicants with Foreign Documents. (http://www.csus.edu/gradstudies/futurestudents/applicantswithforeigndocuments)

Graduate-Post-Baccalaureate English Language Requirement

All graduate and post-baccalaureate applicants, regardless of citizenship, whose native language is not English and whose preparatory education was principally in a language other than English must demonstrate competence in English. Those who do not possess a bachelor's degree from a postsecondary institution where English is the principal language of instruction must receive a minimum score of 550 on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). Some programs require a higher score. Several CSU campuses may use alternative methods for assessing fluency in English including Pearson Test of English Academic (PTE Academic), the International English Language Testing System (IELTS) and the International Test of English Proficiency (ITEP).

Refer to Sacramento State/International Students/TOEFL Requirement (http://www.csus.edu/gradstudies/futurestudents/applicantswithforeigndocuments/languagetesting.html).
Advising
Classified graduate students should confer with their academic departments for requirements, course selection, and appointment of advisors.
Post-baccalaureate students seeking a teaching credential should contact the College of Education Student Service Center, Eureka Hall, Room 216, (916) 278-6403.

The CSU must assess the academic preparation of foreign students. For this purpose, “foreign students” include those who hold U.S. temporary visas as students, exchange visitors or in other nonimmigrant classifications.
The CSU uses separate requirements and application filing dates in the admission of foreign students. Verification of English proficiency (see the section on the English Language Requirement for undergraduate applicants), financial resources, and academic performance are each important considerations for admission. Academic records from foreign institutions must be on file by the campus deadline for document submission for the first term and, if not in English, must be accompanied by certified English translations.

English Language Proficiency Requirement
All international applicants whose native language is not English and whose preparatory and post-secondary education was principally instructed in a language other than English must demonstrate English language proficiency through one of the following standardized tests.

Those who have graduated from an accredited secondary or four-year U.S. college or university where English is the primary language of instruction or who come from countries where English is the primary language need not submit an English language proficiency test.1

Note: Sacramento State interprets “where English was the principal language of instruction” to mean that a school is located in a country where English is the native language (the daily medium of communication of the majority of residents is English), and that the students receive academic instruction in all subjects (except foreign language courses) at all levels of education in English.

International Undergraduate Admissions Requirements (https://www.csus.edu/ipge/international-admissions/undergraduate-admission/admission-requirements.html)
International students requiring F-1 or J-1 visas to study at Sacramento State must file the Cal State Apply online international application (https://www2.calstate.edu/apply/international). Applications received during the initial filing period of each undergraduate admission cycle receive priority consideration for admission. Undergraduate international and non-California resident students may not be admitted to some impacted programs.

International students graduating from U.S. high schools after three years of attendance will be admitted as freshmen under the same requirements as graduates of California high schools by use of the eligibility index. Those graduating from foreign high schools (or from California high schools after less than three years of attendance) may be admitted if their achievement is equivalent to that of eligible California high school graduates. They also may need to submit an English language proficiency test (TOEFL, IELTS, or Pearson’s) if English is not their native language.

Undergraduate applicants with foreign academic work are required to submit official copies of academic records from their school, college, or university in officially sealed envelopes, along with a certified English translation. Academic records should include:
1. secondary school records;
2. yearly records from each college or university attended, indicating the number of hours per semester or per year devoted to each course and the grades received (only if applying as an international transfer student); and
3. English Language Proficiency exam meeting the undergraduate requirement.

International Graduate Admission Requirements (https://www.csus.edu/ipge/international-admissions/graduate-admission/gradadm.html)
International graduate students requiring F-1 or J-1 visas to study at Sacramento State must file the Cal State Apply online international application (https://www2.calstate.edu/apply/international) during the posted filing period for respective graduate programs. Graduate programs may require supplemental applications and other supporting documents. Graduation from a recognized college or university with a degree requiring at least 16 years of prior education is required for graduate standing.
At the graduate level, a TOEFL score of 550 (or 80 internet based test) is required for international applicants. The following graduate programs require higher scores:

- Communication Sciences & Disorders
- Communication Studies,
- English,
- Public Policy and Administration,
- Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL).

Applicants with foreign academic work are required to submit official copies of academic records from their school, college, or university in officially sealed envelopes, along with a certified English translation. Academic records should include:

1. Yearly records from each college or university attended, indicating the number of hours per semester or per year devoted to each course and the grades received;
2. Official documents that confirm awarding of a degree or diploma, with the title and date, if the applicant has already graduated; and,
3. English Language Proficiency exam meeting the graduate requirement.

Additional Information for International Applicants

All official documents submitted become the property of the University. The University will determine acceptability of any foreign coursework towards University degree programs. The U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) requires F-1 and J-1 foreign visa students to enroll full-time, defined as follows:

- a minimum of 12 semester units for credit for undergraduates
- a minimum of 9 semester units for credit for graduate students.

International students must comply with all University and USCIS regulations, provide evidence of financial resources, and be enrolled in the mandatory CSU system student health insurance.

Tuition & Registration Fees

The CSU makes every effort to keep student costs to a minimum. Tuition Fees listed in published schedules or student accounts may need to be increased when public funding is inadequate. Therefore, CSU reserves the right, even after tuition or fees are initially made, to increase or modify any listed tuition or fees. All listed fees, other than mandatory systemwide tuition, are subject to change without notice, until the date when instruction for a particular semester has begun. All CSU listed tuition fees should be regarded as estimates that are subject to change upon approval by The Board of Trustees, the chancellor, or presidents, as appropriate. Changes in mandatory systemwide tuition will be made in accordance with the requirements of the Working Families Student Fee Transparency and Accountability Act (Sections 66028 - 66028.6 of the Education Code).

All students are required to pay tuition and registration fees. Additionally, nonresident, foreign-visa and graduate professional business students are required to pay per unit tuition and/or fees. Fees for auditing courses are the same as for those receiving credit for a course. Extensions and/or winter session students, resident or otherwise, pay tuition fees appropriate to the course administered through the College of Continuing Education.

Fees are payable based on the term registration date. Payments may be made by check, cash, money order, Visa, American Express, MasterCard, or Discover credit cards.

*Please note that credit cards/debit card payments must be paid online and will incur a 2.75% convenience fee.

The following reflects applicable system wide fees for semester campuses that were authorized by the Board of Trustees at their March 2017 meeting. These rates are subject to change.

The tuition fees and campus fees listed are accurate at the time of posting and are subject to change. For more information on the amount of tuition fees and campus fees to pay and your due dates, check your Account Inquiry on your Student Center page at My Sac State.

PRO-RATED REGISTRATION FEES: If you withdraw (or are dropped from your classes for not paying) after the first day of the term, you will be responsible to pay* approximately 1% per calendar day from the first day of the term until the day of being dropped or withdrawing, regardless of when you enrolled or when the course began.

NON-RESIDENT TUITION (U.S. and Foreign): $396.00 per unit plus appropriate registration tuition fees and campus fees listed above.

GRADUATE PROFESSIONAL BUSINESS FEES: $270.00 per unit plus appropriate tuition fees and campus fees and non-resident tuition (if applicable).

* pro-rated registration fee/ This amount can be estimated as

Definition of Mandatory Campus Fees

Tuition Fee - Fee established to augment the budget for Instructional Services.

Associated Students Inc. Fee - To provide for non-instructional activities and programs which are designed to benefit all students and to maintain the student’s well-being. Associated Students, Inc. programs include PEAK Adventures, Aquatic Center, Child Care Center, Student Life and Services (Community programs, KSSU Radio Station, SAFE Rides, and Green Sting), ASI Business Office, ASI Government Office, and Office of Governmental Affairs.

Intercollegiate Athletics/Spirit Leaders Fee - To provide support for Intercollegiate Athletics and Spirit Leaders. Includes support for scholarships, travel, coaches, and other support for athletic teams.

Transportation Fee - To provide support for alternative transportation for students including free ridership on Sacramento Regional Transit and its affiliates.

Recreational Sports Fee - To provide support to Recreational Sports Programs. This includes Sports Clubs and Intramural Programs.

University Union/WELL Fee - To provide support for the University Union building, The WELL, and all programs associated with the function of those facilities.

Health Facilities Fee - To provide payment for the bond on the Student Health Center.

Instructional Related Activities Fee - These funds are to provide support for essential educational experiences and activities that aid and supplement the fundamental educational mission of the University. For example, laboratory experiences which are at least partially sponsored by an academic discipline or department and which are, in the judgment of the IRA Committee and the President, integrally related to its formal instructional offerings. Activities which are considered to be essential to the quality of an educational program and an important instructional experience for any student enrolled in the respective program may be considered instructional related.

Student Health & Counseling Services Fee - To provide basic health services to students at the Health Center. Basic care is the treatment of common illnesses or injuries.

Hornet Newspaper Fee - To provide support for the State Hornet Newspaper. This includes free copies of the student newspaper to students, printing costs and web based services.

DUE DATE: Your due date will be based on when you register for your FIRST class.

- Continuing student registering in the initial registration period will have at least two (2) weeks to pay.
- Those registering through early registration will have fourteen (14) calendar days to pay.
- Those who register during late registration will have seven (7) days to pay.
- Those registering as of the first day of instruction will have two (2) days to pay.
- Those registering the third week of the term will have one (1) day to pay.
- If you will be signing up for the Installment Payment Plan (IPP), your down payment will be due by your original due date.

BILLING: The University does not send out paper billing statements in the mail.

- Due dates and amounts will be visible on the student account 24-48 hours after registering.
- Log in to the Student Center at My Sac State and choose the Account Inquiry link.

PAYMENT METHODS:

- Credit Cards: Visa, MasterCard, American Express, and Discover credit cards may be used for payment of student tuition and fees but will be subject to a non-refundable 2.75% credit card processing fee. Credit/Debit cards are NOT accepted for payment of Registration Fees in-person.
• Electronic Check: Using a checking account number and routing number (echeck) and is subject to a $5.00 flat fee.

• In-Person: Cash, check, money orders, OneCard and credit card checks are accepted for payment of registration fees. Please make these payable to "CSUS".

• Mail: Checks need to arrive at the Bursar’s Office by the due date, as we cannot accept by the postmarked dates. Checks should be made payable to "CSUS" and mailed to: Sacramento State, Bursar’s Office, 6000 J Street, MS 6052, Sacramento, CA, 95819

For more information about Payment Methods, please visit the Bursar’s Office website (http://www.csus.edu/bursar/fees_deadlines_refunds.html#PAYMENT).

Summer Term

Summer Term is administered by the College of Continuing Education for all programs except the Education Doctorate Program and Doctorate of Physical Therapy. Please contact the College of Continuing Education for more information: (916) 278-4433.

Installment Payment Plans

1. Tuition Fees Installment Payment Plan
   - The tuition fees installment plan allows tuition fees and mandatory campus fees to be paid in four installments. The down payment is due on your original due date and represents the campus fees (Instructional Related Activities, Associated Students Inc. Programs, Intercollegiate Athletics/Spirit Leaders, Recreational Sports, Transportation, Health Facilities, University Union/WELL, Student Health and Counseling Services, and Hornet Newspaper Fee) and a one-time $33.00 non-refundable finance charge.
   - The balance of tuition fees are due in three installments – September, October, and November in the Fall; and February, March, and April in the Spring.
   - You may not use the IPP if you have a fee waiver or a third-party sponsor. However, you may request a payment plan for the balance of your fees from the Bursar’s Office.
   - If you have registered late, you may owe as much as the first two payments to avoid being dropped from your classes.
   - Late installment payments will incur a fee of $15 each time you are late.
   - Missed payments (or rejected checks) may result in: being dropped from your classes, forfeiture of your down payment, a hold preventing your use of the Installment Payment Plans for all subsequent semesters, and a hold on your records.
   - If you are dropped from your classes, you may still be required to pay a pro-rated portion of your registration fees.
   - If you re-enroll in the same term you may be charged a $100 re-enrollment fee, a $25 late registration fee and a $15 late payment fee. Re-enrollment eligibility after the term begins may be subject to instructor approval, and require payment of tuition fees IN FULL with guaranteed funds (cash, cashier’s check or money order), prior to being added back into your courses.
   - Failure to pay may result in additional collection costs, including those associated with referral to a third-party collection agency.
   - Follow the 4-step process below to enroll in the Installment Payment Plan (or view the step-by-step tutorial here IPP Tutorial (http://www.csus.edu/sfsc/gallery/Album1)):
     i. Log on to the Student Center through your MySacState at www.my.csus.edu (http://www.my.csus.edu).
     ii. Scroll down to the Finances Section and click on the drop down menu arrow.
     iii. Select the Payment Plan option.
     iv. Follow the on-screen instructions to be put on the plan

2. Non-resident Tuition Installment Payment Plan
   a. If you are a domestic non-resident or International student, you are eligible for this plan (unless you have previously defaulted). The education code allows a non-resident student to pay the required non-resident tuition on an installment basis; limited to three equal installment payments. A 15% non-refundable administrative fee will be assessed on the total non-resident amount. You are responsible for the due dates of the installment plan as stated on your contract. You will not receive paper bills in the mail.

b. Non-resident students who wish to use the tuition installment plan MUST go to Bursar’s Office in Lassen Hall 1001 to sign an agreement. At that time you will be required to pay registration fees. Non-resident students may use both the Tuition Installment Payment Plan, and the Non-resident Tuition Installment Payment Plans.

c. A $15.00 late fee will be assessed for each late payment.

Note: Installment Payment Plans are available for the Fall and Spring semesters only.

Refund Regulations
Bursar's Office
Lassen Hall 1003
(916) 278-6736

Refund of Tuition and Mandatory Registration Fees, Including Nonresident Tuition
Regulations governing the refund of tuition and mandatory fees, including nonresident tuition, for students enrolling at the California State University are included in Section 41802 of Title 5, California Code of Regulations. For purposes of the refund policy, mandatory fees are defined as those systemwide and campus fees that are required to be paid in order to enroll in state-supported academic programs at the CSU. Refunds of fees and tuition charges for self-support, special session and extended education programs or courses at the CSU are governed by a separate policy established by the university, available at the Bursar's Office website (http://csus.edu/aba/bursars-office/fees_deadlines_refunds.html).

In order to receive a full refund of tuition and mandatory fees, less an administrative charge established by the campus, including nonresident tuition, a student must cancel registration or drop all courses prior to the first day of instruction for the term. Information on procedures and deadlines for canceling registration and dropping classes is available at the Bursar's Office website (http://csus.edu/aba/bursars-office/fees_deadlines_refunds.html).

For state-supported semesters, quarters and non-standard terms or courses of four weeks or more, a student who withdraws during the term in accordance with the university's established procedures or drops all courses prior to the campus-designated drop period will receive a refund of tuition and mandatory fees, including nonresident tuition, based on the portion of the term during which the student was enrolled. No student withdrawing after the 60 percent point in the term will be entitled to a refund of any mandatory fees or nonresident tuition.

A student who, within the campus designated drop period and in accordance with campus procedures, drops units resulting in a lower tuition and/or mandatory fee obligation shall be entitled to a refund of applicable tuition and mandatory fees less an administrative charge established by the campus.

For state-supported non-standard terms or courses of less than four weeks, no refunds of tuition and mandatory fees, including nonresident tuition, will be made unless a student cancels registration or drops all classes, in accordance with the university's established procedures and deadlines, prior to the first day of instruction for state-supported non-standard terms or courses or prior to the first meeting for courses of less than four weeks.

Students who are not entitled to a refund as described above may petition the university for a refund demonstrating exceptional circumstances and the chief financial officer of the university or designee may authorize a refund if he or she determines that the fees and tuition were not earned by the university.

Information concerning any aspect of the refund of fees may be obtained from:

Elena Larson, Bursar
Student Account Services
6000 J Street, Lassen Hall 1003
Sacramento, CA 95819
Phone (916) 278-6736.

Refunds
The Application Fee, Installment Fee, Reenrollment Fee, and Late Registration Fee are NOT refundable.

Refunds will first be applied to any outstanding debt owed to the University. Refunds of checks, echecks, or debit payment will be subject to a waiting period of 10 business days. International payments will be subject to a waiting period of 20 business days. Students who OFFICIALLY withdraw or drop units within the published deadlines do not need to complete an Application for Refund for resident and non-resident fees as refunds will automatically be issued.

Students who believe they have extenuating circumstances that warrant a refund after the published deadlines must submit a Refund Application with a complete explanation of the circumstances and any supporting documentation to the Bursar's Office.
Withdrawing from all classes

Students who officially withdraw from the University prior to the first day of instruction will receive a 100% refund of Graduate Business Professional fees, tuition fees, campus fees, and non-resident tuition (minus a $10 processing fee). After this date students are eligible to receive a pro-rated refund only if withdrawing from all classes. If registration fees have not been paid in full at the time of withdrawal, the balance due will be pro-rated.

Beginning with the first day of instruction through the 60% date of the semester, refunds will be on a pro-rata basis using the official withdrawal date. Students are not eligible to receive a refund for withdrawing after the 60% date. The pro-rata refund will be calculated by the number of CALENDAR days from the first day of the semester to the date of withdrawal, regardless of when a student enrolled or when the course began.

To officially withdraw you must complete and file a Withdrawal Form at the Student Services Center in the Lassen Hall 1st floor lobby.

Drop in Units

Students who drop from full to half time by the end of the second week of the semester are eligible to receive a 100% refund of the difference in tuition fees, minus a $10 processing fee. Non-resident students who drop units by the end of the second week of the semester are eligible to receive a 100% refund of the difference of non-resident tuition minus a $10.00 processing fee. Resident and Non-resident students who drop from full to half-time after these dates are not eligible to receive a refund. It is the student’s responsibility to become familiar with policies and procedures concerning add/drop and refund deadlines.

Resident students who drop units from full-time to half-time and non-resident students who drop units by the campus add/drop deadline will receive a refund of the difference in tuition fees and/or applicable non-resident tuition. Please note that the processing of drop-in-unit refunds will not begin until after the first two weeks of the term. If you received financial aid (including loans), your refund will not be considered until after the first four weeks of the term.

Non-Credit/CEU Refund

Extension course tuition refund applications must be submitted to the University’s College of Continuing Education prior to the first meeting of the class for a full refund, less a $10 processing fee. If a student withdraws on or after the first class session, the following applies:

Special Session Academic Credit Refund

A $10 processing fee is charged on all Special Session tuition refunds. Refund applications must be submitted to the University’s College of Continuing Education prior to the first meeting of the class for a full refund. If a student withdraws on or after the first class session, the following applies:

Obtaining approval to drop a class does not grant you an automatic refund of course fees.

Refunds are still issued per your program’s refund policy. Generally, refunds are allowed according to the following timeline:

- If you drop before the class starts, you will get a full refund minus a $10 processing fee.
- If you drop any time within the first 25% of the course, including the first day of class, you will get a 65% refund minus a $10 processing fee. If you have not paid for your course yet, you will still owe the other 35% of your tuition. This fee will remain due on your account.
- If you drop after the first 25% of the course has elapsed, you will not receive a refund. If you have not paid for your course, all fees will remain due on your account.

If you dropped after the full or partial refund deadline and would like to request a refund, please contact your program coordinator.

Not attending or not logging into your class does not remove your responsibility to pay your course fees if you are still officially enrolled.

Parking Refunds

Parking fee refund applications will be honored only if the student returns the parking permit with the refund application. The amount of parking fee refund will be determined by the following schedule:

Financial Aid Refunds/Return of Title IV

Student Service Center
Lassen Hall Lobby
(916) 278-6554

A student who receives aid and withdraws, drops units, is expelled, etc., during or after the first day of enrollment will be reviewed in accordance with the Federal Title IV Student Financial Assistance Return of Title IV. The federal regulations require that Sacramento State provides for a refund using the pro-rata calculation if the student withdrew on or before 60 percent of the enrollment period.
Students are required to “officially” withdraw from the University. In the event that the student’s progress does not reflect attendance, the unofficial withdrawal date used will be the mid-point of the term.

A repayment situation may occur when a student receives aid and ceases attendance. The Federal Formula will determine if the disbursement was greater than the student’s expenses up to the withdrawal date. The student must repay any excess amount.

Fees and Debts Owed to the Institution

Should a student or former student fail to pay a fee or a debt owed to the institution, including tuition and student charges, the institution may “withheld permission to register, to use facilities for which a fee is authorized to be charged, to receive services, materials, food or merchandise or any combination of the above from any person owing a debt” until the debt is paid (see Title 5, California Code of Regulations, Sections 42380 and 42381).

Prospective students who register for courses offered by the university are obligated to pay for all charges and fees associated with registration for those courses. Failure to cancel registration in any course for an academic term prior to the first day of the academic term gives rise to an obligation to pay student charges and fees for any tuition for the reservation of space in the course.

The institution may withhold permission to register or to receive official transcripts of grades or other services offered by the institution from anyone owing fees or another debt to the institution. The institution may also report the debt to a credit bureau, offset the amount due against any future state tax refunds due the student, refer the debt to an outside collection agency and/or charge the student actual and reasonable collection costs, including reasonable attorney fees if litigation is necessary, in collecting any amount not paid when due.

If a person believes he or she does not owe all or part of an asserted unpaid obligation, that person may contact:

Elena Larson, Bursar
Bursar’s Office, 6000 J Street
Lassen Hall 1003
Sacramento, CA 95819
Phone (916) 278-6736

The Bursar’s Office, or another office on campus to which the Bursar’s Office may refer the person, will review all pertinent information provided by the person and available to the campus and will advise the person of its conclusions.

Cancellation of Registration, Dropping Units or Withdrawal from the Institution

Students who find it necessary to cancel their registration or to withdraw from all classes after enrolling for any academic term are required to follow the University’s official withdrawal procedures. Failure to follow formal University procedures may result in an obligation to pay fees as well as the assignment of failing grades in all courses and the need to apply for readmission before being permitted to enroll in another academic term. Information on canceling registration and withdrawal procedures is available from the Office of the Registrar at (916) 278-8088.

Students who receive financial aid funds must consult with the Financial Aid Office prior to withdrawing from the university regarding any required return or repayment of grant or loan assistance received for that academic term or payment period. Students who have received financial aid and withdraw from the institution during the academic term or payment period may need to return or repay some or all of the funds received, which may result in a debt owed to the institution.

Financial Aid

Financial Aid Office
Student Service Center Lassen Hall
(916) 278-1000
Financial Aid Website (http://www.csus.edu/faid)

Although the primary responsibility for financing an education rests with the student and the student’s immediate family, the Financial Aid & Scholarships Office helps students and their families search for, apply, receive and maintain eligibility for various types of financial aid to help meet the cost of attending Sacramento State. All students are encouraged to file the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) or the California Dream Act application prior to the March 2 priority filing date.

Types of financial aid may include scholarships, federal and state grants, federal work study, student loans and in some cases parent loans. Eligibility for financial aid is based on the Cost of Attendance (COA) minus the Estimated Family Contribution (EFC) determined by the information reported on the FAFSA or CADA application. For more information on the types of financial aid available please refer to our website (http://www.csus.edu/faid).

Financial Aid staff are available to assist students by visiting the Student Service Center located in Lassen Hall Room 1000.

Application Process

All students are encouraged to complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) or the California Dream Act application before the March 2 priority filing deadline each year to be considered for all aid programs. There are two ways to apply for financial aid.

- U.S. citizens or eligible noncitizens will need to complete the online FAFSA application (http://www.fafsa.gov).
- Students who have an unofficial immigration status and meet the California AB540 eligibility criteria will need to complete the California Dream Act application (https://dream.csac.ca.gov).

This single application will determine the student’s need for all federal and state financial aid programs available at Sacramento State. Financial aid documents requested by the Financial Aid & Scholarships Office, must be submitted by May 1 each year to ensure financial aid funds are ready to be disbursed at the beginning of the Fall semester. Students must reapply for financial aid each academic school year.

When filing the financial aid application, answer all questions accurately. Information reported on the application may need to be verified by the Financial Aid & Scholarships Office; if so, students will be informed through their student portal and provided a link to the required additional documentation. The Financial Aid office will review your file and determine your award eligibility once all documents have been received. Please allow up to 3 weeks for processing after the last document has been submitted.

Student Eligibility Requirements for US Citizens and Eligible Non-Citizens who Filed a FAFSA

To be eligible for financial assistance each applicant must:
1. be accepted for admission to the University;
2. be U.S. citizen or eligible non-citizen;
3. not be in default on a federal student loan;
4. not owe a repayment on a federal grant;
5. agree to use any student aid received solely for educational purposes;
6. be making satisfactory academic progress toward a degree (see Satisfactory Academic Progress); and
7. satisfy other general eligibility criteria established by the federal, state, or institutional regulations and guidelines.

These factors are reviewed at the time of application for financial aid. Before a financial aid disbursement (payment) is made, the student’s enrollment status and academic progress will be reviewed and verified. The financial aid awards will first apply to any outstanding institutional charges.

Student Eligibility Requirements for AB540 Students with an Unofficial Immigration Status who Filed a California Dream Act Application

To be eligible for financial assistance each applicant must:

1. be accepted for admission to the University;
2. be a AB540 eligible student with an unofficial immigration status;
3. not be in default on a student loan;
4. not owe a repayment on a grant;
5. agree to use any student aid received solely for educational purposes;
6. be making satisfactory academic progress toward a degree (see Satisfactory Academic Progress); and
7. satisfy other general eligibility criteria established by the federal, state, or institutional regulations and guidelines.

These factors are reviewed at the time of application for financial aid. Before a financial aid disbursement (payment) is made, the student’s enrollment status and academic progress will be reviewed and verified. The financial aid awards will first apply to any outstanding institutional charges.

Priority Dates

- March 2 is the FAFSA and the California Dream Act Application priority filing date for limited available funds. Financial aid is awarded on a first come basis to eligible students who meet the priority filing date and have the greatest need.
- March 2 is also the deadline to file the GPA verification form to the California Student Aid Commission (CSAC) for the Cal Grant programs.
- Those students whose FAFSA’s are received by the processor after March 2 are late applicants and are considered for aid based upon fund availability.

Documents Required

A set of federal and state defined criteria is used to determine if additional documentation is needed in support of data reported on the financial aid application (FAFSA or the California Dream Act). This process is referred to as verification. Applicants selected for verification will be notified by email and asked to provide additional documentation. A student will need to frequently monitor their My Sac State Student Center for outstanding items on their “ToDo” List. To ensure timely disbursement of funding for Fall, we require all requested documents be submitted prior to the May 1 deadline.

Awarding Financial Aid

Eligibility for financial aid is determined by subtracting the estimated family contribution (EFC) amount the student and spouse, (if independent), or the student and parents together, (if dependent), can contribute toward the cost of attending Sacramento State. The EFC is determined by filing the FAFSA or California DREAM Act application.

Financial aid is awarded based on full-time enrollment. Some awards, however, may be prorated for students attending less than full-time. Refer to the Award Notice Guide for more details.

Grants

Federal Pell Grant is available to eligible undergraduates and students pursuing their first non-degree teaching credential. Students are eligible to receive a Pell Grant for up to 12 (full-time) semesters regardless of school attended.

Federal Supplemental Education Opportunity Grants (FSEOG) is available to eligible undergraduate students with extreme financial need. Funding is restricted to students meeting the eligibility criteria and who have filed their FAFSA or DREAM application by the March 2 priority deadline. Funding is limited. To receive a FSEOG, a student must also be receiving the Federal Pell Grant.

Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education (TEACH) grants are available for students who filed a FAFSA and currently completing coursework necessary to begin a career in teaching. Students must sign an Agreement To Serve/promise to repay and teach full-time for at least four years within eight years of completing the program as a highly qualified teacher, at a Title I school, in a specified subject area. If the service is not met, the grant must be repaid as an Unsubsidized Direct Stafford Loan, with interest from the date(s) of the original disbursement.

Educational Opportunity Program (EOP) Grant is available to eligible undergraduate California residents who are admitted to Sacramento State through the EOP program. Due to limited state funds, not all EOP students receive this grant. Other eligibility criteria also applies.

State University Grant (SUG) is available to eligible California residents and is designated to assist with tuition fees. A student may only receive one award designated for tuition fees. Priority for SUG is given to students meeting the eligibility criteria and who have filed their FAFSA or DREAM application by the March 2 priority deadline. Funding is limited.

Cal Grants (Cal Grants A and B) is available to eligible undergraduate California residents. Eligibility is determined by the California Student Aid Commission (CSAC) for students meeting the March 2 priority filing deadline. Cal Grant A is designated for tuition fees. A student may only receive one award designated for payment of tuition fees. Other eligibility criteria also applies.

Loans

All loans must be repaid after the student graduates, leaves school or drops below half-time enrollment. All student loan borrowers must complete a Federal Direct Loan Master Promissory Note (MPN), Entrance Loan Counseling and Exit Loan Counseling.

Nursing Student Loans (NSL) assist eligible nursing students (admitted into the nursing program) with a low-interest (5 percent) loan. At Sacramento State, NSL are restricted to students in their junior and senior year in school. Awards are not made to pre-nursing students or students in the first and second year of the nursing program. Principal and interest payments are deferred until nine months after the recipient stops attending at least half-time.

The Federal Direct Subsidized Loan is a long term, fixed interest rate loan for undergraduate students and is need-based. Interest is deferred until 6 months after the student graduates or ceases to be enrolled. We encourage students to only borrow what you need and understand what your repayment obligations will be after graduation.

The Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan is a long term, fixed interest rate loan for eligible undergraduate and graduate students and is non-need based. Interest begins to accrue at the time of disbursement. We highly recommend students make interest only payments while in school to avoid unpaid interest being added to the principal amount of the loan at repayment.

Repayment of both Federal Direct loans begins six months after the student graduates, leaves school or drops below half-time. Students must have completed their financial aid file and an award acceptance must be submitted to the Financial Aid & Scholarships Office before a loan can be processed. Additionally, borrowers must complete Direct Loan Entrance Counseling and a Master Promissory Note (MPN) before receiving loan funds. Students who have previously completed the Direct Loan Entrance Counseling and MPN requirement at Sacramento State are exempt.

In general, students may borrow the following maximum amounts annually:

Federal Direct PLUS Loans (Parent Loans)

Federal Direct PLUS Loans (Parent Loans) is a long term, fixed interest rate loan for eligible parents of dependent students. The annual loan limit is the student’s cost of attendance minus financial aid. The parent borrower must begin repayment of principal and interest 60 days following the date of full disbursement. If the parent is denied the PLUS loan because of adverse credit history, the dependent student may request consideration for additional unsubsidized loan eligibility.

Federal Direct Graduate PLUS Loans is a long term, fixed interest rate loan for eligible graduate students who demonstrate credit worthiness. Repayment begins six months after the student graduates, leaves school, or drops below half-time enrollment.

Employment

Federal Work-Study (FWS) is a federally funded, need-based employment program that provides eligible students the opportunity to earn funds for their educational expenses through job opportunities. Many different types of positions are available, ranging from library attendants to research assistants. A wide range of choices exists in the University as well as in nonprofit agencies in the metropolitan area, including community service opportunities. Recipients may work up to 20 hours per week.

1 See also Academic Support Resources (p. 23)/Cooperative Education Program.

Scholarships

The Financial Aid & Scholarships Office administers three types of scholarships: Institutional, Departmental, and Community scholarships. Typically, scholarships are disbursed at the beginning of the Fall and Spring semesters. Scholarships are considered a resource and must be coordinated as part of the student’s overall financial aid package and therefore, may reduce other financial aid awards.

The Institutional Scholarship Program

The Institutional Scholarship Program offers a varied number of scholarships in diversified categories and majors. Scholarship eligibility requirements and award amounts may vary from scholarship to scholarship. Application and award information is available on the Financial Aid & Scholarships Office website. The application cycle is open from mid-January through mid-March each year.

Other Scholarship Programs

Other various scholarship programs are available from campus departments, community organizations, and private industry. Students should contact their major department as well as their employers, service and religious organizations, and other professional affiliations for possible scholarship opportunities.

Fee Waivers and Exemptions

The California Education Code provides for the waiver of mandatory systemwide tuition fees as follows:

Section 66025.3 – Military

Dependent eligible to receive assistance under Article 2 of Chapter 4 of Division 4 of the Military and Veterans Code; child of any veteran of the United States military who has a service-connected disability, has been killed in service, or has died of a service-connected disability, and meets specified income provisions; dependent, or surviving spouse who has not remarried of any member of the California National Guard who, in the line of duty, and while in the active service of the state, was killed, died of a disability resulting from an event that occurred while in the active service of the state, or is permanently disabled as a result of an event that occurred while in the active service of the state; and any undergraduate student who is a recipient of a Medal of Honor, or undergraduate student who is a child of a recipient of a Medal of Honor who is no more than 27 years old, who meets the income restriction and California residency requirement.

Foster Youth

Current or former foster youth who are 25 years of age or younger; have been in foster care for at least 12 consecutive months after reaching 10 years of age; meet one of the following: is under a current foster care placement order by the juvenile court, was under a foster care placement order by the juvenile court upon reaching 18 years of age, or was adopted, or entered guardianship, from foster care; completes and submits the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA); maintains a minimum grade point average and meets the conditions necessary to be in good standing at the campus, and meets the financial need requirements established for Cal Grant A awards. The waiver of mandatory statewide tuition and fees under this section applies only to a person who is determined to be a resident of California pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 68000) of Part 41 of the California Education Code.

Section 66602 – A qualifying student from the California State University who is appointed by the Governor to serve as Trustee of the California State University for the duration of his or her term of office.

Section 68120 – Surviving spouse or child of a deceased resident who was employed by a public agency, or was a contractor or an employee of a contractor, performing services for a public agency, and was killed or died as a result of an industrial injury or illness arising out of and in the course of the performance of his/her principal duties of active law enforcement or active fire suppression and prevention duties (referred to as Alan Pattee Scholarships). Additionally, a person who qualifies for the waiver under this section as a surviving child of a contractor or of an employee of a contractor, who performed services for a public agency, must have enrolled as an undergraduate student at the California State University and meet the applicable income restriction requirement with supporting documentation (i.e. his/her income, including the value of parent support, does not exceed the maximum household income and asset level for an applicant for a Cal Grant B award).

Section 68121 – A qualifying student enrolled in an undergraduate program who is the surviving dependent of any individual killed in the September 11, 2001, terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center in New York City, the Pentagon building in Washington, D.C., or the crash of United Airlines Flight 93 in southwestern Pennsylvania, if the student meets the financial need requirements set forth in Government Code Section 69432.7 for the Cal Grant A Program and either the surviving dependent or the individual killed in the attacks was a resident of California on September 11, 2001.

Students who may qualify for the above benefits should contact the Admissions/Registrar’s Office for further information and/or an eligibility determination.

The California Education Code provides for the following nonresident tuition exemptions as summarized below:

Section 68075 - A student who is a member of the Armed Forces of the United States stationed in this state, except a member of the Armed Forces assigned for educational purposes to a state-supported institution of higher education, is entitled to resident classification only for the purpose of determining the amount of tuition and fees.

If that member of the Armed Forces of the United States who is in attendance at an institution is thereafter transferred on military orders to a place outside this state where the member continues to serve in the Armed Forces of the United States, he or she shall not lose his or her resident classification so long as he or she remains continuously enrolled at that institution.

Section 68075.7 – A nonresident student is exempt from paying nonresident tuition or any other fee that is exclusively applicable to nonresident students if the student (1) resides in California, (2) meets the definition of "covered individual" as defined in either: (A) Section 3679(c)(2)(A) or (B)(ii)(I) of Title 38 of the United States Code, as that provision read on January 1, 2017 or (B) Section 3679(c)(2)(B)(i) or (ii)(II) of Title 38 of the United States Code, as that provision read on January 1, 2017, and (3) is eligible for education benefits under either the federal Montgomery GI Bill-Active Duty program (30 U.S.C. § 3001 et seq.) or the Post-9/11 GI Bill program (38 U.S.C. § 3301 et seq.) as each read on January 1, 2017.

Section 68122 – A student who is a victim of trafficking, domestic violence, and other serious crimes who has been granted T or U visa status (respectively under Section 1101(a)(15)(T)(i) or (ii), or Section 1101(a)(15)(U)(i) or (ii), of Title 8 of the United States Code) shall be exempt from paying nonresident tuition to the same extent as individuals who are admitted to the United States as refugees under Section 1157 of Title 8 of the United States Code.

Section 68130.5 – A student, other than a nonimmigrant alien (8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(15)), who is not a resident of California is exempt from paying nonresident tuition if the student meets the requirements of (1) through (4), below:

1. Satisfaction of the requirements of either subparagraph (A) or subparagraph (B):
   a. A total attendance of, or attainment of credits earned while in California equivalent to, three or more years of full-time attendance or attainment of credits at any of the following:
      i. California high schools.
      ii. California high schools established by the State Board of Education.
      iii. California adult schools established by a county office of education, a unified school district or high school district, or the Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation (subject to the class hours’ requirement).
      iv. Campuses of the California Community Colleges (subject to the credit requirements).
      v. A combination of those schools set forth in clauses (i) to (iv), inclusive.
   b. Three or more years of full-time high school coursework, and a total of three or more years of attendance in California elementary schools, California secondary schools, or a combination of California elementary and secondary schools.

2. Satisfaction of any of the following:
   a. Graduation from a California high school or attainment of the equivalent thereof.
   b. Attainment of an associate degree from a campus of the California Community Colleges.
   c. Fulfillment of the minimum transfer requirements established for the California State University for students transferring from a campus of the California Community Colleges.

3. Registration as an entering student at, or current enrollment at, an accredited institution of higher education in California not earlier than the fall semester or quarter of the 2001–02 academic year.

4. In the case of a person without lawful immigration status, the filing of an affidavit with the institution of higher education stating that the student has filed an application to legalize his or her immigration status, or will file an application as soon as he or she is eligible to do so.

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP)

SAP is measured annually in three areas and all three standards must be met:

- A student who is a member of the Armed Forces of the United States stationed in California not earlier than the fall semester or quarter of the 2001–02 academic year.
- A student who is a victim of trafficking, domestic violence, and other serious crimes who has been granted T or U visa status (respectively under Section 1101(a)(15)(T)(i) or (ii), or Section 1101(a)(15)(U)(i) or (ii), of Title 8 of the United States Code).
- A nonimmigrant alien (8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(15)), who is not a resident of California.

SAP is calculated annually in three areas:

1. Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP)
2. Financial Need
3. Nonresident Tuition Exemptions

SAP is measured annually in three areas and all three standards must be met:

- Maintenance of a minimum grade point average as defined in either: (A) Section 3679(c)(2)(A) or (B)(ii)(I) of Title 38 of the United States Code, as that provision read on January 1, 2017 or (B) Section 3679(c)(2)(B)(i) or (ii)(II) of Title 38 of the United States Code, as that provision read on January 1, 2017, and (3) is eligible for education benefits under either the federal Montgomery GI Bill-Active Duty program (30 U.S.C. § 3001 et seq.) or the Post-9/11 GI Bill program (38 U.S.C. § 3301 et seq.) as each read on January 1, 2017.

Section 68122 – A student who is a victim of trafficking, domestic violence, and other serious crimes who has been granted T or U visa status (respectively under Section 1101(a)(15)(T)(i) or (ii), or Section 1101(a)(15)(U)(i) or (ii), of Title 8 of the United States Code) shall be exempt from paying nonresident tuition to the same extent as individuals who are admitted to the United States as refugees under Section 1157 of Title 8 of the United States Code.

Section 68130.5 – A student, other than a nonimmigrant alien (8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(15)), who is not a resident of California is exempt from paying nonresident tuition if the student meets the requirements of (1) through (4), below:

1. Satisfaction of the requirements of either subparagraph (A) or subparagraph (B):
   a. A total attendance of, or attainment of credits earned while in California equivalent to, three or more years of full-time attendance or attainment of credits at any of the following:
      i. California high schools.
      ii. California high schools established by the State Board of Education.
      iii. California adult schools established by a county office of education, a unified school district or high school district, or the Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation (subject to the class hours’ requirement).
      iv. Campuses of the California Community Colleges (subject to the credit requirements).
      v. A combination of those schools set forth in clauses (i) to (iv), inclusive.
   b. Three or more years of full-time high school coursework, and a total of three or more years of attendance in California elementary schools, California secondary schools, or a combination of California elementary and secondary schools.

2. Satisfaction of any of the following:
   a. Graduation from a California high school or attainment of the equivalent thereof.
   b. Attainment of an associate degree from a campus of the California Community Colleges.
   c. Fulfillment of the minimum transfer requirements established for the California State University for students transferring from a campus of the California Community Colleges.

3. Registration as an entering student at, or current enrollment at, an accredited institution of higher education in California not earlier than the fall semester or quarter of the 2001–02 academic year.

4. In the case of a person without lawful immigration status, the filing of an affidavit with the institution of higher education stating that the student has filed an application to legalize his or her immigration status, or will file an application as soon as he or she is eligible to do so.

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP)

SAP is measured annually in three areas and all three standards must be met:

- A student who is a member of the Armed Forces of the United States stationed in California not earlier than the fall semester or quarter of the 2001–02 academic year.
- A student who is a victim of trafficking, domestic violence, and other serious crimes who has been granted T or U visa status (respectively under Section 1101(a)(15)(T)(i) or (ii), or Section 1101(a)(15)(U)(i) or (ii), of Title 8 of the United States Code).
1. Minimum Cumulative GPA standard:
Students are required to maintain a cumulative GPA of 2.0 as undergraduates and 3.0 as doctorate, graduate, credential students, and unclassified graduate students.

2. Overall Degree Progress standard:
Students are required to complete their degree/certificate within 150 percent of their program degree objective.

All graded coursework are counted, including transfer units, repeats, in-progress and withdrawals. SAP review also incorporates all unsuccessful coursework attempted at Sacramento State (i.e. “F”, “I”, “NC”, “W”, “WU”).

Probation Warning: Students who have completed 120 percent of attempted coursework will receive a warning notification. This early warning enables the student to seek academic advisement for degree completion prior to reaching 150 percent.

3. Satisfactory Pace Standard:
The satisfactory pace standard is an overall ratio of Sacramento State units earned to Sacramento State units attempted. Students must pass at least 75 percent of units attempted.

All graded coursework are counted, including repeats, in-progress and withdrawals. SAP review also incorporates all unsuccessful coursework attempted at Sacramento State (i.e. “F”, “I”, “NC”, “W”, “WU”). Transfer units are not included in this calculation.

Students must meet the following standards to receive financial aid regardless of whether they were prior financial aid recipients. Satisfactory Academic Progress will be reviewed and monitored each spring after grades have posted.

These standards comply with federal regulations and University policy. They are applicable to all financial aid applicants at Sacramento State, and affect eligibility for all federal and state aid, including grants, loans, and work study.

Financial Aid Disqualification
Students will become disqualified from receiving financial aid if any one of the following applies:

• they fail to meet the GPA requirements;
• they fail to successfully complete fewer than 75% of their attempted units in any academic year;
• they fail to complete their program within 150% of their degree program required units;
• they are pursuing a second or subsequent bachelor’s, credential, or master’s degree.

Students are required to maintain a cumulative GPA of 2.0 as undergraduates and 3.0 as doctorate, graduate, credential students, and unclassified graduate students.

Appeal Review
Satisfactory academic progress is measured for all students on an annual basis. Students not meeting the requirements will be “Financial Aid Disqualified” and notified accordingly with instructions of the appeal process.

Appeal Process
Students who become disqualified from receiving financial aid will be notified via My Sac State Student Center and provided instruction on the process. Appeals will be evaluated based on the student’s extenuating circumstance and their plan to take corrective measures toward successful degree completion.

Regaining Eligibility
Students who are disqualified due to low GPA or low unit completion will regain eligibility when they achieve the required GPA or unit completion as long as they have not completed more than 150% of their program requirements. Undergraduate students who are disqualified due to exceeding 150% of the required units for their program will regain eligibility after they become a master’s or credential student after their bachelor’s degree is posted. Students who meet this condition before the spring semester may submit a written request to have their eligibility reinstated, otherwise progress will be reviewed after spring grades have posted.

Drop in Units
Students who received financial aid funds should consult with the Financial Aid & Scholarships Office prior to dropping a course or withdrawing from the University to determine the impact on the financial aid received. Financial aid regulations require the Financial Aid & Scholarships Office to determine what percentage of aid is considered earned and any unearned aid must be returned to the appropriate program, resulting in refund or repayment of grant or loan assistance received for that academic term. For drop in units, aid will be adjusted at Census date to reflect the final enrollment status.

Special Categories of Students
Students in the International Program, Visitor Status, Consortium, and/or contractual programs must meet with a financial aid counselor.

Summer requires a separate institutional application available on the Financial Aid & Scholarships Office website in April at www.csus.edu/ faid (http://www.csus.edu/faid).

Open University students are not eligible for financial aid. Courses being audited are not considered toward enrollment for financial aid purposes.

Financial Aid Refunds/Return of Title IV

1 Refer to Fees and Refunds (p. 23)/Return of Title IV.

Cost of Attending Sacramento State
Student budgets, also known as Cost of Attendance (COA), are designed to provide students with a projection of reasonable costs to attend school for a nine month school period. The students COA includes direct costs which are actual tuition and fees charged and, if applicable on campus housing charges. Indirect costs included in the total COA include an allowance for books and supplies, food and housing for those living off-campus or with parents, transportation costs and an allowance for miscellaneous/personal items. The following chart is an estimate of the cost of attendance during the 2018-2019 academic year as a full-time undergraduate student and may not represent your actual expenditures for these items.

Registration

Introduction to My Sac State

www.csus.edu (http://www.csus.edu)

Continuing Sacramento State students and new students who have received notice of admission are eligible to register for classes. Registration is conducted online through the Student Center on My Sac State. Eligible students are assigned a registration appointment by class level priority. The Class Schedule is available online in March for fall semester. In most academic departments, advising begins in early March for fall semesters and in October for spring semesters.

Registration information will be communicated to all eligible students in April for fall semesters and November for spring semesters. Summer registration begins April. The Academic Advising Center offers advising and registration assistance to newly admitted students during the orientation program prior to each fall and spring semester.

Students who miss their registration appointment may enroll during Open or Late Registration. There is a $25 fee for late registration. Course availability may be limited.

Once students register for classes, all registration fees must be paid by established deadlines. Failure to pay registration fees or make appropriate arrangements for payments will result in enrollment cancellation. Contact the Bursar's Office for payment deadlines.

Adding Courses

Students are expected to add courses by using "My Sac State" at www.my.csus.edu (https://my.csus.edu/uPortal/f/welcome/normal/render.up)

- Until the end of the second week of the semester. Course adds that require instructor permission must be completed by using an add permit available from the academic department or at the Registrar's Office website (www.csus.edu/registrar/forms/index.html (http://www.csus.edu/registrar/forms)).
- Adds in weeks three and four of the semester are processed through the academic department and require approval by the instructor and department chair.
- Adds are not approved after week four (the census date) unless students present evidence of University error that prevented their timely registration. University error does not include failure to meet all payment deadlines. In addition to completing a Petition to Add/Drop/Withdraw from courses after deadline, students must state their reason for a late add request on a separate page and attach it to the petition, along with verification of the circumstances. Students must then obtain signatures of the instructor, department chair, and college dean. See Petition to Add/Drop/Withdraw for more details.
- After filling out Petition to Add/Drop/Withdraw, students must submit the petition to the Registrar's Office, Lassen Hall 2000, for consideration by the vice president (or designee). A late fee of $10 will be posted on the student account within two weeks, if approved. Check back with the Registrar's Office two business days after submitting payment (check/money order only). If approved, the Registrar's Office will add the course to the student's schedule.
- Adds for audits must be noted on the petition, and the petition must be submitted to the Registrar's Office. No adds for audit are permitted after the census date.

Drop and Withdrawal Policy

Definitions

Dropping a course refers to official removal from a course within the first four weeks of the semester (before census date). In this instance, nothing is recorded on the student's permanent record.

Withdrawal from a course is an official removal from a course after census date. A grade of "W" is recorded on the student's permanent record.

Enrollment Cancellation refers to students being administratively dropped from courses due to non-payment of fees. Enrollment Cancellation is done throughout the registration cycles prior to the census date. No "W" grades are recorded on the student's permanent record. If a student is enrollment cancelled after classes begin, they will be charged fees prorated for each day of enrollment. If student is enrollment cancelled during their first semester prior to the first day of classes, they will be required to reapply for admission.

Unauthorized Withdrawal may result for failure to drop or withdraw properly from a course. In this case, a grade of "WU" is assigned by the instructor. (See "Unauthorized Withdrawal Policy" below.)

Limit on Withdrawal. For all units attempted at California State University Sacramento, withdrawals made after the census date and prior to the last three weeks of instruction are limited to a combined total of no more than 18 semester-units during a student's academic career at CSUS.

Dropping Courses

Although instructors may exercise their authority to administratively remove any student who fails to attend during the first two weeks of instruction, students should not assume they will be dropped. Students will receive a final grade of "F" or "WU" in courses they fail to drop officially.

- Students wishing to withdraw from all courses should fill out the Semester Withdrawal Form.
- Until the end of the second week of instruction of the semester, students are expected to drop courses by using "My Sac State" (http://www.my.csus.edu). Students will be charged registration fees for all courses not dropped prior to the first day of instruction. The drop in units refund deadline is the end of the second week of instruction.
- Drops during the third and fourth weeks of instruction are processed in the academic department offering the course and require instructor and department chair approval. Forms are available at academic Attendance

Classroom attendance is generally necessary for academic success; therefore, regular attendance at class is expected. In some courses (for example, laboratories or seminars), attendance is absolutely critical to the work of the course. Students are advised that individual faculty may establish attendance policies in their courses and may link absences to their evaluation of students’ performance in the course. Such policies must be stated in the course syllabus made available at the beginning of the semester. Excessive absences may lead a faculty member to assign a “WU” or “F” grade.

Instructors have the right to administratively remove any student who, during the first two weeks of instruction, fails to attend any two class meetings (for courses that meet two or more times a week), or one class meeting (for courses that meet once a week). It is therefore especially important that students contact instructors in advance regarding absences during the add/drop period. However, do not assume instructors will turn in official drops. It is the responsibility of each student to officially drop any scheduled courses he or she is not attending. Failure to do so will result in penalty grades (“WU” or “F”).

Cancellation of Registration or Withdrawal from the University

Students who find it necessary to cancel their registration or to withdraw completely from Sacramento State after enrolling for any academic term are required to follow the university’s official withdrawal procedures (see below). Failure to follow formal university procedures may result in an obligation to pay fees, the assignment of failing grades in all courses, and the need to apply for readmission before being permitted to enroll in another academic term. Information on canceling registration and withdrawal procedures is available from the Registrar’s Office at (916) 278-1000.

Students who receive financial aid funds must consult with the Student Services Center prior to withdrawing from the university regarding required return or repayment of grant or loan assistance received for that academic term or payment period. Students who have received financial aid and withdraw from the institution during the academic term or payment period may need to return or repay some or all of the funds received, which may result in a debt owed to the institution.

Sacramento State students withdrawing from all classes in a given semester must receive approval from the Student Services Counselor before leaving the university. Students withdrawing from one or some of the classes, but not all, after the sixth week of the semester for academic reasons must receive approval from the college dean of the class being dropped.

Students withdrawing after the fourth week of instruction will receive a grade of “W” in each class.

Students who are withdrawing because they are incapacitated and are unable to obtain approvals in person must contact the Student Services Center to discuss processing procedures. Verification of illness or accident should accompany a student’s request.

Withdrawals from the University during the final three weeks of the semester shall not be permitted except in cases such as accident or serious illness, where the cause of withdrawal is/are clearly beyond the student’s control, occurred after the 12th week of the semester, and the assignment of "Incomplete" grades each course is impractical. Medical documentation will be required.

A student who pays registration fees and subsequently withdraws after the first day of the semester usually is considered a continuing student for the next semester and need not reapply for admission. For information regarding refund of registration fees upon withdrawal, refer to Fees page: http://www.csus.edu/aba/Student-Financial-Services/fees_deadlines_refunds.html.

See Fees and Refunds/Financial Aid Refunds/Title IV.
Immunization Requirements
Student Health and Counseling Services
(916) 278-6461
http://www.csus.edu/shcs/

CSU Immunization Requirements
Entering CSU students are required to present proof of the following immunizations to the CSU campus they will be attending before the beginning of their first term of enrollment.

Measles and Rubella: All new and readmitted students must provide proof of full immunization against measles and rubella prior to enrollment.

Hepatitis B: All new students who will be 18 years of age or younger at the start of their first term at a CSU campus must provide proof of full immunization against Hepatitis B before enrolling. Full immunization against Hepatitis B consists of three timed doses of vaccine over a 4 to 6 months period. If you need further details or have special circumstances, please consult Student Health and Counseling Services.

Meningococcal Disease Information: Each incoming freshman who will be residing in on-campus housing will be required to return a form indicating that they have received information about meningococcal disease and the availability of the vaccine to prevent contracting the disease and indicating whether or not the student has chosen to receive the vaccination.

The above are not admission requirements, but are required of students as conditions of enrollment in CSU.

Reservation
The University reserves the right to select its students and deny admission to the University or any of its programs as the University, in its sole discretion, determines appropriate based on an applicant’s suitability and the best interests of the University.

Immigration Requirements for Licensure
Office of the University Registrar

Intrasystem and Intersystem Enrollment Programs
Office of the University Registrar
Lassen Hall 2000

Fully matriculated students enrolled at any CSU campus have access to courses at other CSU campuses on a space available basis unless those campuses/programs are impacted. This access is offered without students being required to be formally admitted to the host campus and in most cases without paying additional fees. Students should consult their home campus academic advisors to determine how such courses may apply to their specific degree programs before enrolling at the host campus.

There are two programs for enrollment within the CSU and one for enrollment between CSU and the University of California or California Community Colleges. Please contact the Office of the University Registrar for additional information.

Students are not required to notify the University of their intention to discontinue enrollment unless applying for a Leave of Absence or one of the special statuses explained below.1

1 Refer to Application to Sacramento State (p. 23)/Returning Student.

CSU Fully Online Courses
Matriculated students in good standing may request enrollment in one course per term, offered by a CSU host campus. Enrollment requests will be granted based on available space, as well as completion of any stated pre-requisites. Credit earned at the host campus is electronically reported to the student’s home campus to be included on the student’s transcript at the home campus.

CSU Visitor Enrollment
Matriculated students in good standing enrolled at one CSU campus may enroll at another CSU campus for one term. Credit earned at the host campus is reported at the student’s request to the home campus to be included on the student’s transcript at the home campus. Students are required to notify the University of their intention to discontinue enrollment unless applying for a Leave of Absence or one of the special statuses explained below.

Visitor transfers are approved for one term only and are subject to space availability and enrollment priority policies at the host campus. Enrollment as a visitor transfer may be repeated after re-enrollment at the home campus. Concurrent enrollment (see below) is not permitted during visitor status. Visitor applications may be obtained from the Admissions Office or the Office of the University Registrar.

Concurrent Enrollment Within CSU

Matriculated students in good standing enrolled at any CSU campus may enroll on a space available basis at both their home CSU campus and a host CSU campus during the same term. Credit earned at the host campus is reported at the student’s request to the home campus. Many online courses at CSU campus are available for concurrent enrollment. Because of overlap in academic terms of campuses on semester and quarter calendars, concurrent enrollment is subject to combinations and conditions described in the concurrent enrollment application forms available from the Office of the University Registrar.

Intersystem Cross Enrollment

Matriculated CSU, UC, or community college students may enroll on a "space available" basis for one course per term at another CSU, UC, or community college and request that a transcript of record be sent to the home campus.

Cross enrollment is available to students who:

1. are California residents;
2. have completed at least one regular term at their home campus as a matriculated student;
3. have paid appropriate enrollment fees at the home campus for the current term;
4. have earned a grade point average of 2.0 ("C" average) for all college work completed; and
5. have completed appropriate academic preparation for the course they intend to take, as determined by the host campus.

Details on enrollment conditions and procedures are available from the Registrar’s Office at the home campus. Students must request a transcript of record be sent to the home campus upon completion of the term.

Concurrent Enrollment Outside CSU

Degree Evaluations Office
Office of the University Registrar
Lassen Hall Lobby
(916) 278-4862

Students may enroll at another institution outside the CSU system while enrolled at Sacramento State without prior approval if the total course load does not exceed 21 units. Students must arrange to have an official transcript mailed to Sacramento State, Transfer Credit Evaluations, Office of the University Registrar, upon completion of the term. It is advisable to confirm that courses attempted elsewhere will be transferable and meet Sacramento State requirements.

Concurrent Enrollment Within Sacramento State

Concurrent registration, also known as Open University, is enrollment in on-campus courses through the College of Continuing Education. The formal application for admission, application fee, and supporting documents are not required for concurrent registration.¹ Open University registration is not available to matriculated degree seeking students.

¹ Refer to Research, Graduate and Extended Programs (p. 23)/College of Continuing Education.

Leaves of Absence

The leave policy allows enrolled Sacramento State undergraduate and second baccalaureate students to maintain enrollment eligibility and rights to specified degree requirement options.¹ Unclassified postbaccalaureate students are allowed to maintain enrollment status while exploring goals away from the University. The policy also allows classified graduates (those enrolled in master's degree programs) to maintain status in their programs during an absence. Sacramento State students who will not be enrolled at Sacramento State may file for a Leave of Absence to receive these benefits. Forms to apply for a Leave of Absence for Undergraduate students are available in the Office of the University Registrar, for Graduate level students the form is located on the Graduate Studies website.

Sacramento State students studying abroad through independent programs should contact the International Programs and Global Engagement Office for information.

As required by law, regulations regarding admission eligibility, established by the California State University Board of Trustees, will apply to re-admission. Students dismissed due to academic deficiencies or disciplinary action are not eligible for Leaves of Absence. (However, students re-admitted to Sacramento State after only one semester of non-enrollment maintain catalog rights.) Students enrolled only in Extension courses or as Auditors are not eligible for Leaves of Absence.

Leaves approved for graduate students do not extend the seven year time limit for completion of graduate degree requirements established by Title 5, California Code of Regulations, Section 40510. Graduate students anticipating absence beyond such time limits must first seek approval through the Office of Graduate Studies, (916) 278-6470.

Enrolled Sacramento State students requesting leaves during a semester must follow withdrawal procedures. All contractual agreements (housing, financial aid, etc.) must be satisfactorily terminated.

Types of Leaves

Medical

Requests must be accompanied by a statement from a medical doctor explaining why the student must interrupt enrollment. No limit exists on the number of semesters of absence allowed, except leaves for pregnancy, which are restricted to the semester of delivery and the one following. An application and fee are required at readmission following a leave of two or more semesters.

Military

Requests must be accompanied by a copy of military orders indicating induction or transfer date. Eight semesters absence is the maximum that can be approved. An application and fee are required at readmission for a leave of two or more semesters.

Planned Educational Leave

Students may petition for planned educational leaves to pursue educationally related activities that will enhance the prospect of successful completion of their academic programs but which may not require enrollment at Sacramento State or any other institution of higher education. A planned educational leave may be granted for a period of up to two years to students who apply while enrolled in a degree program at Sacramento State. If the leave is approved, the student retains degree catalog rights and may enroll as a continuing student provided the student notifies the Office of the University Registrar of her/his return and registers in the same semester indicated on the petition.

Personal

Students who for personal reasons are temporarily unable to continue their program of studies may request a leave of absence for a specific period of time not to exceed two semesters. After reaching the two semester limit, students who are requesting to extend their leave of absence status must file a request to extend on the Leave of Absence petition for no more than an additional two semesters. Four semesters of absence is the maximum that can be approved for personal reasons. If the leave is approved, the student retains degree catalog rights. The student may enroll as a continuing student provided the student notifies the Office of the University Registrar of her/his return and registers in the same semester as indicated on the petition. However, an application and fee are required for formal readmission for a leave of two or more semesters.

One Semester Only

Sacramento State students who are not enrolled for one semester at Sacramento State are considered as on a leave of absence. Students who return after being absent for one semester do not have to file for readmission or pay the application fee, keep their catalog rights for undergraduate students and maintain classified status for graduate students. (Exception: graduate students who have completed all coursework and have received an "RP" in their culminating experience are required to enroll in Continuous Enrollment. Further information is available at the Office of Graduate Studies.) Students who do not enroll for two consecutive semesters without filing for a Leave of Absence are not considered as continuing students. Students must reapply for and pay the application fee. All application deadlines must be followed for consideration for readmission.

Enrollment at Regionally Accredited Colleges

Once catalog rights are established by enrollment at a California State University or California Community College (CCC), enrollment at a regionally accredited college maintains these catalog rights if two conditions are met:

1. enrollment takes place at the regionally accredited college for one semester or two quarters of each calendar year after leaving a CCC or Sacramento State; and
2. enrollment or re-enrollment at Sacramento State occurs within or at the end of a four-semester maximum absence.

Students attending regionally accredited colleges while absent from Sacramento State do not qualify for a Leave of Absence.

Definition of Key Terms

Academic Action — When a student’s academic performance does not meet the University’s minimum scholastic standards, he/she will be subject to academic action that will affect eligibility to register.

Academic Program — A pattern of specialized courses designed to provide students with the skills and knowledge necessary to pursue a specific career or advanced study. See list of academic programs (or majors).

Career — There are three designated academic careers for which transcripts are maintained: Undergraduate, Graduate, and College of Continuing Education (extension).

My Sac State — The access portal for student, faculty, and staff specific information and services. Students access specific information in the Student Center. Faculty access specific information in the Faculty Center.

Class Level — A student’s class level based on units completed or academic program objective. Undergraduate class levels are:

- Freshman — less than 30 units
- Sophomores — 30 to 59.9 units completed
- Juniors — 60 to 89.9 units completed
- Seniors — 90 or more units completed

Graduate students are those who have graduated with a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university.

Computer Proficiency — Courses using the various forms of computers and labeled as such will include a notice within the catalog description identifying the specific knowledge requirement as listed below:

- MAC-OS: start-up procedures, icon usage, file management, mouse input, print, backup, formatting, and copying.
- PC-DOS: start-up procedures, disk formatting and copying, print, directory listing, and program access.
- UNIX: log-in procedures, directory navigation, print, copy, run programs, and file management.
- VMS: log-in procedures, directory navigation, print, copy, run programs, and file management.

Corequisite — A corequisite is a course or other preparation which must be taken simultaneously. Corequisites are listed in the course description.

Course Number System

Double Major — Students may obtain a baccalaureate degree with two majors by completing the requirements for both majors. Multiple majors will be recorded on the student’s permanent record and if the student has completed the requirements for two or more majors leading to different baccalaureate degrees, those degrees and completed major(s) shall be acknowledged on the diploma and official transcript.

Earned Hours — The number of academic units completed that may apply toward degree requirements.

Electives — Courses which may be selected by the student to complete total-unit requirements. In some cases, major requirements include electives, i.e., a given number of courses in the major to be selected by the student.

Full-Time Status — Undergraduate students enrolled in 12 or more units are considered full-time. Graduate students enrolled in 8 or more units... are considered full-time. Note: off-campus agencies may use different definitions for determining full-time status.

Minor — The minor is a pattern of courses similar to the major, but less comprehensive. Only a few majors at Sacramento State require a minor, but students who have a substantial number of elective units in their degree program should consider applying them to a minor. The number of units required for a minor varies with the department; most minors require approximately 21 units. Requirements are listed in each department’s section of this catalog. A minor is posted to the official transcript but does not appear on the diploma. Minor requirements completed after graduation are not posted to the official transcript.

OneCard — Sacramento State’s digital-image identification card for students. It allows students to access campus services and also functions as a debit card.

Part-Time Status — Undergraduate students enrolled in 6-11 units are considered part-time. Enrollment in less than 6 units is considered less than part-time. Graduate students enrolled in 4-7 units are considered part-time. Enrollment in less than 4 units is considered less than part-time.

Prerequisite — A prerequisite is a course or other preparation which must be completed before enrollment in an advanced course. When applicable, prerequisites are included in catalog course descriptions.

Unit — A unit represents approximately one hour of class instruction each week for one semester. Semesters usually have 15 weeks of instruction with final examinations held on the 16th week. For example, HIST 17A, having a value of three units, would meet three hours each week for a total of 45 hours of instruction. The terms “unit” and “credit hour” are used interchangeably.
BACCALAUREATE DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Baccalaureate Degree

All baccalaureate degrees at Sacramento State require completion of the requirements listed below. Degree requirements fall into three categories: General Education requirements; major/minor requirements; and other Graduation requirements, which are subject to catalog rights policy. These requirements are derived from Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations, action of the California State University system, and University policy.

Total Units

A minimum of 120 semester units is required. Some majors require additional units. No more than 70 units taken at a community college or other two-year college may be applied to this total.

Upper Division Units

Completion of at least 40 of the total units must be in junior and senior level courses numbered 100-199 at Sacramento State. At least 9 units must be upper division General Education.

Major

Completion of a specific number and pattern of courses in one or more academic departments is defined as a major and is required for graduation. Major requirements vary from a minimum of 24 units to a maximum of 105 units, with majors for the Bachelor of Arts requiring a minimum of 12 upper division units and majors for the Bachelor of Science requiring a minimum of 18 upper division units. Students may complete the requirements for two or more majors leading to the same baccalaureate degrees concurrently. Some Sacramento State majors require an academic minor or approved area of concentration (see requirement listings by major in Academic Programs).

General Education and Graduation Requirements

All undergraduate students must complete a minimum of 48 units of General Education requirements. Approved General Education courses are listed on the online Schedule of Classes each year.

History and Government

Demonstrated competency in “American Institutions”: U.S. History, U.S. Constitution, and California state and local government is required for graduation. These requirements may be satisfied through appropriate courses in GE Area D or through examinations given each semester by the History and Government departments.

English Composition

Two semesters of college-level English Composition courses, with a grade of “C-” or higher, are required for graduation.

English Department Email (English@csus.edu)
GWAR Website (http://www.csus.edu/gwar)

All undergraduate students must satisfy the Graduation Writing Assessment Requirement (GWAR) in order to graduate. To do so, students will follow two steps. First, they will obtain their GWAR Placement. Students must choose how to obtain their GWAR Placement, which is determined by either the Writing Placement for Juniors (WPJ) timed exam or by taking a writing course, ENGL 109W or ENGL 109M. Second, students will complete the upper-division coursework required by their GWAR Placement, including the General Education writing-intensive course, which certifies the GWAR.

Students having satisfied the Graduation Writing Requirement at other CSU campuses may be considered to have satisfied the requirement at Sacramento State. Evidence of successful completion must be provided to the Writing Programs Office.

Foreign Language

Undergraduate students are required to meet a foreign language requirement for the baccalaureate degree. The policy requires proficiency to be demonstrated at a level comparable to the second semester of college level language, including American Sign Language (ASL). However, some Bachelor of Science high unit majors have been given an exemption from the Foreign Language Requirement. Those programs will be so noted in their catalog section. Students who change majors and are no longer in an exempt program will be subject to the University’s Foreign Language Graduation Requirement.

Before Sacramento State Enrollment

The foreign language graduation requirement may be met by any one of the following:

1. completion of the third year of a foreign language in high school (grade of “C+” or better);
2. graduation from a secondary school where the language of instruction was not English;
3. advanced Placement Foreign Language Examination scores of 3, 4, or 5; or
4. completion of two semesters of a foreign language at a community college or university, with a grade of “C+” or better.

Students will be required to submit official high school or college transcripts or other admissions documents to verify the completion of this requirement.

Note: Students with language disabilities due to a specific learning disability, or are deaf, hearing or speech impaired, or who have sustained brain injury may, on the recommendation of the Director of Services for Students with Disabilities, satisfy the requirement in one of several alternative ways.
After Sacramento State Enrollment
If the language requirement has not been completed through one of the above options, students must meet the Sacramento State foreign language graduation requirement by completing one of the following options:

1. passing intermediate-level tests in two of four skills: reading, writing, listening, and speaking. One of the tests passed must be in reading or writing;
2. passing an advanced-level proficiency test in reading. Contact the Department of World Languages and Literatures (Mariposa 2051, (916) 278-6333) for more information; or
3. completing the second semester or equivalent (1B) of a college-level language (including ASL) course with a grade of “C-” or better.

Race and Ethnicity in American Society
All students must complete a three-unit course designated as meeting the Race and Ethnicity in American Society requirement. Courses meeting this requirement may also be used to satisfy the University's G.E. Area requirements. Transfer students may satisfy this requirement at a community college, upon completion of an appropriate course. Courses meeting this requirement taken at Sac State by G.E.-certified students may be used to satisfy portions of the G.E. residence requirement and, in the case of approved upper division courses, the G.E. upper division unit requirement.

Residence
At least 30 of the total units must be taken on the Sacramento State campus. A minimum of 24 of these units must be upper division, including at least 12 upper division units in the major (except for Business Administration, English, and Psychology which require 15 units). Sacramento State units earned by extension and/or challenge examination do not count toward the Sacramento State residence credit requirement.

Grade Point Average
An overall grade point average (GPA) of 2.0 is required in five areas:

1. total courses (cumulative GPA);
2. Sacramento State courses;
3. upper division courses applied to the major;
4. courses applied to the minor; and
5. courses used to complete General Education requirements.

Departments may impose additional grade and GPA requirements (e.g., a department may require a “C-” or better in every course which is applied to the major).

One of the principles on which a modern university rests is the assumption that there is an important difference between learning to make a living and building the foundation for a life. While the first goal is important, the second is fundamental.

In focusing on the students' development as whole or "educated" people, a university distinguishes itself from a trade school. The goal of a university education is not simply the acquisition and application of knowledge, but the creation of people who firmly grasp the worth of clear thinking and know how to do it; who understand and appreciate the differences between peoples and cultures as well as their similarities; who have a sense of history and social forces; who can express thought clearly and have quantitative ability; who know something about the arts as well as how to enjoy them; who can talk and think intelligently about the physical and life sciences, the humanities, and literature; and, above all, who have the desire and capability for learning. This goal is why a university degree is so highly valued by individuals, employers, and the community at large.

The Sacramento State General Education Program is designed to educate in this holistic sense. Thus, it is not simply a series of courses to complete or hoops for students to jump through as they complete the courses in their major. Rather, general education lies at the heart of what a university education is all about.

Therefore students should carefully select courses and actively seek subject areas that are new and may challenge their world-views or cherished assumptions and offer new experiences, such as inquiry-based or community-based learning. In short, students shouldn't take the easy way out. This is their opportunity to lay the foundation for the rest of their lives, and to define themselves as educated members of the human community. Their time at the university is precious and the General Education Program has been designed to help them begin the process of becoming truly educated people. In deciding to pursue a university degree, they have chosen well and should make the best use of the opportunities open to them.

Objectives
Upon completion of the General Education Program requirements, students will be expected to:

- read, write, and understand relatively complex and sophisticated English prose;
- construct a non-fallacious verbal argument, recognize fallacious arguments, and follow the verbal arguments of others;
- find and use common information resources, engage in specialized library research, use computers and seek out appropriate expert opinion and advice;
- use mathematical ideas to accomplish a variety of tasks;
- gain a general understanding of current theory, concepts, knowledge, and scientific methods pertaining to the nature of the physical universe, ecosystems, and life on this planet;
- develop an acquaintance and understanding of cultures and major dynamic social institutions which affect one's life; and
- possess a significant and useful understanding of peoples from a diversity of cultures and backgrounds, including women and ethnic and other minority groups who have been the objects of prejudice and adverse discrimination within our society.

In addition to these basic skills, courses in the sciences, arts, humanities, and social sciences have been selected to help students attain the university's baccalaureate learning goals and to satisfy particular GE Area Learning Outcomes. The Baccalaureate Learning Goals include:

- Competence in the Disciplines: The ability to demonstrate the competencies and values listed below in at least one major field of study and to demonstrate informed understandings of other fields, drawing on the knowledge and skills of disciplines outside the major.
- Knowledge of Human Cultures and the Physical and Natural World through study in the sciences and mathematics, social sciences, humanities, histories, languages, and the arts. Focused by engagement with big questions, contemporary and enduring.

- Intellectual and Practical Skills, Including: inquiry and analysis, critical, philosophical, and creative thinking, written and oral communication, quantitative literacy, information literacy, teamwork and problem solving, practiced extensively across the curriculum, in the context of progressively more challenging problems, projects, and standards for performance.
- Personal and Social Responsibility, Including: civic knowledge and engagement—local and global, intercultural knowledge and competence\(^1\), ethical reasoning and action, foundations and skills for lifelong learning anchored through active involvement with diverse communities and real-world challenges.
- Integrative Learning\(^2\), Including: synthesis and advanced accomplishment across general and specialized studies.

1 Understanding of and respect for those who are different from oneself and the ability to work collaboratively with those who come from diverse cultural backgrounds.

2 Interdisciplinary learning, learning communities, capstone or senior studies in the General Education program and/or in the major connecting learning goals with the content and practices of the educational programs including GE, departmental majors, the co-curriculum and assessments.

 Sacramento State General Education courses are designed, selected, and approved by the faculty to meet these program objectives. Students will benefit from consultation with the Academic Advising Center or advisors in their major departments in planning their General Education course choices. Students may search the online Schedule of Classes by Area or other specification(s) for currently available GE courses.

Course Requirements

Courses have been approved to meet the 48-unit General Education pattern required of Sacramento State students. In addition, a second semester composition course and demonstration of proficiency in a foreign language are required for graduation. (See GE requirements for a description of these requirements.) Students must choose their General Education classes from the Areas and classes listed in the catalog.

General Education Policies

- All upper division GE courses require at least second semester sophomore standing (45 units) and completion of all GE Area A courses as prerequisites.
- At least 9 units must be chosen from upper division GE courses (100-199) and at least 9 units must be taken in residence at Sacramento State (these units may overlap).
- The Writing Intensive course may be counted as upper division GE if it is listed as a GE course. Students must complete the course with a C- or higher to certify the GWAR.
- Each course taken to satisfy the Area A Basic Subjects and Area B4 Quantitative Reasoning must be completed with a grade of "C-" or higher.
- A 2.0 cumulative GPA is required in General Education.

Overlap Between General Education and Majors/Minors

General education requirements include five areas (A-E) in which you must take courses (area requirements), a nine-unit upper division requirement, a Race and Ethnicity requirement, and a Writing Intensive requirement. The overlap possibilities among these four aspects of General Education are outlined below. Students needing help applying these overlap policies are encouraged to see an advisor in the Academic Advising and Career Center, Lassen Hall 1013.

1. The Race and Ethnicity requirement can be met with an upper or lower division course from a student’s major or major department. Example: A Social Work major can use SWRK 102 to meet the Race and Ethnicity requirement.
2. The Writing Intensive requirement can be met with a course from the major or major department in specified majors, but not in all majors.
3. There is no restriction on the overlap of courses between GE and minor requirements.
4. There is no restriction on the overlap of courses between GE and major courses.

Transfer Students

Transfer students who have completed lower division General Education requirements at a California community college, including those certified under the Intersegmental General Education Transfer Core Curriculum (IGETC), and/or those in receipt of an Associate Degree for Transfer (ADT), are required to complete 9 units of upper division GE at Sacramento State, meet the foreign language proficiency graduation requirement, meet the state "code" requirements in U.S. History, American and California Government, and the writing intensive requirement. These 9 units may or may not include the writing intensive requirement, depending on the policy of the student’s major department. Students who have not completed an approved course for the “Race and Ethnicity in American Society” category at a community college must take a course in this category at Sacramento State. In addition, all transfer students, except those fully certified as having completed the IGEC or ADT core curriculum, must complete the required second semester composition course or an approved course at a community college.

For more information about IGETC requirements and/or Associate Degrees for Transfer, contact your community college counselor.

Second Bachelor’s Degree Requirements

Students who hold a bachelor’s degree from regionally accredited institutions of higher education may be admitted to a second bachelor’s degree program. Students admitted are considered postbaccalaureate students.

Admissions criteria are:

1. Have a minimum 2.5 grade point average on the last 60 semester units of baccalaureate and/or graduate level courses.

Graduation requirements are:

1. An overall grade point average of 2.5 is required in four areas:
   a. total courses
   b. Sacramento State courses as a second bachelor’s student;
   c. upper division courses applied to the major; and
d. courses applied to the minor.
2. Complete the content requirements for the second degree as specified by the department. Units from the first degree may be counted, but a minimum of 24 upper division residence units (Sacramento State courses) in the major subsequent to earning the first bachelor’s degree are required.
3. Complete a minimum of 30 units in residence at Sacramento State beyond the first bachelor’s degree. Of the 30 units, 24 must be upper division in the major. Note: Former Sacramento State students who have completed 6 or more residence units will be held to 24 upper division units in the major and in residence. Extension and credit by examination units do not meet the residence requirement.

4. If you have not already completed the Graduate Writing Assessment Requirement (GWAR) at Sacramento State or at another approved campus as part of the first bachelor's degree, then you must take the Writing Placement for Juniors (WPJ) timed essay examination in which a passing score certifies the GWAR. If you fail the WPJ, you will need to take ENGL 109M or ENGL 109W: a passing grade in the class certifies the GWAR. If completed elsewhere, written verification is required.

5. Submit a graduation application with approval from the department chair of the major in which they seek the degree. Advising for the major takes place within the department.

Registration priority is that of an unclassified graduate student.

Scholarship

Second bachelor’s degree candidates are expected to achieve a minimum Sacramento State and overall cumulative grade point average of 2.5 each semester to maintain good academic standing, the same as unclassified graduate students. Students are subject to academic probation the first term the student’s term and overall grade point average is below 2.5. While on academic probation, if the student’s subsequent term and overall grade point remain below a 2.5, the student will be academically disqualified. A student will be academically disqualified immediately if the overall cumulative grade point average is below 2.0.

Students who meet grade point average requirements stated above will be placed on Academic Warning if they earn a "NC," No Credit, grade in a semester. Grades of "NC" earned in subsequent consecutive semesters will result in Academic Probation, Continued Probation or Disqualification, depending upon the number of "NC" grades earned and the semester grade point average.

Candidates must file for graduation TWO SEMESTERS prior to the date of graduation. Graduation Application forms are available at the Office of the University Registrar, Lassen Hall.

Note: A second bachelor’s degree cannot be awarded in the same major nor in any closely-related field.

Catalog Rights

Undergraduate students maintaining attendance in any combination of California community colleges and campuses of the California State University receive “catalog rights” in the election of regulations determining graduation requirements. Students may elect the requirements in effect at:

1. the year they began their study at a California community college or CSU campus OR
2. the year they entered Sacramento State OR
3. the year they graduate from Sacramento State

Attendance is defined as enrollment in at least one semester or two quarters in each calendar year. Once catalog rights are established, absence related to an approved educational leave or for attendance at another accredited institution is not to be considered an interruption, providing the above attendance criteria are met and the absence does not exceed two years.

While catalog rights hold degree requirements, they do not shield students from changes in prerequisites required in a given course.

Prerequisite requirements, which all students must follow, are those stated in course descriptions in the current catalog. The only exceptions to this are in cases in which the addition of course prerequisites also increases the number of units required in the major and minor. In these cases, students are encouraged to meet current course prerequisites, but are not required to do so.

1. Note: Regional Accrediting Associations: the Associations of Colleges and Schools of the Middle States, North Central, Northwest, Southern and Western regions.
2. See also Registration/Leaves of Absence.

Overlapping Credit

Undergraduate

The University allows course credit to overlap in completing major and minor requirements, provided that minimum University policy has been met with regard to content requirements and total units. For the Bachelor of Arts degree, a major requires a minimum of 24 non-overlapping units of which 12 must be upper division.

For the Bachelor of Science degree, a major requires a minimum of 36 non-overlapping units of which 18 must be upper division. Any remaining units may be used for a second major or a minor.

1. See also Baccalaureate Degree Requirements/Overlap between General Education and Majors/minors.

Postbaccalaureate Credit Earned as an Undergraduate

The University will allow Sacramento State undergraduate students to petition to receive postbaccalaureate credit for courses in excess of all undergraduate degree requirements (major, minor, general education, total units, residence) if they are taken in the semester of graduation and students have a cumulative GPA of 2.75 or better. No more than six units can be applied towards a master's degree. If approved, credit will be designated as “graduate credit” toward a master’s degree or credential and is discounted from undergraduate statistics and honors calculations. Sacramento State students seeking approval to use excess units toward a master's degree must submit a “Petition for Exception” to the Office of Graduate Studies during the last semester of undergraduate enrollment. Petitions must be filed with the Graduate Studies Office prior to graduation.

Application for Graduation

Degree Evaluations Office
Office of the University Registrar
Lassen Hall, Room 2000
(916) 278-1000

Students must apply for graduation. Academic degrees are not granted automatically when students complete their degree requirements.

Students are eligible to file a bachelor’s degree application one semester prior to graduation once they have completed a minimum of 85 units. Refer to the Evaluations Office Graduation Website (http://www.csus.edu/registrar/graduation), for filing procedures and timelines. Notification via email is sent when the graduation evaluation is completed by the Degree Evaluations Office. Graduating seniors may contact the Degree advisors in the Office of the University Registrar to discuss their Graduation Evaluation and any remaining degree requirements.
Posting of Degrees
After grades become available for the semester of requested graduation, the Degree Evaluations Office will review the Graduation Evaluation for completion of all degree requirements. Those completing all requirements will have their degree major/minor and date of completion posted to their official academic transcript of record. Diplomas are mailed to students approximately two months after grades become available. Students attending graduation ceremonies do so as candidates for the degree. The degree is conferred only after all degree requirements have been completed, and the diploma and transcript of record reflect that semester's graduation date. Students who have not completed all requirements will be notified by email and should contact the Degree Evaluations Office for assistance in developing plans for degree completion. Degree Advisors are available for assistance at all stages of the graduation process.

Notes:

- A student may not register for the semester following his/her intended graduation unless the intended degree date is canceled or changed, or the student has applied for and has been admitted to Sacramento State as a graduate student. Students may change their graduation date on their graduation application via their Student Center or by filing a Bachelor's Degree Date Change form with the Degree Evaluations Office in Lassen Hall.
- Participation in the commencement ceremony does not constitute graduation. Degrees are conferred only after all requirements have officially been cleared.

Graduating in Absentia
Students who have fulfilled the degree residence requirements may be permitted to complete final requirements at other regionally accredited colleges or universities by petitioning to graduate "in-absentia." Approval to graduate in absentia must be requested in advance. Major or minor course substitutions are to be approved by the appropriate academic departments, and general education courses must be approved through the Degree Evaluations Office. Approval for graduation in-absentia will hold catalog requirements and degree candidacy for one year.
GRADUATE DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

River Front Center 215
(916) 278-6470
www.csus.edu/gradstudies (http://www.csus.edu/gradstudies)

Institutional Graduate Learning Goals
The campus has articulated minimum learning requirements for recipients of graduate degrees. For each Institutional Graduate Learning Goal, students are expected to achieve a level of competency associated with an advanced degree, as appropriate to the discipline. In addition, each program may set Program Learning Goals and Outcomes that are mapped onto the curriculum and assessed.

Institutional Graduate Learning Goals for Masters Programs
1. Disciplinary knowledge: Master, integrate, and apply disciplinary knowledge and skills to current, practical, and important contexts and situations.
2. Communication: Communicate key knowledge with clarity and purpose both within the discipline and in broader contexts.
3. Critical thinking/analysis: Demonstrate the ability to be creative, analytical, and critical thinkers.
4. Information literacy: Demonstrate the ability to obtain, assess, and analyze information from a myriad of sources.
5. Professionalism: Demonstrate an understanding of professional integrity.
6. Intercultural/Global Perspectives: Demonstrate relevant knowledge and application of intercultural and/or global perspectives.

Institutional Graduate Learning Goals for Doctoral Programs
All of the above Institutional Graduate Learning Goals for Masters Programs, with the addition of:
7. Research: Conduct independent research resulting in an original contribution to knowledge in the focused areas of their graduate program.

General Program Requirements
Master's Degree Unit Requirements
Each master's degree program must include a minimum of 20 approved units in the major subject area. These shall normally include a minimum of 18 units in a 30-40 unit degree program and 36 units in a 60 unit degree program of regularly scheduled 200-level courses requiring student participation as the primary instructional method and seminar courses requiring formal presentations by students. Units earned for thesis or project may contribute toward establishing the major, but they are not permitted in the required units in 200 level seminar courses. No more than 6 units of 295, 299, or non-seminar courses may be counted towards the degree.

The total number of units required for master's degrees vary depending on the field and the degree sought. Master of Arts and Master of Science degrees require a minimum of 30 semester units of approved graduate credit. However, the minimum units for some master's programs may be higher, for example:
- Master of Science in Counseling requires minimum of 60 semester units
- Master of Business Administration degree requires from 31 to 52 semester units of approved graduate credit depending upon the student's background in business administration at the time of admission
- Master of Social Work degree requires minimum of 60 semester units

Doctoral Degree Unit Requirements
The Doctor of Education degree requires a minimum of 60 semester units of approved graduate coursework. This must include a minimum of 48 units of regularly scheduled doctoral courses organized primarily for doctoral students. Units earned for the qualifying examination, or dissertation should not exceed 12 units and may contribute toward the major, but they are not permitted in the required 48 unit minimum. An oral defense of the dissertation is required.

The Doctor of Physical Therapy degree requires at least 90 semester units earned in graduate standing. At least 72 semester units required for the degree shall be in courses organized primarily for doctoral students, and the remaining units required for the degree shall be in courses organized primarily for doctoral students or courses organized primarily for master’s and doctoral students. No more than eight semester units shall be allowed for the doctoral project and an oral defense of the doctoral project shall be required.

Graduate Transfer Credit
Graduate transfer credit (with a grade of “B” or better) toward a doctoral or master’s degree at Sacramento State may be considered only if the coursework has not been used previously to complete another degree and the coursework must be current (within the time limit to complete the master or doctoral degree). A maximum of 6 units may be transferred as determined by appropriate campus authorities.

Master’s Degree Academic Residence Requirements
A minimum of 21 approved semester units in 100-, 200-, and 500-series offerings in a 30-unit Master’s program must be earned in residence at Sacramento State. Three-hundred-level (methods) courses, student teaching, extension courses offered by Sacramento State, or work completed at other accredited institutions do not meet residence requirements.

Doctoral Degree Academic Residence Requirements
A minimum of 42 approved semester units in the 600 series in a 60 unit Education Doctoral program must be earned in residence at Sacramento State. For the Doctor of Physical Therapy program, No fewer than 60 semester units shall be completed in residence at Sacramento State. At the discretion of the appropriate campus authority, courses required for the DPT that are completed at another CSU campus may apply toward the residency requirement.

Graduate Writing Assessment Requirement (GWAR)
All students must demonstrate competency in writing skills as a requirement for graduation. Writing proficiency at the graduate level will be demonstrated by successful completion of the graduate program requirements. Students’ preparedness for graduate level writing may be demonstrated by meeting one of the standards specified on the Writing Placement for Graduates Waiver Form (www.csus.edu/gradstudies http://www.csus.edu/gradstudies). Students who do not meet one or more of these standards must either take the Writing Placement for Graduates (WPG) timed essay examination or take a Graduate Writing Intensive (GWI) course in their discipline within their first two semesters of coursework at California State University, Sacramento. Students whose performance on the WPG exam indicates that they do not need additional writing preparation may advance to candidacy when appropriate. Students whose WPG exam performance indicates they need additional preparation may elect to either take a GWI course within their discipline (if available) or enroll in ENGL 220W Writing in Your Discipline via the College of Continuing Education; students must earn a grade of "B" or above in either course in order to advance to candidacy. Failure to demonstrate proficiency in a timely fashion may result in a student's declassification from a degree program and require an application for readmission to the University.

Foreign Language
A reading knowledge of a foreign language may be required in some liberal arts areas. Students should consult their Graduate Coordinator to determine if foreign language requirements apply in the particular field in which they plan to take the doctoral or master's degree.

Advancement to Candidacy

Advancement to Master's Candidacy

Each student who plans to become a candidate for a master's degree is required to do the following:

1. be admitted to classified graduate standing in the graduate degree curriculum for which candidacy is sought;
2. complete at least 40 percent of the graduate degree coursework and meet any special departmental requirements in the field in which they propose to take the degree; and
3. file an application for advancement to candidacy for the master's degree.
   a. Must be submitted to the Office of Graduate Studies by October 1 for the spring semester and February 1 for the fall semester in order to register for Culminating Experience during priority registration.
   b. The Office of Graduate Studies will review the petition and process results within six to eight weeks.

Eligibility for advancement to candidacy is based upon the following:

1. Scholarship in undergraduate and graduate work taken prior to advancement as follows:
   a. A satisfactory undergraduate preparation for admission to classified graduate standing in the graduate degree program.
   b. A minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.0. No grade below a "B" may be counted toward the requirement unless expressly permitted by a campus-approved graduate programs' written policies.
   c. A total of 18 units of 200-level seminar courses must be listed.
   d. No more than a total of six units of 295, 296, or 299 may be counted toward the degree.
2. Evidence of a plan of graduate study acceptable to the institution and the faculty concerned.
3. Fulfilled Writing Placement for Graduates (WPG) requirement.

Advancement to Doctoral Candidacy

Initiation of advancement to candidacy procedures is the responsibility of the student. Each student who plans to become a candidate for the doctoral degree is required to do the following:

1. be admitted to classified standing in the doctoral degree program in which candidacy is sought;
2. have completed all coursework to qualify for the Qualifying Examination with a B or better in each course and a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.0 in all courses taken;
3. successfully passed the written and oral Qualifying Examination by Unanimous agreement of the qualifying examination committee;
4. file an application for advancement to candidacy for the doctoral degree at the Office of Graduate Studies.
   a. Must be submitted to the Office of Graduate Studies by February 1 for eligibility to enroll in dissertation units for the Summer term.
   b. The Office of Graduate Studies will process within four to six weeks.

Eligibility for advancement to doctoral candidacy is based upon the following:

1. Scholarship in doctoral work taken prior to advancement as follows:
   a. Satisfactory completion of any preparation coursework required for admission to classified graduate standing in the doctoral degree program.
   b. A minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.0. No grade of less than "B" can be counted toward the minimum number of units needed to advance to candidacy.
   c. A total of 48 units of 600-level seminar courses must be listed.
2. Evidence of a plan of graduate study acceptable to the institution and the faculty concerned.
3. Successfully fulfilled the Qualifying Examination requirement.
4. Fulfilled Writing Placement for Graduates (WPG) requirement.

Culminating Experience Requirement

Master's Culminating Requirement

A thesis is required under Plan A, a project is required under Plan B, and a comprehensive examination is required under Plan C. Students are eligible to enroll for full or partial credit for their theses or projects at any time after being advanced to candidacy, subject to approval by their faculty advisors. Credit is granted upon completion.

Each department offers one or more or a combination of the following plans:

Plan A: Thesis
A thesis is the written product of the systematic study of a significant problem. It clearly identifies the problem; states the major assumptions; explains the significance of the undertaking; sets forth the sources for, and methods of gathering information; analyzes the data; and offers a conclusion or recommendation. The finished product must evidence originality, critical and independent thinking, appropriate organization and format, clarity of purpose, and accurate and thorough documentation. Normally an oral defense of the thesis will be required.

Plan B: Project
A project is a significant undertaking of a pursuit appropriate to the fine and applied arts or to professional fields. It must evidence originality and independent thinking, appropriate form and organization, and a rationale.
It must be described and summarized in a written abstract that includes the project’s significance, objectives, methodology, and a conclusion or recommendation. An oral defense of the project may be required. Some samples of types of projects are outlined below:

1. A Creative Project in the Arts: an original contribution to the verbal, visual, or performing arts. Examples include a music recital; a musical composition; a completed novel or play; a completed collection of short stories or poems; direction of a theatrical production; a gallery showing of works of art.
2. A Curriculum Project: a project that contributes to a field of teaching by enhancing communication of a subject matter. Examples include a course of study; a teacher’s guide; an instructional manual; a design for a new teaching method; the development of new teaching materials.
3. A Research Project: a project which contributes to the physical sciences, natural sciences, social sciences, humanities, or the professions, by adding to technical/professional knowledge in the professional field. Examples include building a device; designing an experiment; a field study; a case study; a documentary report; a professional article of publishable quality.

The fulfillment of any of the above culminating requirements must conform to the appropriate requirements of the Sacramento State Thesis and Project Format Requirement Guides.

Plan C: Comprehensive Examination

A comprehensive examination should test the range of subject matter covered in the student’s graduate program. The department may opt for an examination that is written, oral, or a combination of written and oral. Ordinarily the examination will be given in the student’s last semester before the student plans to receive the degree, and in no instance can a student who has not been advanced to candidacy take the examination.

At least three examiners must certify to the success or failure of the student in the examination. A simple majority determines whether the student has passed or failed. The results of the examination must be submitted to the Office of Graduate Studies on the "Report of Comprehensive Examination" form. A student may repeat the examination once after a failure, provided that at least four calendar months have lapsed since the previous examination. A third trial is not allowed unless extreme extenuating circumstances are demonstrated by the department to the Dean of Graduate Studies.

Proposal Examination

The dissertation (Ed.D.) proposal will normally contain a description of the problem, a review of the relevant literature, a statement of the research question, and a description of the research methodology. The proposal must contain either (i) materials already submitted to the Institutional Review Board regarding the proposed dissertation research or (ii) materials completed for submission to the Institutional Review Board to meet human subjects’ requirement.

1. The dissertation proposal examination is normally conducted by a three faculty member committee. A written report will be provided by the committee members to communicate: (1) approval; (2) approval with modifications, or (3) lack of approval.
2. The results of the dissertation proposal examination will be communicated to the Office of Graduate Studies on the “Report of Dissertation Proposal Examination” form. The form shall be accompanied by a copy of the dissertation proposal.

The Doctoral Project Proposal (DPT) must demonstrate students’ understanding of the application of current evidence-based practice in a multicultural and complex health care environment. The proposal must be of sufficient rigor to ensure students’ demonstrations of critical and independent thinking and abilities to interpret the research literature and apply to current physical therapist practice. The proposal includes a written document with the following chapters; General Background, Case Background Data, Examination Tests and Measurements, Evaluation, Plan of Care-Goals and Interventions, Outcomes, and Discussion. An oral defense before a three member doctoral proposal committee is also required.

Dissertation (Ed.D)

A dissertation shall be the written product of systematic, rigorous research on a significant professional issue. The dissertation is expected to contribute to an improvement in professional practices or policy. It shall evidence originality, critical and independent thinking, appropriate form and organization, and a rationale.

The dissertation shall identify the research problem and questions(s), state the major theoretical perspectives, explain the significance of the undertaking, relate it to the relevant scholarly and professional literature, set forth the appropriate sources for and methods of gathering and analyzing data, and offer a substantiated conclusion or recommendation(s). It shall include a written abstract that summarizes the significance of the work, objectives, methodology, and a conclusion or recommendation(s). All members of the dissertation committee must approve the written work.

Project (DPT)

The Doctoral Project/Culminating Experience may include evidence-based practice projects, clinical research projects, or case reports consistent with the Chancellor’s Office Executive Order. Culminating events must demonstrate students’ understanding of the application of current evidence-based practice in a multicultural and complex health care environment. They must be of sufficient rigor to ensure students’ demonstrations of critical and independent thinking and abilities to interpret the research literature and apply to current physical therapist practice. The doctoral project includes a written document with the following chapters; General Background, Case Background Data, Examination Tests and Measurements, Evaluation, Plan of Care-Goals and Interventions, Outcomes, and Discussion

Oral Defense
An oral defense of the dissertation or project is required. The student must notify the Office of Graduate Studies of his/her intent to defend the dissertation/project 30 days prior to the defense. A notice of the date, time, and place of the defense must be posted in a public place for 14 calendar days prior to the dissertation oral defense. The notice should include the title of the dissertation/project and a brief 150 word abstract.

Graduate and Post-Baccalaureate Academic Action Categories

1 Graduate and Post-baccalaureate Academic Action Categories listed below do not apply to post-baccalaureate students pursuing a second bachelor's degree

Good Standing
Graduate, credential, certificate and unclassified students whose Sacramento State and cumulative grade point average (GPA) is 3.0 or above are considered in good academic standing.

Academic Probation
Students whose cumulative Sacramento State grade point average or overall grade point average falls below 3.0 will be placed on academic probation. Students on probation are eligible to enroll in the subsequent semester.

Continued Probation
Students on probation will be placed on Continued Probation if they:

• earn a 3.0 in the semester, but have a Sacramento State GPA and/or overall GPA below 3.0.

Students placed on Continued Probation will be limited to a maximum course load of 9 units per semester until they return to academic good standing.

Academic Disqualification
If a graduate, credential, certificate, or unclassified student is on academic probation and the Sacramento State or cumulative grade point average is below 3.0 for the active term, the student will be academically disqualified.

• Students not on probation will be disqualified if the Sacramento State or cumulative GPA is 2.0 or less.

Disqualified students will not be allowed to register unless they are formally reinstated and/or readmitted to the University.

Administrative Probation and Administrative Disqualification
Graduate, credential, certificate, and unclassified students are subject to Administrative Probation for the following reasons:

1. Withdrawal from all or a substantial portion of their courses in two successive terms or in any three terms.
2. Repeated failure to progress toward a degree or other program objective, when such failure is due to circumstances within the control of the student.
3. Failure to comply, after due notice, with an academic requirement or regulation.

Students who do not meet the conditions for removal of administrative probation may be subject to further administrative actions, including Administrative Disqualification.

Notification
The Office of the University Registrar will notify students of their academic status (academic probation, continued probation, or academic disqualification) by letter, My SacState message, and/or email at the end of each semester. Graduate, credential, certificate, and unclassified students on Probation or Continued Probation are required to meet with an advisor in their major department, the credential office or the Office of Graduate Studies. Academic departments and units may block registration of students who fail to meet advising appointments. Students receiving veterans' educational benefits may be ruled ineligible for continued benefits if, after one semester of unsatisfactory achievement (probation or disqualification), they do not return to academic Good Standing at the completion of the next semester.

Reinstatement of Disqualified Students
Students who have been academically disqualified may petition for reinstatement. The Petition for Reinstatement is obtained from the Office of Graduate Studies. If reinstated, students will be placed on an academic contract that may stipulate maximum units, specific courses and achievement levels. Failure to meet the conditions of the reinstatement contract and/or failure to achieve a subsequent semester GPA of 3.0 or higher will result in academic disqualification.

Deadlines to petition for immediate reinstatement are as follows:

• Third week of January for Spring Semester
• End of June for Fall Semester

NOTE: Please check the Office of Graduate Studies Web site www.csus.edu/gradstudies (http://www.csus.edu/gradstudies) for specific dates and forms.

Students whose petitions are approved are subject to review each semester until the Sacramento State GPA and overall cumulative GPA reach the minimum standard of 3.0. Students may not earn the degree, credential, or certificate unless they are in good academic standing and their Sacramento State GPA and overall cumulative GPA reach the minimum standard of 3.0.

Continuous Enrollment
Classified graduate, post-baccalaureate, credential, or certificate students normally retain rights to the catalog and/or degree program requirement under which they were classified, providing they remain continuously enrolled. Students who do not stay continuously enrolled lose classified graduate standing or post-baccalaureate standing and will be required to apply for readmission. Such students may be required to fulfill additional program and/or university degree requirements that are current at the time of readmission.

Continuous Enrollment (599) During the Culminating Experience through the College of Continuing Education (CCE)

Graduate students who have been advanced to candidacy and who have completed all coursework can maintain the required active degree program status without additional University registration by enrolling in "599 Continuous Enrollment" through CCE. There are no units associated with this enrollment, but a CCE fee equal to one unit is required. Such enrollment is valid as long as the student is within the time period allowed for the completion of the culminating experience requirement.

Continuous Enrollment (599) for the Master’s Degree

If not otherwise actively registered at the University, students completing a thesis, project, or comprehensive exam who did not complete the culminating work in the semester of original enrollment must enroll in "599 Continuous Enrollment" and pay the associated 599 enrollment fee. Students may be allowed up to a maximum of three semesters of 599 enrollment beyond the semester of original enrollment to complete the culminating requirement according to the requirements of the graduate program.

Students who do not finish the master’s thesis/project/comprehensive exam within the semester of original enrollment will receive a grade of “RP” provided that satisfactory progress has been made toward completion of the culminating experience. The “RP” grade will remain as long as progress is made toward completion and “599 Continuous Enrollment” is maintained in the subsequent semester(s) as allowable by the graduate program.

If the student does not complete the culminating experience within the total allowable semesters, a No Credit (“NC”) grade will be assigned for the original units. The "NC" remains as part of the academic record. If the seven-year deadline for the Master’s degree program has not expired, the student must re-enroll in the culminating experience units within the next semester and pay University fees before continuing the program. Failure to maintain continuous enrollment will result in the need to file an admission application and all related fees during the next available open admission cycle.

Continuous Enrollment (599) for Ed.S. and Doctoral Degrees

If not otherwise actively registered, students completing an Education Specialist in School Psychology (Ed.S.), Education Doctorate (Ed.D.), or Doctor of Physical Therapy (DPT) who do not complete the culminating work in the semester of original enrollment in their culminating requirement must enroll in "599 Continuous Enrollment" and pay the associated 599 enrollment fee. Students are allowed up to a maximum of two semesters of 599 enrollment beyond the semester of first registration to complete the culminating work.

Students who do not finish the Ed.S., Ed.D. or DPT culminating work within the semester of original enrollment will receive a grade of “RP” provided satisfactory progress has been made toward completion of the culminating experience. The “RP” grade will remain as long as progress is made toward completion and “599 Continuous Enrollment” is maintained in the subsequent semester(s).

If the student does not complete the culminating experience within the total allowable semesters (a maximum of two semesters), a No Credit (“NC”) grade will be assigned for the original units. The "NC" remains as part of the academic record. If the five-year deadline for the Ed.S. or Doctoral degree program has not expired, the student must re-enroll in the culminating experience units within the next semester and pay University fees before continuing the program. Failure to maintain continuous enrollment will result in the need to file an admission application and all related fees during the next available open admission cycle.

Time Limit

All requirements for the master’s degree must be completed within seven years immediately prior to graduation.

All requirements for the doctoral degree must be completed within five years immediately prior to graduation.
ACADEMIC SUPPORT SERVICES

Advising

General Education Advising
Lassen Hall 1013
(916) 278-1000
www.csus.edu/acad

Effective intentional academic advising is essential to accomplishing the University's instructional mission. Through collaboration and academic guidance, the Academic Advising Center fosters a developmental process of assisting undergraduate students in clarifying and achieving their personal, professional, and educational goals. Students are encouraged, and in some circumstances, required to meet with a professional or faculty advisor at least once a semester.

Advisors help students:

- Understand the value of the University's General Education program, and the relationship of this program to individual interests and career objectives;
- Interpret and apply University policies;
- Ensure they are taking the courses for timely progress to degree; and
- Explore educational and career objectives compatible with their interests and abilities.

The ultimate responsibility for academic success rests with the student, who is expected to:

- Be aware of and comply with the University's academic policies, procedures, and deadlines;
- Be familiar with the My Sac State Student Center including the KEYS to Degree toolbox;
- Meet regularly, at least once each semester, with an advisor in the major and an advisor in the Academic Advising Center; and
- Declare/Change their major when appropriate. The form is available online at http://www.csus.edu/registrar/forms/.

Because of the relationship between proactive advising and academic success, first year and transfer students are required to attend New Student Orientation. In addition, first year students are required to complete advising during their first two semesters at Sacramento State. It is recommended that students also meet with advisors in their major. All students on academic probation are required to meet with an advisor in their department and all second year students on probation are required to meet with the Academic Advising Center. Undeclared and Expressed interest majors must officially declare a major before earning 60 units.

A complete list of the Academic Advising Center's programs and services can be found at www.csus.edu/acad

Faculty Advisor

Advisors in the academic departments help students select appropriate major courses each semester and are also helpful in exploring career options specific to their major or concentration.

New Student Orientation

www.csus.edu/orientation

Orientation is required for all new first year and transfer students. The program is designed to help students make a successful transition from their previous college or high school to Sac State. During Orientation, student orientation leaders meet with small groups of new students to discuss academic requirements, advising tools and offer helpful tips regarding campus resources and student life. In addition, new students meet with their major department advisors and register for courses. New fall students attend Orientation during the summer, while new spring students attend Orientation in January. Program details (including the Parent/Guest program) are located on the New Student Orientation website.

Specific Advisors

Student-Athlete Resource Center

Lassen Hall 3002
www.csus.edu/sarc
(916) 278-5431; (916) 278-7796

The Student-Athlete Resource Center (SARC) is designed to enhance the academic and overall life development experience for NCAA Division I student athletes at Sacramento State. The SARC assists student-athletes in pursuing and successfully completing a college degree while also preparing them for challenges and experiences after college. The Center provides Sacramento State student-athletes with a very comprehensive academic support system.

The SARC provides student-athletes with a variety of academic support and services from the outset of their academic careers at Sacramento State. It provides the student-athletes with opportunities to develop and improve their academic skills, as well as to receive exceptional advising on University policies and procedures, coursework, and career choices. In addition, the Center’s staff monitors the progress of each student-athlete towards completion of their degree in compliance with the academic bylaws mandated by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA). The SARC provides student-athletes with additional academic support in the forms of computer labs, individual tutoring, and specialized retention advising for student-athletes with additional academic needs. The Center also coordinates all of the activities associated with the NCAA/CHAMPS Life Skills Program. This nationwide program focuses on helping student athletes achieve in all areas of personal, academic, community, career, and athletic development.

The SARC Office and academic computer lab is open Monday through Friday from 7:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.

Undergraduate Business Advising Center

Tahoe Hall 1030
(916) 278-BIZZ (2499)
www.csus.edu/cba/ubac

The Undergraduate Business Advising Center (UBAC) is part of the Office of Student Engagement in the College of Business Administration. UBAC assists undergraduate business administration majors, expressed interest in business, and minors with program advising, graduation evaluations, and petitions relating to the major and/or minor.

Teaching Credentials Advising

Eureka Hall 437
(916) 278-6403
www.csus.edu/coe/offices-services/aero/advising (http://www.csus.edu/coe/offices-services/aero/advising.html)

The Advising, Recruitment, Retention, and Outreach (AERO) Services assists students who are interested in pursuing a career as an elementary, middle/junior high, high school, or special education teacher. The AERO advisors work with students on issues related to state and university requirements for credential programs, support for taking required exams, and information about scholarships and other sources of financial support available to teacher candidates. Students considering teaching as a career should visit this office during their first semester.

Student Service Center
Lassen Hall 1000
(916) 278-1000
www.csus.edu/ssc (http://www.csus.edu/ssc)

The Student Service Center (SSC) at Sacramento State is a student's one stop toward success. The Center provides multi-faceted assistance to students, alumni, faculty and staff. SSC staff are able to provide assistance in a variety of areas including financial aid, scholarships, tuition payment options, major and graduation requirements, and registering for courses. The Center also helps students access a myriad of other campus resources.

Our mission is to provide a welcoming and accessible environment that is dedicated to educating, supporting and developing student success by providing accurate, efficient and holistic information to the Sacramento State campus community.

The Student Service Center is open Monday – Friday from 8:00 AM – 5:00 PM.

Admission and Academic Support Programs
First Year Experience Programs
ARC 4002
(916) 278-2804
www.csus.edu/fye (http://www.csus.edu/fye)

The First Year Experience Program
The mission of the First Year Experience Program (FYE) at Sacramento State is to improve the retention and graduation rates of native students, a goal that is directly aligned with the CSU system wide Graduation Initiative. FYE consists of:

1. the First Year Seminar course and University Learning Community course "clusters"
2. co-curricular activities embedded in the courses, that are designed to increase student engagement with the campus, community, faculty, and peers
3. Peer Mentors who attend courses with first year students, and provide personal, academic, and advising support
4. The FYE Space - #LIB3520 provides a space for first year college students to study, work in groups, meet their peer mentor, and find support. Students get support from peer mentors called the Go To Crew in the FYE Space

Enrollment in the University Learning Community Program (LOCM) and/or First Year Seminar Courses (FYS) occurs during New Student Orientation (http://www.csus.edu/orientation/First%20Year%20Orientation) and during spring registration.

First Year Seminars
First Year Seminars provide students with an introduction to the nature and meaning of higher education and to the functions and resources of the University. Students in the class gain insights and develop tools that allow them to get the most out of their university education at Sacramento State. The seminars also provide students with the opportunity to interact with fellow students and the seminar leader, building a community of academic and personal support. Students who have taken the course do better academically than the general student population.

This introductory course satisfies the Area E General Education requirement. The course is listed under individual department names with the added designation of 21. For example, COMS 21 (Communication Studies) is a First Year Seminar, with specific information relevant to each major covered in more detail. Some of the First Year Seminars are stand-alone courses while others are part of a learning community.

The First Year Seminar is a 3 unit General Education (GE) Area E course where students explore the requirements and responsibilities of becoming a university educated person. Most FYS were paired with another course in the Learning Community, while the rest of FYS were “stand alone” (i.e. not paired with another course in a learning community).

Each First Year Seminar course shares the following characteristics:

• Small class sizes (capped at 30; lower cap for certain sections) to meet the needs of incoming first year students
• Use of the campus One Book for a common intellectual experience, common course description and learning goals, common class activities, assignments, and assessments aligned with Baccalaureate Learning Goals and GE Area E requirement
• Support for faculty to implement effective curricular activities (assignment descriptions, guest speaker lists, assessments, rubrics, all available online on SacCT/Blackboard)
• Opportunities for faculty professional development around teaching, learning and FYE programmatic research through an annual Convocation, annual curriculum workshop, and periodic faculty interest groups
• Support for embedding co-curricular activities (funding, coordination), including High Impact Practices
• Taught by both faculty and student affairs professionals, indicating the collaborative cross-divisional nature of the program
• Students learn how to access academic & personal support resources

The FYE Library Space
A designated academic location in Library 3520 (3rd floor) that is available primarily for first time college students called “The FYE Space.” Events are often held in the Space to introduce information to students, as well as celebrate achievements (“May One is Done”). Students visit the Space to study, connect with faculty, meet with the FYE librarian, check-in with a Go To Crew peer mentor, or get support between classes. Workshops on writing, leadership, and major advising are offered throughout the semester. It was established to develop a space where First Year students could always connect with a community on campus.
Learning Communities

The Learning Communities program establishes connections between courses in different subject areas with General Education curricula. Each Learning Community consists of two to three classes, with faculty who try to link course topics, coordinating readings and assignments. Students who join a Learning Community are linked to other students enrolled in the same classes, helping students form connections with professors and other students that strengthen their networks of social and academic support. Learning Communities may also have a peer mentor to help students navigate the transition from high school to college.

Students admitted to Sacramento State do not need to meet any other admission criteria to join a Learning Community. New communities are formed each fall, and information about the semester’s Learning Community offerings is shared at summer First Year Student Orientation. More information is available on the First Year Experience website at http://www.csus.edu/fye

Honors Program

(916) 278-2804

The General Education Honors Program at California State University, Sacramento offers qualified and highly motivated students an opportunity to have a challenging, innovative, and stimulating learning experience. Through small class sizes (around 25 students), students experience intimate classroom settings which promote discussion, integrative learning and a global perspective. The Program is open to incoming freshmen. We do not accept transfer students.

The Honors Program academic experience is composed of 45 units of Honors courses (36 lower division and 9 upper division). Honors students take at least 12 units per semester. During their freshman and sophomore years, Honors students will take three Honors courses per semester and the remaining course(s) can be filled with other courses required in their major or pre-major. Three upper division courses taken during their junior and senior year conclude the Honors experience. Completion of all Honors courses will fulfill Sacramento State General Education requirements for graduation with the exception of the lab science and freshman composition.

The core of the lower division curriculum is a three-semester Honors seminar in which students read some of the great books of world civilizations, analyze the writings of world thinkers and writers, and improve their skills in critical thinking and writing. The three upper division Honors courses are organized around the theme of learning and acting for the public good.

Honors students at Sacramento State experience individualized attention from dedicated professors, special seminars in their academic programs, extracurricular activities in the form of cultural events, various Honors Colloquia and interaction with faculty members and their fellow Honors students in and out of class. Students are strongly encouraged to study abroad through either short term programs developed specifically for the Honors Program, or semester or year long programs created for Sacramento State, and the CSU. They are also encouraged to complete an internship and an undergraduate research experience. A variety of Scholarships are available to support study abroad and other academic pursuits.

For further information and application instructions, visit the Honors Web site at www.csus.edu/honorsprogram (http://www.csus.edu/honorsprogram).

Graduate Preparation Academy (GPA)

River Front Center 203
(916) 278-3834
E-mail: graddiversity@csus.edu
http://www.csus.edu/graddiv/

The Graduate Preparation Academy (GPA) is designed to prepare undergraduate students for admission and study at the graduate level. The GPA provides undergraduate students interested in pursuing a graduate degree with intensive graduate school preparation. Students selected to participate in the graduate school preparation academy will be provided with information and resources about participating in academic research, engaging with faculty mentors, preparing academically for graduate school, assistance with scholarship and fellowship opportunities, and graduate education entrance examinations through interactive speakers, panels, and workshops.

We offer a rigorous academic program that prepares students for the opportunities and challenges that face them in post-baccalaureate education. Participants are connected with a faculty member who will offer mentoring throughout the graduate school application process, feedback on essays, and other application materials. Participants are encouraged to participate in regional and national academic conferences to present their academic research.

McNair Scholars Program

River Front Center 203
(916) 278-5118
E-mail: McNair@csus.edu (mcnair@csus.edu)
www.csus.edu/mcnair (http://www.csus.edu/mcnair)

The Ronald E. McNair Postbaccalaureate Achievement Program is a federally funded program designed to prepare selected Sacramento State undergraduate students for admission and study at the doctoral level. Each year, 24 McNair Scholars participate in both academic year and summer activities.

Students who have obtained 45 units or more, have a GPA of 2.8 or higher and are low income and first in their family to attend college, or students who are considered underrepresented in their major (as defined by federal regulations) can gain research skills, knowledge, and information needed to complete doctoral degrees in their fields of study.

The academic components include: a three-unit research methodology course, meetings with the McNair Program staff and the faculty mentors to assess personal needs and review academic progress, and preparation for a summer research project. For students who have completed 60 units or more, the summer component includes enrolling in a one unit supervised research course and travel to select McNair Symposiums where students have the opportunity to present their research findings. Scholars receive additional guidance from the McNair Faculty Coordinator and a faculty mentor in completing a published research article. Senior McNair scholars complete a 3-unit senior seminar which provides assistance with selecting, applying, and financing graduate studies.

Stipends for travel to doctoral institutions and research conferences to present research papers are granted to students who complete their research projects. McNair scholars also receive a stipend as part of their participation in the summer research experience. Scholars are encouraged to participate in statewide and national conferences to present their research findings.

Business Based Educational Equity Program (BEEP)

Tahoe Hall 1006
(916) 278-5875
http://csus.edu/cba/biz/index.html

The Business Educational Equity Program (BEEP) encourages and supports all students who major in business. BEEP, also known as the Business Tutoring & Study Center, provides peer-assisted tutoring and a place to study where one-on-one and group assistance is available for business students seeking academic support in numerous lower and upper division business courses. Tutoring is provided on a drop-in basis for business students, and at no charge. All business students interested in the program should contact the College of Business Administration, Office of Student Engagement at (916) 278-5875 or visit the office in Tahoe Hall 1030.

Cooper-Woodson College

Enhancement Program (CWC)
Amador Hall 460
Director: Dr. Boatamo Mosupyoe
(916) 278-5363
www.csus.edu/cooper (http://www.csus.edu/cooper)

Cooper-Woodson College Enhancement Program (CWC) emphasizes scholarship, leadership, and service by creating a supportive and nurturing learning environment that is responsive to the needs of students. Although the program is patterned after traditional relationships between students and faculty at historically Black colleges and universities, it serves students from all backgrounds. Faculty, staff, and community members assume the responsibility for shaping and guiding students through the college experience. Key objectives of CWC are the retention of students and the development of leaders.

CWC scholars, staff, faculty, and members of the community organize and participate in the following activities/events: Faculty/Staff Mentoring Program, African-American History Month rally and lectures, the annual Anna J. Cooper and Carter G. Wood lectures, and the annual African-American graduation celebration ceremony.

MESA Engineering Program (MEP)

Santa Clara Hall 1213
(916) 278-6699

Participation in the MESA Engineering (MEP) increases the probability that students will be successful in their engineering college studies. Focusing on the recruitment, retention, and graduation of highly motivated students from educationally disadvantaged backgrounds, MEP emphasizes participation by students from communities with low rates of enrollment in engineering majors.

The MEP program provides an on-campus home for its members with a large 24 hours-a-day study center that encourages study groups. MEP provides professional development, a freshman orientation course, and personal-academic advising. It assists in the coordination of tutoring services for all students in the College of Engineering.

Science Educational Equity (SEE)

Sequoia Hall 315
(916) 278-6519

The Science Educational Equity (SEE) program is a comprehensive academic support program designed for students who face social, economic, or educational barriers that limit access to careers in the sciences and health professions. Students are encouraged to form study groups for both lower and upper division coursework. Science faculty provide academic and pre-professional advising for each student and are available for career guidance and assistance with course material. Students attend professional conferences, participate in academic workshops and seminars, and are encouraged to attend summer enrichment programs at other universities and laboratories. The program provides assistance with applications to graduate programs, health professional schools, and summer enrichment programs. SEE also provides students the opportunity to meet and interact with faculty, community members, and other students.

All students interested in becoming a part of the SEE program are expected to demonstrate a commitment to the community through service to SEE, the University, and/or the Sacramento community. Upon entry to the program, each student is required to meet with an academic/major advisor to develop a comprehensive academic plan; it is the student’s responsibility to schedule an advising appointment each semester thereafter to update the academic plan.

Center for College and Career Readiness (CCR)

Joy Salvetti, Director
Library 4023
(916) 278-2603
http://www.csus.edu/ccr

The Center for College & Career Readiness (CCR), a division of Academic Affairs, is the principle campus resource for everything “College and Career Ready.” Our success comes from building and developing intersegmental educational partnerships throughout the greater Sacramento Region. Using a collective impact infrastructure, CCR focuses on establishing a continuous pipeline from preschool to bachelor’s degree; ensures that high school graduates enter Sacramento State better academically prepared to succeed at the university level; and, provides readily available resources and timely interventions for current and future students.

Programs within the Center for College and Career Readiness include:

- The Early Assessment Program (EAP) serves as an ‘early readiness signal’ allowing for the placement of students in corresponding K-12 courses to fortify the academic and metacognitive skills needed for transition success. The EAP is responsible for the development of intersegmental curriculum in mathematics and English, as well as teacher professional development.
- The EAP Senior Year Mathematics (ESM) Course is the result of a regional partnership involving teams of mathematics faculty from higher education, high school teachers, and county offices of education. This course is designed to strengthen students’ mathematical foundation, and deepen their conceptual understanding of mathematical theory, skills and strategies.
- The Expository Reading and Writing Course (ERWC) prepares college-bound seniors for the literacy demands of higher education. Students in this yearlong, rhetoric-based course develop advanced proficiencies in expository, analytical, and argumentative reading and writing. Students will be expected to increase their awareness of the rhetorical strategies employed by authors, and to apply those strategies in their own writing.

The CCR works closely with local middle schools, high schools, and community colleges to create opportunities for students to gain the life and academic skills necessary for college success and future career aspirations. We strive to engage with each of the 215 high schools in our service area. Our programs include:

- Middle School Outreach: provides sixth, seventh, and eighth grade students the opportunity for early self-identification as a college student or career professional.
- CCR Summer Boot Camp: provides incoming high school juniors the opportunity to explore college and career readiness skill sets from both a metacognitive and academic perspective.
- CCR High School Outreach: provides onsite workshops, presentations, and campus visits for high school students, informing them of the importance of using their junior and senior years proactively, tips for choosing a college and a major, and how to avoid remediation.
- Transition to Success Program (TSP): assists incoming freshman in making a smooth transition to Sacramento State by providing customized mentoring, social emotional support, and a ‘home base’ until graduation.
- TSP Peer Coaches: provide current TSP students with the opportunity to serve as peer coaches to high school sophomores; coaches receive a stipend and professional development.

Centers for Student Support

Student Academic Success and Educational Equity Programs (SASEEP)

The Student Academic Success and Educational Equity Programs are committed to fostering diversity and equity while promoting a campus learning environment that encourages and supports all students in persisting toward their educational goal by increasing their retention and graduation rates. This is accomplished through the unified effort of the following programs: College Assistance Migrant Program (CAMP), College Based Educational Equity Programs (CBEEP), the Dedicated to Educating, Graduating, and Retaining Educational Equity Students (DEGREES) Project, the Dreamer Resource Center, Educational Opportunity Program (EOP), the Executive Trainers Program (ETP), Faculty Student Mentor Program (FSMP), the Guardian Scholars Program (GSP), the Martin Luther King, Jr. Scholars Program (MLK), the Male Empowerment Collaborative (MEC), the Parents and Families Program (P&F), the Paving Excellence, Retention, and Success in Student Trajectories (PERSIST) Program, the Peer and Academic Resource Center (PARC), and the Serna Center. These programs and services are designed to build upon the dreams and aspirations of our campus community – our students, faculty, and staff, our alumni, and the people of our region.

The Student Academic Success and Educational Equity Programs are guided by the following primary goals:

1. Access and Equity
   To provide underrepresented students with access to a higher education and supportive services that are designed to enable them to persist through the college experience.

2. Recruitment and Transition
   To aid students in their transition to college life through pre-college equity services and assistance in navigating the higher education experience.

3. Retention and Graduation
   To provide a comprehensive range of retention and progress to degree services (e.g., academic advising, tutoring, mentoring, counseling, etc.) to underrepresented students in the Unit to facilitate their graduation.

The Parents & Families Program

Lassen 2205
Haley.Myers@csus.edu; parentsfamilies@csus.edu
916-278-4353
Family Helpline: 916-278-3399

The Parents & Families Program supports the ongoing needs of students and their parents and family members, as well as students-with-children to help students stay in school and graduate. Although the needs of these two populations are quite different, we serve them in similar ways: we promote information to empower, host events to create community and interactive roles within the campus community and beyond, and provide customer service to navigate the University and work on complex problems. These strategies support student success and generate support and goodwill for the campus community and beyond.

Highlights of the program include the Parent Ambassadors, a group of highly involved and trained parent volunteers; expanded support services for students-with-children including advising specifically for student-parents, extended hours study care via partnership with the ASI Children's Center, and a grant to get 10 diaper changing stations installed across campus. See www.csus.edu/parents for more information.

College Assistance Migrant Program (CAMP)

(916) 278-7241
www.csus.edu/camp

CAMP is a unique educational program that helps students from migrant and seasonal farm worker backgrounds succeed at Sacramento State. CAMP facilitates transition from high school to college and offers first-year support services to develop the skills necessary to persist and graduate from college. CAMP strives to be "a home away from home" for its students.

CAMP offers:

* Special admission and pre-admission services;
* Assistance with financial aid, housing, and University services;
* Academic advising;
* Career exploration & referrals to career-related job and internship opportunities;
* Personal counseling;
* Tutoring in a variety of subject area courses;
* A home-like environment

In order to be eligible for CAMP, students must reflect an agricultural background, meaning them or their parent(s) or guardian(s) must have engaged in migrant or seasonal farm work labor within the last 24 months. A student must enroll full time and be in need of academic support services and financial assistance.
The Dedicated to Educating, Graduating, and Retaining Educational Equity Students (DEGREES) Project seeks to provide enhanced services to undergraduate students to make timely progress to their degrees and to reduce the achievement gap. Services provided by the DEGREES Project include: access to DEGREES Project Coaches to ensure students are connected to resources, on campus mentorship made available through the “U” Mentor Program, faculty advising in the Colleges, 24/7 tutoring available through Smarthinking, and an overall comprehensive and integrated menu of academic and student support services designed to foster student success. Targeted interventions reach particular populations to assist high-unit seniors to graduate, boost second-year persistence, promote the writing proficiency exam for juniors, assist with helping students to identify a major, and increase the utilization of high impact practices on campus.

Martin Luther King Jr. Scholars Center

Lassen Hall 2201
(916) 278-2MLK (2655)
http://csus.edu/saseep/mlk/

The Sacramento State Martin Luther King Jr. Scholars Program, which opened in November 2015, is a university-wide effort to promote the cultural and historical legacies of Black and African-American Students. The program is set by the backdrop of a mission to support and ensure the success of Black and African American students and those with an interest in African American heritage in their quest toward a degree at Sacramento State. The vision of the MLK Jr. Center is to foster an ethos of success that permeates the scholarly experience, the community and the world by setting a tone of change and lifelong improvement that inspires and fulfills the dream of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Serna Center

River Front Center 1023
(916) 278-7241
http://www.csus.edu/sernacenter

The mission of the Serna Center is to promote, foster, and enhance self-advocacy, empowerment and leadership among Chicans/Latinxs students and students from other under-represented backgrounds at Sacramento State. Additionally, integrated into all programming are efforts that raise awareness of the social, political, economic, historical and cultural realities of Chicanxs/Latinxs populations. The center establishes a strong foundation that enriches cultural identity and develops a sense of familia within the campus.

Dreamer Resource Center (DRC)

http://www.csus.edu/sernacenter

The mission of the Dreamer Resource Center is to make the dream of a college degree a reality for undocumented students and students with mixed-status family members at Sacramento State. The goals of the DRC are to: (1) provide access to higher education opportunities to undocumented high school, transfer, and graduate students, and those with mixed-status families; (2) provide support to help alleviate the uncertainty that comes from a lack of immigration status for undocumented students and students with mixed-status families; (3) create a campus culture of knowledge and sensitivity to the issues faced by undocumented students and students with mixed-status families; (4) and increase the retention and graduation of undocumented students and students with mixed-status families.

The High School Equivalency Program (HEP)

River Front Center 1022
(916) 278-7241
Director: Andres Enriquez

The High School Equivalency Program (HEP) is a federally funded program that helps migrant and seasonal farmworkers who are 17 years of age or older and not currently enrolled in school to obtain the equivalent to a high school diploma (HSE) and gain employment, go to an institution of higher education, the military, other postsecondary education or vocational training. HEP provides:

- Courses in reading, writing, math, science, and social studies
- Instructors and tutors to help participants make progress in the classroom and prepare them to pass the HSE exam
- Career professionals to assist participants in finding opportunities, post-HSE, to improve their quality of life
- Courses offered in Spanish

Migrant Student Leadership Institute (MSLI)

River Front Center 1027
(916) 278-7241
Director: Dr. Viridiana Diaz

The Migrant Student Leadership Institute (MSLI) is a residential two-week program for migrant high school students from various regions throughout the state of California. The MSLI is designed to provide students with the information and tools necessary to become college-ready and competitive candidates for admission to a four-year institution. The institute is geared towards leadership development, self-empowerment while emphasizing the importance of civic engagement and careers in Science, Technology, Engineering, the Arts and Mathematics (STEAM).

Male Empowerment Collaborative (MEC)

Lassen Hall 2205
(916) 278-6183
Coordinator: Jerry Blake
http://www.csus.edu/saseep/mec

"The Male Empowerment Collaborative’ (MEC) is committed to addressing the gap between the academic successes of males compared to females. It is committed to the intellectual, spiritual, and economic development of young men in higher education. Like many other universities across the country, retention and graduation rates of males are significantly lower than females. Sacramento State through the MEC has worked for several years to increase the successful passage of males in higher education.

Using a program of support services including events, workshops, and personal advising, the Male Empowerment Collaborative at Sacramento State provides:

- Academic Advocacy
- Educational Empowerment
- Leadership Cultivation
• Academic Advising
• One-on-One and Group Mentorship
• Generalized support in a variety of contexts

Educational Opportunity Program (EOP)
Lassen Hall 2205
(916) 278-6183
www.csus.edu/eop

The Educational Opportunity Program (EOP), is one of the primary vehicles implemented by the CSU system to increase the access, academic success and retention of educationally and economically disadvantaged students. EOP strives to provide the necessary economic and educational resources to help students realize their academic potential. Students must apply to the program on-line via Cal State Apply.

The EOP program, enacted by law in 1969, is a state-mandated program that serves first-time freshmen and Transfer students. EOP students are California residents from low-income, educationally disadvantaged communities who may have not had the opportunity to prepare adequately for admissions to a four-year college. AB-540 students are eligible for EOP services. An EOP student is one who has exhibited the potential to perform satisfactorily at Sacramento State, but may not have been able to realize his/her potential because of economic or educational disadvantage.

Freshmen - First Year Experience - The first year of university life is critical to student learning and success. The EOP First Year Experience (FYE) is designed to provide all EOP freshmen with the skills and support networks necessary to ensure academic success. A team comprised of faculty, student development professionals, students, and other campus representatives is involved in all facets of the program. The program is comprised of a six-week (July - August) Summer Bridge Academy, which is mandatory for all EOP freshmen, extensive academic advising, personal counseling, course grouping through our Learning Communities, educational workshops, social/cultural programing, and tutoring. In addition, students who qualify for financial aid may be eligible to receive the EOP grant up to a fifth year. The grant is determined by the Financial Aid office and awarded based on student need and funding. Students must file the FAFSA to be eligible.

General and continuing services to all freshmen and transfer applicants include:

• Assistance with the application process
• Outreach presentations to schools, communities and individuals
• Strategic advising at all class levels; freshmen through senior
• Career and personal counseling services
• Financial aid advising
• Academic success workshops
• Learning and study strategies workshops
• Learning Community; by major and class level
• Student retention ambassadors
• Provide recommendations/referrals to other programs and services.

Guardian Scholars Program (GSP)
Lassen Hall 2302
(916) 278-6680
www.csus.edu/gs

The Guardian Scholars Program is a student support service for current and former foster youth. The program office was established in 2006 to assist students in their pursuit of academic and career success. Program components consist of one-on-one advising, counseling, financial assistance, workshops, social events, professional mentoring, priority registration, and direct referrals to other programs on-campus.

GSP is open to all Sacramento State students who have been in foster care, kinship care, or homeless situations and are considered “independent” by federal financial aid guidelines. We review applications throughout the year, so there is no deadline to apply. Our staff is committed to helping Guardian Scholars succeed and overcome obstacles to graduating.

All eligible students are encouraged to learn more about and apply to the Guardian Scholars Program by contacting our staff or visiting the Guardian Scholars website at www.csus.edu/gs.

Summer Bridge Academy (pre-college program)
Lassen Hall 2205
(916) 278-6183
csus.edu/eop/

The Summer Bridge Academy is an educational equity project administered through the Educational Opportunity Program. Summer Bridge is a mandatory six-week intensive academic preparation and college orientation program designed strictly for incoming EOP freshmen. There is no cost to students. EOP serves economically disadvantaged, first-generation college students.

College level GE classes are offered in the six-week Academy. Students may complete up to three college courses, including an in-depth College Success/Leadership course.

Successful completion of the courses earns students 3-8 units of credit. To be considered for the Summer Bridge Academy, students must be admitted to Sacramento State and to EOP. Prospective students are strongly encouraged to apply to the EOP program, via Cal State Apply, during the CSU Application cycle (Oct. 1st – Nov. 30th). Students must meet all applicable deadlines, as established by the Admissions & Outreach Office to successfully gain admission to EOP and the Summer Bridge Academy. Summer Bridge meets Early Start requirements.

Note: EOP also provides Summer Bridge programming for upper-class level students including sophomores through seniors.

To learn more about the Summer Bridge Academy, visit or call the EOP office, or visit the Academy website at csus.edu/eop.

Faculty/Student Mentor Program (FSMP)
Lassen Hall 2205
(916) 278-6183
www.csus.edu/fsmp

The Faculty Student Mentor Program (FSMP) is an educational equity program designed to offer academic and personal support to students from traditionally low-income communities and selected students who have requested services due to challenges experienced in their education. The Faculty Student Mentor Program’s goals are to increase the retention rates of students by helping them develop the knowledge, skills, and attitudes necessary to complete their academic goals, introduce the students to a discipline, build communities, and promote excellence.

Faculty and Peer Mentors are key elements to goal attainment. Program participants’ integration into campus life is facilitated by the development of discipline-based faculty and peer mentor teams. The FSMP matches the faculty peer mentor teams with program participants. These teams may organize study sessions, workshops and tutorials in the seven colleges. In addition, the mentors give personal, career and academic advice, and provide referrals to advisors within the departments and other on-campus resources. The teams also plan activities supportive of the students’ interests and needs.

For more information, please call or visit our office.

Peer and Academic Resource Center (PARC)

Lassen Hall 2200
(916) 278-6010
www.csus.edu/parc (http://www.csus.edu/parc)

The Peer and Academic Resource Center (PARC) is a centralized academic support hub where students are united for common goals of excellence and student success through peer-led and student-driven services. The mission of PARC is to promote the scholastic achievements of students through enriched and supportive peer-learning opportunities that aid students along the pathway to degree attainment. We offer four programs: Supplemental Instruction (SI), Supplemental Instruction PLUS (SI Plus), the Peer-Led Advising for College Experience (PLACE) Program, and the Workshops & Individual Tutorials (WIT) Program.

* Supplemental Instruction (SI) is an academic support program for students who are enrolled in historically-challenging general education (GE) courses. SI provides students credit (1 unit) to learn how to implement transferable academic learning strategies to increase grades in difficult university courses.

* Supplemental Instruction (SI) PLUS provides free academic review and test preparation sessions for all students. These sessions are connected to the SI classes offered by PARC; however, they are open to all students, not just those enrolled in the SI program.

* Led by students who are familiar with campus life and resources, Peer-Led Advising for College Experience (PLACE) provides peer-led supplemental advising services for all students on campus. One of the well-known student-advising programs, the Government Odyssey Advising Program, is also housed in the PARC.

* Workshops & Individual Tutorials (WIT) is a free tutoring service (group and individual tutorials) open to all students on campus. The tutorials are taught by trained tutors who are familiar with materials in historically-difficult courses. In addition to helping students develop academic strategies to better understand challenging course materials, WIT has also successfully presented many Academic Support workshops in collaboration with the Academic Advising Center and Career Center. Some workshop topics included Time Management, Study Skills, Self Care, and other topics.

All of these programs assist students in collaboratively learning about how to be a successful student and how to successfully navigate the demands of the academic community. Our motto embodies who we are as a Center: Successful students promoting student success!

First-Generation Institute

Lassen Hall 2205
(916) 278-6183
http://csus.edu/saseep/fgi/

The First-Generation Institute (FGI) is an innovative and student-centered program designed for first-generation students to integrate their college experiences into the world of work. The curriculum implemented for FGI is developed from collaborative partnerships and utilize a network of regional employers and community organizations to offer a wide variety of vibrant workshops and expert speakers. FGI goal is to bring awareness and foster discussion of workplace etiquette and cultural nuances to develop skills and perspectives needed to progress from first-generation students to first-generation professionals.

Project Hmong (Helping Mentor Our Next Generation)

Lassen Hall 2205
(916) 278-6183
http://csus.edu/saseep/projecthmong/

Project Hmong (Helping Mentor Our Next Generation) is devoted to fostering student health, retention, persistence, and graduation success. Project Hmong’s mission is to ensure the academic, career, and life success for Hmong and other underrepresented students. In collaboration with faculty, staff, students and community members, Project Hmong’s purpose is to build a positive and supportive community of mentors and peers through mentoring and networking with support, guidance, and encouragement while promoting positive character development.

P.A.V.E. Partnerships for Advancing the Value of Education

Lassen Hall 2205
(916) 278-6183

PAVE is a Service Learning Tutoring Program that partners with local schools to offer tutoring, mentoring, and college preparedness in K-12 classrooms. PAVE student academic tutors and college role models are prepared to provide Common Core State Standards support in English, Language Arts, Math and the Sciences. Through PAVE, student academic tutors will engage in an authentic educational experience in which they apply their personal experiences, academic knowledge and skills they gained in their college classroom.

Services to Students with Disabilities (SSWD)

Lassen Hall 1008
(916) 278-6955 (voice) or (916) 278-7239 (TDD only), (916) 278-7825 (fax)
sswd@csus.edu (Email)
www.csus.edu/sswd (http://www.csus.edu/sswd)

Students requiring accommodations for placement exams and new student orientation should contact SSWD.

Students who believe they may require disability-related accommodations are encouraged to meet with an SSWD Counselor as soon as possible, as accommodations are not retroactive. To be eligible for SSWD academic accommodation services, applicants must be currently enrolled at Sacramento State, and submit a completed SSWD application, along with current medical documentation verifying disability and functional limitations. Accommodations are not approved until an Intake with a SSWD Counselor has been conducted, and appropriate academic adjustments discussed between the student and the Counselor.

SSWD serves all matriculated Sacramento State students, regardless of identity or status. All SSWD students are served under the CSU Policy for the Provision of Accommodations and Support Services to Students with Disabilities.

SSWD services are located in three different locations. The Assistive Technology Lab is located in AIRS, the Testing Center is in the basement of the Library, and the Counseling and TRIO services are located in Lassen.

Assistive Technology Lab (ATL)

The Assistive Technology Lab insures Services to Students with Disabilities (SSWD) students, with print disabilities, have equal access to alt media instructional materials. All SSWD students are encouraged to use the computer lab, where assistive hardware and software is available.

Testing Center

Lower Level Library, Room 14 (916) 278-6296 www.csus.edu/testing (http://www.csus.edu/testing)

The Testing Center provides testing accommodations for students registered with the Office of Services to Students with Disabilities (SSWD). Tests are administered in lower-distraction classrooms, and have available adjustable height tables, and essential assistive technology.

The Testing Center also administers campus-specific exams (such as the Writing Placement for Juniors [WPJ] exam and the Writing Placement for Graduate Students [WPG] exam), as well as state and national standardized tests (such as the California Basic Educational Skills Test [CBEST] and the Graduate Record Exam [GRE] Subject Tests) to current and prospective students.

The Testing Center offers make-up test services for a fee. Students, with their instructor’s permission, can schedule appointments to take paper-based classroom exams, exams with class conflicts, or exams for distance education courses. The Testing Center also provides proctoring services for a fee for anyone needing to take a paper-based test for another university, college or agency.

TRIO

The federally funded “TRIO” Student Support Services (SSS) Project offers supplemental retention services to students with disabilities who meet the federal qualifications for eligibility, and require additional academic support. The project offers limited tutoring, grants, financial literacy support, career assistance, peer mentors; as well as sponsored academic, cultural and social activities to strengthen academic skills, retention, and ultimately graduation. Interested students must submit a TRIO SSS application, meet federal and program eligibility criteria, be U.S. Citizens or Permanent Residents, and be committed to participating in SSS program requirements at Sacramento State.

Crisis Assistance and Resource Education Support (CARES) Office

C.A.R.E.S. Office suite is located in University Union Suite1260

(916) 278-7511 https://www.csus.edu/student/casemanager/

The Sacramento State C.A.R.E.S Office provides assistance to students who are in crisis or experiencing unique challenges to their education. CARES Case Managers can coordinate referrals to campus and community resources, and offer follow-up support to address a variety of issues including, but not limited to:

- Housing displacement
- Transportation barriers
- Financial Emergencies
- Food insecurity
- Mental health and wellness
- Physical health and wellness
- Transition back to campus following a hospitalization

Additional Services and Support:

- Assistance with CalFresh applications
- Student Emergency Housing on campus
- Student Emergency Fund
- Advocacy (for accessing resources)
- Faculty and staff workshops on working with students in distress

Basic Needs Initiative

Division of Student Affairs (916) 278-6060 http://csus.edu/basicneeds/

The Basic Needs Initiative provides a variety of resources to meet the housing, food, and financial needs of students. Basic Needs are the minimum necessary elements that people need in order to succeed in their goals; these include food, clothing, shelter, safety. If you are experiencing challenges with food access, housing, or finances, Sacramento State wants to ensure you have resources available to you in your time of need.

We know that Basic Needs security is essential to academic success. We encourage you to leverage your resources and utilize the options on the Basic Needs Website.

Throughout the website, you will see tips on how to use these resources in order to address Basic Needs Challenges. We hope that you leverage all your resources creatively and in a way that works for you, we know that there are many ways to be a student (full-time vs. part-time, students with children, students with disabilities, students without parental support, students without FAFSA aid, etc.) so, creating a plan unique to your needs is important.

If you have any questions or need assistance creating your Basic Needs Support plan, please contact our C.A.R.E.S Case Manager, Danielle Munoz at danielle.munoz@csus.edu or (916) 278-7511.

Project Rebound

Division of Student Affairs (916) 278-6794 http://www.csus.edu/student/projectrebound

In 1967 Professor John Irwin created Project Rebound as a way to matriculate students into San Francisco State University (SFSU) directly from the criminal justice system. The focus of Project Rebound is “education as an alternative to incarceration” and “turning former prisoners to scholars.” Since the program’s inception, hundreds of formerly incarcerated people have obtained four year degrees and beyond. In 2016, Project Rebound moved beyond the confines of SFSU onto seven other California State University (CSU) campuses, including Sacramento State; currently Project Rebound can be found on 10 CSU campuses, with several other campuses development programs.

Project Rebound is a program to help formerly incarcerated students to prepare for, apply to, enroll in and graduate with a high quality degree from Sacramento State. Project Rebound provides support for each student to ensure their optimal success at the University. The program offers academic and financial counseling and referral, peer mentoring and tutoring, and career development. The program helps students with their basic needs enabling them to focus on their studies and achieve educational and personal empowerment.

CSU International Programs

International Programs

Developing intercultural communication skills and international understanding among its students is a vital mission of the California State University (CSU). Since its inception in 1963, the CSU International Programs (CSU IP) has contributed to this effort by providing qualified students an affordable opportunity to continue their studies abroad for a full academic year. More than 20,000 CSU students have taken advantage of this unique study option.

International Programs participants earn resident academic credit at their CSU campuses while they pursue full-time study at a host university or study center abroad. CSU IP serves the needs of students in more than 100 designated academic majors. Affiliated with more than 50 recognized universities and institutions of higher education in 18 countries, CSU IP also offers a wide selection of study abroad destinations and learning environments.

Research and Extended Programs
Office of Research Affairs
Division of Academic Affairs
Hornet Bookstore, Suite 3400
(916) 278-6402
research@csus.edu
www.csus.edu/research

The Office of Research Affairs (ORA), as part of Academic Affairs, reports to the Provost and works to expand the research capacity of Sacramento State’s faculty, students, and research staff. ORA supports faculty pursuing external funds for research projects (proposal development, submission assistance, contract development, project coordination, and related infrastructure needs) as well as research program development initiatives. On behalf of the University, we submit faculty grant and contract proposals, administer internal research funds and recognition programs, facilitate the Institutional Review Board (IRB) and Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC), and coordinate patent and tech transfer activities, as well as provide a full range of research integrity and compliance functions for the research enterprise.

Post-award account administration for sponsored agreements and related accounts is typically handled through the Office of Sponsored Programs Administration (SPA) of University Enterprises, Inc. (UEI). SPA professional staff work in coordination with ORA to support, accept and administer the awards faculty receive from federal, state, and private funding agencies.

International Programs and Global Engagement
Library 1001
(916) 278-6686
www.csus.edu/ipge/

The mission of the International Programs and Global Engagement (IPGE) (http://www.csus.edu/ipge) office is to provide opportunities for Sacramento State students and faculty to increase their global knowledge, expand their international experiences, and gain new global perspectives. The office is comprised of the following functional units:

- International Admissions
- International Student and Scholar Services
- Study Abroad
- Global Initiatives
- Faculty and Staff Immigration Services
- The Passport Place @ Sac State
- The English Language Institute

International Admissions

Sacramento State welcomes students from across the globe. The International Admissions (https://www.csus.edu/ipge/international-admissions/intladm.html) office serves as the point of contact for all prospective international applicants intending to study at Sacramento State on a F-1 or J-1 student visa. Dedicated international admissions specialists process undergraduate and graduate applications, in addition to providing guidance throughout the application process. For additional information regarding international admission, please e-mail the office at intlinfo@csus.edu.

International Student and Scholar Services

Sacramento State is host to more than 650 students and scholars from 70 different countries. International Student and Scholar Services (http://www.csus.edu/ipge/issss) within IPGE provides immigration support, coordinates International Student Orientation, and offers cultural programming and other services geared towards assisting international students and scholars in becoming more engaged in campus and community life. For additional information, please e-mail the office at intlprg@csus.edu.

Study Abroad

Sacramento State students have a variety of opportunities to study at over 70 universities in more than 20 different countries. Overseas educational opportunities are available in almost every discipline. Financial aid and scholarships are available to qualified students.

While studying abroad, students develop global perspectives related to their field of study that enhance academic knowledge and professional development. Study Abroad is one of the most transformational experiences offered at Sacramento State.

Sacramento State offers a variety of study abroad options:

- California State University International Programs (CSU-IP) is the system wide, year-long study abroad program offered by the California State University
- Sacramento State Exchange Programs include semester and year-long study abroad experiences through exchange programs with partner institutions
- Short-term, Faculty-Led Study Abroad programs
- Short-term non-credit bearing study tours
- Study Abroad opportunities through independent affiliated provider

Students interested in studying abroad are advised to start the planning process as early as possible. For additional information about Study Abroad opportunities, please e-mail sabroad@csus.edu or visit the Study Abroad Website (https://www.csus.edu/ipge/studyabroad).

The Study Abroad office also offers the following services to faculty members interested in leading students groups or conducting research in foreign countries:

- Assistance in making contacts with colleagues at affiliated institutions abroad;
- Advising for faculty exchange opportunities for one semester or one year;
- Providing information about State Department advisories for international travelers;
- Providing information on faculty development seminars abroad; and,
- Providing information and advising regarding the International Research Scholar Program.

For additional information about Faculty-Led Study Abroad programs, please e-mail Alessandra McMorris at mcmorris@csus.edu.

Global Initiatives

The Office of Global Initiatives is responsible for international recruitment and outreach, maintaining and building international partnerships, and developing international agreements. The office also provides resources for Sacramento State faculty and staff interested in learning more about the university’s internationalization and global engagement efforts.

Specific inquiries or requests for information can be e-mailed to Kunyi Cheng, Coordinator of Global Initiatives, at kunyi.cheng@csus.edu or Tel: (916) 278-4877.

Faculty and Staff Immigration Services
Sacramento State is committed to the internationalization of the campus by hiring a diverse group of faculty with world-class expertise in a wide range of academic disciplines. Faculty and Staff Immigration Services (http://www.csus.edu/ipge/global-initiatives/staff-immigration) provides information on immigration and international employment requirements for faculty and staff at Sacramento State.

Please direct Faculty and Staff Immigration questions to Megan Hambright, International Affairs Analyst. E-mail: meganhambright@csus.edu or Tel: 916-278-4885.

The Passport Place @ Sac State
The Passport Place @ Sac State (http://www.csus.edu/ipge/passport%20place.html) accepts U.S. Passport Applications between 8 AM – 4 PM, Monday – Thursday, and 8 AM - 1 PM on Friday. The Passport Place is located in the International Programs and Global Engagement (IPGE) office, Library 1001, next to the Grumpy Mule coffee shop (see campus map (http://www.csus.edu/about/documents/map_small.pdf)).

The English Language Institute
Del Norte Hall, Room 2012
Tel: (916) 278-4811

The English Language Institute (ELI) (https://www.cce.csus.edu/about-eli) offers a year-round Intensive English Program for non-native English speakers who have a desire to improve their language skills. ELI also offers customizable American Language & Culture (ALC), International Professional Training and Development (IPTD) and other non-degree programs for international students. For additional information, e-mail ELI at eli@csus.edu.

Research-Based Centers and Institutes
Centers and institutes contribute significantly to the research, teaching, and service priorities of the University. By attracting external funding, research-based centers and institutes provide opportunities for faculty and students to engage current or emerging problems in a search for new solutions. For more information, please contact the Office of Research Affairs at (916) 278-6402 or visit www.csus.edu/research (http://www.csus.edu/research).

COMMUNITY CONNECTIONS

MESA Engineering Program (MEP)
Santa Clara Hall 1213
(916) 278-6699

Participation in the MESA Engineering Program (MEP) increases the probability that students will be successful in their engineering or computer science college studies. Focusing on the recruitment, retention, and graduation of highly motivated students from educationally disadvantaged backgrounds, MEP emphasizes participation by students from communities with low rates of enrollment in engineering majors.

The MEP program provides an on-campus home for its members with a large 24 hours-a-day study center that encourages study groups. MEP provides professional development, a freshman orientation course, and personal-academic advising. It assists in the coordination of tutoring services for all students in the College of Engineering and Computer Science.

Community Engagement Center (CEC)
Dr. Dana Kivel, Director
Francine Redada, Senior Partnership Coordinator
Isabel Ibarra, Resource Analyst
Library 4028
(916) 278-4610
www.csus.edu/cec (http://www.csus.edu/cec)

The Community Engagement Center, a program of Academic Affairs, focuses Sacramento State’s greatest resource—the knowledge and skills of faculty, staff and students—on making a difference in the various communities throughout the Sacramento region.

Our mission is to engage members of the Sacramento State campus through their educational experiences to become aware of and respond to local and global community concerns through Service Learning, Volunteerism and Academic internships. Additionally, our vision is to create a campus climate that promotes community awareness and involvement and supports students to become civically minded graduates who are actively engaged in making a difference both locally and globally.

At Sacramento State, community engagement describes the collaboration between institutions of higher education and their larger communities (local, regional/state, national, global) for the mutually beneficial exchange of knowledge and resources in a context of partnership and reciprocity.

The purpose of community engagement is the partnership of college and university knowledge and resources with those of the public and private sectors to enrich scholarship, research, and creative activity; enhance curriculum, teaching and learning, prepare educated, engaged citizens, strengthen democratic values and civic responsibility; address critical societal issues; and contribute to the public good.

Students, faculty, and the CEC collaborate with community partners to create community-engaged learning activities to:

- network with professionals;
- develop leadership and teamwork skills; and
- act locally, think globally.

The Community Engagement Center programs include:

- Service Learning (SL), which links students in courses with community-based partners for mutual benefit. The community partner gets assistance with various programs and the students gain experience understanding how different organizations operate and function to deliver programs and services. One example of Service Learning is: “Writing Partners @ Sac State,” a program where university students participate in a letter exchange with fifth graders at local elementary schools. Writing Partners helps Sac State students be better writers and it helps fifth graders aspire to become college students;
- Community Service, including Alternative Break @ Sac State and Sac State Volunteers, both of which provide volunteer opportunities with organizations throughout the Sacramento region;
- Civic Engagement, which supports opportunities for students to become “engaged” citizens in their communities and includes the Constitution and Civic Engagement Program (CCEP) sponsored by CEC and other campus programs; and
- Academic Internships, which are stand-alone courses that formally integrate students’ academic study with practical experience in a cooperating organization.

For more information on how to become involved, visit the Community Engagement Center Web site at http://www.csus.edu/cec.

Partnerships for Employment Opportunities
Dr. Melissa Repa, Director

Career Center
Lassen Hall 1013
(916) 278-6231
www.csus.edu/careercenter (http://www.csus.edu/careercenter)

Through a collaborative career development approach, the Career Center engages, educates and empowers our students and alumni to thrive and successfully contribute to the community and the economic workforce of the future. The Career Center offers a proactive comprehensive career development program, fostering partnerships with community and campus businesses to provide hands-on work experience for students and alumni.

Experiential education and internships offer students academic credit or experience for employment opportunities that complement their educational endeavors by matching educational goals with work experiences. The Student Employment program provides job-listing services for students looking for employment while attending college. Handshake, the online job database, lists thousands of opportunities (part-time, full-time, internship, and volunteer) for students and alumni in the Sacramento region and beyond, focusing on the I-80 corridor between Lake Tahoe and the Bay Area. It is accessible at the Career Center website 24 hours a day.

The On-Campus Interviews (OCI) program provides students and alumni with an opportunity to interview with Fortune 500 companies, top accounting firms, government agencies and other well-known organizations without ever leaving campus. Interviews for full-time and internship opportunities are conducted within our Career Center.

Career Events and Job Fairs offer students and alumni even broader opportunities to meet with prospective employers. Over 500 employers attend Career Center events, annually, each searching specifically for Sacramento State students who have a reputation for being able to balance academics with work and family life.

The EXCEL Program
Pamela O’Kane: (916) 278-4345
E-mail: okane@csus.edu

In the EXCEL Program, Sacramento State students learn the basics of tutoring elementary school children in reading or mathematics. After training, they work under supervision at local elementary schools helping children who are achieving below grade level. The following classes each offer 3 units of upper division credit:

Some paid positions are available with funding through FWS or America Reads/America Counts. This experience is an excellent way for students to find out if a career working with young people is right for them.

Sacramento State Links Project
Dr. Lynda Stone: (916) 278-4326
E-mail: lstone@csus.edu

Modeled on the Fifth Dimension program developed at UC San Diego, the Sacramento State Links Project connects the GE service learning course to a boisterous and lively after-school program. In the after-school program, college students tutor elementary school children, promoting literacy development through a mixture of play and educational activities.

University Outreach Services
Office of Admissions and Outreach
Lassen Hall Lobby - Room 1102
www.csus.edu/admissions (http://www.csus.edu/admissions)

The Admissions and Outreach Office is charged with the recruitment of prospective students to the University. This involves recruitment visits and yield events at high school and transfer services, as well as services to students from low income educationally disadvantaged groups. The programs are designed to meet enrollment levels that reflect the richness of diversity in the Sacramento Region and to build a healthy enrollment balance by class level and academic programs.

Additional services provided include:

- Pre-admission advising and presentations;
- California Residency review;
- Western Undergraduate Exchange (WUE) program;
- Undergraduate application review and processing;
- Prospective and new student event planning;
- Customer Relationship Management;
- Outreach and marketing services;
- Campus tours;
- Tele-counseling services;
- Distribution of complimentary copies of CSU/Sacramento State materials to schools, colleges, and related agencies;
- Consult and Liaison between University academic departments and partner institutions for course articulation

High School Outreach Programs
High School Outreach programs provide information and guidance on higher education opportunities in general, and Sacramento State opportunities in particular, to prospective students, parents, guidance personnel, and other interested persons. High School Liaisons provide extensive outreach visits and activities at high schools in the Sacramento State service region and throughout the state. The Outreach staff also assists students in completion of the matriculation process and articulates University programs, policies, and procedures to other educational institutions and agencies.

Transfer Outreach Programs
Community College Outreach Programs work closely with community colleges in California to facilitate a smooth transition for students transferring to Sacramento State. In addition to the following list, the programs and services of the Community College Outreach mirror the High School Outreach program.

- Memoranda of Understanding, established with the Los Rios, Sierra, and Yuba Community College Districts, are partnerships emphasizing and promoting a seamless transition to Sacramento State.
- Development and distribution via www.assist.org (http://www.assist.org) of official articulation agreements between Sacramento State and other campuses specify the acceptability of transfer courses toward meeting lower-division major preparation.
- Visits to community colleges enable staff to meet with prospective students, providing instant, on-site admission for eligible applicants at major feeder community colleges.

Community Outreach
Project PLAY
Dr. Scott Modell
E-mail: modells@csus.edu
(916) 278-5041

Project PLAY (Play-Oriented Lifetime Activities for Youth) is a fitness and leisure program for individuals with disabilities ages 3-25, that also trains parents, legal guardians, and other family members to provide follow-up instructions and support for program participants in the home. Project PLAY combines activities in the areas of motor fitness, physical fitness, development of leisure time skills, opportunities in adapted aquatics, training for Special Olympics, wheelchair games, and other organized competition for individuals with disabilities.

Project PLAY is an opportunity for students to participate in community engagement in the Department of Kinesiology and Health Science.

MUSIC 88.9 FM Sacramento # 91.7 FM Groveland/Sonora # 88.7 FM Sutter/Yuba City

The radio station sits on the Sacramento State campus and offers internship opportunities for qualified students who wish to gain experience by working in a professional broadcasting environment.

Sacramento State Alumni Association
Alumni Association
(916) 278-6295
E-mail: alumni@csus.edu
www.csus.edu/alum/students/ (http://www.csus.edu/alum/students)

The Alumni Association, open to all current students and friends of the University, was founded July 20, 1950 to encourage alumni involvement with their alma mater and to support the campus community. Governed by a 27-member Board of Directors, the Association offers its members various opportunities to volunteer and participate in social and fund-raising activities.

Current students are encouraged to join the Student Alumni Association (SAA). SAA is a student volunteer group that works on behalf of the Alumni Association to enhance the student experience by connecting students to one another, alumni, and the University. SAA volunteers plan and participate in social, career-oriented, and school unifying events. SAA membership for current students is only $20/year and, in addition to the full privileges and benefits of membership in the Alumni Association, members receive a t-shirt and keychain.

The Alumni Association also provides the opportunity to network with alumni who share your professional or social interests through chapters including: Art; ASI; Basketball Alumni and Friends; Black Alumni; Business Administration; Capitol Fellows Affiliate; Construction Management; Criminal Justice; Education; Engineering/Computer Science; Government; Hong Kong; Football/Spirit Alumni and Friends; Latino; MPPA; Nursing; Recreation, Parks and Tourism; Speech Pathology and Audiology; Theatre/Dance; and Urban Collective. All groups welcome student member (SAA) participation as well.

Events are another way the Alumni Association keeps alumni active in the life of the University. Annual events include "Alumni Month" every April, the Causeway Classic, Homecoming, pre-game parties, and the prestigious Distinguished Service Awards. Members of the Alumni Association also support students through donations to the Alumni Scholarship Fund. Each year 12-15 scholarships ranging from $1,000-$2,000 are awarded to deserving Sacramento State students.

When you think of your alumni home on campus, think of the Alumni Center. Maintained and operated by the Alumni Association, it is an outstanding venue that may be rented for meetings, conferences, weddings, receptions, and other social events. It truly provides a "home" on campus for alumni and a place for activities that help alumni strengthen ties to the students, the campus, and the community.
Student Housing
North Village - On Campus
(916) 278-6655
www.csus.edu/housing

Living on campus can be a very special and rewarding part of the Sacramento State experience. On-campus living is convenient and offers opportunities for students to make new friends and be a part of an active and engaged community. Additionally, research shows that students who live on campus feel more connected and have a higher persistence rate toward graduation as compared to students who live off campus. The residence halls are staffed by full-time post masters live-in professionals along with trained Resident Advisors. The residential staff organize educational programs, engage in academic advising, and serve as mentors and sources of campus information for residents.

The on-campus housing community consists of approximately 2100 residents living in seven residence halls offering a variety of living options including single and double rooms, and apartment style suites. Each residence hall provides furnished living accommodations along with Wi-Fi access, computer lab/print stations, satellite TV offering 120+ Digital and HD online channels with DVR service, study rooms, recreation rooms, lounges, kitchenettes, and laundry facilities. Additionally, the Servery at the Dining Commons and the Courtyard Market provide a variety of freshly prepared dining options.

Submitting an on-line application for on-campus housing is easy and convenient. Housing applications for the following academic year are available in early February. Students attending for spring semester only can apply for housing in early November. Please visit the Housing Web site at http://www.csus.edu/housing or contact the Housing Office at housing@csus.edu for specific application time-lines and housing costs. Space fills up quickly, so interested students should submit an on-line application including any necessary payments as soon as charges are posted to the student’s account.

Upper Eastside Lofts - Off Campus
A popular off-campus option is the Upper Eastside Lofts (UEL) located only a short walk from campus. As with on-campus, UEL also has trained staff available to assist students with concerns and referrals to campus resources. They also provide educational programs, advising and mentoring. Information about the Upper Eastside Lofts may be obtained by calling (916) 739-0900 or viewing the Web site at www.uelsacramento.com.

Campus Dining University Enterprises, Inc., Dining Services
(916) 278-6376
www.dining.csus.edu

Sac State Campus Dining, operated by University Enterprises, Inc., is proud to offer the campus community a wide variety of diverse, healthy, and great tasting dining choices throughout the campus. From snacks, food trucks, and fine dining, to everything in between, including vegan and vegetarian options, students will find dining options to fit their schedules and their tastes.

The University Union features classic American fare and ethnic cuisine, as well as coffee, smoothies, and vending.

The River Front Center on the north side of campus houses the well-known favorite, Togo’s, as well as Baja Fresh Express, Starbucks, vegetarian and vegan eateries, Mediterranean cuisine, and sushi.

Other food and coffee locations are located throughout campus near Lassen Hall, the Library, the Hornet Bookstore, and at Modoc and Folsom Halls.

Sac State Campus Dining also manages a Starbucks truck, which serves hot and cold beverages, pastries, breakfast sandwiches, bistro boxes, fruit, and bottled water.

Epicure Catering at Sacramento State offers a variety of fresh, healthy foods prepared by the chef at Epicure Restaurant at Sacramento State. The professional and experienced staff is available for a full range of events and activities, both on and off campus. To request information and a catering menu, please call (916) 278-6786. Visit the Sac State Campus Dining website at http://www.dining.csus.edu for a current list of eateries, hours of operation, map with dining locations, and complete information about the services Sac State Campus Dining provides.

Dining Commons
Dining Commons
(916) 278-6971
www.dining.csus.edu/dining-commons/

For the convenience of students living in the residence halls at Sacramento State, the Dining Commons offers an “All You Care to Eat” meal service in a relaxed setting. Students living off campus may also eat at the Dining Commons, and off-campus meal plans are available for purchase. The serving area in the Dining Commons recently underwent a significant renovation, which changed the way food was prepared and served. The new, state-of-the-art servery includes 10 cooking exhibition stations with a different cuisine at each, where diners can see chefs prepare their meals. The Courtyard Market, a popular convenience store located in the American River Courtyard Residence Hall near the Dining Commons, offers healthy snacks and freshly made foods, including vegan and vegetarian options.

Campus Services
Bookstore

(916) 278-6446
www.hornetbookstore.com

The Hornet Bookstore carries all textbooks required in campus curricula. Textbooks are available for purchase in-store during store business hours or ordered online anytime at hornetbookstore.com. Please review the website for shipping options, store hours and pricing. The Bookstore offers a variety of textbook options, including new, used, rental and digital. All special program participants are advised to contact the Customer Service department before making purchases. The textbook department is located on the 2nd floor of the Hornet Bookstore.

The Bookstore offers merchandise to make life on campus more convenient. These items include school supplies, sportswear, backpacks, art supplies, calendars, greeting cards, sundries, snacks, and cold beverages. The Bookstore offers a selection of laptop and personal computers at academic pricing. The bookstore is an Apple Authorized Campus Store. Repairs are available on Apple laptops and computers. Printers and technology related supplies are also available. The Bookstore also offers a selection of general interest books, reference books, best sellers, study aids, children's books, and magazines. Special orders are accepted for items not in stock. The Bookstore Cafe offers coffee, tea, specialty drinks and pastries.

The Bookstore is located on State University Drive East, across from the University and adjacent to Parking Structure II. VISA, MasterCard, Discover, American Express, and the Sacramento State One-Card are accepted.

The Store, located in the University Union, offers school supplies, test materials, snacks, cold beverages, logo apparel, gift merchandise, and sundries.

Children's Center (Child Care)
Atlas Cedar Way/State University Drive
(916) 278-6216
www.asi.csus.edu/children (http://www.asi.csus.edu/children)

Built with student-raised funds, the Associated Students' Children's Center was carefully designed to provide support for Sac State students who are raising young children. A qualified staff of certificated, experienced teachers welcomes families with children six months of age through kindergarten. Student employees round out the rest of the adult-child ratio, adding a wealth of experience, knowledge, and cultural diversity. In addition to student employees, the Center provides internships for fieldwork courses and observation opportunities to students enrolled in a variety of courses. The Children's Center earned National Accreditation through the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC) in 2006 and was re-accredited in 2011 and again in 2016.

Children of students, faculty, and staff may attend this program, although priority admission is given to children of enrolled Sacramento State students.

Students may apply directly to the Center for financial assistance if they meet income eligibility guidelines.

Student Health and Counseling Services

Location & Hours
SHCS is located at The WELL, and open Monday – Thursday from 8am to 6pm, and on Fridays from 9:30 am – 4:30pm. Summer and intersession hours may vary.1

1 Current student identification is required to utilize SHCS.

Online Medical Appointment Scheduling
Students seeking care for routine medical services can make appointments online at www.csus.edu/shcs (http://www.csus.edu/shcs) by clicking the Patient Portal link, or by calling 916-278-6461. Please see the SHCS website for more information.

Urgent/Immediate Care – (916) 278-6461

Patients who require immediate medical attention or crisis counseling can be seen on a walk-in basis at the Urgent Care clinic located on the 1st floor of The WELL. All walk-in patients are first screened and medically assessed by a nurse, then seen or scheduled for further evaluation and treatment as appropriate. An after-hours Nurse Advice Line is available by calling 916-278-6461. A list of off-campus urgent care facilities and emergency resources are listed on the SHCS website at http://www.csus.edu/shcs/resources/nurse_advise_line.html.

Counseling Appointment Scheduling
Counseling services begin with an in-person intake appointment with a staff clinician to assess the nature and urgency of your problem, so that SHCS can arrange the most appropriate next step for you.
Counseling appointments must be made by calling SHCS during regular business hours. Please see the SHCS website for more information at www.csus.edu/shcs (http://www.csus.edu/shcs).

HornetMD
Hornet MD is a web-based smartphone application that provides self-triage, health information, and targeted escalation to the next appropriate health resource on any mobile device. Hornet MD is available 24 hours a day to enrolled students. Students have the option of calling to speak with a registered nurse who can assist with medical concerns when Student Health & Counseling Services is closed by calling 1-888-840-5169. To download the free application, students should go to www.csus.edu/hornetmd (http://www.csus.edu/hornetmd), download the app, then add it to their phone’s home screen and name it HornetMD.

Red Folder
- The CSU Red Folder App is available for in both Android and iOS versions. This resource contains safety tips and contact information for a wide variety of emergency campus resources to immediately help any student in distress. Also, it provides guidance on responding to incidents in which students are having thoughts of harming themselves or others. To download the FREE app, please click on the following:

Peer Health Educator Internship Program
- SHCS offers the Peer Health Educator (PHE) internship program, a year-long academic and hands-on learning program. PHEs actively promote health and wellness at Sac State in the areas of mental wellness; nutrition; alcohol, tobacco, and other drugs; and healthy relationships. For more information, visit http://www.csus.edu/shcs/wellness-education/internship.html.

Student Health Advisory Committee (SHAC)
SHAC is a student-based organization that advises the Vice President for Student Affairs and the Executive Director of Student Health & Counseling Services on student health issues from a student’s perspective, covering such topics as accessibility, hours of operation, scope of services, student fees, quality of care and satisfaction. For more information, check out SHAC’s Facebook page.

Confidentiality
Privacy and confidentiality are fundamental rights to all who use SHCS services. In both Health Services and Mental Health Services, students’ right to privacy is respected and no information is released without student consent, except where disclosure is required by law.

For more information on Student Health and Counseling Services visit www.csus.edu/shcs (http://www.csus.edu/shcs) or call (916) 278-6461.

The University and the Sacramento State Police Department (formerly known as the Department of Public Safety) encourage the prompt reporting of any incident that compromises the safety, health or rights of Sacramento State community members. The Sacramento State Police Department is the primary respondent for campus emergencies and reports of criminal activity on campus. The Department is open 24-hours-a-day, seven days a week.

Sacramento State Police Officers are fully certified by the State of California with full arrest powers and cooperate with State and local police agencies including the Sacramento City Police and Sacramento County Sheriff’s Departments, resulting in the University’s awareness of criminal activity perpetrated beyond the campus. Reports of criminal activity will be fully investigated, and the appropriate referrals will be made with respect to subsequent action by the courts, the University, or both.

For more information on the Sacramento State Police Department’s policies and procedures, refer to Appendix K. For The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act and the Campus Fire Safety Right-To-Know Act, please access our website, www.csus.edu/police/cleryact.htm (http://www.csus.edu/police/cleryact.htm).

Student Resources

University Library
(916) 278-5679
www.library.csus.edu (http://www.library.csus.edu)
The University Library holds approximately 1.6 million books (including over 200,000 ebooks), provides access to over 100 databases, in excess of 30,000 media items, and thousands of maps, slides and pamphlets, and several million pieces of microforms and non-print media as well as subscriptions to thousands of print and online magazines, technical and scholarly journals, and newspapers. The Library is a depository for California State publications and for selected United States government materials.

OneSearch (the Library catalog and other databases) is searchable via Library computers or the Internet. Your SacLink login gives access to library resources both on and off campus.

You can ask questions, find course materials, and borrow equipment like laptops and anatomy models at the service desk located on the first floor. Items not owned by the Library can be obtained through an Interlibrary loan and document delivery service, usually provided without fee to Sacramento State students, faculty, and staff.

The second floor houses the Reference Collection and Research Help meeting spaces, as well as the Curriculum Collection that contains materials related to elementary and secondary school instruction. The California Department of Education has designated the University Library as a Learning Resources Display Center for all State adopted textbooks. Periodicals are located on the third floor, and the main circulating collection is on floors 2, 3, 4, and lower level.

The Department of Special Collections and University Archives collects materials from California State University, Sacramento as well as items documenting the social, cultural, economic, and political history of the Sacramento region. Other special Library facilities and services include group and individual study rooms, a Family Study Room, and hundreds of computers for student use. Self-service copiers and PrintSmart stations are available on each floor. The Tsakopoulos Hellenic Collection is an extensive collection of books, journals, pamphlets, non-book materials, rare books, and manuscript materials as well as art and artifacts related to all aspects of Greek, Byzantine, and Ottoman history and culture.

Reference librarians offer subject-oriented research help and other forms of library instruction. Hands-on sessions are scheduled in the Library Instruction classrooms.

Consult the Library homepage for additional information about Library collections and services, hours, staff, maps, exhibits, instructional opportunities, subject guides, and other materials.

University Reading and Writing Center

Calaveras Hall 128
(916) 278-6356
www.csus.edu/writingcenter
(http://www.csus.edu/writingcenter)

The University Reading and Writing Center (URWC) is a place for all Sacramento State students to get help with reading and writing for any course or project. Trained undergraduate and graduate student tutors offer support at any stage of the writing process, including helping writers to begin an assignment and generate ideas, identify a focus for a paper, work on developing ideas, refining organization, citing sources, or clarifying language. The URWC can also help students learn how to proofread and edit their papers better. The URWC emphasizes nonjudgmental and encouraging feedback to help a student not only with a particular assignment but also with becoming a more confident college writer.

If a student is working on a writing assignment in any undergraduate major, in a writing course, or in a graduate course, it is appropriate to come to the URWC. Tutors are experienced in working with the diverse population of Sacramento State students including multilingual and multixdialectal writers. Along with guidance on writing assignments, the URWC also provides help for students who are preparing to take the WPJ or other writing tests and for graduate students working on theses or projects. We also offer one unit of academic credit for regular tutoring, ENGL 121.

Appointments can be made in person in CLV 128 beginning the second week of classes each semester. Students interested in becoming a University Reading and Writing Center tutor should contact the Director.

Accessible Technology Initiative (ATI)

Sacramento State is committed to providing equal access to educational and information resources for every campus community member, including those with disabilities. Managed by Information Resources & Technology (IRT), the mission of the Accessible Technology Initiative (ATI) is to “make information technology resources and services accessible to all CSU students, faculty, staff, and the general public regardless of disability.” This encompasses the delivery of comprehensive services to students and faculty for web accessibility, instructional materials accessibility, and the accessibility of any campus-procured technology. A dedicated team of three ATI specialists in the areas of instructional materials, web development, and procurement partner with and provide consultation to campus groups including Services to Students with Disabilities, the Student Technology Center, the High Tech Center, the Office of Equal Employment Opportunity, the Hornet Bookstore, and academic departments, among others, to ensure equal access to education for our students. ATCS utilizes an integrated service approach to provide technology-based consultation, technical assistance and creative expertise in support of the teaching/learning, research, service and outreach missions of the University. Support is provided on both an individualized and global (University) basis. ATCS technology-related services include: consultation, online learning support, curricular and other materials development, event support, hybrid/online course development, SacCT administration, and faculty & staff training. For a more in-depth description of ATCS’s services, visit http://www.csus.edu/atcs/.

The Sacramento State Online Teaching & Learning Program provides expanded learning opportunities using technology-mediated instructional options. Our services allow students, both regionally and globally, to access classes when they are unable to attend classes on campus. ATCS supports academic departments and programs in the development, and facilitation of matriculated courses through synchronous and asynchronous delivery systems. These systems include: online teaching and learning systems, video conferencing, and support services. ATCS also assists faculty individually and small groups in adapting their curriculum, teaching methodologies, and pedagogy for online/hybrid course delivery.

Veterans Success Center
Lassen Hall 3003
(916) 278-6733
www.csus.edu/vets

Sacramento State’s Veterans Success Center (VSC) provides multi-faceted assistance to prospective and enrolled student veterans and dependents. Most notably, the center assists students in accessing their GI benefits, completing the admission application process, and registering for courses. The center also helps student’s access campus resources, get involved in leadership activities, and transition into the civilian work world.

The VSC provides a lounge, where student veterans may study, socialize, network, and meet other student veterans and dependents. The VSC additionally offers many opportunities for veterans to get involved in co-curricular leadership activities - please stop by or visit the VSC Web site (http://www.csus.edu/vets) for more information.

The Veterans Success Center is open Monday – Friday from 8:00 AM – 5:00 PM.

Student Organizations & Leadership University Union, Second Floor
(916) 278-6595
www.csus.edu/soal

Active participation in recognized student organizations, leadership development programs, and community service enriches and improves student’s learning experience at Sacramento State. Student Organization & Leadership (SO&L) is committed to encouraging and supporting students to become involved in campus life through a variety of co-curricular and extracurricular programs.

Getting involved on campus is a great way to meet people, learn about campus resources, make lifelong friends, and enrich the total education experience on the road to graduation. Involvement also helps to make a large university such as Sacramento State seem more personal, as well as provides students with opportunities to develop the skills needed to be successful in the workplace.

Student Organizations & Leadership advises more than 300 student-led clubs and organizations that are social, religious, political, recreational, academic, cultural, fraternal, and professional. Through participation in organizations, students learn democratic processes, respect for others, develop concern for community issues, gain appreciation for aesthetics and culture, and participate in healthy recreational activities.

Student Organizations & Leadership coordinates the Leadership Initiative (LI), a co-curricular leadership certificate program open to all students that allows students an opportunity to earn certificates that show their commitment and involvement at Sacramento State. The LI is also a great way for students to build up their resumes with activities outside the classroom. In addition, Student Organizations & Leadership organizes workshops, conferences, and events to help students develop cultural competence, communication skills, and have fun.

SO&L staff members are happy to connect interested students with any of the organizations registered on campus or help them start new clubs and organizations. Get involved today by visiting http://www.csus.edu/soal online or come to our office on the second floor of the University Union.

Associated Students, Inc. (ASI), a $9 million nonprofit corporation that serves as the student government at Sacramento State. Programs created and operated by ASI benefit the entire campus community. A student Board of Directors governs ASI. Elected each spring, this Board meets regularly through the fall and spring semesters. Students are encouraged to attend Board meetings, bringing their questions and concerns. With numerous committees and work teams, ASI offers students an assortment of ways to get involved in campus life and student representation. Participation as an ASI employee or volunteer provides students valuable experience and important future career contacts. ASI services to Sacramento State students range from free legal services to discount movie tickets. Programs include Business Office and Student Services, the Children’s Center, the Aquatic Center, Peak Adventures, KSSU Student Run Radio, ASI Food Pantry and Safe Rides. ASI also maintains the “Hot Spot,” which coordinates ASI campus life outreach and community service events. Located on the main floor of the WELL, the Hot Spot is a great place to learn about ASI. Through various grants and scholarships, ASI contributes financial support to student clubs and organizations, other University programs, and individual students. To get involved in ASI activities, call (916) 278-6784. To get more information stop by their office or go to www.asi.csus.edu (http://www.asi.csus.edu).

The Centers for Diversity and Inclusion
(916) 278-6370
http://www.csus.edu/cdi

The Centers for Diversity and Inclusion are a family of Centers (Women’s Resource Center, Multi-Cultural Center and PRIDE Center) that provide students with validation and support, while also engaging the larger Hornet community in coordinated efforts to interrogate and explore identity, promote cultural pluralism, and contribute to social justice.

The Women’s Resource Center (WRC) promotes gender equity through four distinct pillars: Allyship, Feminism, Leadership, and Empowerment. The WRC develops various programs and events aimed to increase the awareness and understanding of the contributions, opportunities, and barriers facing women in our society in the past and present.

Contact information: 2nd Floor, University Union, (916) 278-7388 http://www.csus.edu/wrc

The Multi-Cultural Center at Sacramento State supports the needs of diverse communities by providing educational programs and welcoming space that helps students learn about themselves and others. Partnering with multiple campus and community entities to co-create diversity and social justice initiatives, the MCC is committed to responding to student needs, building bridges for fostering social awareness and cultural understanding, and taking action on important issues and concerns of our communities. Contact information: University Library Room 1010 (916) 278-6101 http://www.csus.edu/mcc

The PRIDE Center is committed to enriching the campus experience and developing students as individuals and as members of communities. We exist to create and maintain a campus environment that is open, safe, and supportive of student diversity in the areas of sexual orientation and gender identity/expression. Our work is accomplished through student-centered education, outreach, advocacy and support. Contact information: 1st Floor, University Union (916) 278-8720 http://www.csus.edu/pride

CDI programs and services include, but are not limited to:

•Leadership development opportunities: internships, volunteer positions, and other opportunities for personal development.

•Collaborative projects with student organizations to encourage students to engage their social and intellectual skills through campus networks.

•Affirming and nurturing environments where students can study, rest, and mingle with other students interested in culture, identity, intersectionality and academic success.

Intercollegiate Athletics

Department of Intercollegiate Athletics

Athletics Center

(916) 278-6481

www.hornetsports.com (http://www.hornetsports.com)

Sacramento State is committed to providing equal opportunities to male and female students in intercollegiate athletics. Nearly 500 student-athletes participate in the athletics program with athletic scholarships awarded to student-athletes in every sport.

The A.G. Spanos Sports Complex provides excellent facilities for football and a superior track and field facility that was selected to host the U.S. Olympic Track and Field Trials in 2000 and 2004, the NCAA Division I Outdoor Championships in 2003, 2005, 2006 and 2007, the USATF National Championships in 2014 and 2017, the Junior Olympics in 2016, and the 2018 and 2019 NCAA West Regionals.

Sacramento State was also the host institution for the 2017 NCAA Men’s Basketball Tournament first and second rounds at the Golden 1 Center, and has been selected to host again in 2020.

The Nest serves as the home for women’s volleyball, men’s and women’s basketball, and women’s gymnastics. Both the baseball and softball teams had their on-campus stadiums renovated in 2003 with the baseball field receiving permanent lights in 2016. The men’s and women’s soccer teams also compete in a renovated facility. The women’s rowing team trains and competes at the Sacramento State Aquatic Center on Lake Natoma, rated as one of the nation’s top aquatics facilities. The venue has hosted the NCAA Women’s Rowing Championships 10 times since 1997.

The Eli and Edythe Broad Fieldhouse, a 25,000 square-foot structure at the south end of the Spanos Sports Complex, was opened in 2008. The state-of-the-art facility houses football and track and field locker rooms, offices, and meeting rooms as well as an athletic performance center, athletic training center, and equipment room.

Student-athletes benefit from quality athletic training and strength & conditioning facilities. There are five full-time athletic trainers, consulting and treating student-athletes daily. In addition, each sport has a designated strength and conditioning coach for its student-athletes. Sacramento State is also home to one of the few accredited undergraduate athletic training programs in Northern California.

Sacramento State competes at the Division I level of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and is a member of the Big Sky Conference in football (FCS), men’s and women’s basketball, men’s and women’s cross country, men’s and women’s indoor and outdoor track, men’s and women’s tennis, men’s and women’s golf, softball, volleyball and women’s soccer. The University’s baseball team competes in the Western Athletic Conference (WAC) and the gymnastics program is a member of the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation. The men’s soccer and beach volleyball teams compete in the Big West Conference and the rowing team resides in the American Athletic Conference. Beach volleyball was added as Sacramento State’s 21st intercollegiate sport in 2013.

From 2006-2017, Sacramento State athletics combined to win 55 conference championships, or an average of 5.2 titles per academic year. In addition, Sacramento State student-athletes improved their overall grade point average six consecutive semesters, including a school-record 3.122 grade point average in the spring of 2017. At the end of that 2017 spring semester, all 21 intercollegiate programs had at least a 2.800 overall grade point average, and 16 of those teams had better than a 3.0 mark.

All registered Sacramento State students with a valid One Card are admitted free of charge to regular season on-campus home athletic events.

College of Arts and Letters

College Overview

The programs within the College of Arts and Letters present a diverse array of disciplines, from art and music to history and communication studies, yet they share the common mission of teaching students to elucidate the human condition and the rich variety of human expression. The College is committed to:

- enhancing students’ awareness and aesthetic sensitivity through the study of literary and/or symbolic texts and engagement with the visual and performing arts;
- using literature and the arts in order to promote understanding of cultures and historical movements; and
- fostering critical thinking and effective oral and written communication skills.

The College includes the departments of Art, Communication Studies, Design, English, History, Humanities and Religious Studies, Music, Philosophy, Theatre and Dance, and World Languages and Literatures. The College offers 30 baccalaureate degrees, 24 minors, and 15 master’s degrees, and one joint doctorate.

Students in the College of Arts and Letters develop skills in reasoning, problem solving, finding information, and communicating in both oral and written form, as well as developing an understanding of creative accomplishment in many cultures, past and present. Students also have access to a variety of opportunities to perfect their skills outside of the classroom, including service learning connections to the community; internships; producing or performing in plays, concerts, readings, and recitals; and exhibiting their art and design works on and off campus.

The College offers many courses in the University’s General Education program as well as approved single-subject pre-credential preparation programs for students interested in the teaching profession in art, English, history, and music.

Faculty members in the College are dedicated to creating a learning environment that is student-centered and that encourages inquiry into the development of concepts and the exploration of ideas. Many of the faculty are nationally known scholars and artists.

Program Descriptions

Art

The Department of Art has a long-standing reputation for its quality and diversity. Courses in art education, art history, and art studio promote creativity, visual literacy, and critical thinking. Graduate and undergraduate artists have the opportunity to exhibit their work in the Else and Witt Galleries. Exhibitions of work by nationally and internationally-significant artists take place in the University Library Gallery. The department offers lectures and symposia featuring presentations by renowned art educators, art historians, and artists.

Communication Studies

One of the larger departments in the University, the Department of Communication Studies offers degrees in general communication, organizational communication, public relations, media communications, digital media, journalism, and government journalism. The department provides a television studio, dedicated computer labs, an audio-editing suite, and a high-end video editing lab. The Department supports a variety of student activities including a nationally respected debate program, Public Relations Student Society of America chapter and the University’s weekly newspaper, the State Hornet. Five of the faculty have won the College Outstanding Teacher Award in the past ten years, and key faculty are leaders in the Film program.

Design

The Department of Design prepares its students for a wide range of career opportunities in the fields of Graphic Design, Interior Design, and Photography. Our graduates are trained to work creatively and to explore new possibilities in their respective media while at the same time providing the highest quality of professional services to their clients.

The Department of Design recognizes that the environments in which we live and work are shaped by an ever-increasing quantity of visual information. This information, in the form of two and three dimensional images, comes to us from a variety of sources that utilize both traditional and technologically advanced modes of visual communication. To a greater extent than at any other point in our history, artists and designers are dissolving the boundaries between two and three dimensional visualization.

The Department of Design is well positioned to respond to the multifaceted nature of today’s visual arts. By offering degree programs in Graphic Design, Interior Design, and Photography we are able to train our students in a wide range of visual and design practices that play a part in creating our built environment. Students in the Department typically take a group of core courses that introduces them to a vocabulary of shared visual concepts and techniques before moving on to advanced study in their selected field.

The Department of Design offers Bachelor of Arts in Photography and Interior Design, and a Bachelor of Science in Graphic Design. Programs in the Department are accredited by NASAD; the Interior Design Program is also accredited by CIDA, the professional organization that establishes standards for the practice of interior design.
English

The Department of English offers a wide variety of courses in composition, creative writing, film studies, language arts, literary studies, teacher preparation, and teaching English to speakers of other languages (TESOL). The faculty are dedicated to classroom excellence, and several of our faculty have received the College Outstanding Teacher Award and the Outstanding Service Award. The Department offers student assistantships, graduate teaching associate positions, internships with companies like Intel, and a variety of endowed scholarships and writing contests. Many of the M.A. graduates teach in California community colleges, while others have been accepted into some of the country’s top Ph.D. programs. Its undergraduate alumni work in a multitude of professional fields, including teaching, editing, journalism, law, literary agencies, and government.

History

The Department of History is a dynamic program, with over 500 undergraduate majors and graduate students. The department has a master’s program with options in standard and public history and offers a Ph.D. in public history in cooperation with the University of California, Santa Barbara.

Humanities and Religious Studies

The Department of Humanities and Religious Studies offers the Bachelor of Arts with two concentration options. The Humanities concentration explores cultural eras and themes through study of literature, philosophy, the visual arts, music, drama, and film. The Religious Studies concentration focuses on beliefs and practices of the world’s religions in their historical and cultural contexts. The department’s Humanities M.A. program offers graduate-level studies with areas of concentration in ancient, modern, and global humanities.

Learning Skills

The Educational Opportunity Program offers courses, workshops, and individual assistance to students at all university levels. Program areas include composition, reading, study skills, mathematics, English for multilingual speakers, and special services for students with learning disabilities.

Courses numbered Learning Skills (LS) 1 through 49 are precollege level courses. These courses carry workload credit and may be counted only toward establishing full-time enrollment status. Precollege level course units are not applicable to the bachelor’s degree. Course MLSK 199 carries regular bachelor’s degree credits.

The following are specifically for Educational Opportunity Program students and are taught by Educational Opportunity Program faculty.

Course Repeat Policy

A student may only repeat one time the following Learning Skills Center courses (These courses may be taken a total of two times; a student enrolling in one of these a third time may be disenrolled.).

Music

The School of Music has a long and impressive history of preparing students for careers in music and for assuming a leadership role in the artistic life of Northern California. The School presents over two hundred concerts each year, including many student and faculty performances as well as outstanding guest artists programs in the Festival of New American Music, the New Millennium Series, the Piano Series, and the World Music Series. The School of Music offers a major for liberal arts students as well as professional degrees at the undergraduate and graduate level.

Philosophy

The Department of Philosophy offers four concentrations within its Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy. The General Major presents the broadest choice of electives. The concentration in Ethics, Politics, and Law is a pre-law program designed to develop analytic and argumentative abilities as well as skill in applying principles to cases, which will be needed by those preparing for a career in law. The concentration in Logic and Philosophy of Science offers preparation for graduate study in those areas. The Honors Concentration builds on one of the other concentrations. The Department maintains the Center for Practical and Professional Ethics, which provides a forum for exchange of ideas as well as a consultative resource in the community.

Theatre and Dance

The Department of Theatre and Dance offers courses, workshops, and individual assistance to students at all university levels. Program areas include performance, dance, directing, and choreography. The Department maintains the Center for Practical and Professional Ethics, which provides a forum for exchange of ideas as well as a consultative resource in the community.

World Languages and Literatures

The Department of World Languages and Literatures provides coursework in many languages including many traditional European languages as well as other worldwide strategic languages. The exposure to foreign language enhances cultural and linguistic understanding of peoples near and far. Department faculty teach language in a cultural context that expands the learner’s worldview and increases job marketability in the ever-changing global society.

Students taking classes that meet the University’s foreign language requirement build life-changing linguistic and cultural affinities that add value to their futures; while those who complete a degree in World Languages and Literatures also develop linguistic and cultural fluency. Additionally, all students are encouraged to participate in the various exchange opportunities overseas offered by CSUS exchange partnerships with the CSU System International Program.

The University Library Gallery features exhibitions of significant works of art by international, national, and regional artists. In addition, the Gallery is a favorite campus venue for many artistic gatherings, such as poetry readings sponsored by the English Department, recitals and performances by the Music Department, and film showings associated with the Film program. Special guided tours of current students and community groups are offered on a regular basis.

Program Description

Through our courses, exhibitions, lectures and public programs, the Department of Art at Sacramento State introduces students and members of the local community to the expressive world of the fine arts. The Department also promotes an appreciation and understanding of the fine arts in the general student population. A wide variety of approaches based on both Western and Non-Western cultures are integrated into courses that are oriented toward creativity, imagination, and critical thinking. Students can explore art through courses in art education, art history, ceramics, new media art, painting, printmaking, and interdisciplinary sculpture. Studio experiences develop the creative and artistic skills necessary for mastery of established styles and for exploration of new ones. Art history classes provide an appreciation for and an understanding of our visual cultural heritage within a historical context. Courses in art education provide an understanding of the various aspects of art, with regard to the creator, the viewer and the developing person.

The Department of Art serves as a significant cultural resource in the region through the sponsorship of art exhibits, workshops, lectures, and symposia each academic year. The department extends its influence out into the community through the involvement of its faculty, staff, and students in projects, activities, and events off campus. Courses, programs, and exhibitions sponsored by the Department serve to engage students in the visual arts within a liberal arts context and to promote appreciation of the fine arts in the general student population. Fieldwork experiences can be arranged with the Crocker Art Museum, Sacramento Metropolitan Arts Commission, and other public and private art institutions and galleries in the Capital region. Opportunities to study art and art history abroad are available through the Office of International Programs and Global Engagement at Sacramento State and the California State University International Program. University credit can be obtained for a semester to a year of study at college and international centers in Britain, Europe, Latin America, Asia, Africa, and Australia.

California State University, Sacramento is an accredited institutional member of the National Association of Schools of Art and Design (NASAD).

- The Department's main facility consists of two buildings, Kadema Hall and the Art Sculpture Lab. Some Art Studio and Art History courses also are taught in Mariposa Hall.
- Two art exhibition spaces, the Robert Else Gallery and the R.W. & Joyce Witt Student Art Gallery, are located in Kadema Hall. Graduate, undergraduate, and shows featuring regionally and nationally known artists are held here throughout the academic year.
- Four types of Art Department awards are available. The Raymond W. and Joyce Witt Awards and the Peyser Prize in Painting are awarded annually during a juried exhibition of artwork by undergraduate students. There also is a Witt Award in Art History. The Robinson Memorial Fellowships are open to all classified graduate art students.
- Three Art Department scholarships also are offered. The Peggy Saunders Hall Memorial Scholarship, the Juanita and José Montoya Memorial Art Scholarship and the Marla Chacon Memorial Endowed Art Scholarship are all intended to support outstanding undergraduate art students who have chosen teaching as a future goal. The Ruth Rippon Ceramics Scholarship is awarded to an outstanding undergraduate or graduate Art student who shows promise in making ceramic art a career.
- Faculty members have national reputations as artists and scholars. Works by Art Studio faculty can be found in major collections, including the Museum of Modern Art, the Whitney Museum of American Art, and the American Craft Museum in New York; the Minneapolis Art Institute; the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art; the Di Rosa Art and Nature Preserve in Sonoma; the Art Institute of Chicago; Yale University; the Rockefeller Institute; and the Museum of Modern Art in Tokyo. Publications by Art Education and Art History faculty are available through the University Library.

ART 40E. Basic Printmaking: Silkscreen. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Introduction to silkscreen processes and printing. Includes the construction of the equipment necessary to print direct drawing materials, and photo-established imagery. Fee course.

ART 50. Beginning Ceramics. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Projects in basic techniques and approaches to the potter’s wheel. Fee course.
Note: May be taken twice for credit.

ART 53. Beginning Hand-Built Ceramics. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Basic techniques and approaches to pottery through practice in hand-building methods, including coil, slab, pinch, and combinations thereof. Fee course.
Note: May be taken twice for credit.

ART 60. Two-Dimensional Composition. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Structured exploration of principles used to organize two-dimensional images. Basic art elements and their properties are explored in a series of progressive projects.
Note: Recommended for freshman or sophomore years.
ART 70. Form, Space Vision.
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Arts (Area C1)
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Foundation in three-dimensional design primarily concerned with the visual dialogue between form and space. A heightened visual sensitivity for three-dimensional composition is a major objective of every project. Line, plane, and volume are utilized separately and in concert to construct three-dimensional forms. A variety of materials are employed in the activation of form and space: wire, cardboard, clay, wood, and plaster. Fee course.

Note: Recommended for freshman or sophomore years.

 Fee course.

ART 74. Beginning Jewelry.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Introduction to techniques and tools used in the design and fabrication of jewelry, such as lost wax casting, stone setting, and finishing processes. Emphasis is on compositional arrangement and finish. Fee course.

 Fee course.

ART 75. Beginning Metalsmithing.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Introduction to techniques, tools, and methods used in fabrication of ferrous and non-ferrous metal, such as piercing, riveting, soldering, forging, and finishing processes. Emphasis is on composition and imagery. Fee course.

 Fee course.

Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Develops students' awareness of traditional and contemporary techniques used as the basis for fine and applied art. Devoted to materials and their methods of application, with most materials introduced via their traditional antecedents (for example, hide glue before modern epoxies). May be team taught. Lecture one hour; laboratory four hours. Fee course.

 Note: Sophomore status and above recommended.

 Fee course.

ART 86. Clay Sculpture.
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Arts (Area C1)
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Includes work with the various forms of hand-built sculpture in both low- and high-fire clay. Glazes are used sparingly to stress forms and their relationships. Fee course.

 Fee course.

ART 88. Beginning Sculpture.
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Arts (Area C1)
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Introduction to traditional and non-traditional processes of sculpture and three-dimensional forms in space. Students can expect to use the following materials: cardboard, clay, metals, plaster, plastics, wire and wood to explore the making of three-dimensional imagery. Investigations will include the formulation of ideas relative to sculptural problem solving while discovering historical and contemporary examples of sculpture. Fee course.

 Fee course.

ART 97. Beginning Electronic Art.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Explores the creative potential of imaging software used by visual artists. Familiarity with software, hardware and output devices will be established. The creation of digital art will be considered within the framework of current ideas in art and culture. No previous computer experience is necessary. Fee course.

 Fee course.

ART 100. Origins of American Indian Art.

Explores the major issues in the history of public art in the Americas, including monuments, memorials, murals, graffiti, and new media art. Particular attention will be given to public art in Sacramento. Field Trip. Field trip(s) may be required.

ART 119. Directed Research in Art History. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): Instructor permission and Department chair via signed petition form.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Open to upper division art majors or minors only who have completed 9 units in a specialized area. Note: May be repeated as often as approved by advisor and Department chair.

ART 120. Advanced Drawing. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): ART 20B or equivalent.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Continuing investigation of drawing. Emphasis is on the development of individual style. Note: May be taken twice for credit.

ART 121. BFA Junior Studio. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Junior-level studio art course designed to prepare students for the senior year of the BFA degree. Course builds dialog among an interdisciplinary cohort of BFA students while engaging them with contemporary professional practices in the arts. Emphasis placed on students’ ability to communicate about their work through critiques with faculty, peers, and visiting artists, preparation of professional documents and presentations. Fee course. Pre-requisite: Completion of a minimum of 3 units upper division studio coursework, second semester Junior standing with 75 units minimum. Fee course.

ART 122A. Intermediate Painting. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): ART 22 or equivalent.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Continuing investigation of the technical and conceptual issues of painting.
Note: May be taken twice for credit.

ART 122B. Advanced Painting. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): ART 122A, or ART 124A, or ART 125A, or ART 126, or ART 22 or equivalent.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Continuing investigation of the technical and conceptual issues of painting, with an emphasis on intensive individual exploration.
Note: May be repeated four times for credit.

ART 123. Figure Drawing. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): ART 20A or equivalent.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Concentrates on the development of drawing and visual skills with emphasis on the human figure. Strong emphasis is placed on anatomical knowledge of the body and its expression through drawing techniques. The effects of volume and movement in space as well as compositional possibilities with the figure are explored. Slides are used to inform students of the drawing techniques achieved in historic and contemporary images. Fee course.
Note: May be taken for credit three times.

Fee course.

ART 124A. Intermediate Watercolor. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): ART 24 or equivalent.
Term Typically Offered: Spring only – odd years

Continuing investigation of the technical and conceptual issues of painting, using transparent water media.
Note: May be taken twice for credit.

ART 124B. Advanced Watercolor. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): ART 124A or equivalent.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Continuing investigation of the techniques and conceptual issues of painting using transparent water media, with emphasis on intensive individual exploration.
Note: May be taken four times for credit.
ART 125A. Life Painting.
Prerequisite(s): ART 20A or equivalent.
Term Typically Offered: Fall only

Painting from professional models.
Note: May be taken for credit twice. Fee course.

Fee course.

ART 125B. Life Studio.
Prerequisite(s): ART 20A or equivalent.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Drawing and painting from professional models. Fee course.
Note: May be taken twice for credit.

Fee course.

ART 126. Painting and Drawing in the Field.
Prerequisite(s): ART 22 or ART 24, or equivalent.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Further development of painting and drawing skills with emphasis on direct observation and use of color to make form. Class will meet at specific landscape sites to work, with primary focus on painting. In addition, work will be developed in the classroom based on prior field study. Critiques will examine how one situation is variously interpreted.

ART 127. Collage and Assemblage.
Prerequisite(s): ART 20A, ART 22 and either ART 70 or ART 88 (or equivalent), or instructor permission.
Term Typically Offered: Spring only

Use of found and readily available materials to make 2-dimensional collage and 3-dimensional assemblage. Most projects are conceptual, a few purely visual, and take from one to three class periods, including critique, and class discussions.
Note: May be taken twice for credit. Fee Course

Fee course.

ART 128. Art and the Artist in the Marketplace.
Term Typically Offered: Spring only

Study of the thought processes and preparations for presenting one's artwork in the marketplace. An overview of what it takes to begin showing and selling artworks, including the skills and procedures of presenting artwork to galleries. A study of contracts, loan agreements, invoicing, commissions, model releases, taxes, pricing of work, resumes, slide preparation/presentation, publicity skills, and record keeping. Lecture, field trips to galleries and museums. Field trip(s) may be required.

ART 129. Painting/Drawing Studio.
Prerequisite(s): Instructor permission and Department chair via signed petition form.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Open to upper division art majors or minors only who have completed 9 units in a specialized area.
Note: May be repeated as often as approved by advisor and Department chair.

ART 130. Theories in Art Education.
Prerequisite(s): Upper division or graduate status; declared major in Art.
Term Typically Offered: Spring only

Overview of national and international theories in the fields of visual art and education through historical and contemporary literature with particular attention to strategies for engaging student populations in the topics.

ART 133. Art Education for Children.
Prerequisite(s): Upper division status; declared major or minor in Art, or a declared major in Child Development, or Liberal Studies, or Blended Liberal Studies
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring, Summer

Intended for students who are preparing to become elementary school teachers in California, providing meaningful, thematic instruction suitable for grades 1-6. Students will explore several 21st century education approaches applicable to both elementary generalists and visual art specialists, including meaning making, visual culture, holistic integration, learner-directed, and standards-based. Students will explore and evaluate the Common Core State Standards and the California Visual and Performing Arts Standards.
Note: Fee course.

Fee course.

ART 134. Interdisciplinary Art.
Prerequisite(s): ART 20A and upper division status.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Students learn how to make connections and relationships between visual art and curriculum subjects such as ecology, history, anthropology, language arts, theatre and music. Through studio activities and interdisciplinary themes, students will learn how to integrate the California Visual Art Content Standards.

ART 135. Overview of Secondary Art Education.
Prerequisite(s): ART 133 or instructor permission.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Exploration of visual art and education theories, studio practices, curriculum development, and teaching strategies for art at the secondary school level. Students will explore and evaluate the National Core Arts Standards.

ART 137. Art for Exceptional Children.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Art is studied as a means of meeting the learning needs of atypical children, whose ages range from infancy through adolescence, and whose atypical characteristics consist of mental deficiencies, physical disabilities, emotional problems, or gifted abilities. Lectures, readings, and class discussions focus on the characteristics, and art curriculum goals of exceptional children, while studio activities provide experiences with art media. Lecture, laboratory. Fee course.

Fee course.
ART 139. Directed Research in Art Education. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): Instructor permission and Department chair via signed petition form.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Open only to upper division art majors/minors who have successfully completed 9 units in a specialized area.
Note: May be repeated as often as approved by advisor and Department chair.

ART 140. Intermediate Printmaking. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): ART 40
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Intermediate-level study of printmaking processes, their history, and their contemporary applications. This course focuses on a single set of printmaking media each semester: Intaglio, Relief/Monotype, Lithography, or Screen Printing. Students will engage with the relationship between research, content, and process to develop a body of work through assigned and self-designed projects.
Note: Fee course. This course will carry a fee of $75 to cover ink, plates, and other supplies. This course may be repeated for up to 6 units of credit.

Fee course.

ART 141. Advanced Silkscreen. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): ART 40E or equivalent.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Advanced work in silkscreen including photo-silkscreen. Emphasis is on exploration of color and imagery.
Note: May be taken for credit four times.

ART 142. 3D Computer Modeling. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): CSC 10 or ART 97 or equivalent.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Techniques and processes to create 3D computer models and environments. Exercises, assignments and projects designed to build skill levels with 3D computer modeling tools. Demonstrations and workshops in the use of 3D computer modeling software. Critiques, discussion and presentations to develop students' conceptual grasp of 3D computer modeling and virtual reality environments. Example applications in art/new media and computer gaming.
Note: May be taken twice for credit. Cross-listed as CSC 126.

ART 143. 3D Computer Animation. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): ART 142 or CSC 126.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Creative skills and techniques for animating 3D computer-modeled objects/environments. Topics include animation techniques; keyframing and interpolation; deformation and morphing; path control; skeletal animation; model rigging and skinning; forward and inverse kinematics, constraints and IK solvers; particle systems; fluid, cloth, hair, and fur simulation; shape keys; and soft body animation. Emphasis on both skill development and creative application of modeling and animation techniques. Includes demos, in class and homework exercises, and self-directed projects.
Cross-listed: CSC 127.

ART 144. Digital Printmaking. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): ART 97 or equivalent.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Through traditional and digital print media, the course explores the convergence of digital imaging (vector and raster processes) and printmaking techniques (such as monoprint, lithography, etching and silkscreen). Vector graphics use geometry: points, lines and fills, creating crisp re-scaleable images. Raster graphics use a rectangular grid of pixels to create continuous-tone effects. By exploring these approaches and their transference to printmaking processes, students gain deeper understanding of print technology and a more tactile awareness of image making. Fee course.
Note: May be taken twice for credit.

Fee course.

ART 145. Advanced Printmaking Studio. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Advanced exploration of printmaking media (etching, lithography, relief, and monoprinting techniques) within a historical framework. Students investigate the printmaking techniques of historically significant figures and apply them to their own imagery.
Note: Open to students with experience in upper division painting or photography, or lower division printmaking. May be taken twice for credit.
Fee course.

Fee course.

ART 146. Creative Coding. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): ART 97 Fee course
Term Typically Offered: Fall only

Art Education (Single Subject Pre-Credential Preparation)

Units required for the Subject Matter Program: 48

Program Description

Courses in Art Education provide students with the knowledge and tools necessary to thrive as teachers in both K-12 and community settings. The Art Education program includes instruction in artistic perception; creative expression; historical and cultural foundations in art; aesthetic valuing; connections, relationships, and applications in art; visual art and education theories; and visual culture art education.

Art majors wishing to pursue a Single Subject Teaching Credential in Art in the College of Education must contact the Art Department's Credential Coordinator to have their transcripts evaluated for courses required for admission to the credential program and to have their single subject competency assessed.

Teaching credential candidates must also complete the Professional Education Program in the College of Education and meet the California art subject matter standards. Students interested in teaching art in public schools in California should get information from the Teaching Credentials Office in Eureka Hall 401 or the College of Education's Web site at http://www.csus.edu/coe/academics/credentials/.

Minimum Grade Requirement

Courses applied toward the Subject Matter program must be completed with a grade of "C" or higher.

BA in Art (Studio Arts Methods)

Units required for Major: 48
Total units required for BA: 120

Program Description

The Department of Art at Sacramento State introduces students to the expressive world of the visual arts. A wide variety of approaches based on both Western and Non-Western cultures are integrated into courses that are oriented toward creativity, imagination, and critical thinking. Students are able to explore art through courses in art education, art history, ceramics, metalsmithing/jewelry, new media art, painting, print making, and interdisciplinary sculpture.

Studio Art experiences develop the creative and artistic skills necessary for mastery of established styles and for exploration of new ones. They also reward students with an introduction to a lifetime appreciation of the arts.

Courses, programs, and exhibitions sponsored by the Art Department serve to engage students in the visual arts within a liberal arts context and to promote appreciation of the fine arts in the general student population. Fieldwork experiences can be arranged with the Crocker Art Museum, Sacramento Metropolitan Arts Commission, and other public and private art institutions and galleries in the Capital region. Opportunities to study art and art history abroad are available through the Office of International Programs and Global Engagement at Sacramento State and the California State University International Program. University credit can be obtained for a semester to a year of study at college and international centers in Britain, Europe, Latin America, Asia, Africa, and Australia.

California State University, Sacramento is an accredited institutional member of the National Association of Schools of Art and Design (NASAD).

Minimum Grade Requirements

A minimum grade of "C" is required in all courses applied to the Studio Art Methods concentration.

Notes:

- Whenever possible, classes should be selected in consultation with a faculty advisor.
- It is recommended that students complete a minimum of 75% of the lower division requirements (18 units) before enrolling in upper division courses while recognizing and following prerequisite requirements.
- Lower division prerequisites for some courses may be waived on the advisement of an Art instructor and a portfolio review.

BFA in Studio Art

Units required for Major: 75
Total units required for BFA: 120

Program Description

The Bachelor of Fine Arts in Art Studio is a four-year program that prepares students for successful careers as artists. It is the professional degree for an artist and provides the foundation for the master's program in studio art. While the B.F.A. program provides students with a broad overview of the fine art areas of ceramics, drawing, painting, printmaking, sculpture, interdisciplinary and new media art, it is designed to develop in-depth skills in one of these areas of the visual arts. The studio curriculum in the program emphasizes technical mastery, individuality, creative experimentation and prepares students for a variety of post-graduate pursuits. The curriculum also provides a thorough grounding in visual art thinking, contemporary art history and critical theory. The degree is designed for undergraduate students who want to combine intensive and innovative studio art practice with an outstanding education in the liberal arts.

Minimum Grade Requirements

A minimum grade of "C" is required in all lower division courses and upper division non-studio courses applied to the Studio Art program.

A minimum grade of "B" is required in all upper division studio courses.

Additional Requirements

Participation in an exhibition of BFA candidates is required for completion of the degree.

1. To help you complete your degree in a timely manner and not take more units than absolutely necessary, there are ways to use single courses to meet more than one requirement (overlap). For further information, please visit the General Education page (p. 1027).

   Note: There is no way to list all possible overlaps so please consult with a professional advisor. The Academic Advising Center can be visited online (http://www.csus.edu/acad), by phone (916) 278-1000, or email (advising@csus.edu).
2. Required in Major; also satisfies GE.
3. Upper-division Area C requirement met with ART 111, ART 117A, or ART 117B

Department recommends ART Elective that meets the WI Graduation Requirement; see Program Requirements table above.

Note: ART courses that meet the WI Graduation Requirement are displayed with a pencil icon.
MA in Art

Total units required for the MA: 30

Program Description

The Master of Arts program is designed to produce graduates with professional competence in studio disciplines. While acquiring those abilities, the student is also expected to develop skills used in the criticism and analysis of the visual arts. The Master of Arts degree at Sacramento State may serve as preparation for admission into a Master of Fine Arts (MFA) program at another institution.

The studio curriculum encourages integration of professional practice with historical and theoretical studies. The progression of classes facilitates the transition from student to independent artist through studies in ceramics, drawing, jewelry, metalsmithing, new media, painting, photography, printmaking, and sculpture. Special emphasis is placed on the development of individuality, depth, and professional competence in both technique and concepts.

Admission Requirements

Admission as a classified graduate student in art requires:

• a BA in Art or its equivalent, including 12 units in art history;
• a minimum 2.5 GPA in the last 60 units attempted;
• approval by Studio Art faculty review of other submitted materials (see Admission Procedures below); and
• English language proficiency. International students must pass the TOEFL examination. Advancement to candidacy requires passing English proficiency requirements. See below.

Applicants who have deficiencies in admission requirements that can be removed by specified additional preparation may be admitted with conditionally classified status. Any deficiencies will be noted on a written response to the student’s admission application.

Admission Procedures

Applicants must complete a university application and a separate departmental application by the posted application deadline dates for the term applying.

• an online application for admission; and
• official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended, other than Sacramento State. In addition, all materials listed below must be submitted to the Art Department by the posted deadline;
• the Art Department application form;
• official transcripts of all college work other than Sacramento State; and
• twenty slides of the applicant’s recent artwork in a carrousel tray (a description of each slide, listing size, medium, and date of composition, must be included).

For more admissions information and application deadlines, please visit http://www.csus.edu/gradstudies.

Minimum Units and Grade Requirement for the Degree

Units required for the MA: 30

Minimum Cumulative GPA: 3.0

Advancement to Candidacy

Each student must file an application for Advancement to Candidacy, indicating a proposed program of graduate study. This procedure should begin as soon as the classified graduate student has:

• removed any deficiencies in admission requirements;
• completed at least 12 units of 200-level courses in the graduate program with a minimum cumulative 3.0 GPA;
• taken the Writing Placement for Graduate Students (WPG) or taken a Graduate Writing Intensive (GWI) course in their discipline within the first two semesters of coursework at California State University, Sacramento or secured approval for a WPG waiver; and
• secured approval from the studio art faculty, based on a formal presentation of the student’s work.

Advancement to Candidacy forms are available on the Office of Graduate Studies Web site csus.edu/gradstudies/forms (http://www.csus.edu/gradstudies/forms). The student fills out the form after planning a degree program in consultation with his/her Art Department advisor. The completed form is then returned to the Office of Graduate Studies for approval.

Final Review

During the semester when the student expects to complete 30 units, the student should consult with the Graduate Coordinator and the student’s advisor in order to determine the details (such as the number of pieces and manner of presentation) of the final review, which is a culminating exhibition of student work. (Final reviews may be attempted only twice.)

Communication Studies

Program Description

Communication Studies is a broad-based discipline concerned with the exchange of messages in interpersonal and mediated situations and with the impact of such exchanges on society. Courses focus on understanding the communication process and developing skills to communicate effectively. The Department offers a wide range of courses in interpersonal, group, and organizational communication, rhetorical theory and criticism, public relations, mass communication and research methodologies.

The Sacramento State Journalism program provides both a general academic experience and professional preparation. Sacramento’s program emphasizes writing, editing, writing for interactive media, and other courses necessary to prepare students for success in media-related jobs; it also includes courses that critically examine media as an institution.

The Film Program offers interdisciplinary coursework in the areas of film production, history, theory, criticism, and writing. The Film major aims at developing a deeper understanding of the art and practice of film, its complex components, and the artists whose vision have inspired generations of filmmakers. All students are required to take a common core that provides a foundation for film criticism and production. After completing the core, students select either the film studies or film production track. Students are supervised by the Film Coordinator.

Degree Programs

Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Survey of dominant theories of instructional communication. Students read, study and critique prevailing bodies of literature which have a bearing on the study and practice of instructional communication. Theories are used to help students reflect on their own experiences as teachers and students and to generate new ideas for research in instructional communication.

COMS 222. Instructional Communication Practicum. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Examination of communication theory and research in instructional or training contexts. Designed for beginning teachers or organizational trainers. Centers on those communication principles which contribute to greater student/client learning and satisfaction. Emphasis on the development and implementation of instructional communication packages for adult learners.

COMS 228. Corporate Advocacy and Public Policy. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Explores "corporate advocacy" as a kind of rhetorical, persuasive transaction between Corporate America and those in its environment. Seeks to understand corporate America's role in the "policy process" (broadly defined), by analyzing the constituted authority for policy formation, the actual institutions involved in such formation, the interaction between/among these centers of power, the difference between authority and influence between/among these centers of power and influence, and how corporate America uses rhetorical messages to enhance various goals.

COMS 230. Computer-Mediated Communication. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Instruction and analysis of human and social Computer-Mediated Communications. Covers from how digital media affects representation and narrative to research on current uses of the Internet and the theoretical frameworks applied to summarize it. Includes a component of Computer Literacy that will help students understand Computer-Mediated Communication and use online collaborative tools efficiently. No previous computer knowledge is required.

COMS 285. Practicum for Teaching Associates in Communication Studies. 1 Unit
Prerequisite(s): COMS 200, COMS 201.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Open to students appointed as teaching associates in Communication Studies. Designed to facilitate the development, refinement, and maintenance of effective teaching methods and strategies. Note: May be repeated up to three times with permission of instructor.

Credit/No Credit

COMS 295. Internship in Communication Studies. 1 - 6 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Directed work experience in the internship program. Supervision is provided by both the instructional staff and the cooperating agency. Faculty and Graduate Committee approval required the semester prior to enrollment.

Credit/No Credit

COMS 297. Directed Study and Comprehensive Examination. 1 - 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): Must be advanced to candidacy.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Structured and supervised reading program for MA candidates preparing for comprehensive examinations. Should be taken after completion of all other requirements for the degree. Credit given upon successful completion of comprehensive examinations. Examining committee determines the number of units to be credited. Note: Open to students who have been advanced to candidacy and have secured permission of the chair of their examining committee and the Graduate Coordinator.

Credit/No Credit

COMS 298. Colloquium In Communication. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

A seminar on a communication topic of contemporary concern. Topic may change from semester to semester. May be taken for credit more than once, provided topic is not repeated.

COMS 299. Special Problems. 1 - 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Individual projects or directed reading open to students wishing to attempt independent work. Faculty and Graduate Committee approval required the semester prior to enrollment.

Credit/No Credit
COMS 500. Culminating Experience. 3 - 6 Units
Prerequisite(s): Advanced to candidacy and chair permission of his/her thesis or project committee.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Completion of a thesis or project approved for the Master's degree.
Thesis or project prospectus committees determine the number of units to be credited.

BA in Communication Studies (General Communication)

Units Required for Major: 39
Total units required for BA: 120

Program Description
Communication Studies is a broad-based discipline concerned with the exchange of messages in interpersonal and mediated situations and with the impact of such exchanges on society. Courses focus on understanding the communication process and developing skills to communicate effectively. The Department offers a wide range of courses in interpersonal, group, and organizational communication, rhetorical theory and criticism, public relations, mass communication, research methodologies, and digital media (video or multimedia).

This concentration is designed to:

- improve student awareness, understanding, and practice of communication in professional and social interactions;
- enhance the traditional citizenship role in the democratic process; and
- train students in communication skills in preparation for professions within the public or private sectors of the economy

BA in Communication Studies (Public Relations)

Units required for Major: 48

Total units required for BA: 120

Program Description

This concentration, developed from the Commission on Public Relations Education recommendations, is designed to:

- prepare students to assume professional entry level roles in the practice of public relations;
- help students understand the integration of public relations and marketing;
- prepare students to compose, develop, and analyze print and broadcast messages;
- help students to develop demonstrable competencies in writing, analyzing, problem-solving, and critical thinking;
- provide opportunities for testing public relations theory and practice, not only in the classroom, but in the field as well; and
- develop relationships with local public relations professionals as well as with community organizations.

Pre-Major Requirements

Prior to acceptance as a Communication Studies major, students must complete a pre-major consisting of all required lower division courses plus the upper division survey course (COMS 100A). Students must successfully complete each pre-major course with a grade of "C-" or better. Students with a Sacramento State grade point average of 2.3 or better may request early admission to the major.

General Requirements

- All Communication Studies majors except those in Mass Communication and Digital Media are required to complete at least one three-unit public speaking course such as COMS 4, COMS 104, or transfer equivalent. Public speaking courses taken to fulfill the GE oral communication requirement also fulfill this Department requirement.
- Majors must complete each core course and each option core course with a grade of "C-" or better.
- Not more than 6 units of debate, internship and/or individual study (see the following) can be applied to the major requirements.

MA in Communication Studies

Total Units required for the MA: 30

Program Description

A Master's degree can lead to doctoral or other professional education, or to advanced positions in business, public service, or government. The graduate program in Communication Studies is guided by two interrelated goals. First, that each student has the opportunity to study and conduct original communication research consistent with individual interests and abilities. Second, each student develop and follow a coherent, rigorous plan of study within the field of communication. Accordingly, a structured advising procedure has been established in the Department to help accomplish these two goals.
Document,” available from the Department, for details). As an integral part of a plan of study, each student will designate a series of courses to be completed for their degree with the assistance of their advisor and the approval of the Graduate Committee. A statement outlining the logic of the chosen courses will be required and will be reviewed by the Graduate Committee. Areas of faculty expertise include (but are not limited to):

- Mediated Communication
- Organizational Communication
- Instructional Communication
- Rhetoric and Criticism
- Political Communication
- Intercultural/International Communication
- Social Interaction

As mentioned above, this program, culminating in the Master of Arts in Communication Studies, is designed for the student who subsequently will pursue a doctoral degree or a professional career. The program is NOT designed for students who wish to train in production or presentational skills which are taught at the undergraduate level in the Sacramento State Communication Studies Department.

Admission Requirements
Admission as a classified graduate student in Communication Studies is based on the assessment of individual credentials by the Graduate Committee, but requires at least:

- a 3.0 overall GPA or 3.25 GPA in the last 60 undergraduate units;
- a grade "B-" or better in the following (or equivalent courses):

<table>
<thead>
<tr>

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
- a clearly written statement of purpose for pursuing this particular MA degree. This statement is part of the application to the graduate program and should explain the applicant’s career and academic goals, specifying how the program will help to accomplish these goals, and explain the applicant’s motivation for pursuing those goals;
- three letters of recommendation indicating the applicant’s abilities and potential for completing graduate work successfully. These letters should assess at least the student’s abilities to perform well in academic courses; to conduct research independently; to express ideas well in writing and orally; and to think critically, analytically, and creatively;
- Graduate Record Exam (GRE) verbal, quantitative, and analytical scores;
- an earned baccalaureate degree, and
- two examples of writing that indicate research, analytical, and/or creative abilities.

Admission Procedures
Applicants are strongly encouraged to apply several months prior to the semester first enrollment is sought. All application materials must be received before any evaluation begins. Applicants must complete a separate university application by the posted application deadline date for the term applying. For more admissions information and application deadlines, please visit http://www.csus.edu/gradstudies/:

- an online application for admission; and
- two sets of official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended, other than Sacramento State.

A decision regarding admission will be mailed to the applicant.

Minimum Units and Grade Requirement for the Degree
Units required for the MA: 30
Minimum cumulative GPA: 3.0. No course with a grade lower and "B-" may apply towards the degree

Advancement to Candidacy
Near the completion of coursework each student must submit an Advancement to Candidacy form, with his or her major advisor and graduate coordinator’s approval, to the Office of Graduate Studies. This procedure may begin upon satisfactory completion of the following:

- all deficiencies in admission requirements removed;
- all undergraduate course deficiencies, as noted as conditions on application response;
- the following with a grade “B-“ or better:

Journalism

Department of Communication Studies

Program Description
The Sacramento State Journalism program provides both a general academic experience and professional preparation. Sacramento’s program emphasizes writing, editing, writing for interactive media, and other courses necessary to prepare students for success in media-related jobs; it also includes courses that critically examine media as an institution.
Journalism majors are the core of students who write for The State Hornet, a weekly newspaper with a website updated daily at The State Hornet’s Website (http://www.statehornet.com).

A student at Sacramento State may major either in Journalism or in Political Science-Journalism. A minor in Journalism is valuable to the student entering a career field in which journalism plays a role.

The Journalism graduate who wants to work for a newspaper should expect to serve an apprenticeship with a small newspaper before moving up to a metropolitan daily. Journalism graduates also work as magazine editors and writers, as publications employees in government agencies and associations, in broadcast journalism, and in public affairs.

Degree Programs
BA in Journalism (p. 155)
BA in Political Science/Journalism (p. 154)
Minor in Journalism (p. 157)

Special Features
• The location of Sacramento State in the state’s capital provides uncommon advantages for the student interested in journalism. Many students take internships with state agencies or news operations that provide both experience and opportunities unlikely to be found elsewhere.
• Sacramento State offers the only Political Science-Journalism degree program in the nation, tailored to take advantage of the Department’s location at the hub of state politics. The Department has more than 100 internships available to upper-division journalism majors.
• Journalism majors have the opportunity to take classes from both Department faculty and community journalists. The full-time faculty are practicing professionals who contribute regularly to publications on a freelance basis. Good use is also made of professionals from the area media both as guest lecturers and as part-time instructors.
• The University’s association with the Washington Center makes it possible for CSU Sacramento students to undertake internships in Washington, D.C. There are many opportunities for Political Science/Journalism majors to do an internship to meet their unique interests through this program.

BA in Journalism

Units required for Major: 40
Total units required for BA: 120

Program Description

The Sacramento State Journalism program educates its students in ethical, accurate, and compassionate storytelling. We engage our community using new technology and innovative methods in order to enlighten the public and monitor the powerful. Our students become committed and versatile professionals with a strong background in both journalism theory and practice.

Sacramento State’s program emphasizes research, writing and editing for interactive media, and other courses necessary to prepare students for success in media-related jobs; it also includes courses that critically examine media as an institution.

Journalism majors write The State Hornet (https://statehornet.com), a weekly print newspaper and daily multimedia publication.
A journalism degree prepares students for a variety of careers and graduate studies. Graduates work as journalists in a diverse range of media, as public relations representatives, and as communications staff for government agencies, non-profits, and other organizations.

Pre-Major to Journalism

Prior to acceptance as a Journalism major, students must first complete a pre-major consisting of all required lower division courses plus JOUR 130A and JOUR 130B. Students must successfully complete each pre-major course with a "C-" or better.

Students with a Sacramento State grade point average of 2.3 or better may request early admission to the major.

JOUR 130A and JOUR 130B. Students must successfully complete each pre-major course with a "C-" or better.

Students with a Sacramento State grade point average of 2.3 or better may request early admission to the major.

Minimum Grade Requirement

Majors must complete each required lower and upper division course with a grade of "C-" or better.

Minor in Journalism

Units required for Minor: 21

Program Description

The Sacramento State Journalism program provides both a general academic experience and professional preparation. Sacramento's program emphasizes writing, editing, writing for interactive media, and other courses necessary to prepare students for success in media-related jobs; it also includes courses that critically examine media as an institution.

Journalism majors are the core of students who write for The State Hornet, a weekly newspaper with a website updated daily at www.statehornet.com (http://www.statehornet.com).

A student at Sacramento State may major either in Journalism or in Government-Journalism. A minor in Journalism is valuable to the student entering a career field in which journalism plays a role.

The Journalism graduate who wants to work for a newspaper should expect to serve an apprenticeship with a small newspaper before moving up to a metropolitan daily. Journalism graduates also work as magazine editors and writers, as publications employees in government agencies and associations, in broadcast journalism, and in public affairs.

Design

College of Arts and Letters

Program Description

The Department of Design is part of the School of the Arts, within the College of Arts and Letters. The Department prepares its students for a wide range of career opportunities in the fields of Graphic Design, Interior Design, and Photography. Our graduates are trained to work creatively and to explore new possibilities in their respective media while at the same time providing the highest quality of professional services to their clients.

The Department of Design recognizes that the environments in which we live and work are shaped by an ever-increasing quantity of visual information. This information, in the form of two and three dimensional images, comes to us from a variety of sources that utilize both traditional and technologically advanced modes of visual communication. To a greater extent than at any other point in our history, artists and designers are dissolving the boundaries between two and three dimensional visualization.

The Department of Design is well positioned to respond to the multifaceted nature of today's visual arts. By offering degree programs in Graphic Design, Interior Design, and Photography we are able to train our students in a wide range of visual and design practices that play a part in creating our built environment. Students in the Department typically take a group of core courses that introduces them to a vocabulary of shared visual concepts and techniques before moving on to advanced study in their selected field.

The Department of Design offers a Bachelor of Arts in Photography and Interior Design, and a Bachelor of Science in Graphic Design. Programs in the Department are accredited by NASAD (Graphic Design, Interior Design and Photography) and CIDA (Interior Design).

The curriculum in the Graphic Design program at California State University, Sacramento has been developed to prepare students for professional practice and/or preparation for admission to graduate level study.

The Graphic Design program is part of the Department of Design which houses majors Interior Design and Photography. This combination provides a unique collection of disciplines and broadens the student's exposure to professions they will potentially be working with in the future.

The course of study is a layered exploration that starts with fundamental principles of visual communication paired with an intensive introduction to the creative process. Each successive layer builds in complexity to encompass technical, conceptual, and research challenges that culminates with a series of classes devoted to professional practice. Historical perspective and ethical concerns are addressed throughout the curriculum. The program's goal is to provide the community with a comprehensive visual problem solver that has a strong aesthetic ability coupled with a clear understanding of the strategic and conceptual challenges facing them in practice.

The faculty in the Graphic Design program have diverse and extensive expertise in the field and continue to work in the profession. Exhibitions and lectures by nationally recognized designers, field trips, and guest instruction add further exposure to professional practice and methodology. Students have been recognized in national competitions, as well as community and campus exhibitions.

Work experience is highly valued in the field of graphic design, and internships, for academic credit, provide students with practical, hands-on experience. Faculty members are instrumental in coordinating a wide range of student internships at highly respected firms and organizations throughout the region. Service learning is also a strong component of hands-on opportunities available through the program.

Graphic Design majors form an active student group called G.R.I.D.S (Graphic Resources and Information Design Students). This group is also a student chapter of the AIGA the professional association for design. Students meet regularly and organize workshops, field trips, and lectures. These activities increase understanding and exposure to the graphic design field. G.R.I.D.S also provides internal networking opportunities that offers members support as they pursue their studies in design.

Being located in California's capital city, Sacramento offers a wealth of cultural, professional, and employment opportunities. Graduates from the Graphic Design program at Sacramento State have secured positions in design and multimedia firms, advertising agencies, and major corporations.

GPHD 5.  Introduction to Graphic Design.
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Arts (Area C1)
Term Typically Offered: Fall only

Introduction to the field of Graphic Design. Subjects include career possibilities, current trends, issues and practices in the industry. The basic theory, techniques and practices involved in solving a visual communication problem will also be introduced.

GPHD 10.  Introduction to Digital Design.
Term Typically Offered: Spring only

Designed to familiarize students with basic understanding of the digital hardware, software, and vocabulary utilized by visual artists from a variety of disciplines. Discussions and activities will cover both creative and efficient application of digital tools and techniques. Students will complete assignments utilizing a variety of applications which may include page layout, illustration, digital image processing, and 3-D rendering software.

GPHD 20.  History Of Graphic Design.
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Arts (Area C1)
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Overview of the history of graphic design. Emphasis on symbol, type, and image development, from early pictographs to modern communication design.

Prerequisite(s): ART 20A or Pre - Interior Design Major.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Provides a basic understanding of how visual structures are created and interpreted. Students study the main components of visual structures, become familiar with basic laws of color, and learn the basics of the gestalt principles of visual organization.

GPHD 30.  Visual Basics II.
Prerequisite(s): GPHD 25
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Introduction to the tools, materials and methodologies of the creative process in graphic design. Students study the main components of visual structures, become familiar with basic laws of color, and learn the basic principles of visual organization. The skill of rapid prototyping, through the processes of idea development, thumbnailing, sketching, and mockup, will be covered. Basic concepts in visual systems and graphic message making will be introduced. A special emphasis will be placed on craftsmanship in this course.

GPHD 120.  Typography I.
Prerequisite(s): DSGN 4, INTD 20, INTD 25, PHOT 20, PHOT 11, GPHD 5, GPHD 20, GPHD 25, GPHD 30, and acceptance into the major via supplemental application.
Corequisite(s): GPHD 125 Fee course.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Explores the history and perceptual development of typography and its application in design solutions. Theoretical constructs of typography as they relate to legibility, clarity, composition and output will be addressed. Techniques using compositional layout applications will be covered with an emphasis in typographic accuracy and efficiency as well as preparation of digital files for proper output in a variety of digital and analog formats.
Fee course.

GPHD 122.  Design Production and Management.
Prerequisite(s): GPHD 5 or GPHD 20, and ART 20A, PHOT 40, GPHD 10, GPHD 20, GPHD 25, GPHD 30, and a declared GPHD major.
Corequisite(s): GPHD 120, GPHD 125.
Term Typically Offered: Fall only

Introduction to project management techniques specific to the creative business and technical processes for graphic design. Orchestration of image editing, vector and compositing software will be covered with an emphasis in accuracy and efficiency. Various codes and regulations related to graphic design will be reviewed.

GPHD 125.  Graphic Design Systems I.
Prerequisite(s): DSGN 4, GPHD 5, GPHD 20, GPHD 25, GPHD 30, INTD 20, INTD 25, PHOT 11, PHOT 20, and acceptance into the major via supplemental application.
Corequisite(s): GPHD 120 Fee course.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Introduction to the language and perception of design as it is applied to systems. Complex visual structures are created, used in composition and interpreted. Techniques on ideation, design thinking, storyboarding and presentation are covered. Color theory as an integral component of message is addressed. Introduction to project management techniques specific to the creative business and technical processes for graphic design.

Fee course.

GPHD 130.  Typography II.
Prerequisite(s): GPHD 120, GPHD 125.
Corequisite(s): GPHD 135. Fee course.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Advanced typography and its relationship with message. Application of typographic principles to a diverse series of graphic design problems utilizing type and image. Techniques in using a range of digital tools to execute solutions are reviewed.

Fee course.

GPHD 135.  User Interface Design.
Prerequisite(s): GPHD 120, GPHD 125
Corequisite(s): GPHD 130
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Emphasis is on design of a user-centered experience in an interactive environment. Enables the students to understand the characteristics of relevant technology and select appropriate forms and functions to create specific experience for users. Introduction to formative research techniques to establish context and audience and summative research techniques to determine success of screen based design solutions.

GPHD 140.  User Experience Design.
Prerequisite(s): GPHD 130, GPHD 135
Corequisite(s): GPHD 145
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Emphasis on the development of conceptual themes, formal exploration, and user-centered interaction in time-based design. Enables the students to create vital experiences using text, sound, image, motion, and interactivity. The ability to compile, use, and defend relevant formative and summative research in creation of an appropriate design solution will be covered.
GPHD 142. Advanced Graphic Design I.
Prerequisite(s): GPHD 130, GPHD 135.
Corequisite(s): GPHD 140, GPHD 145.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Builds on established research, process and project management techniques and provides students with the opportunity to focus on a practical investigation in design. Theoretical, professional, and historical issues facing the design profession will be reviewed. Development of both visual and written research material will culminate in an oral presentation and then be applied to an appropriate project.

GPHD 145. Typography II.
Prerequisite(s): GPHD 130, GPHD 135.
Corequisite(s): GPHD 140 Fee course.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Builds on established research, process, and project management techniques and provides students with the opportunity to focus on a practical investigation in design. Development of both visual and written research material will culminate in an oral presentation and then be applied to an appropriate project. Semiotics as applied to advanced design problems will be discussed. Image making will be stressed in this course as students experiment with techniques and media including, but not limited to, photography and illustration. Fee course.

GPHD 150. Professional Practice.
Prerequisite(s): GPHD 140, GPHD 145.
Corequisite(s): GPHD 155.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Introduction to the concepts and tools used to present credentials for entry into practice or advanced study. Development of the graphic design portfolio and communications package. Discussions will cover such topics as networking, interview tips, employment issues, and presentation skills. Projects refine the student’s individual design process and advance their understanding of professional practice. Professional, business, and ethical issues facing the design profession will be reviewed. Development of visual presentations, written material, and oral presentations will be required.

GPHD 152. Advanced Graphic Design II.
Prerequisite(s): GPHD 140, GPHD 142, GPHD 145.
Corequisite(s): GPHD 150, GPHD 155.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Advanced course in graphic design that requires students to provide solutions to real world design problems. Helps refine the students individual design process and advance their understanding of professional practice. Professional, business, and ethical issues facing the design profession will be reviewed. Development of both visual and written material will be required in a group environment as well as oral and visual presentations of this material.

GPHD 155. Graphic Design Systems II.
Prerequisite(s): GPHD 140, GPHD 145.
Corequisite(s): GPHD 150 Fee course.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Advanced study of visual systems as applied to branding and wayfinding. Construction of visual systems for an expansive multi-dimensional design solutions will be covered. Introduction to methods, techniques, and approaches of emotion-driven brand development. Application of syntactic, semantic, and pragmatic aspects of pictorial design systems to wayfinding system development. Exploration of the interplay between environmental conditions and human culture impact decisions in wayfinding system development. Fee course.

GPHD 195. Fieldwork in Graphic Design.
Prerequisite(s): Upper division status; GPA of 2.5 or above; GPHD 130, GPHD 135; instructor permission.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Directed observation and supervised work experience in an approved business, government, or service agency. Internships are offered to increase student understanding of the nature and scope of agency operations and giving students orientation in occupational specialties. Supervision is provided by authorized persons in the cooperating agencies and collaborative supervision is provided by the Graphic Design faculty. Minimum of three hours per week per unit of credit is required. Each student maintains a record of activities and assignments and prepares periodic reports.

Note: Students must make arrangements with a faculty member for a work program prior to admittance. No more than 6 units of GPHD 195 may be counted toward the major.

Credit/No Credit

GPHD 199. Special Problems.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Individual projects or directed projects open to students who wish to attempt independent work.

Note: Faculty approval is required. No more than 6 units of GPHD 199 may be counted toward a Graphic Design degree.

Credit/No Credit

BFA in Graphic Design

Units required for major: 78
Minimum units required for BFA: 121

Program Description

The Bachelor of Fine Arts in Graphic Design has been developed to prepare students for professional practice and/or preparation for admission to graduate level study.

The course of study is a layered exploration that starts with fundamental principles of visual communication paired with an intensive introduction to the creative process. Exposure to multiple facets of two and three-dimensional design opens up the students’ ability to engage in interdisciplinary work. Each successive layer builds in complexity to encompass technical, conceptual, and research challenges that run concurrently with a series of classes devoted to professional practice. Historical perspective and ethical concerns are addressed throughout the curriculum. A series of curated electives provide an additional conduit for students to explore possible interdisciplinary connections in their future design practice. The program’s goal is to provide the community with a comprehensive visual problem solver that has a strong aesthetic ability coupled with a clear understanding of the strategic and conceptual challenges facing them in practice.

Admission Requirements

The Graphic Design program at Sacramento State is one of the most highly sought-after programs in Northern California. Due to the large number of applicants, the program is officially impacted and enrollment in upper division coursework is subject to a supplemental application.

The application for admission includes completion of a specific set of required lower division prerequisites and submission of a portfolio. Portfolio specifications and application procedures are available on the Department of Design website (http://csus.edu/design). It is highly recommended that interested students speak with a Graphic Design advisor as soon as possible.

Minimum Grade Requirement

Students wishing to become Graphic Design majors must complete a series of required lower division courses with a grade of "C" or better and then must apply for admission to the program.

Prerequisite Lower Division Course Requirements

When submitting an application with the required portfolio students must have completed or be enrolled in the following courses:

Interior Design

College of Arts and Letters, Department of Design

Program Description

The Interior Design Program at California State University, Sacramento has a regional reputation as a leading design school, and is (see Special Features) recognized as a nationally accredited program. The four year program leads to a Bachelor of Arts degree in Interior Design with a concentration in Interior Architecture.

The Interior Architecture concentration provides students with the technical, creative, and critical thinking skills needed to enter the Interior Design profession. The breadth of courses in the concentration reflects the importance of both a liberal arts background and professional preparation in the design field. Courses encompass the study of design history and theory, aesthetics, graphics, lighting, space planning, computer-aided design, interior construction, and professional practice. The Interior Architecture curriculum provides comprehensive coverage in all the major areas of training, including concept development, design, communication, presentation, construction, and professional services.
Many of the course assignments are based on actual design projects. Guest lecturers and professional panel critiques and discussions as well as building tours of outstanding projects are all important parts of the curriculum. Community service projects also help to maintain a strong connection to the community and profession.

Four full-time faculty and several practicing professional architects and interior designers teach in the Interior Design Program. Faculty have expertise in architecture, design history, residential and commercial interiors, lighting, space planning, and computer-aided design. Since part-time faculty are drawn from the profession and include licensed architects, and certified interior designers, students receive firsthand exposure to professional practice methods and techniques. The high level of teaching, coupled with a structured internship experience, prepares California State University, Sacramento students for successful careers in the interior design profession.

Students have an opportunity to travel with faculty to Italy during the summer to study design as a part of the advanced history option. Another outstanding feature of the Interior Design program is the senior internship program with well over 100 businesses and government agencies as active sponsors. Many students gain employment as a direct result of their internship placement.

When students begin taking upper division studio courses they are required to own a laptop computer and the appropriate software to create two and three dimensional drawings and renderings. Before purchasing, please consult your major advisor or the department office for specific minimum requirements for the laptop computer and software.

Accreditation
In addition to California State University, Sacramento's full accreditation by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges, the Bachelor of Arts in Interior Design is also individually accredited by the Counsel of Interior Design Accreditation (CIDA).

Licensure and Credentialing Disclosure
Admission into programs leading to licensure and credentialing does not guarantee that students will obtain a license or credential. Licensure and credentialing requirements are set by agencies that are not controlled by or affiliated with the CSU and requirements can change at any time. For example, licensure or credentialing requirements can include evidence of the right to work in the United States (e.g., social security number or tax payer identification number) or successfully passing a criminal background check. Students are responsible for determining whether they can meet licensure or credentialing requirements. The CSU will not refund tuition, fees, or any associated costs, to students who determine subsequent to admission that they cannot meet licensure or credentialing requirements. Information concerning licensure and credentialing requirements are available from the Dean of Undergraduate Studies, Sacramento Hall 234, (916) 278-5344.

Special Features
- The Interior Design program is accredited by the Council of Interior Design Accreditation (CIDA) and by the National Association of Schools of Art and Design (NASAD). The four-year major leads to a Bachelor of Arts degree in Interior Design with a concentration in Interior Architecture.
- Sacramento State Interior Design students have been award winners in numerous design competitions.
- Students are often involved in community design projects as well as projects on our growing campus.
- The Interior Design program at Sacramento State has an active student club (PRINTS) representing the American Society of Interior Designers (ASID) and the International Interior Design Association (IIDA). Monthly meetings feature guest speakers from the professional community and include workshops and field trip events.
- A summer travel study program to Italy offers students an opportunity to learn about European design and architecture.
- The internship program places students in professional organizations ranging from architecture and interior design firms to furniture companies, corporations, and government agencies.
- California State University, Sacramento, located in the state capital, is less than 100 miles from the San Francisco Bay Area. This location offers a wealth of professional employment opportunities. Graduates from our program at California State University, Sacramento have secured positions in architectural firms, interior design firms, government agencies, private corporations, furniture manufacturing companies, and design.

Photography
College of Arts and Letters, Department of Design

Program Description
The Bachelor of Arts Degree in Photography major is comprised of coursework from the Department of Design within the College of Arts and Letters at California State University, Sacramento. The program is administered by the Department of Design, which also offers degrees in Graphic Design and Interior Design. The Photography program is the only B.A. granting program specializing in photography in the CSU system. The program's curriculum engages students in relevant photographic technical and aesthetic concerns, as well as the history and theory of photographic practice, past and present. The program's goal is to ground students in the rich variety of cultural practices necessary to be an effective visual communicator in today's wide and varied field.

Degree Program
BA in Photography (p. 167)

Special Features
- The Department of Design offers student scholarships.
- Among the facilities available for Photography students is a large digital lab furnished with Macintosh computers, large format inkjet printers, and film and flatbed scanners. There is also an alternative process facility, a well-equipped chemical darkroom, and a studio lighting facility.
- The Photography program has a generous collection of equipment available for student checkout that includes small, medium and large format cameras, various lenses, tripods, and portable lighting equipment.
- A Design Department gallery on the 4th floor of Mariposa Hall that regularly exhibits student work.

Career Possibilities
Photography is one of the most widely used forms of visual communication in our world today. As the technology to create and share visual imagery has become more accessible and expedient, photographs have taken on a vital role in how we share complex visual information. We use it both to form and communicate the sense of who and what we are via social media, and it is an important tool in the material and mental exploration and interpretation of our world. The Photography degree at Sacramento State prepares students to thoughtfully engage in the production, interpretation, and presentation of photographic images, asking them to consider how these images can be created and used in the world, whether in personal, social, or professional contexts. While gaining technical skills in the production of photographs, students engage rigorously in the conceptual discourse surrounding photographic images (their use and meaning) and are encouraged to consider the application of photographs broadly and with flexibility. Students who earn a degree in Photography can bring this expertise to all career fields, whether these are the more traditional photographic careers that occur in the fine arts, commercial photography, journalism, or editorial work, or in the any of the myriad professions that need and rely on photographic imagery to help define, gather, and assess information, or communicate who and what they are.

PHOT 11. Digital Imaging. 3 Units
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Arts (Area C1)
Term Typically Offered: Fall only
Acquaints students with digital photographic equipment and techniques. Lecture and demonstrations will cover hardware (cameras, computers, scanners and printers) and software used to create digital images. Ethical and legal issue will be discussed. Portfolio of digital photographs created in the computer lab required.

PHOT 12. Digital Photography II. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): PHOT 11. Fee course.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
An introduction to composited photographic images. Course provides a broad primer to digital editing and compositing techniques. Lectures and discussions provide artistic and ethical context for contemporary photographic practice. Fee course.

PHOT 15. Survey of Photography. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

PHOT 20. The Photographic Self. 3 Units
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Understanding Personal Development (E)
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Focuses on photography’s influence on notions of self from its inception in 1938 to the present. Enhances students’ understanding of how and why photography became the powerful and ubiquitous tool that shaped a new form of visual self-expression.
PHOT 40. Basic Techniques of Photography.  3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Spring only
Introduction to basic camera and darkroom techniques. Concepts of visual organization, design and using light effectively are emphasized. Lecture two hours; laboratory three hours.

PHOT 101. Photography, Inception to Mid-Century.  3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall only
Introduces students to the history of photography, from inception to Mid-20th Century. Practices of photographers and artists, working with photographic technologies, will be discussed. The course examines photographic vision and the impact of the medium through lectures and readings by art historians and photographers. Cross-listed: ART 101.

PHOT 102. Photography, a Social History.  3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Spring only
Examines photographic vision and the impact of the medium on society through readings by both photographers and photographic critics. Establishes the importance of photography as a contemporary medium, explores the development of photographic vision and the relationship between photographs and cultural events. Lecture/discussion.

PHOT 111. Intermediate Digital Imaging.  3 Units
Prerequisite(s): PHOT 11 and PHOT 40; declared Photography majors only
Corequisite(s): PHOT 141 and PHOT 101
Term Typically Offered: Fall only
Covers intermediate to advanced concepts and techniques in digital photographic imaging, providing students with the ability to explore both new and previously mastered software and hardware applications. Emphasis is on using digital techniques to create and print effective and imaginative color photographs. Lectures and demonstrations cover capture, manipulation, color management and pre-press techniques for a variety of output devices.

PHOT 141. Intermediate Black and White Photography.  3 Units
Prerequisite(s): PHOT 11 and PHOT 40; declared Photography majors only
Corequisite(s): PHOT 111 and PHOT 101
Term Typically Offered: Fall only
This course focuses on the development of the photographer’s vision through the Zone System, black and white materials and the 4X5 view camera. The Zone System is used to control negative exposure and contrast, enhance print pre-visualization and to create quality gelatin-silver prints. Though this class concentrates on advancing student’s technical proficiency a significant portion of the class is dedicated to aesthetic concerns in photography.

PHOT 148. Artificial Light, Studio.  3 Units
Prerequisite(s): PHOT 111 and PHOT 141
Corequisite(s): PHOT 102 and PHOT 155
Term Typically Offered: Spring only
A commercially oriented course with assignments covering such topics as food, fashion and products photographed with artificial light in the studio. Business, legal and ethical practices in commercial and editorial photography are discussed as they apply to work done in a studio setting. Students are expected to become visually and technically competent with artificial light sources used in a studio setting.

PHOT 149. Artificial Light, Location.  3 Units
Prerequisite(s): PHOT 148 and PHOT 155
Corequisite(s): PHOT 165
Term Typically Offered: Fall only
A location lighting course covering the use of artificial light and non-studio photography. Assignments cover such topics as: interior and exterior architecture, food and fashion shot on location. Techniques for combining the use of hot lights, electronic flash and ambient light are discussed. Students will use a body of work demonstrating their visual and technical understanding of artificial light sources for editorial and commercial application.

PHOT 155. Advanced Photography Techniques.  3 Units
Prerequisite(s): PHOT 111 and PHOT 141
Corequisite(s): PHOT 102 and PHOT 148
Term Typically Offered: Spring only
Explores advanced techniques in the production of photographic imagery, with special emphasis on the hybridization of photographic processes. Lectures cover advanced chemical and digital photographic procedures in camera use and printing techniques. Students must demonstrate a high level of visual awareness and technical competency, and must be willing to take risks in the creative application of photographic processes.

PHOT 161. Photography in the Field.  3 Units
Prerequisite(s): PHOT 141 or instructor permission.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
The class visits specific sites followed by a group critique of the resulting photographic work. The course objective is to examine how one situation can be interpreted by many varied sensibilities, broadening the artist’s visual vocabulary. Students are required to create visually unified portfolio that demonstrates a sense of place.

Cross-listed: ART 161.

PHOT 162. Alternative Photographic Processes.  3 Units
Prerequisite(s): PHOT 141 or instructor permission.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Studio course exploring alternative photographic processes that may include: printing-out paper, new cyanotype, argyrotype, and platinum-palladium. Slide discussions, individual and class critiques. Cross-listed: ART 162.

PHOT 163. Pinhole Photography.  3 Units
Prerequisite(s): PHOT 40 or equivalent.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Intermediate course investigating the theory, history, and practice of pinhole photography. Use of student-made pinhole cameras of varying focal lengths using black and white and color materials. Emphasis on creative approach in both camera making and image formation, supported by intermediate-level photographic technique. Individual final portfolios and group exhibition of cameras and prints at conclusion of course. Cross-listed: ART 163.
PHOT 165. Issues in Contemporary Photographic Practice. 5 Units
Prerequisite(s): PHOT 148 and PHOT 155 Fee course.
Term Typically Offered: Fall only

Covers advanced problems in the process of creating photographic work. Emphasis is on the ways which content/form relationships within a body of work are informed by the artist's conceptual and material engagement, as well as the way in which process and context shape meaning in photographic work. Course centers on readings in contemporary theory and aesthetics, discussion, the production of photographic work, and critique.

Note: Type III Fee, $45

Fee course.

PHOT 175. Studio Topics in Photography. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): PHOT 149 and PHOT 165
Corequisite(s): PHOT 180
Term Typically Offered: Spring only

This class is a broad investigation of photography's potential. Each semester the class concentrates on a photographic strategy including but not limited to: documentary, journalism, fabrication, image and text, and the archive. Students are introduced to photography's varied application, new developments and conversations in the medium. Readings and discussions will enlist a range of theoretical and critical approaches. Course center on readings, discussion, production of photographic work and critique.

PHOT 180. Senior Portfolio. 5 Units
Prerequisite(s): PHOT 165 Fee course
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Arts (Area C1)
Term Typically Offered: Spring only

A senior level course aimed at furthering student's knowledge of postgraduate opportunities. The required final portfolio of images will reflect the student's photographic education, experience and area of expertise. The content and format of this portfolio will depend on the student's future academic or professional goals.

Note: Type III Fee $45.00

PHOT 195. Internship In Photography. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): A minimum of two upper division photography courses.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

1. To help you complete your degree in a timely manner and not take more units than absolutely necessary, there are ways to use single courses to meet more than one requirement (overlap). For further information, please visit the General Education page (p. 1027).

Note: There is no way to list all possible overlaps so please consult with a professional advisor. The Academic Advising Center can be visited online (http://www.csus.edu/acad), by phone (916) 278-1000, or email (advising@csus.edu).

2. Required in Major; also satisfies GE.

English

College of Arts and Letters

Program Description

The English department of California State University, Sacramento, is a community of teachers, scholars, writers, and support staff whose primary mission is to promote learning in composition, creative writing, English education, linguistics, literature, and the teaching of English as a second language. The department seeks to help students acquire knowledge, develop skills, and realize their own intellectual and creative goals.

At the undergraduate and graduate levels, the English Department presents a broad and balanced curriculum designed to develop the reading and writing skills, the interpretative abilities, and the cultural awareness of its students by maintaining and enhancing a tradition of strong teaching, solid scholarship, and vigorous support of creative literary activity.

Special Features

- A Course Description Booklet giving detailed descriptions of courses to be offered in the next semester, together with statements of requirements for the major and minor and for the graduate program, will be available on the English Department Web site a month or so before registration materials are issued. All students are assigned an English faculty advisor; students are encouraged to consult with them in planning schedules. English majors and minors are urged to examine their career goals early in their program and to discuss their plans with English Department faculty advisors.

- Qualified upper division and graduate students may apply for paid assistantships or associateships in the English Department. Student Assistants and Graduate Assistants usually work from 10 to 20 hours per week at such tasks as tutoring and clerical assistance. Teaching Associates normally teach one section of composition each semester for up to three semesters. Information is available on the English Department website.
• Internships are available for academic credit and career training governmental agencies, businesses, community colleges, and other institutions and organizations.

• Students interested in the various aspects of publication are encouraged to become involved in the student-produced Calaveras Station Literary Journal, a professional-quality journal of student work published annually. Submissions, solicited in fall semester, are open to all Sacramento State students.

General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Writing Intensive Graduation Requirement (WI), Arts (Area C1)
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Non-technical approach to Shakespeare’s most representative dramatic works, designed for the non-major. Focuses upon Shakespeare’s typical themes, conventions, and techniques, his development of character and situation, and his relationship to the culture and values of both his own and subsequent ages.

ENGL 141B. Shakespeare and Popular Culture. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

The works of William Shakespeare circulate in our culture in a wide variety of ways - in music, art, dance, film, television, advertising, management manuals, self-help books, etc. sometimes staying close to the original texts and at other times barley skimming the surface for cultural capital. This course will examine the dynamic relationships between Shakespeare in its diverse forms and popular culture by examining various instances of Shakespearean appropriation and adaptation. Themes include Shakespeare in Love, War, Business, and Youth Culture.

ENGL 145A. Chaucer - Canterbury Tales. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Reading of The Canterbury Tales in Middle English. Chaucer's great unfinished poem will be investigated as the pinnacle of literary achievement in the English Middle Ages, a work that attempts, like Dante's Divine Comedy, to account for all the issues and problems of human life as medieval thinkers had come to regard them.

ENGL 145B. Shakespeare - Early Plays, 1592-1600. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Exploration of representative plays from roughly the first half of Shakespeare’s career as a dramatist, including early and middle comedies (e.g., A Midsummer Night’s Dream, As You Like It), early and middle tragedies (e.g. Richard II, Henry IV, Part One), while situating the plays within their cultural and historical context.

ENGL 145C. Shakespeare - Later Plays, 1600-1612. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Exploration of representative plays from roughly the second half of Shakespeare’s career as a dramatist, with emphasis on the major tragedies (Hamlet, Othello, King Lear, and Macbeth), but also including the middle comedies (e.g., Twelfth Night, Measure for Measure) and the later romances (e.g., The Winter’s Tale, The Tempest), while situating the plays within their cultural and historic context.

ENGL 145I. John Milton. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Students study the major poems of Milton-among them Comus, “Lycidas,” Paradise Lost, Paradise Regained, and Samson Agonistes-giving special attention to Paradise Lost. Students will also consider such prose works as Of Education, the divorce tracts, and Areopagitica, Milton’s famous argument against censorship. Finally, it includes lectures on the Puritan Revolution of 1640-60 and Milton’s role in it.

ENGL 150H. Recent American Fiction, 1980-Present. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Introduction to the remarkable flowering of American fiction in the late decades of the twentieth century. The primary focus is to scrutinize a collection of novels for which there is no firmly established critical opinion but which are nonetheless distinguished fictional accomplishments. Emphasis is placed on revealing the diversity of voices and the ways in which these writers demonstrate the continuing possibilities for artistic variety and experimentation.

ENGL 150I. Modern American Short Story. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Since the publication of Washington Irving's "Legend of Sleepy Hollow," Americans have excelled at the genre of the short story. Offers a survey of traditional "masters" and recent innovators. Provides an opportunity to read a wide variety of writers (such as Wharton, Chopin, Crane, Gilman, James, Anderson, Hemingway, Faulkner, Ellison, O'Connor, Barth, Oates, Proulx, Roth, Carvey, and Welty) and examine a range of forms, themes and experiences that reflect and shape American culture.

ENGL 150J. Twentieth Century American Drama. 3 Units
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Arts (Area C1)
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

In-depth examination of American drama, starting with Eugene O'Neil. Traces American drama from the turn-of-the-century to the present, examining the plays themselves—their themes, dramatic idioms, stage craft and European influences—in their social, historical and artistic contexts.

ENGL 150L. Lost Generation Writers. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Examines one of the most remarkable flowerings of literary achievement in American letters, the writing of "The Lost Generation," authors born between 1885 and 1900. Unified by a profound disillusionment with American culture after World War I, writers such as T.S. Eliot, Eugene O'Neill, William Faulkner, and Ernest Hemingway produced enduring modern masterpieces. In the process they demonstrated that their generation might find in art what had been lost on the battlefield.

ENGL 150M. California Fiction. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Focuses on the California phenomenon—the place where the American dream can reach fulfillment—and how this phenomenon has captivated writers for decades. Presents a cross-section of this fiction, examining the various literary manifestations of the California phenomenon.
ENGL 150R. The American Gothic. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Explores American works written in the Gothic mode. In novels, captivity narratives, short stories, and poetry, we will investigate representations of terrifying, uncanny, and supernatural phenomena. As we trace the development of the Gothic mode in American literature, we will examine how narratives and poetic depictions of horror rehearse our individual and cultural fears about sexuality, race, violation, rebellion, madness, and death, and we will inquire into that thrill of macabre pleasure that attends the exploration of the darker side of life.

ENGL 150R. American Regionalism. 3 Units
Examines literature by American regionalist writers during the late-nineteenth century. Topics may include nationalism, sectional divides, local color, dialect fiction, conditions of publication, and emerging women writers and writers of color. Students will investigate the role that regionalism plays in relation to literary representations that depict the conflicting and complex social, cultural, and historical formation of racialized and gendered identities.

ENGL 155E. Hemingway and Fitzgerald. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Intensive study of two of the most important American writers of the 20th century: Ernest Hemingway and F. Scott Fitzgerald. This focus on two authors allows students to read them in-depth, to examine the dynamics of their friendship, and to explore the similarities and differences in their responses to World War I and the Great Depression.

General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Humanities (Area C2), Writing Intensive Graduation Requirement (WI)
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Deals with the considerable body of Postcolonial literature written in English. Many of the writers come from countries of the former British Commonwealth, including Achebe, Desai, Emcheta, Naipaul, and Rushdie. It focuses on the literary, cultural and political environments in which the texts are situated and on their relationship to the wider tradition of literature in English.

ENGL 165F. Caribbean Literature. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Focuses on the literature—novels, shorts stories, poetry, and plays—by a wide range of Caribbean authors, among whom are two recent Nobel Prize winners, Derek Walcott and V. S. Naipaul. Students will learn to appreciate the cultural diversity of this post-colonial literature and will become familiar with its important themes and stylistic techniques. Students will also experience the multi-dialectal richness and flavor of the Anglophone Caribbean as expressed by authors from linguistically diverse islands.

ENGL 170A. Fantasy. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Helps students develop their own working definition of fantasy by examining its central narrative and dramatic structures, image patters, and thematic preoccupations. At the same time, encourages students to compare these motifs with those of so called "realist" fiction so they may understand how blurred conventional distinctions between "fantasy" and "reality" actually are.

ENGL 170D. Drama. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): GWAR Certification before Fall 09, or WPJ score of 70+, or at least a C- in ENGL 109M or ENGL 109W.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Offers a survey of dramatic literature—tragedy, comedy, tragi-comedy—with plays both modern and classical. Since plays are meant to be seen as well as read, several selections will be available on video to deepen understanding and enjoyment. Focus is on analysis of genre, theme, structure, and interpretation of the plays. A term project based on one live performance in Sacramento is also included.

ENGL 170E. Short Fiction. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Covers short stories and novels spanning the century and including women writers from a variety of nationalities, class, cultural and ethnic groups. Emphasizes what Virginia Woolf calls "the delicate transaction between a writer and the spirit of the age" and works with the writers presented so as to elicit the developing strands of influence and critique that bring these disparate writers into a common dialogue.

ENGL 185C. British Women Novelists. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Focuses on the ways in which women writers of the 19th and 20th centuries concern themselves with questions of the differences in male and female experience and how those differences affect their writing. Students will study the portrayal in fiction of the evolution of the "modern woman"—with the conflicts between self and other, dependence and independence, love and power that are part of that process.

ENGL 185D. American Women Writers. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Focuses on women writers primarily from the early 20th century with an emphasis on how gender expectations affect people, society, novels, poems. Students study the theme of awakening, the roles that families, friends, class, social expectations and conditions play in the development of individuality and self-awareness. Examines implications of power relationships and certain areas of conflict, such as those between self and other, repression and expression, inner and outer, dependence and independence, love and power.

ENGL 180D. Detective Fiction. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Readings in and analysis of crime and detective fictions (novels, short stories, plays, etc.). Crime fiction continually asks us what do we know about people and events and how do we know it. Investigates a variety of texts that address this desire to know and its connections to the mysterious and the criminal. Discussions of this popular genre will address the ways in which an obsession with crime and punishment manifests itself in various cultures and cultural moments.

ENGL 190H. The Supernatural in Literature. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Approaches supernatural literature from the perspective that, regardless of how bizarre or fantastical a literary work may seem, it deserves serious scholarly study because it represents the realism of apparent human experiences and provides readers with access to the inner workings of the human mind. Readings include Ambrose Bierce, H.P. Lovecraft, Edgar Allan Poe, Lord Dunsany, Fitz-James O'Brien, and contemporary writers from around the world.

ENGL 190J. Tolkien: Lord of the Rings. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Helps students understand the primary structures, images, and themes informing Tolkien's Middle Earth and the ways these link the medieval worldview with modern, and even postmodern, wish-and fear-fulfillments. Students will read Tolkien's criticism, poetry, short tales, The Hobbit, The Lord of the Rings trilogy, and selections from The Silmarillion.

Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Seminars in British literature.
Investigation of the body of Chaucer's poetry, seen against the backdrop of the late 14th century.

ENGL 240B. The World and the Flesh: Victorian Fiction. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Explores the Divided-Self of Victorian fiction, a consciousness split between word and flesh, duty and love, society and the self, or most generally between one's public role and one's private needs. Such polar themes affect several fictional genres such as the Pastoral, Gothic, Bildungsroman, Historical Novel and Naturalism. The word and flesh dialectic also informs the narrative structure of Victorian fiction.

ENGL 240E. Major 18th Century Novelists. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Focuses on individual novelists, pairs of novelists, or thematic groupings. Might include works of fiction by authors such as Behn, Defoe, Richardson, Fielding, Sterne, Goldsmith, Bumey.

ENGL 240F. Dickens and Thackeray. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Dickens and Thackeray dominated the popular mind as the novelists of the age; no other novelists are more representative of their age and yet can claim to have risen above it. Concentrates on just a few of their novels. Students study the writers and their novels in the context of English society in the 19th century.

ENGL 240G. Yeats, Kavanagh and Heaney: Ireland's Modern Irish Poets. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Yeats, often considered a modernist and a poet in the British tradition, saw himself primarily as an Irish poet working within distinctly Irish literary traditions. Focuses on Yeats' conception of a national, ethnic poetry and the effect that mission had on Ireland's other two major 20th century poets--Kavanagh and Heaney. Students analyze Yeats' most influential work; Kavanagh and Heaney are studied in terms of their debt to Yeats and their individual expressions of national consciousness.

ENGL 240H. DH Lawrence. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Lawrence was immensely original. Like Tolstoy and Dostoevsky, Lawrence is a prophetic visionary intensely concerned to articulate and embody an all-embracing, profoundly existential, vision of life. Examines Lawrence's work closely after a brief exploration of modernism and Lawrence's relation to it and an examination of how conditions in post-Victorian England and events in Europe in the early 20th century contributed to the making of Lawrence's world view and his role as a controversial outsider.

ENGL 240I. Jane Austen. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Focuses on Jane Austen, perhaps England's greatest novelist. Students read almost all of her work and trace the development of her art from her teenage years until her death in 1817, noting how each new book is a distinct departure from previous ones. To put Austen's achievement in perspective, students also read Jane Eyre by Charlotte Bronte, one of Austen's severest critics. Comparing the two novelists provides an even clearer sense of the richness and subtlety of Austen's art.

ENGL 240J. James Joyce. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

James Joyce is a monument among twentieth century writers. His masterful Ulysses and other intricate works have kept generations of critics in business. Examines his major fictions, studying them in relationship to the life out of which they grew.

ENGL 240K. English Renaissance Drama. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Sense of exploration, discovery, experimentation, creativity, and moral complexity of the Renaissance era in England (roughly 1550 to 1660) is reflected in the variety and number of plays written by Shakespeare's predecessors, contemporaries, and successors. Following introductory material on the development of the drama in England, students analyze Elizabethan and Jacobean playwrights, exclusive of Shakespeare. Emphasis is on the forms and themes of the plays, with application of "New Historicism" and attention to Renaissance backgrounds.

ENGL 240L. Conrad and Greene. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

When English critic F.R. Leavis declared that the great English novelists were Austen, Eliot, James, and Conrad, he emphasized these writers' intensely moral pre-occupation. No modern novelist has been more influenced by Conrad than Graham Greene, whose work has the same romantic subject matter and concerns with ethical judgments. Both writers are concerned with the question: to act or not to act, for either choice has inescapable ethical consequences.

ENGL 240M. The Gothic Novel. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Examines the origins and development of the Gothic Novel in England. Attention is paid to recurring structures and themes such as architecture, the use of a narrative frame, reader identification figure, the divided self, the relationships between sex, violence, and death, the wasteland motif, and existential concerns. Special attention is given to the role of the reader and his or her response to the novels.

ENGL 240N. Arthurian Literature. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Study of Arthurian literature in the Middle Ages from its origins to Thomas Malory.

ENGL 240O. Satire in Age Swift+Pope. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Examines the major narrative, plot, and genre structures, image patterns, and thematic preoccupations in Dickens' novels, like the interrelationships between homes, prisons, factories and schools. The influences of Dickens' life, periodical publishing of illustrated magazines, and of Victorian society also receives attention. Introduces students to relevant insights of several "post-structural" critical schools, including those of deconstruction, the carnivalesque, liminality, and Lacanian psychology.
ENGL 240Z. Special Topics in British Literature. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Open to the investigation of either a limited period (e.g. World War I poets or Victorian Children's literature), a single author (e.g. Hanif Kureishi or Apha Behn), an authorial dialogue (e.g. Chaucer & Spenser, Stoppard and Shakespeare, Sidney & Wroth), or a unique literary feature, theme, or structure (e.g. Pastoral & Georgic or Empire & Race).

ENGL 245A. Shakespearean Romance. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

ENGL 250A. Wharton and Cather. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Focuses on the writing of Edith Wharton and Willa Cather, two of our most accomplished early American writers. Shows how these writers, poised on the threshold of the twentieth century-and pulled simultaneously forward and back-explored similar themes, and how, as two of the few revered women writers of this time, they focused particularly on shifting gender roles; Wharton with her eye on interior space and Cather with her eye on exterior space.

ENGL 250D. Hawthorne and Melville. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Readings and discussion of major works by Hawthorne and Melville.
ENGL 250R. Wharton and Chopin. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Growth of a feminine perspective in literary theory has resulted in a radical reconsideration of the American literary canon, producing new readings of texts, patterns in literature and culture, and connections between texts. Wharton and Chopin are two writers taking a place of importance in the development of the realistic novel in America and in the creation of a distinctive tradition of women’s literature. Focuses on the heuristic possibilities of a distinctly different literature by women, the role of gender, and the contributions of Wharton and Chopin to the novel.

ENGL 250Q. Irish-American Fiction. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Examines the theme of immigration and that of assimilation in a particular ethnic group: Irish-Americans. Through an examination of the literature, we find an ethnicity that is uneasily part of the American fabric and one defined to a large degree by the culture they either abandoned or were forced to abandon. Representative writers include Eugene O’Neill, Alice McDermott, William Kenney, Mary Gordon, John Gregory Dunne.

ENGL 250R. Wm. Faulkner: Major Fict. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

ENGL 250T. Postmodern Fiction. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Study of important recent fiction that has come to be referred to as "postmodernist" because its non-traditional themes, subject matter, and narrative technique embody or reflect the postmodern era.

ENGL 250U. Roaring Twenties Literature. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Focus on literature dramatizing the roaring, irrepressible twenties, a decade of unprecedented change following the "Great War to end all wars" Highlighting Fitzgerald, whose life mirrors the times, also includes other "expatriate" writers such as Wharton, Dos Passos, Stein, Eliot, and Hemingway, who looked at America from an overseas perspective and reflected on the changes in communication, sensibility, and values resulting from the new freedom of this revolutionary, liminal period.

ENGL 250V. Cultural Studies. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Surveys the range of contemporary cultural phenomena and the relevant modes of analysis currently employed in the widespread practice generally referred to as Cultural Studies.

ENGL 250W. The Poetry of T.S. Eliot. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Focuses on the poetry of T.S. Eliot, one of the dominating figures of English and American literature for a substantial part of the twentieth century. In 1948 he received the Nobel Prize for Literature, and by 1950 his authority had reached a level that seemed comparable in English writing to that of figures like Johnson and Coleridge. Offers students the opportunity to analyze and discuss Eliot’s poems. We will trace his poetic/aesthetic development from his early poems (“Prufrock” et al.) to his epoch-making The Waste Land, and onward through his conversion to Anglicanism and his mature accomplishment of Four Quartets.

ENGL 250Z. Special Topics in American Literature. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

The investigation of either a limited period (e.g. The Transcendental period or the Novel of the 1960s), a single author (e.g., Philip Roth or Toni Morrison), or a unique literary feature or structure (e.g. Literary Naturalism or the Experimental Novel).

ENGL 260A. Myth Criticism. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Introduces and traces through several literary works and genres the fundamental topics in myth criticism; significance of ritual, fairy tales, and archetypal romance forms; contributions of Freudian, Lacanian, and Jungian psychology and their relation to Joseph Campbell's notion of the monomyth; relevance of Victor Turner's "liminal" theories of rites of passage in anthropology; importance of recent discoveries with the bicameral and "triune" brain in biological sciences; kinds of myth (hero, heroine, American, love, wasteland, artist, time); and relationships between myth criticism and post-structuralism.

ENGL 260D. Literature and Biography. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Focuses on contemporary literary works from postcolonial locations such as Africa, Australia, South Asia, Canada and the Caribbean. Explores the relationships between literary texts and the historical and social contexts from which they arise; especially European colonialism.

ENGL 260A. Postcolonial Literature. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

ENGL 275. Seminar in Literary History. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Literary history designed to introduce the graduate student to bibliographical materials necessary to the successful pursuit of advanced study in English. It will deal with the major historical periods of English and American literature, and looks briefly at the major European traditions.

ENGL 280A. Aesthetics of Minority Literature. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Survey of the interaction between aesthetics and ethics in African-American literature. Emphasizing a call-and-response verbal aesthetic-prominent in the oral traditions of segregated communities throughout the African Diaspora-as an extension of a diasporic ethics of improvisational black identity that, especially late twentieth century literature recovery as basis for challenging the fixed, essentialist ethoi and aesthetics of earlier African-American literature more greatly influenced by traditional, Christian-Humanist discourses on ethnicity.
ENGL 280J. Jewish American Literature. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Students will examine a rich tradition of Jewish American literature in the context of a complex American multicultural narrative. Topics include the immigrant experience, assimilation, alienation, responses to the Holocaust and other forms of anti-Semitism, the place of Israel in the Jewish American imagination, and a contemporary rediscovery or reconstruction of Jewishness and Judaism. Students will interrogate what constitutes Jewish American identity and defines its literature in a culture that is itself conflicted about its secular/religious ethos and the degree to which subjectivity is determined by "consent and/or descent.

ENGL 297A. Prose Style In Literature. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

ENGL 299. Special Problems: English Tutorial. 1 - 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): ENGL 200.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Individual projects or directed reading. Highly recommended for, and open only to, students who are able to carry on individual tutorial study. Admission by approval of faculty member who is to act as tutor and of graduate advisor or of Department Chair.
Credit/No Credit

ENGL 410A. Writing Center Theory and Practice: Internships. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Note: May be repeated for up to 6 units of credit.
Credit/No Credit

ENGL 410B. Internship-ESL Teaching. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Provides interns with an opportunity to experience the day-to-day life of an ESL class. Tutors will observe an ESL class, will assist the teacher in conducting various aspects of the class, and will be responsible for planning and teaching at least one class session. Seminar meetings will provide and overview of ESL teaching methodology.
Credit/No Credit

ENGL 410C. Internships. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Credit/No Credit

ENGL 410E. Internship in Teaching Writing. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Students considering a teaching career intern in a composition class at an area community college. They work with a mentor teacher on site and meet periodically at CSUS. The internship provides students with an opportunity to experience the day-to-day life of a composition class and hands-on opportunity to design assignments, respond to student writing, conduct class discussions, etc. Students read composition and rhetorical theory with an eye toward day-to-day application in the classroom.
Credit/No Credit

ENGL 410F. Internship in Teaching Literature. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): Recommended: either ENGL 225 or ENGL 220A and instructor permission.
Corequisite(s): Recommended: either ENGL 225 or ENGL 220A.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Gives graduate students the opportunity to gain teaching experience in a literature classroom. Students will work closely with an instructor-of-record in a large (60+) lecture literature course and in small group discussion sessions under the supervision of the internship coordinator. Interns will also meet periodically with their peers to discuss pedagogical issues and readings as they pertain to their experiences in the classroom.
Credit/No Credit

ENGL 410L. Internship in Teaching Adult Reading. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Tutoring in adult reading. Tutors work with students who need reading instruction at Sacramento State, local community colleges or adult education agencies in the Sacramento area.
Credit/No Credit

ENGL 410W. Writing Programs Internship. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Students will work with a Composition faculty member to complete a project for the campus writing program, the University Reading and Writing Center, the Graduation Writing Assessment Requirement, or the Writing Across the Curriculum Program. Students should contact the appropriate program coordinator to register for the course and design a project.
Credit/No Credit

ENGL 500. Culminating Experience. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): Advanced to candidacy and permission of the graduate coordinator.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Completion of a thesis, project, comprehensive examination or TESOL comprehensive.

ENGL 598T. Culminating Experience - TESOL. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Completion of a thesis, project, or TESOL comprehensive exam. Requires advancement to candidacy and permission of graduate coordinator. Project and thesis options require GPA of 3.7.

BA in English

Units required for Major: 45, 27-30 of which must be upper division
Total units required for BA: 120

Program Description

The English department of California State University, Sacramento, is a community of teachers, scholars, writers, and support staff whose primary mission is to promote learning in composition, creative writing, English education, linguistics, literature, and the teaching of English as a second language. The department seeks to help students acquire knowledge, develop skills, and realize their own intellectual and creative goals.

At the undergraduate and graduate levels, the English Department presents a broad and balanced curriculum designed to develop the reading and writing skills, the interpretative abilities, and the cultural awareness of its students by maintaining and enhancing a tradition of strong teaching, solid scholarship, and vigorous support of creative literary activity.

Minimum Grade Requirement

English majors must achieve a grade of "C-" or better in all courses included in the major, unless otherwise specified.

Note: With the noted exception of ENGL 5, English courses may NOT be challenged.

Electives (30 Units)

Select 30 units including the Historical Breadth 5

Total Units 45

1. Students must take at least one British Literature survey (ENGL 40A, ENGL 40B), and at least one American Literature survey (ENGL 50A, ENGL 50B). We recommend that lower division requirements be completed no later than the first semester in which the student begins taking required upper division courses.

2. Course also satisfies General Education (GE)/Graduation Requirement.

3. Students are required to complete a course in their senior year, selecting from courses specially designated as Senior Seminars. The seminar has a reduced class size and requires a term paper, student presentations and submission of the student's work.

4. Students must take one of the classes listed to satisfy this requirement (unless they have already taken ENGL 40A or ENGL 50A as one of the required Lower Division courses).

5. A minimum of 27 additional units must be taken, of which at least 18 units must be upper division. Students who have satisfied the historical breadth requirement by taking ENGL 40A or ENGL 50A as one of their three required lower division courses will take 30 units of electives, of which at least 21 must be upper division.

Notes:

- Students must complete 18 units of English, of which at least 15 must be in upper division (100-level) courses, in residence at California State University, Sacramento.

- The following courses may not be included toward the major:

Certificate in TESOL

Units required for Certificate: 15 (Option A) or 18 (Option B)

Program Description

This Advanced Study in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) certificate program has two options:

- Option A: This option is intended for undergraduates who want preparation for teaching ESL students (in the U.S. or abroad).
- Option B: This option is intended primarily for graduate (see English graduate page) students who want to pursue an MA in English or another field, but also want to be prepared to teach ESL writing at the college level.

Eligibility Requirements for options A and B

Students must either be in a degree program at Sacramento State or must apply for graduate admission to the University. Once admitted to Sacramento State, prospective TESOL Certificate students must apply to the TESOL Coordinator for admission to the program.

Undergraduates must be within 45 units of completing a bachelor’s degree (in any field) with a 3.0 overall GPA.

Graduate students must have a completed bachelor’s degree (in any field) with a 3.0 overall GPA.

All applicants must complete the University’s Writing Placement for Juniors (WPJ) requirement.

International students must have a TOEFL score of 600 or higher (or a score of 250 or higher on the computerized TOEFL) and a score of 5 on the Test of Written English.

Minimum Grade Requirement

Courses must be completed with grades of "B" or better

MA in English (Composition)

Total units required for the MA: 30

Program Description

The MA in English with a Concentration in Composition is recommended for students preparing to teach writing at the community college level, for those whose objective is to pursue a Ph.D. in composition, or for high school teachers seeking to update their knowledge of composition theory and practice. The course of study leads to an M.A. thesis in composition in which the student undertakes original research in composition under the supervision of a two-person faculty committee.

In general, the M.A. degree in each of its concentrations seeks to enhance students’ skills in: critical reading; analysis of language, ideas, and the formal attributes of texts; creative engagement with the writing traditions of its three disciplinary fields; and independent research.

The three concentrations of the English M.A. offer preparation for students who aspire: to teach writing or literary study in high-school or community-college settings; to teach English to adult learners and to students abroad; to pursue career opportunities in fields such as journalism, publishing, law, technical and creative writing, advertising,
Admission Requirements
Admission as a classified graduate student in English requires:

For: All Applicants to the Composition Concentration, Creative Writing Concentration, and Literature Concentration
- a baccalaureate degree;
- a minimum GPA of 3.0 in the last 60 units of all university level coursework or a 3.0 GPA in courses in the English major on the transcript from the degree granting institution;
- a minimum of 27 units of upper division courses in English;
- (for foreign students from non-English speaking countries) a TOEFL score of 600 or higher (or a score of 250 or higher on the Computerized TOEFL) and a score of 5 on the Test of Written English; and

For: Applicants to the Literature Concentration and Creative Writing Concentration Only
In addition to the general requirements above, students applying to the concentration in creative writing must have completed undergraduate coursework that includes at least five courses in literature of at least three units each. Of these five literature courses:
- At least one course must primarily address British literature and at least one course must primarily address American literature;
- At least three of these five literature courses must be upper division.

Application Materials Required by the English Department for All Applicants
In addition to the materials that must be sent directly to the Office of Graduate Studies as outlined in “Application Materials Required by the University” (below), students must also send to the English M.A. Graduate Coordinator in the English Department additional material by the application deadline.

Before submitting the materials, please check with the English Department website (http://www.csus.edu/engl/engli) for updates and specific deadlines.

Please have the following material delivered to the English Department directly and addressed to the English M.A. Coordinator:

- Personal statement of no more than 300-500 words. The personal statement should discuss the applicant’s interest in the program concentration (literature, composition, or creative writing) that he or she has chosen and the experiences (academic and non-academic) that have shaped this interest and prepared the applicant for graduate work in this field.
- Three confidentially submitted recommendation forms (found on the department website) for all students (both California State University, Sacramento and other institutions). Students graduating from universities other than California State University, Sacramento, must also provide formal letters from their three recommenders in addition to the completed recommendation forms.
- Writing sample for Creative Writing applicants only (for prose or poetry, the writing sample should consist of approximately 5 or 6 poems).
- Students graduating from any institution other than California State University, Sacramento, must send directly to the English Department an official copy of all transcripts from each institution of higher education that they have attended.
- Students who have attended California State University, Sacramento, must send directly to the English Department official transcripts from institutions of higher education they have attended other than California State University, Sacramento.
- A completed copy of the Department of English Supplemental Application found on the English Department website.

The Graduate Coordinator will screen all applicants according to these requirements and a ranking system devised by the department. Applicants who have deficiencies in these admission requirements which can be removed by specified additional preparation will be ranked accordingly but may be admitted with conditionally classified graduate status. Any deficiencies will be noted on a written response from the Graduate Coordinator to the student’s admission application.

Application Materials Required by the University
In addition to any materials sent directly to the department, all prospective graduate students including California State University, Sacramento, graduates, must file the following with the Office of Graduate Studies, River Front Center 215, (916) 278-6470:

- an online application for admission;
- two sets of official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended, other than California State University, Sacramento; and
- TOEFL scores, if applicable.

Note: For materials that must be sent directly to the English Graduate Program Coordinator in the English Department, see “Application Materials Required by the English Department” as listed above.

Applicants are accepted as long as room for new students exists or until the deadline passes. Applicants should file as early as possible.

For more admissions information and application deadlines, please visit http://csus.edu/gradstudies/.

MA in TESOL

Total units required for MA: 33

Program Description

The MA in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) requires extensive study of linguistics and pedagogy, as well as actual teaching and/or tutoring experience with second-language students. The culminating experience of the MA TESOL Concentration is the comprehensive examination.

The MA TESOL provides professional preparation and training in the theory and practice of teaching English to non-native speakers. The program is designed for graduate students who expect to teach in community college or secondary or adult education settings in the U.S. or in adult or university level courses overseas. The program is also preparation for the Ph.D. in Applied Linguistics.

Admission Requirements

To ensure that students entering the program have the potential to succeed, both in the program and in their teaching careers, the MA TESOL has the following admission requirements:

- a baccalaureate degree with a minimum 3.0 GPA, including a 3.0 GPA in the final 60 units;
- international students must achieve minimum scores on the TOEFL as follows: 600 on the traditional TOEFL, with a score of 5 on the Test of Written English (TWE) OR 250 or higher on the computerized TOEFL, with a score of 5 on the Test of Written English OR 100 or higher on the TOEFL, with a minimum of 24 on the writing section;
- completion of prerequisite courses (or their equivalents) with a grade of "B" or better.

Notes:

1. Students should see the TESOL Coordinator for a transcript evaluation if they have completed equivalent coursework. Under no circumstances will any coursework more than seven years old be accepted for transfer.

Admission Procedures

Applications are accepted on a first-come, first-served basis. Enrollment is limited, so applicants should file as early as possible in the semester prior to intended admittance. Students not meeting all requirements may be conditionally accepted as long as space is available in the program. Applicants must complete a university application by the posted application deadline date for the term applying. For more admissions information and application deadlines, please visit http://www.csus.edu/gradstudies/. Before applying, students should make an appointment to visit: http://www.csus.edu/gradstudies/currentstudents/gwar.html. Note: Students are required to seek advising from a Hellenic Studies advisor.
Internships are available in a variety of public agencies and in some private enterprises. They are open to majors and other students with some history or related background. In the past, students have interned in a variety of California state agencies and in the Sacramento Discovery Museum. The Department office has a descriptive brochure on internships that students are encouraged to consult.

The undergraduate major in History at Sacramento State is designed to provide cultural enrichment and a sense of alternatives and perspectives, especially relevant in a society confronted with widespread institutional change. In addition to subject matter, the Department gives particular emphasis to various methodologies and ways of thinking about the past.

A minor in History can provide valuable support to majors in many other programs, such as Business Administration, Journalism, and Criminal Justice.

History courses also make excellent electives, contributing interest and variety to an academic program. Neither lower division nor upper division history courses are designed only for history majors or minors. The Department welcomes and encourages all students.

BA in History

Units required for Major: 42
Total units required for BA: 120

Program Description

History, in the broad sense, is the study of all human experience. It examines the people, institutions, ideas, and events from the past to the present. The study of history contributes to cultural literacy and develops critical thinking and other useful skills while helping students understand the present and plan for the future. Historical study provides a solid, fundamental preparation for careers in business, industry, government, and education. It also serves as excellent preparation for law school, foreign service, international work, urban affairs, historical consulting, and library science.

History is an academic discipline offering both breadth and focus. At Sacramento State, the History major includes four lower division survey courses and three upper division seminars. In addition, students choose seven upper division electives from a wide variety available. The flexibility of the major allows students to focus on topical areas such as: women's history, the history of particular geographic areas, cultural history, ethnic group history, economic history, military history, and history from the ancient world to that of the U.S. in the 20th Century. Teaching credential candidates should complete the History/Social Science Pre-credential Program.

Minimum Grade Requirement

A minimum grade of "C-" is required in courses applied to the major.

MA in History (Comprehensive Option)

Total units required for the MA: 30

Program Description

The Master of Arts program in History introduces students to the use of the historical method, the critical investigation of problems in historical study, and the analysis and interpretation of primary source material. These skills are valuable in many professions, especially to students interested in pursuing graduate study culminating in the doctorate in History, experienced teachers of history in public schools, students who wish to teach in California Community Colleges, and to students seeking employment in archival management, oral history, consulting, and public sector historical research.

California State University, Sacramento is well situated to offer rich historical resources in several fields of study. The California State Archives, the California State Library and the Sacramento Archives and Museum Collection Center offer unique opportunities for the study of Western and California History. The presence of many state and community agencies dealing with historic preservation offers possibilities for stimulating internships, and the history graduate program is also able to draw upon rich materials in a number of areas of United States, European, and world history located in the Sacramento State Library.

Admission Requirements

Admission as a classified graduate student in the Standard and the Public History programs requires:

- a baccalaureate degree;
- an undergraduate major in History, OR a minimum of 27 semester units in History, or a closely related field, approved by the Graduate Coordinator. Fifteen of the units must be upper division and include one seminar from the HIST 192 series (or equivalent) and one seminar from HIST 197 series (or equivalent); and
- a minimum 3.0 GPA in the last 60 units attempted and a minimum 3.25 GPA in History courses.

Students who have deficiencies in admission requirements that can be removed by specified additional preparation may be admitted to the degree program with conditionally classified graduate status. Any deficiencies will be noted on a written response to the admission application. The department Graduate Coordinator will specify courses to be taken by students with fewer than 27 units of history and/or without the required seminars. Work taken to remove such deficiencies may not be counted toward the master’s degree.

Admission Procedures

Applicants should file two applications: one to the Sacramento State Office of Graduate Studies for admission to the University, and the other to the Department of History for classified status in the History master’s program. Please check with the Department office for the official deadline.

All applicants, including Sacramento State graduates, must file the following with the Office of Graduate Studies, River Front Center 215, (916) 278-6470:

- an online application for admission; and
- two sets of official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended, other than Sacramento State.

For more admissions information and application deadlines please visit http://www.csus.edu/gradstudies/.

Applicants must also file the following with the Sacramento State History Department:

- a Department Application for Admission (available through the History Department office or Web site);
- a statement of purpose of at least 250 words. This statement should include reasons for applying to the master’s program, career objectives and an explanation of how the program will help achieve them, relevant professional training, experience, internships, or volunteer activities, and any non-academic skills, interests, or notable accomplishments that may be pertinent to the application;

- two letters of recommendation. Letters should ideally come from university instructors, but if these are not available, any other credible source who can address qualifications will be acceptable (i.e., work supervisor, clergy, or community leader);
- a set of transcripts from all colleges attended, including Sacramento State (unofficial transcripts will suffice);
- academic writing sample (optional but highly encouraged).

Applicants will be informed of the Admission Committee's decision within six weeks of the Department’s application deadline.

Minimum Units and Grade Requirements for the Degree

Units required for the MA: 30
Minimum Cumulative GPA: 3.0

Advancement To Candidacy

Each student must file an application for Advancement to Candidacy, indicating a proposed program of graduate study. This procedure should begin as soon as the classified graduate student has:

- removed any deficiencies in admission requirements;
- completed at least 12 units in the graduate program with a minimum 3.0 GPA, including at least one 200-level course;
- determined with the History Graduate Coordinator whether to attempt the thesis, examination, or project (Public History and Specialized Options only) as the Culminating Requirement;
- determined which department faculty member will supervise the student's work and act as his/her History advisor;
- filed and received departmental approval of a Petition for Approval of Thesis/Examination/Project (only in the Public History and Specialized Options); and
- taken the Writing Placement for Graduate Students (WPG) or taken a Graduate Writing Intensive (GWI) course in their discipline within the first two semesters of coursework at California State University, Sacramento or secured approval for a WPG waiver.

Students must file their Advancement to Candidacy in the semester prior to enrolling in HIST 500, Culminating Experience.

Advancement to Candidacy forms are available on the Office of Graduate Studies website. The student fills out the form after planning a degree program in consultation with his/her History advisor. The completed form is then returned to the Graduate Coordinator and the Office of Graduate Studies for approval.

Note: A foreign language is not a degree requirement. However, students who plan further graduate study in History are encouraged to study French, German, or another foreign language since proficiency in two foreign languages is usually required in doctoral programs.

MA in History (Specialized Option)

Total units required for the MA: 30

Program Description

The Master of Arts program in History introduces students to the use of the historical method, the critical investigation of problems in historical study, and the analysis and interpretation of primary source material. These skills are valuable in many professions, especially to students interested in pursuing graduate study culminating in the doctorate in History. Experienced teachers of history in public schools, students who wish to teach in California Community Colleges, and students seeking employment in archival management, oral history, consulting, and public sector historical research.

California State University, Sacramento is well situated to offer rich historical resources in several fields of study. The California State Archives, the California State Library and the Sacramento Archives and Museum Collection Center offer unique opportunities for the study of Western and California History. The presence of many state and community agencies dealing with historic preservation offers possibilities for stimulating internships, and the history graduate program is also able to draw upon rich materials in a number of areas of United States, European, and world history located in the Sacramento State Library.
Admission Requirements

Admission as a classified graduate student in the Standard and the Public History programs requires:

- a baccalaureate degree;
- an undergraduate major in History, OR a minimum of 27 semester units in History, or a closely related field, approved by the Graduate Coordinator. Fifteen of the units must be upper division and include one seminar from the HIST 192 series (or equivalent) and one seminar from HIST 197 series (or equivalent); and
- a minimum 3.0 GPA in the last 60 units attempted and a minimum 3.25 GPA in History courses.

Students who have deficiencies in admission requirements that can be removed by specified additional preparation may be admitted to the degree program with conditionally classified graduate status. Any deficiencies will be noted on a written response to the admission application. The department Graduate Coordinator will specify courses to be taken by students with fewer than 27 units of history and/or without the required seminars. Work taken to remove such deficiencies may not be counted toward the master’s degree.

Admission Procedures

Applicants should file two applications: one to the Sacramento State Office of Graduate Studies for admission to the University, and the other to the Department of History for classified status in the History master’s program. Please check with the Department office for the official deadline.

All applicants, including Sacramento State graduates, must file the following with the Office of Graduate Studies, River Front Center 215, (916) 278-6470:

- an online application for admission; and
- two sets of official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended, other than Sacramento State.

For more admissions information and application deadlines please visit http://www.csus.edu/gradstudies/.

Applicants must also file the following with the Sacramento State History Department:

- a Department Application for Admission (available through the History Department office or Web site);
- a statement of purpose of at least 250 words. This statement should include reasons for applying to the master’s program, career objectives and an explanation of how the program will help achieve them, relevant professional training, experience, internships, or volunteer activities, and any non-academic skills, interests, or notable accomplishments that may be pertinent to the application;

MA in Public History

Total units required for the MA: 36 including 9 units of supervised professional internship

Program Description

The Public History Program offers a two-year course of study leading to the Master of Arts as a degree option within the History Department. The program provides an integrated professional curriculum that includes specialized project and internship experience in several concentrations including: archives and manuscripts, business history, oral history, public history research and analysis, and historic preservation. All students pursue a common course of study, gain professional experience through a series of internships, and complete a master’s project or thesis within their area of program specialization.

Program requirements meet the educational guidelines of the Society of American Archivists, the Oral History Association, and the National Council on Public History. Graduates are qualified for listing on the Professional Register of Public Historians maintained by the California Committee for the Promotion of History.

All applicants must meet the requirements for admission as a classified graduate student in History. Applicants are also encouraged (but not required) to submit both verbal and quantitative scores from the aptitude portion of the Graduate Record Examination with their admission application.

Applications are available from the History Department Office. Students who are not enrolled in the program may take public history courses on a space available basis, with instructor permission.

Admission Requirements

Admission as a classified graduate student in the Standard and the Public History programs requires:

- a baccalaureate degree;
- an undergraduate major in History, OR a minimum of 27 semester units in History, or a closely related field, approved by the Graduate Coordinator. Fifteen of the units must be upper division and include one seminar from the HIST 192 series (or equivalent) and one seminar from HIST 197 series (or equivalent); and

Students who have deficiencies in admission requirements that can be removed by specified additional preparation may be admitted to the degree program with conditionally classified graduate status. Any deficiencies will be noted on a written response to the admission application. The department Graduate Coordinator will specify courses to be taken by students with fewer than 27 units of history and/or without the required seminars. Work taken to remove such deficiencies may not be counted toward the master’s degree.

Admission Procedures

Applicants should file two applications: one to the Sacramento State Office of Graduate Studies for admission to the University, and the other to the Department of History for classified status in the History master’s program. Please check with the Department office for the official deadline.

All applicants, including Sacramento State graduates, must file the following with the Office of Graduate Studies, River Front Center 215, (916) 278-6470:

- an online application for admission; and
- two sets of official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended, other than Sacramento State.

For more admissions information and application deadlines please visit http://www.csus.edu/gradstudies/.

Applicants must also file the following with the Sacramento State History Department:

- a Department Application for Admission (available through the History Department office or Web site);
- a statement of purpose of at least 250 words. This statement should include reasons for applying to the master’s program, career objectives and an explanation of how the program will help achieve them, relevant professional training, experience, internships, or volunteer activities, and any non-academic skills, interests, or notable accomplishments that may be pertinent to the application;
- two letters of recommendation. Letters should ideally come from university instructors, but if these are not available, any other credible source who can address qualifications will be acceptable (i.e., work supervisor, clergy, or community leader);
• a set of transcripts from all colleges attended, including Sacramento State (unofficial transcripts will suffice);

Students who receive "Incomplete" grades in coursework after enrolling in this course will not receive final approval on thesis or examination until a passing grade has been assigned to incomplete coursework.

Minor in History

Units required for Minor: 24, all of which must be taken in History; a minimum of 12 upper division units is required

Program Description

History, in the broad sense, is the study of all human experience. It examines the people, institutions, ideas, and events from the past to the present. The study of history contributes to cultural literacy and develops critical thinking and other useful skills while helping students understand the present and plan for the future. Historical study provides a solid, fundamental preparation for careers in business, industry, government, and education. It also serves as excellent preparation for law school, foreign service, international work, urban affairs, historical consulting, and library science.

Ph.D. in Public History

Program Description

The joint doctoral program in Public History offered in cooperation with UC Santa Barbara provides training in public history, particularly in the following professional fields: history of public policy; cultural resource management; business and institutional history; and community and local history. Supporting courses are offered in oral history; archives and records administration; museum management; historic preservation; historical editing; and policy and litigation support.

Questions about the program should be directed to Sacramento State Professors Aaron Cohen (916) 278-7209 or Lee M. A. Simpson (916) 278-6628 and UCSB Professor Randy Bergstrom (805) 893-2644.

Admissions Requirements

Prospective applicants for the joint Ph.D. program should have completed a Master's degree in history, public history, or a related field (in unusual circumstances, highly qualified candidates can be admitted without the MA).

Applicants should provide the following information to the Graduate Program in Public History at UCSB: the appropriate application forms; transcripts of completed academic work; GRE scores; three letters of recommendation; and an essay explaining the applicant's reasons for seeking a Ph.D.

Admissions Procedures

The Joint Public History Committee will review applications for admission and select the individuals to be admitted to the joint doctoral program.

Program Requirements

Students admitted to the program must spend at least one academic year in residence on each of the two campuses.

In addition to the required research seminars and professional coursework, students will complete an internship assignment and report.

To complete the doctoral program, students must pass a combination of written and oral examinations in four fields. These fields are typically a general field (usually U.S. History); a specialized field within the general field; a third field encompassing the dissertation topic; a cognate field outside the department (e.g., art history, anthropology, political science).

In addition, each student will: pass one foreign language examination; complete a dissertation; and serve as a research or teaching assistant.
Subject Matter Program (History)

Units required for Major: 72
Total units required for BA: 120

Program Description

History, in the broad sense, is the study of all human experience. It examines the people, institutions, ideas, and events from the past to the present. The study of history contributes to cultural literacy and develops critical thinking and other useful skills while helping students understand the present and plan for the future. Historical study provides a solid, fundamental preparation for careers in business, industry, government, and education. It also serves as excellent preparation for law school, foreign service, international work, urban affairs, historical consulting, and library science.

History is an academic discipline offering both breadth and focus. At Sacramento State, the History major includes four lower division survey courses and three upper division seminars. In addition, students choose seven upper division electives from a wide variety available. The flexibility of the major allows students to focus on topical areas such as: women’s history, the history of particular geographic areas, cultural history, ethnic group history, economic history, military history, and history from the ancient world to that of the U.S. in the 20th Century. Teaching credential candidates should complete the History/Social Science Pre-credential Program.

Note: Students seeking to major in history and to achieve subject matter competency for a secondary teaching credential should complete the following History/Social Science Pre-Credential Program. Students should seek advising with a History advisor at the earliest opportunity.

Humanities and Religious Studies

College of Arts and Letters

Program Description
The Department of Humanities and Religious Studies offers an integrated approach to the study of world cultures from ancient times to the present. In our courses, students undertake interdisciplinary study of core ideas, ideals, and values. The Humanities – known by Renaissance thinkers as studia humanitatis ("studies of humanity") – explore such subjects as literature, history, philosophy, religion, the visual arts, music, drama, and film. Religious Studies focuses on beliefs and practices of the world’s religions in their historical and cultural contexts. Employing the methods and insights of disciplines such as history, anthropology, sociology, psychology, and philosophy, Religious Studies approaches its subject matter with empathy while avoiding assumptions or judgments about religious truth claims.

The Department offers the following degree programs:

Graduation Requirements (required by CSU) (0-3 Units)

- American Institutions: U.S. History
- American Institutions: U.S. Constitution & CA Government
- Writing Intensive (WI)

Graduation Requirements (required by Sacramento State) (9 Units)

- English Composition II
- Race and Ethnicity in American Society (RE)
- Foreign Language Proficiency Requirement

Degree Programs
- BA in Humanities (p. 232)
- BA in Humanities (Religious Studies) (p. 233)
- Minor in Humanities (p. 236)
- Minor in Religious Studies (p. 237)
- MA in Humanities (p. 235)

Special Features
- Faculty advisors are available to help majors and minors design individual patterns of study that reflect students’ particular interests and prepare them for work in their chosen fields.
- The Department fosters a sense of community among faculty and students in order to create a welcoming and congenial environment that encourages mutual respect, active learning, and the lively exchange of ideas.

BA in Humanities
Units required for Major: 39
Total units required for BA: 120

Program Description
The Department of Humanities and Religious Studies offers an integrated approach to the study of world cultures from ancient times to the present. In our courses, students undertake interdisciplinary study of core ideas, ideals, and values. The Humanities – known by Renaissance thinkers as studia humanitatis ("studies of humanity") – explore such subjects as literature, history, philosophy, religion, the visual arts, music, drama, and film. Religious Studies focuses on beliefs and practices of the world's religions in their historical and cultural contexts. Employing the methods and insights of disciplines such as history, anthropology, sociology, psychology, and philosophy, Religious Studies approaches its subject matter with empathy while avoiding assumptions or judgments about religious truth claims.

The BA in Humanities provides a strong interdisciplinary foundation in world cultures while also allowing students the opportunity to focus their studies on a specific era – such as the ancient, medieval, or modern eras – or on culture in a particular region.

Students in all five available programs acquire concrete skills in critical thinking, analysis, research, writing, and organization that lead to attractive careers throughout the job market. Many of our students prepare for careers in teaching at the elementary level (as part of a Liberal Studies major program) or secondary level (as part of a single subject credential program in English/Humanities). Others pursue postgraduate study in the Humanities, History, Theology, and related fields in preparation for careers in teaching at the community college and university levels or in library, museum, or curatorial work. Humanities majors are also well-prepared for careers in government and fields such as law and counseling, which require interaction with people from diverse cultural backgrounds.

MA in Humanities

Total units required for the MA: 30

Program Description

The Department of Humanities and Religious Studies offers an integrated approach to the study of world cultures from ancient times to the present. In our courses, students undertake interdisciplinary study of core ideas, ideals, and values. The Humanities – known by Renaissance thinkers as studia humanitatis (“studies of humanity”) – explore such subjects as literature, history, philosophy, religion, the visual arts, music, drama, and film. Religious Studies focuses on beliefs and practices of the world’s religions in their historical and cultural contexts. Employing the methods and insights of disciplines such as history, anthropology, sociology, psychology, and philosophy, Religious Studies approaches its subject matter with empathy while avoiding assumptions or judgments about religious truth claims.

The MA in Humanities provides graduate-level engagement with humanistic approaches to world cultures.

Students in all five available programs acquire concrete skills in critical thinking, analysis, research, writing, and organization that lead to attractive careers throughout the job market. Many of our students prepare for careers in teaching at the elementary level (as part of a Liberal Studies major program) or secondary level (as part of a single subject credential program in English/Humanities). Others pursue postgraduate study in the Humanities, History, Theology, and related fields in preparation for careers in teaching at the community college and university levels or in library, museum, or curatorial work. Humanities majors are also well-prepared for careers in government and fields such as law and counseling, which require interaction with people from diverse cultural backgrounds.

Admission Requirements

Admission as a classified graduate student in Humanities requires:

- a baccalaureate degree from an accredited four-year college or university (or equivalent preparation if the student has done undergraduate work outside the U.S.);
- an undergraduate major in Humanities or in a closely related field (subject to approval by the Graduate Coordinator);
- a minimum 3.0 GPA in the last 60 semester units attempted and a minimum 3.3 GPA in Humanities courses (or in major in a related field);

Students with deficiencies in Admission Requirements that can be removed by specified additional preparation may be considered for admission with conditionally classified graduate status. Any deficiencies will be noted on a response to the admission application.

Admission Procedures

Applicants should file two applications: one to the California State University, Sacramento Office of Graduate Studies for admission to the University, and the other to the Department of Humanities and Religious Studies for classified status in the Humanities master’s program. Please check with the Office of Graduate Studies for current application deadlines.

All applicants must file the following with the Office of Graduate Studies, River Front Center 215, (916) 278-6470, www.csus.edu/grad studies (http://www.csus.edu/gradstudies):

- an online application for admission; and
- two sets of official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended, other than California State University, Sacramento

Applicants must also file the following with Department of Humanities and Religious Studies:

- statement of purpose of approximately 500 words (typed) in response to the following question: How does the Humanities master’s program fit with your talents, interests, and aspirations?
- two letters of recommendation. Letters should ideally come from college/university instructors, but if these are not available, any other credible source who can address qualifications will be acceptable (e.g., work supervisor or community leader);
- academic writing sample of 3-5 pages, to be accompanied by a brief explanation regarding the context (e.g., the course and assignment) for which the writing was produced.

Minimum Units and Grade Requirement for the Degree

Units required for the MA: 30

Minimum Cumulative GPA: 3.0
Advancement to Candidacy

Each student must file an application for Advancement to Candidacy, indicating a proposed program of graduate study. This should be initiated by the student as soon as the student has:

- removed any deficiencies in Admission Requirements;
- completed at least 12 units of 200-level courses in the graduate program with a minimum 3.0 GPA;
- achieved a passing grade on the Humanities M.A. Preliminary Exam; and
- received a placement Score Number of 80 on the Writing Placement for Graduate Students (WPG) timed essay exam or received a grade of "B" or better in a Graduate Writing Intensive (GWI) course in their discipline within the first two semesters of course work at California State University, Sacramento or met one of the graduate GWAR equivalency standards.

Advancement to Candidacy forms are available on the Office of Graduate Studies website. The student fills out the form after planning a degree program in consultation with his/her HRS advisor. The completed form is then returned to the Graduate Coordinator and the Office of Graduate Studies for approval.

Learning Skills

College of Arts and Letters

Program Description

The Learning Skills Center and the Educational Opportunity Program offer courses, workshops, and individual assistance to students at all university levels. Program areas include composition, reading, study skills, mathematics, English for multilingual speakers, and special services for students with learning disabilities. In addition, internship courses are offered for students who want to tutor at the college level.

Courses numbered Learning Skills (LS) 1 through 49 are precollege level courses. These courses carry workload credit and may be counted only toward establishing full-time enrollment status. Precollege level course units are not applicable to the bachelor's degree. Course MLSK 199 carry regular bachelor's degree credits.

The following are specifically for Educational Opportunity Program students and are taught by Educational Opportunity Program faculty:

Placement - Mathematics and English Courses

Incoming freshmen are required to take the English Placement Test (EPT) and/or Entry Level Mathematics Examination (ELM).

Mathematics

If you do not have credit for GE Math and are not exempt from the Entry Level Math (ELM) test, you must take the ELM test for mathematics course placement before enrolling in the University. (See ELM exemptions in the University Catalog.) The ELM exam places students into preparatory and GE level math courses. If you place into a preparatory class (pre-GE Area B4), you must enroll in the course in your first semester at Sacramento State and complete the preparatory course sequence within one year.

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

For students planning to take a GE Area B4 math course other than MATH 1, courses in this category are MATH 17, MATH 24, MATH 26A, MATH 26B, MATH 29, MATH 30, MATH 31, MATH 35, STAT 1, STAT 50. (Successful completion of a Diagnostic Exam is a prerequisite.) Contact the Mathematics Department, Brighton Hall 141, (916) 278-6534, for GE math information.

Notes:

- You may retake the ELM Test.
- You are not required to retake the ELM Test after completion of the course sequence.

English

If you do not have credit for GE English and are not exempt from the English Placement Test, you must take the EPT for English course placement before enrolling in the University. See EPT exemptions in the University Catalog. The EPT places students into their preparatory and GE English courses. If you are multilingual, your EPT will be evaluated to see if you could benefit from a writing course specially designed to meet your needs. If you place into a preparatory class, you must enroll in the course in your first semester at Sacramento State and complete the preparatory course sequence within one year.
EPT Scores | Course Placement | Multilingual Course
--- | --- | ---
120-141 | ENGL 15 and ENGL 1 or ENGL 10 and ENGL 11 | ENGL 86 and ENGL 87 or ENGL 10M and ENGL 11M
142-145 | ENGL 1 | ENGL 87
142-145 | ENGL 5 and ENGL 1X | ENGL 5M
142-145 | ENGL 5 | ENGL 5M

If EPT score is 147-150, students must pass ENGL 5 or ENGL 5M (for multilingual students with at least a "C-" within the first year of enrollment).

The EDT places upper division multilingual students into the Graduation Writing Assessment Requirement (GWAR) sequence, ENGL 86 and ENGL 109M.

Music

College of Arts and Letters

Program Description

The fundamental purpose of the Sacramento State music curriculum is threefold:

1. to promote excellence in all aspects of music performance and academic coursework,
2. to provide basic preparation for careers in music, and
3. to promote interest in all musical and artistic endeavors at the University and in the Sacramento community.

The main emphasis of the School of Music is upon performance. Sustaining this concept is the School's faculty, which remains committed to individual and ensemble performances as a means of enhancing the teaching quality of the institution and the cultural climate of the campus and community.

Students majoring in Music are not only expected to be technically proficient in the art but are required to have broad training in the liberal arts and sciences that are the core of the University's program.

Degree Programs

BA in Music (p. 260)

Bachelor of Music (Instrumental) (p. 261)

Bachelor of Music (Jazz Studies) (p. 263)

Bachelor of Music (Keyboard) (p. 265)

Bachelor of Music (Music Education) (p. 267)

Bachelor of Music (Theory/Composition) (p. 269)

Bachelor of Music (Voice) (p. 271)

Minor in Music (p. 276)

Master of Music (Conducting) (p. 274)

Master of Music (Composition) (p. 273)

Master of Music (Performance) (p. 275)

The Performer’s Certificate (p. 277)

Accreditation

In addition to California State University, Sacramento's full accreditation by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges, the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Music, and Master of Music are also individually accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music.

Licensure and Credentialing Disclosure

Admission into programs leading to licensure and credentialing does not guarantee that students will obtain a license or credential. Licensure and credentialing requirements are set by agencies that are not controlled by or affiliated with the CSU and requirements can change at any time. For example, licensure or credentialing requirements can include evidence of the right to work in the United States (e.g., social security number or tax payer identification number) or successfully passing a criminal background check. Students are responsible for determining whether they can meet licensure or credentialing requirements. The CSU will not refund tuition, fees, or any associated costs, to students who determine subsequent to admission that they cannot meet licensure or credentialing requirements. Information concerning licensure and credentialing requirements are available from the Dean of Undergraduate Studies, Sacramento Hall 234, (916) 278-5344.

Special Features

• With all of its degree programs fully accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music, the Sacramento State School of Music has developed a regional and national reputation for the high quality of its faculty and the superior achievements of its students and performing ensembles.

• Each year the School of Music presents a large number of performances to the campus and the greater Sacramento area. These include concerts by the bands, orchestra, jazz ensembles, concert choir, chorus, and opera workshop. For nearly 40 years, the Festival of New American Music has been an important part of the musical scene in the United States. Other concerts are part of the Piano Series, the New Millennium Series and the World Music Series.

• In addition, the Department has brought to the campus such notable personalities as composers George Crumb, Bernard Rands, and Philip Glass; pianists Gilbert Kalish and Jon Nakamatsu; the Juilliard Quartet; the Kronos String Quartet; The Apple Hill Chamber Players; opera star Denyce Graves; and jazz greats Bobby Hutcherson and Bob Mintzer.

• Several music faculty have written textbooks; a number of them are composers with numerous performances to their credit; others perform quite frequently.

Note: After an initial session with the School’s admissions advisors, the student will be assigned to an applied instructor for future advising. The advising process is greatly enhanced by the regular weekly contact between student and instructor/advisor.

MUSC 1. Musicianship I. 2 Units
Prerequisite(s): MUSC 5.
Corequisite(s): MUSC 6.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Basic aural skills and practical applications of the rhythmic, melodic, and harmonic materials needed to perform, teach, and compose music. Class activities will focus around the musicianship skills of rhythmic reading and dictation, identification and dictation of intervals and triads, melodic dictation, contrapuntal dictation, harmonic dictation, and sight singing.

MUSC 2. Musicianship II. 2 Units
Prerequisite(s): MUSC 1
Corequisite(s): MUSC 7.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Advanced aural skills and practical applications of the rhythmic, melodic, and harmonic materials needed to perform, teach, and compose music. Class activities will focus around the musicianship skills of rhythmic reading and dictation, melodic dictation, contrapuntal dictation, harmonic dictation, aural analysis of form, and sight singing.

MUSC 3. MIDI Sequencing and Notation. 2 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Introduction to professional music software applications and MIDI hardware. Exploration of various hardware options such as keyboards, computers, synthesizers, samplers, and drum machines. Topics include basic MIDI principles, creating, performing, and printing music using computer-based sequencing and notation software.

MUSC 4. Elements Of Music. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Introduction in music theory and musicianship. No previous musical training is assumed. Objectives are: to understand the meaning of musical notation and terminology; to acquire some skill in translating musical notation into sound and vice versa; to understand the rudiments of musical structure and syntax (rhythm and meter, scales and keys, intervals and chords, basic aspects of musical design) both on paper and as a listener; and to put these elements to some creative use.

MUSC 5. Beginning Theory. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): Placement by exam.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Beginning theory for music majors designed to provide a thorough study of the basis of tonal music. Includes scales, diatonic triads, melody, voice-leading, and simple harmonic progressions as well as correlative work in ear training and sight singing.

MUSC 6. Intermediate Theory. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): MUSC 5
Corequisite(s): MUSC 1.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Intermediate music theory that builds on the contents of MUSC 5. Includes stylistic analysis, diatonic seventh chords, modulation, secondary dominant chords, and simple formal structures. An aural skills component emphasizes melodic and harmonic dictation of music associated with the harmonic devices studied.

MUSC 7. Advanced Theory. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): MUSC 1 and MUSC 6.
Corequisite(s): MUSC 2.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Advanced tonal theory that includes the study of enriched harmonic resources of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries as well as an introduction to counterpoint and large musical forms. The aural component includes dictation and vocal reading of chromatic music and aural analysis of form.

MUSC 8. Basic Music. 3 Units
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Arts (Area C1)
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Orientation designed to provide musical knowledge, skills, and competencies necessary for reading music or listening to music.
Note: May not be taken for credit by music majors.

MUSC 9. Music In World Cultures. 3 Units
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Arts (Area C1)
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Designed as a survey of world music for music majors. Explores how music is used as a form of human expression in all cultures. Musical instruments, forms and styles, and the roles and functions of music in traditional and contemporary societies in various cultures throughout the world.
MUSC 10A. Survey of Music Literature I. 3 Units
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Arts (Area C1)
Term Typically Offered: Fall only
Survey of Medieval, Renaissance and Baroque music literature in Western art music, its stylistic development, and cultural context. Emphasis on score reading and listening. Introduction to primary source readings and musicological literature.

MUSC 10B. Survey of Music Literature II. 3 Units
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Arts (Area C1)
Term Typically Offered: Fall only
Survey of Classical and Romantic music literature in Western art music, its stylistic development, and cultural context. Emphasis on score reading and listening. Introduction to primary source readings and musicological literature.

MUSC 10C. Survey of Music Literature III. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Spring only
Survey of 20th and 21st Century music literature in Western art music, its stylistic development, and cultural context. Emphasis on score reading and listening. Introduction to primary source readings and musicological literature.

MUSC 11A. Music Theory I. 2 Units
Corequisite(s): MUSC 12A for students enrolled in all music degree programs other than the BA Music degree.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Theory I is designed to introduce students to some of the materials and structures of certain styles of tonal and modal music. The course begins with a brief review of fundamentals before moving quickly into the understanding of two important kinds of notational shorthand. The second half of the course is concerned primarily with the study of counterpoint. These studies will prepare students to engage two topics critical to the success of a musician: interpretation and expression. Perquisite: MUSC 4 or placement by exam at the time of university enrollment.

MUSC 11B. Music Theory II. 2 Units
Prerequisite(s): MUSC 11A or placement by exam at the time of university enrollment.
Corequisite(s): MUSC 12B for students enrolled in all music degree programs other than the BA Music degree.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Theory II is designed to deepen students’ understanding of some of the materials and structures of certain styles of tonal and modal music. The course is a balance of taking music apart through score analysis and putting music together through model composition, or creating original music that imitates a particular style. These studies will prepare students to engage two topics critical to the success of a musician: interpretation and expression.

MUSC 11C. Music Theory III. 2 Units
Prerequisite(s): MUSC 11B or placement by exam at the time of university enrollment.
Corequisite(s): MUSC 12C for students enrolled in a music degree program other than the BA Music degree.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

BA in Music

Units required for Major: 40
Total units required for BA: 120

Program Description

The fundamental purpose of the Sacramento State music curriculum is threefold:

1. to promote excellence in all aspects of music performance and academic coursework,
2. to provide basic preparation for careers in music, and
3. to promote interest in all musical and artistic endeavors at the University and in the Sacramento community.

The main emphasis of the School of Music is upon performance. Sustaining this concept is the School's faculty, which remains committed to individual and ensemble performances as a means of enhancing the teaching quality of the institution and the cultural climate of the campus and community.

Students majoring in Music are not only expected to be technically proficient in the art but are required to have broad training in the liberal arts and sciences that are the core of the University's program.

Grade "C-" or better required in all courses applied to the major.

General Requirements

The following are required for the Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Music degree programs:

Performance Evaluation: Upon entering the music major, each student is required to:

1. declare his/her major performance medium (instrument or voice);
2. perform an entering placement audition before the appropriate applied faculty; and
3. continue the development of his/her performance ability through regular study in accordance with Departmental requirements.

This development in performance is demonstrated at end-of-semester auditions before the applied music faculty. See applied music numbers for appropriate courses.

Soloist: Each student in the BA program of sophomore standing or above should appear as a soloist in at least one student recital or repertoire class each semester. Students in the BM program must do either a repertoire class performance or one student recital each semester.

Ensemble: As an ensemble experience, each student must participate in at least one large performing ensemble each semester. The following groups meet this requirement: symphonic band, concert band, marching band, opera workshop, orchestra, concert choir, or University chorus.

Attendance/concerts-recitals: Each music major is required to attend a minimum of ten concerts and/or recitals each semester. Attendance is monitored electronically. Students may choose to earn academic credit for this requirement by enrolling in MUSC 100A as an elective.

Teacher Preparation: Teaching credential candidates must also complete the Professional Education Program in addition to the BM Music Education requirements. See the College of Education section of this catalog for admission procedures and consult the department credential advisor for details.

Marching Band: Wind and percussion majors who are credential candidates must include at least one semester of marching band (MUSC 142M) as their Large Performance Ensemble experience.

Bachelor of Music (Instrumental)

Units required for Major: 75-78, including units for concentration (see below)

Total units required for BM: 120

Program Description

The fundamental purpose of the Sacramento State music curriculum is threefold:

1. to promote excellence in all aspects of music performance and academic coursework,
2. to provide basic preparation for careers in music, and
3. to promote interest in all musical and artistic endeavors at the University and in the Sacramento community.

The main emphasis of the School of Music is upon performance. Sustaining this concept is the School's faculty, which remains committed to individual and ensemble performances as a means of enhancing the teaching quality of the institution and the cultural climate of the campus and community.

Students majoring in Music are not only expected to be technically proficient in the art but are required to have broad training in the liberal arts and sciences that are the core of the University's program.

Admission Requirements

Admission to the Bachelor of Music degree program requires the recommendation of the student’s major applied instructor, a 3.0 GPA in music courses, and approval of the applied area based upon a successful audition. Admission criteria and audition instructions may be obtained from the Music Department Office.
Each area of concentration has unique course requirements. Students interested in a BM degree should discuss the details of the program with a faculty advisor in the Music Department.

Grade "C-" or better required in all courses applied to the major.

General Requirements

The following are required for the Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Music degree programs:

Performance Evaluation: Upon entering the music major, each student is required to:

1. declare his/her major performance medium (instrument or voice);
2. perform an entering placement audition before the appropriate applied faculty; and
3. continue the development of his/her performance ability through regular study in accordance with Departmental requirements.

This development in performance is demonstrated at end-of-semester auditions before the applied music faculty. See applied music numbers for appropriate courses.

Soloist: Each student in the BA program of sophomore standing or above should appear as a soloist in at least one student recital or repertoire class each semester. Students in the BM program must do either a repertoire class performance or one student recital each semester.

Ensemble: As an ensemble experience, each student must participate in at least one large performing ensemble each semester. The following groups meet this requirement: symphonic band, concert band, marching band, opera workshop, orchestra, concert choir, or University chorus. Assignment to the performing ensemble(s) is to be made in consultation with the music major advisor and by audition. A MUSC 142 series course is the appropriate course in which to register.

Piano: All undergraduate students majoring in music must have basic facility in piano to graduate from the University. For students other than keyboard majors, completion of MUSC 140 meets this requirement.

Attendance/concerts-recitals: Each music major is required to attend a minimum of ten concerts and/or recitals each semester. Attendance is monitored electronically. Students may choose to earn academic credit for this requirement by enrolling in MUSC 100A as an elective.

Teacher Preparation: Teaching credential candidates must also complete the Professional Education Program in addition to the BM Music Education requirements. See the College of Education section of this catalog for admission procedures and consult the department credential advisor for details.

Marching Band: Wind and percussion majors who are credential candidates must include at least one semester of marching band (MUSC 142M) as their Large Performance Ensemble experience.

3. continue the development of his/her performance ability through regular study in accordance with Departmental requirements.

This development in performance is demonstrated at end-of-semester auditions before the applied music faculty. See applied music numbers for appropriate courses.

Soloist: Each student in the BA program of sophomore standing or above should appear as a soloist in at least one student recital or repertoire class each semester. Students in the BM program must do either a repertoire class performance or one student recital each semester.

Ensemble: As an ensemble experience, each student must participate in at least one large performing ensemble each semester. The following groups meet this requirement: symphonic band, concert band, marching band, opera workshop, orchestra, concert choir, or University chorus. Assignment to the performing ensemble(s) is to be made in consultation with the music major advisor and by audition. A MUSC 142 series course is the appropriate course in which to register.

Piano: All undergraduate students majoring in music must have basic facility in piano to graduate from the University. For students other than keyboard majors, completion of MUSC 140 meets this requirement.

Attendance/concerts-recitals: Each music major is required to attend a minimum of ten concerts and/or recitals each semester. Attendance is monitored electronically. Students may choose to earn academic credit for this requirement by enrolling in MUSC 100A as an elective.

Teacher Preparation: Teaching credential candidates must also complete the Professional Education Program in addition to the BM Music Education requirements. See the College of Education section of this catalog for admission procedures and consult the department credential advisor for details.

Marching Band: Wind and percussion majors who are credential candidates must include at least one semester of marching band (MUSC 142M) as their Large Performance Ensemble experience.

Bachelor of Music (Keyboard)

Units required for Major: 75-78, including units for concentration (see below)
Total units required for BM: 120

Program Description

The fundamental purpose of the Sacramento State music curriculum is threefold:
1. to promote excellence in all aspects of music performance and academic coursework,
2. to provide basic preparation for careers in music, and
3. to promote interest in all musical and artistic endeavors at the University and in the Sacramento community.

The main emphasis of the School of Music is upon performance. Sustaining this concept is the School’s faculty, which remains committed to individual and ensemble performances as a means of enhancing the teaching quality of the institution and the cultural climate of the campus and community.

Students majoring in Music are not only expected to be technically proficient in the art but are required to have broad training in the liberal arts and sciences that are the core of the University’s program.

Admission Requirements

Admission to the Bachelor of Music degree program requires the recommendation of the student’s major applied instructor, a 3.0 GPA in music courses, and approval of the applied area based upon a successful audition. Admission criteria and audition instructions may be obtained from the Music Department Office.

Each area of concentration has unique course requirements. Students interested in a BM degree should discuss the details of the program with a faculty advisor in the Music Department.

Grade "C-" or better required in all courses applied to the major.
General Requirements

The following are required for the Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Music degree programs:

Performance Evaluation: Upon entering the music major, each student is required to:
1. declare his/her major performance medium (instrument or voice);
2. perform an entering placement audition before the appropriate applied faculty; and
3. continue the development of his/her performance ability through regular study in accordance with Departmental requirements.

This development in performance is demonstrated at end-of-semester auditions before the applied music faculty. See applied music numbers for appropriate courses.

Soloist: Each student in the BA program of sophomore standing or above should appear as a soloist in at least one student recital or repertoire class each semester. Students in the BM program must do either a repertoire class performance or one student recital each semester.

Ensemble: As an ensemble experience, each student must participate in at least one large performing ensemble each semester. The following groups meet this requirement: symphonic band, concert band, marching band, opera workshop, orchestra, concert choir, or University chorus. Assignment to the performing ensemble(s) is to be made in consultation with the music major advisor and by audition. A MUSC 142 series course is the appropriate course in which to register.

Piano: All undergraduate students majoring in music must have basic facility in piano to graduate from the University. For students other than keyboard majors, completion of MUSC 140 meets this requirement.

Attendance/concerts-recitals: Each music major is required to attend a minimum of ten concerts and/or recitals each semester. Attendance is monitored electronically. Students may choose to earn academic credit for this requirement by enrolling in MUSC 100A as an elective.

Teacher Preparation: Teaching credential candidates must also complete the Professional Education Program in addition to the BM Music Education requirements. See the College of Education section of this catalog for admission procedures and consult the department credential advisor for details.

Marching Band: Wind and percussion majors who are credential candidates must include at least one semester of marching band (MUSC 142M) as their Large Performance Ensemble experience.

Units required for Major: 75-78, including units for concentration (see below)

Total units required for BM: 120
with the music major advisor and by audition. A MUSC 142 series course is the appropriate course in which to register.

Piano: All undergraduate students majoring in music must have basic facility in piano to graduate from the University. For students other than keyboard majors, completion of MUSC 14D meets this requirement.

Attendance/concerts-recitals: Each music major is required to attend a minimum of ten concerts and/or recitals each semester. Attendance is monitored electronically. Students may choose to earn academic credit for this requirement by enrolling in MUSC 100A as an elective.

Teacher Preparation: Teaching credential candidates must also complete the Professional Education Program in addition to the BM Music Education requirements. See the College of Education section of this catalog for admission procedures and consult the department credential advisor for details.

Marching Band: Wind and percussion majors who are credential candidates must include at least one semester of marching band (MUSC 142M) as their Large Performance Ensemble experience.

The main emphasis of the School of Music is upon performance. The fundamental purpose of the Sacramento State music curriculum is threefold:
1. to promote excellence in all aspects of music performance and academic coursework,
2. to provide basic preparation for careers in music, and
3. to promote interest in all musical and artistic endeavors at the University and in the Sacramento community.

The basic requirement for all BM students is to complete each semester with a minimum of ten concerts and/or recitals. Attendance/concerts-recitals:

- Keyboard majors, completion of MUSC 14D is the appropriate course in which to register.
- Assignment to the performing ensemble(s) is to be made in consultation with the music major advisor and by audition. A MUSC 142 series course is required to:
- Be a faculty advisor in the Music Department.
- Each major has unique course requirements. Students majoring in Music are not only expected to be technically proficient in the art but are required to have broad training in the liberal arts and sciences that are the core of the University’s program.

Admission Requirements

Admission to the Bachelor of Music degree program requires the recommendation of the student’s major applied instructor, a 3.0 GPA in music courses, and approval of the applied area based upon a successful audition. Admission criteria and audition instructions may be obtained from the Music Department or email advising@csus.edu.

Each area of concentration has unique course requirements. Students interested in a BM degree should discuss the details of the program with a faculty advisor in the Music Department.

Grade "C-" or better required in all courses applied to the major.

General Requirements

The following are required for the Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Music degree programs:

Performance Evaluation: Upon entering the music major, each student is required to:
1. declare his/her major performance medium (instrument or voice);
2. perform an entering placement audition before the appropriate applied faculty; and
3. continue the development of his/her performance ability through regular study in accordance with Departmental requirements.

This development in performance is demonstrated at end-of-semester auditions before the applied music faculty. See applied music numbers for appropriate courses.

Soloist: Each student in the BA program of sophomore standing or above should appear as a soloist in at least one student recital or repertoire class each semester. Students in the BM program must do either a repertoire class performance or one student recital each semester.

Ensemble: As an ensemble experience, each student must participate in at least one large performing ensemble each semester. The following groups meet this requirement: symphonic band, concert band, marching band, opera workshop, orchestra, concert choir, or University chorus. Assignment to the performing ensemble(s) is to be made in consultation with the music major advisor and by audition. A MUSC 142 series course is the appropriate course in which to register.

Piano: All undergraduate students majoring in music must have basic facility in piano to graduate from the University. For students other than keyboard majors, completion of MUSC 14D meets this requirement.

Attendance/concerts-recitals: Each music major is required to attend a minimum of ten concerts and/or recitals each semester. Attendance is monitored electronically. Students may choose to earn academic credit for this requirement by enrolling in MUSC 100A as an elective.

Teacher Preparation: Teaching credential candidates must also complete the Professional Education Program in addition to the BM Music Education requirements. See the College of Education section of this catalog for admission procedures and consult the department credential advisor for details.

Marching Band: Wind and percussion majors who are credential candidates must include at least one semester of marching band (MUSC 142M) as their Large Performance Ensemble experience.

Master of Music (Composition)

Total Units required for the MM: 30, chosen in consultation with a Music Department graduate advisor

Program Description

The graduate program leading to the Master of Music degree is designed to provide opportunity for a variety of advanced studies in music. The objective of the program is to produce a graduate student skilled in research, able in organizational and writing skills, and imaginative in developing new approaches and concepts: a student who, with a broad knowledge of the history and literature of music, is able to use this knowledge with effective musicality as a performer or conductor.

The MM may be earned with either an academic or a performance emphasis. The program will effectively prepare students for continuation into doctoral study. Students may focus their studies in one of three areas: Conducting, Composition, Performance.

Admission Requirements

Applicants to the graduate program in Music must meet the following requirements:

- a baccalaureate degree with a music major;
- a minimum 3.0 GPA in the last 60 units; and
- successful audition or composition portfolio review (see the School of Music website (http://www.csus.edu/music) for audition information).

Fully classified graduate status is granted after successful completion of nine units of graduate work. The student must file for a change in status, using a form available from the Music Department’s Graduate Coordinator.

Admission Procedures

Applications are accepted as long as room for new students exists. All prospective graduate students, including Sacramento State graduates, must file the following with the Office of Graduate Studies (http://www.csus.edu/gradstudies):

- an application for admission;
- once set of official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended (other than Sacramento State); and
- two letters of reference.

For more admissions information and application deadlines please visit the Office of Graduate Studies website (http://www.csus.edu/gradstudies).

After receipt of all items listed above, a decision regarding admission will be emailed to the applicant.

Minimum Units and Grade Requirement for the Degree

Units required for the MM: 30, chosen in consultation with a Music Department graduate advisor

Minimum Cumulative GPA: 3.0. Majors must complete each required course with a grade "C-" or better.

Optional Support Field

From 3 to 5 units in fields other than Music may apply toward the degree with approval of the Music Department graduate committee. Students should have at least 10 upper division units in this field as preparation. Normally the supporting field units are on the graduate level. Supporting fields currently approved for music majors are Education, Humanities and Religious Studies, Modern Languages, and Theatre Arts. In the case of Music Education, courses which are part of the credential requirements may not be included.

Advancement to Candidacy

Each fully classified graduate student must file an application for Advancement to Candidacy, indicating a proposed program of graduate study. This procedure should begin as soon as the student has:

- completed approximately 15 units of graduate study, including MUSC 201 and two other 200-level courses, with a minimum of 3.0 GPA;
- received approval from supervising faculty to enter courses leading to MUSC 500, Culminating Experience (see Graduate Studies Handbook for details);
- taken the Writing Placement for Graduate Students (WPG) or taken a Graduate Writing Intensive (GWI) course in their discipline within the first two semesters of coursework at California State University, Sacramento or secured approval for a WPG waiver.

Master of Music (Performance)

Total units required for the MM: 30, chosen in consultation with a Music Department graduate advisor

Program Description

The graduate program leading to the Master of Music degree is designed to provide opportunity for a variety of advanced studies in music. The objective of the program is to produce a graduate student skilled in research, able in organizational and writing skills, and imaginative in developing new approaches and concepts: a student who, with a broad knowledge of the history and literature of music, is able to use this knowledge with effective musicality as a performer or conductor.

The MM may be earned with either an academic or a performance emphasis. The program will effectively prepare students for continuation into doctoral study. Students may focus their studies in one of three areas: Conducting, Composition, Performance.

Admission Requirements

Applicants to the graduate program in Music must meet the following requirements:

- a baccalaureate degree with a music major;
- a minimum 3.0 GPA in the last 60 units; and
- successful audition or composition portfolio review (see the School of Music website (http://www.csus.edu/music) for audition information).

Fully classified graduate status is granted after successful completion of nine units of graduate work. The student must file for a change in status, using a form available from the Music Department’s Graduate Coordinator.

Admission Procedures

Applications are accepted as long as room for new students exists. All prospective graduate students, including Sacramento State graduates, must file the following with the Office of Graduate Studies (http://www.csus.edu/gradstudies):

- an application for admission;
- once set of official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended (other than Sacramento State); and
- two letters of reference.

For more admissions information and application deadlines please visit the Office of Graduate Studies website (http://www.csus.edu/gradstudies).

After receipt of all items listed above, a decision regarding admission will be emailed to the applicant.

Minimum Units and Grade Requirement for the Degree

Units required for the MM: 30, chosen in consultation with a Music Department graduate advisor

Minimum Cumulative GPA: 3.0. Majors must complete each required course with a grade "C-" or better.

Optional Support Field

From 3 to 5 units in fields other than Music may apply toward the degree with approval of the Music Department graduate committee. Students should have at least 10 upper division units in this field as preparation. Normally the supporting field units are on the graduate level. Supporting fields currently approved for music majors are Education, Humanities and Religious Studies, Modern Languages, and Theatre Arts. In the case of Music Education, courses which are part of the credential requirements may not be included.

Advancement to Candidacy

Each fully classified graduate student must file an application for Advancement to Candidacy, indicating a proposed program of graduate study. This procedure should begin as soon as the student has:

- completed approximately 15 units of graduate study, including MUSC 201 and two other 200-level courses, with a minimum of 3.0 GPA;
- received approval from supervising faculty to enter courses leading to MUSC 500, Culminating Experience (see Graduate Studies Handbook for details);
- taken the Writing Placement for Graduate Students (WPG) or taken a Graduate Writing Intensive (GWI) course in their discipline within...
the first two semesters of coursework at California State University, Sacramento or secured approval for a WPG waiver.

Advancement to Candidacy forms are available on the Office of Graduate Studies website. Instructions are found in Part II of the Graduate Studies Handbook.

Minor in Music

Units required for the Minor: 20, including 9 units upper division.

Program Description

The fundamental purpose of the Sacramento State music curriculum is threefold:

1. to promote excellence in all aspects of music performance and academic coursework,
2. to provide basic preparation for careers in music, and
3. to promote interest in all musical and artistic endeavors at the University and in the Sacramento community.

The main emphasis of the School of Music is upon performance. Sustaining this concept is the School’s faculty, which remains committed to individual and ensemble performances as a means of enhancing the teaching quality of the institution and the cultural climate of the campus and community.

Students majoring in Music are not only expected to be technically proficient in the art but are required to have broad training in the liberal arts and sciences that are the core of the University’s program.

Philosophy

College of Arts and Letters

Program Description

The subject of philosophy encompasses such fundamental issues as the scope and limits of human knowledge, the ultimate constituents of reality, the sources of value and obligation, and the nature of logic and correct reasoning. Philosophy utilizes the findings of many other academic disciplines and, in its method, stresses clear, rigorous, impartial and systematic thought. The application of philosophical ideas to practical problems is central to the subject.

Sacramento State offers the Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in philosophy as well as a philosophy minor. Philosophy is an excellent vehicle for refining one's skills in critical reasoning and rational decision-making, making it a useful major for a wide variety of career goals. For instance, philosophy is good preparation for the study and practice of law. Philosophy majors who plan a career in teaching at the college or university level must commit themselves to a program of graduate study upon completion of the BA.

Degree Programs

- BA in Philosophy (General Concentration) (p. 284)
- BA in Philosophy (Ethics, Politics, and Law) (p. 282)
- BA in Philosophy (Logic and Philosophy of Science) (p. 286)
- BA in Philosophy (Honors) (p. 285)

Minor in Philosophy (p. 288)

Special Features

- The Philosophy Department professors are active scholars who have presented many written papers and lectures at professional conferences. They are also active in the community, giving public lectures both on and off campus. Many participate in our Future Philosophers program by giving presentations to local high schools.
- The Philosophy Department houses The Center for Practical and Professional Ethics, which is dedicated to fostering better public understanding of contemporary ethical issues from a philosophical perspective.
- Flexible major and minor requirements allow students to choose concentrations and a range of electives to fit their specific interests and career objectives. The minor is an excellent complement to a variety of majors. It is also possible to complete the minor in such a way that almost all classes satisfy GE requirements.
- Students are encouraged to take part in the Philosophy Club. Its regular meetings are designed to promote group discussions about topics of philosophical interest. Club speakers have included students, philosophy faculty, professors from other departments on campus, and professors from other universities.
- The Philosophy Department offers a Philosophy Major Honors Program for qualified students. This program provides motivated students with an opportunity to expand their philosophy education, develop their writing, pursue philosophical research, prepare for graduate studies or law school, or enhance their career preparations. Students interested in pursuing graduate study in Philosophy are especially encouraged to participate in this program.

BA in Philosophy (Ethics, Politics, and Law)

Units required for Major: 40-43
Total units required for BA: 120

Program Description

The concentration in Ethics, Politics, and Law is designed as a preparation for the study of law as well as for advanced professional study in applied ethics. It is also intended to give undergraduates a foundation in rational decision-making, embodying the conviction that such an intellectual capacity has broad application.

The concentration gives students an understanding of the theories behind moral and legal principles as well as training in the process of decision-making applying those principles. Students will be called upon to make decisions in particular cases; state the facts impartially; convey their decisions and their reasoning cogently and persuasively; and justify their decisions by showing how they are both a reasonable consequence of those principles and not overturned by overriding conflicting principles. There will be a particular emphasis on clear and effective writing.

BA in Philosophy (Logic and Philosophy of Science)

Units required for Major: 40
Total units required for BA: 120

Program Description

The concentration in Logic and Philosophy of Science is designed for students who are interested in the general nature of scientific inquiry and/or philosophical problems that arise within specific fields like psychology, biology, and physics. It is a good choice for the science-oriented philosophy major and will help to prepare those who are interested in studying logic and philosophy of science at the graduate level. This concentration also provides an excellent double major opportunity for science students interested in broadening and deepening their grasp of their chosen field.

The concentration gives students an understanding of logical theory and how logic applies to scientific and philosophical reasoning. It will also provide an understanding of issues in the philosophy of science. These include the nature of scientific explanation, the nature of scientific evidence, and the process of confirming and revising scientific theories. Philosophy of science also explores traditional philosophical questions as they arise in the context of scientific inquiry. Some of these are: Do we really know that the theoretical entities of science exist? What is the difference between science and pseudo-science? Do different sciences give us fundamentally different ways of understanding the world? Is science converging on truth or will it always undergo revolutionary changes that reject widely accepted theories of the past? Does scientific inquiry have intrinsic value or are there questions that scientists should not ask?

Note: Philosophy majors must fulfill the GE Writing Intensive "supervenient requirement" with courses in the major, only.

Minor in Philosophy

Units required for Minor: 18

Program Description

The subject of philosophy encompasses such fundamental issues as the scope and limits of human knowledge, the ultimate constituents of reality, the sources of value and obligation, and the nature of logic and correct reasoning. Philosophy utilizes the findings of many other academic disciplines and, in its method, stresses clear, rigorous, impartial and systematic thought. The application of philosophical ideas to practical problems is central to the subject.

Note: Students who minor in Philosophy are free to plan a sequence of courses suited to their individual needs and interests. However, for a given major, the Department offers certain courses that have particular relevance. Contact Department advisors for course recommendations.

Licensure and credentialing requirements are available from the Dean of Undergraduate Studies, Sacramento Hall 234, (916) 278-5344.

Special Features
• Academic offerings include an excellent program of performance opportunities. Each year we offer four to six faculty-directed productions and a varied selection of additional productions including student-directed one-acts, recruitment shows, and community outreach performances. Students are also offered production assignments as stage managers, designers and technicians, all of which enhance the range of theatrical knowledge and experience.
• Included are African American and Chicano/Latino Theatre productions that make this program unique in the State University System.
• In addition to the performance and technical components, Sacramento State’s Theatre program provides organizations that encompass social, academic and professional opportunities, both on campus and in the community.
• The Theatre program participates annually in the Kennedy Center American College Theatre Festival (KCACTF).

Dance
Majors in the Dance program receive training in dance technique, performance, production, choreography, theory, dance history, and dance education.

The comprehensive Dance program starts with the basic principles of dance technique and refines them through choreographic and theoretic processes, culminating in the creation of full-scale concert productions. Students in the program are involved at every level of the creative process.

Special Features
• Dance majors have the opportunity to participate as members of several dance companies and organizations. Company members are involved in all aspects of producing and presenting dance, from creating and performing choreography to designing and implementing the production and promotional aspects of the concerts.
• Dance majors are given the opportunity to work with professional dance artists. Each year, at least one regional professional dance artist is in residence, and the program invites nationally acclaimed guest artists to teach master classes and choreograph.
• The Dance program participates annually in the American College Dance Association (ACDA) conference and the International Association of Blacks in Dance (IABD) conference.

Chinese

College of Arts and Letters

Program Description

Courses in Chinese encompass the study of Chinese language, literature, media, and culture. The primary emphasis is on Modern Standard Mandarin Chinese. Elementary Chinese courses (CHIN 1A through CHIN 1B) focus on reading, writing, and spoken Mandarin, based on Traditional Chinese characters. Upon completion of CHIN 2B, students will be able to converse at an elementary to intermediate level and to read and write Traditional and Simplified Chinese texts. The upper division courses form the nucleus for a minor and provide a foundation for advanced studies at other universities or graduate school. Upper division lecture courses taught in English are designed to help students appreciate the richness of Chinese culture, language, and literature in the tradition of general education.

An understanding of China, combined with proficiency in the Chinese language, will, in addition to the obvious academic and intellectual gains, make graduates more versatile and sought after in international business, education, social work, law enforcement, government, and Foreign Service positions.

Through language instruction, students will acquire the basic tools to communicate with the growing population of Chinese-speaking immigrants in California, to undertake travels in China, Taiwan, Hong Kong, and other Southeast Asian countries where Chinese are a major ethnic group, and to pursue further studies in Chinese history, culture, and society.

Students interested in further advanced study in Chinese may design a Special Major in Chinese by consulting program faculty and spending one year undergoing intensive language study at a Mandarin Training Center in Taiwan, China, or Hong Kong. The Asian Studies Program also offers a major with a concentration in Chinese Studies.

CHIN 1A. Elementary Mandarin.
Term Typically Offered: Fall only

Beginning Mandarin with emphasis on listening comprehension, speaking, grammar structure and character writing. The relationship between language and culture will also be emphasized. Includes an introduction to elements of Chinese culture that pertain to language, such as mode of thinking, inter-human relations, and aesthetic expressions.

CHIN 1B. Elementary Mandarin.
Prerequisite(s): CHIN 1A or instructor permission.
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Humanities (Area C2), Foreign Language Graduation Requirement
Term Typically Offered: Spring only

Continuation of CHIN 1A, with growing emphasis on reading, writing, and listening. Chinese cultural patterns as reflected in the language, such as societal values and views of the world, will continue to be emphasized.

CHIN 2A. Intermediate Mandarin.
Prerequisite(s): CHIN 1B or instructor permission.
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Foreign Language Graduation Requirement
Term Typically Offered: Fall only

Intermediate Mandarin on the further development of reading, speaking, and writing skills. Emphasis will be placed on the shift from romanized script to Chinese characters. Introduction will also be made to simple prose reading. Meets the Foreign Language Graduation Proficiency Requirement.

CHIN 2B. Intermediate Mandarin.
Prerequisite(s): CHIN 2A or instructor permission.
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Foreign Language Graduation Requirement
Term Typically Offered: Spring only

Continuation of CHIN 2A designed to further the development of reading, speaking and writing skills at the intermediate to intermediate-high level.

CHIN 110. Advanced Mandarin: Modern Chinese Fiction.
3 Units
Prerequisite(s): CHIN 2B or instructor permission.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Taught exclusively in Mandarin as an introduction to Modern Chinese Fiction through a careful study of representative works from both the People’s Republic of China and Taiwan.

CHIN 120. Chinese Civilization.
3 Units
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Humanities (Area C2)
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Presentation of formative cultural achievements of China through language and literature with a view to understanding present-day popular Chinese culture. A general survey conducted in English for students who are taking Chinese language courses and others who want a deeper appreciation of this important non-Western culture.

CHIN 130. Introduction to Classical and Literary Chinese.
3 Units
Prerequisite(s): CHIN 2A or equivalent

The classical Chinese language, also known as literary Chinese, is the primary form of communication for at least three thousand years. Although Classical Chinese uses many of the same characters as modern Mandarin Chinese, the syntax and diction are quite different. In this course, we will study the language through readings in early philosophical, historical, and poetic texts.

CHIN 150. Survey of Chinese Literature.
3 Units
Prerequisite(s): CHIN 2A or equivalent

The various forms of Chinese prose, poetry, and novel will be surveyed through the selective reading of representative works (in English translation). Class is conducted in English.

CHIN 195. Fieldwork-Tutoring.
1 - 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): Advanced level fluency and instructor permission.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Tutoring of lower division students in Mandarin or Cantonese. 3 hours of tutoring per week for each unit. May be taken for credit more than once. Credit/No Credit

CHIN 199. Special Problems.
1 - 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Individual projects or directed reading. Open only to students who appear competent to carry on independent study. Admission requires the approval of the instructor by whom the work is to be supervised. Credit/No Credit

Minor in Chinese

Total units required for Minor: 12 upper division units in Chinese selected with the approval of the Chinese language advisor

Sacramento community in general; it represents the French language, literature, and civilization of Europe and North America as well as other areas of the world where French is the common language.

The French program helps prepare its majors and minors for careers not only in teaching but in many other fields as well, such as business, journalism, and government service. To that end it offers courses that enable students to grow intellectually and to live and work successfully in areas where the French language is spoken.

The program reaches out to both the local and international communities.
Students have the opportunity to study abroad as well as to tutor and teach in local schools. The French faculty pride themselves on being accessible to students and taking a keen interest in the students’ individual achievements.

The Bachelor of Arts in French offers an exploration of the vast contribution that French language and culture have made to the world.

The program gives courses in literature, culture, and language (there are also courses in translating and interpreting).

Students majoring in business often find a French minor to be an asset to their careers. Students majoring in other fields may minor in French if a large part of their professional literature is in French or because they may work in a location where French is widely spoken; for others a French minor may meet graduate-degree requirements.

Subject Matter Program (p. 308)

Special Features

• An active French Club offers students the opportunity to participate in French-oriented cultural and social events and a chance to meet
  French people on an informal basis.
• Students are encouraged to spend part of their undergraduate careers in study abroad. Sacramento State sponsors exchanges with various universities in Quebec and a consortium of campuses of the University of Paris. The CSU has a Junior Year Abroad program in France at Aix-en-Provence. In addition, each year a Sacramento State graduate with a major in French is awarded a teaching assistantship in France with a salary from the French government. CSU students, with any major, may enroll for one year at a Canadian university.
French majors, particularly, will find this program gives them a unique opportunity to become acquainted with French-Canadian culture and language. Summer language programs are available in Canada; students who achieve sufficient proficiency in French may attend a French-language university (information available from the Sacramento State Office of International Programs, Library 1001).

Note: A GPA of 2.75 is required in courses applied to the major.

Additional Information

- Credit by Exam: A maximum of 16 units in foreign language studies may be challenged, only 12 of which may be in French.
- Junior Year in France: Student planning to apply for admission to the overseas program should consult the department for information.
- Foreign Language for Advanced Degree Requirements: Many graduate degree programs require competence in one or more foreign languages, and French is often is recommended or required. Students planning advanced degree study in areas having foreign language requirements should give careful consideration to completing two or more years of a foreign language as part of their baccalaureate degree.

1. To help you complete your degree in a timely manner and not take more units than absolutely necessary, there are ways to use single courses to meet more than one requirement (overlap). For further information, please visit the General Education page (p. 1027).

Note: There is no way to list all possible overlaps so please consult with a professional advisor. The Academic Advising Center can be visited online (http://www.csus.edu/acad), by phone (916) 278-1000, or email (advising@csus.edu).

2. Required in Major; also satisfies GE.

3. If not satisfied before entering Sacramento State, it may be satisfied in General Education Area C2 (Humanities). “C- or better required.” The alternative methods for satisfying the Foreign Language Proficiency Requirement are described here: https://www.csus.edu/wil/flgr/

Minor in French

Units required for Minor: 12 units all upper division courses taught in French

Program Description

The French program is a cultural resource to Sacramento State and the Sacramento community in general; it represents the French language, literature, and civilization of Europe and North America as well as other areas of the world where French is the common language.

The French program helps prepare its majors and minors for careers not only in teaching but in many other fields as well, such as business, journalism, and government service. Program Requirements
The requirements for a teaching credential in French are the same as those for the major. Candidates must contact the French Credential Program Coordinator, in the Department of Foreign Languages, to have their transcripts reviewed, to schedule an oral interview in French and to assess their subject matter competency. The Foreign Language Proficiency Examination in French may also be required.

Teaching credential candidates must also complete the Professional Education Program in addition to other requirements for a teaching credential. You may obtain information about the Professional Education Program from the Teacher Preparation Program Office, Eureka Hall 216, (916) 278-6403.

A minor in another subject which can lead to a Supplementary Teaching Credential is strongly recommended.

German
College of Arts and Letters

Program Description
Courses in German encompass the study of German language, literature, and culture. Language study begins with the imparting of the four basic language skills, namely speaking, aural comprehension, reading, and writing. The teaching of these skills is provided as part of programs in liberal arts, in general education and in professional training, as well as a service for other degree programs.

The imparting of the basic language skills is the first and necessary step toward what is actually the liberal arts core of our curriculum: the upper division offerings. It is through the advanced language, literature, and culture courses that the students become familiar with the intricacies of another language and with the literary and cultural contributions made by the people who speak it.

Students who are considering the study of German should talk to a German faculty advisor. Each student minoring in German is assigned an advisor upon entry into the program. For assistance in obtaining an advisor, contact the Foreign Language Department office.

Teaching credential candidates must complete the Professional Education Program in addition to other requirements for a teaching credential. Consult a Department credential advisor for details. They may also obtain information about the Professional Education Program from the Teacher Preparation Program Office, Eureka Hall 216, (916) 278-6403.

Subject Matter Program (p. 311)

Special Features
- Close cooperation between members of the German faculty and the Sacramento French community has provided students with an opportunity to improve their language abilities and to become familiar with German customs and traditions.
- In addition, the German Club on campus allows students to socialize with others of similar interests.
- The Sacramento State chapter of Delta Phi Alpha, the national German honor society, gives recognition and awards to outstanding students and scholars.
- The German program is supported by modern language laboratory facilities, a departmental library, and a collection of instructional materials.
- Students receive tutorial help from graduate exchange students and other graduate students.
- In order to acquire maximum proficiency in the use of the German language, students are encouraged to participate in the Sacramento State International Programs in Heidelberg or Tübingen, the student exchange program established with the Department of American Studies at the Johannes-Gutenberg Universität of Mainz, Germany, or the German-Education Student Exchange Program at the Pädagogische Hochschule of Flensburg, Germany, or the summer work abroad with the International Education Program.

Minor in German
Units required for Minor: 12 upper division units.

Program Description
Courses in German encompass the study of German language, literature, and culture. Language study begins with the imparting of the four basic language skills, namely, speaking, aural comprehension, reading, and writing. The teaching of these skills is provided as part of programs in liberal arts, in general education and in professional training, as well as a service for other degree programs.
The imparting of the basic language skills is the first and necessary step toward what is actually the liberal arts core of our curriculum: the upper division offerings. It is through the advanced language, literature, and culture courses that the students become familiar with the intricacies of another language and with the literary and cultural contributions made by the people who speak it.
Students who are considering the study of German should talk to a German faculty advisor. Each student minoring in German is assigned an advisor upon entry into the program. For assistance in obtaining an advisor, contact the Foreign Language Department office.

Program Requirements
Units required for Minor: 12 upper division units.
Note: Students are required to meet with an advisor for course selection.

German Studies Options
No new majors are being accepted into the German BA at this time. Please consult a German Faculty Advisor for information regarding meeting subject matter certification requirements in preparation for a teaching credential and/or a special major in German with one year of study in Germany.

Additional Information
- Residence Requirement: Transfer students and students participating in International Programs must complete at least 6 upper-division units in German at Sacramento State.
- Study in Germany: Students are urged to participate in a study-abroad program through California State University International Programs.

Spanish

College of Arts and Letters

Program Description

A working knowledge of Spanish will enable students to communicate with one of America’s rapidly growing minority groups, as well as to benefit extensively from travel to foreign countries. Most coursework lends itself to a practical acquisition of the necessary language skills for effective communication.

Coursework at the upper division and graduate level is equally distributed among four areas: linguistics, culture, Peninsular literature, and Hispanic American literature. Students with career plans in teaching, bilingual programs, translation and diplomatic services, as well as careers in public service requiring knowledge of Spanish, will find a balanced curriculum available at Sacramento State. The programs in Spanish also serve those students who plan on continuing their studies at the doctorate level by providing a thorough academic background in the language.

Students interested in Bilingual/Crosscultural programs should also contact the College of Education (916) 278-6840 for more details.

Many students find that the acquisition of skills in Spanish is a valuable adjunct to their career goals in other areas such as business administration, public administration, international relations, etc.

SPAN 1C. Intensive Elementary Spanish. 6 Units
Prerequisite(s): Two years of high school Spanish or equivalent.
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Foreign Language Graduation Requirement
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
This course emphasizes a rapid development of the four language skills—speaking, reading, writing, and listening—covered in the first two semesters of university Spanish. Cultural knowledge is also an important component of this course, and elements of Hispanic character, customs, and the way in which the Spanish and Latin American peoples view themselves and others in the world will be studied. Recommended for students who have had some previous study of Spanish, but need a quick review of the structures covered in the first two years of high school Spanish or the equivalent.

SPAN 2A. Intermediate Spanish. 4 Units
Prerequisite(s): One year of college Spanish, or instructor permission.
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Foreign Language Graduation Requirement
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Oral, auditory, and written practice based on more advanced dialogue material and on short stories, plays, and the like. Attention to the development of reading fluency and to the extension of both active and passive vocabulary. Meets the Foreign Language Graduation Proficiency Requirement.

SPAN 2B. Intermediate Spanish. 4 Units
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 2A, suitable score on placement exam, or instructor permission.
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Foreign Language Graduation Requirement
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Continuation of SPAN 2A. Meets the Foreign Language Graduation Proficiency Requirement.

SPAN 6A. Intermediate Spanish for Professionals I. 4 Units
Prerequisite(s): Three years of High School Spanish or instructor permission.
Term Typically Offered: Fall only
Conversational, reading and written practice based on dialogue material, presentations, and the like at the intermediate level of Spanish. The course includes specialized themes related to the professions, such as healthcare and related fields. Meets the Foreign Language Graduation Proficiency Requirement.

SPAN 6B. Intermediate Spanish for Professionals II. 4 Units
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 6A
Term Typically Offered: Spring only
Continuation of SPAN 6A. Students continue to practice conversational, reading and written practice based on dialogue material, presentations, and the like at the intermediate level of Spanish. The course will include specialized themes related to the professions, such as healthcare or related fields. Meets the Foreign Language Graduation Proficiency Requirement.

Note: Students will need to pay a fee to cover the cost of the Spanish Proficiency Exam, which will be used for Assessment Purposes.

SPAN 7. Spanish Reading Proficiency. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 1A or two years of high school Spanish.
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Foreign Language Graduation Requirement
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Designed to improve Spanish reading proficiency. Students will acquire the ability to understand various types of materials written in Spanish (e.g. news items, personal correspondence, technical material, short stories); follow essential points and ideas of special interest or knowledge. Students will demonstrate Spanish reading comprehension by their ability to translate and answer content questions in Spanish as well as English.

BA in Spanish

Units required for Major: 42
Total units required for BA: 120

Program Description

A working knowledge of Spanish will enable students to communicate with one of America’s rapidly growing minority groups, as well as to benefit extensively from travel to foreign countries. Most coursework lends itself to a practical acquisition of the necessary language skills for effective communication.

Coursework at the upper division and graduate level is equally distributed among four areas: linguistics, culture, Peninsular literature, and Hispanic American literature. Students with career plans in teaching, bilingual programs, translation and diplomatic services, as well as careers in public service requiring knowledge of Spanish, will find a balanced curriculum available at Sacramento State. The programs in Spanish also serve those students who plan on continuing their studies at the doctorate level by providing a thorough academic background in the language.

Students interested in Bilingual/Crosscultural programs should also contact the College of Education (916) 278-6840 for more details.

Many students find that the acquisition of skills in Spanish is a valuable adjunct to their career goals in other areas such as business administration, public administration, international relations, etc.

Minimum Grade Requirement
All Spanish majors must earn a grade of "C" or better in all courses counted toward the major. SPAN 42 and SPAN 142 may be taken by challenge exam for Credit/No Credit only provided that student enrolls in course.

Required Lower Division Courses
It is assumed that Spanish majors will have completed the equivalent of college level elementary and intermediate Spanish in high school, at a community college, or by completing SPAN 2B\(^1\) at Sacramento State, prior to beginning upper-division courses.

1 Course also satisfies General Education (GE)/Graduation Requirement.

Study Abroad Programs
Students having a 2.75 GPA average overall are eligible to apply for admission to the CSU International Programs in a Spanish-speaking country such as Chile, Mexico, or Spain for their junior or senior years or during graduate studies. Spanish skills must be sufficiently developed to permit satisfactory performance in a Spanish-language university; planning from the beginning of the freshman year is advisable. Programs are also available for beginning students in Spain and Mexico. For details, contact International Programs and Global Engagement and consult a member of the Spanish faculty about developing your language skills.

Program Description

The Master of Arts program in Spanish affords an opportunity for specialized work in Spanish linguistics, Peninsular and Latin American Literature, and in the cultures of the Spanish-speaking world. The program is of particular value to those who plan to teach Spanish at the secondary school level (or already do so) or in a community college, and to those who plan to continue working toward a doctorate in Spanish.

Admission Requirements

Admission as a classified graduate student in Spanish requires:

- a baccalaureate degree;
- a minimum 3.0 GPA in the last 60 units attempted;
- a satisfactory score on the Graduate Examination designed and administered by the Spanish Area of the Department of Foreign Languages. The student must take the Graduate Examination prior to entrance into any 200 series graduate course and must successfully pass the entire examination before being advanced to candidacy. The student may pursue graduate work while concurrently correcting any deficiencies noted as a result of the examination and must retake the exam sections failed only after the passage of one semester. Three-summer MA applicants will take the Graduate Exam during their first summer in the program and will retake any sections not passed during the second summer that they attend the program. Consult the Graduate Coordinator in Spanish regarding steps to complete this requirement; and
- completion of the following Sacramento State courses (or equivalents):

Total Units 18

Students not meeting all these requirements may be admitted with conditionally classified graduate status and work toward the MA degree while the admission requirements are being completed. (SPAN 102 and SPAN 103 may be met by challenge examination.) Units taken to remove admission requirement deficiencies do not count toward the MA program. Any such deficiencies will be noted on a written response to the admission application.

Admission Procedures

Applications are accepted as long as room for new students exists during the application filing period. The University operates under a completion deadline system; all transcripts and materials must be received by the filing deadline of March 1st. Only completed applications will be reviewed. All prospective graduate students, including Sacramento State graduates, must file the following with the Office of Graduate Studies:

- an online application for admission; and
- two sets of official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended, other than Sacramento State.

For more admissions information and application deadlines please visit the Office of Graduate Studies Website (http://www.csus.edu/gradstudies).

At the same time, each applicant must send by February 15th a separate application to the Spanish Graduate Coordinator (http://www.csus.edu/wll/spanish/ma-in-spanish/master-application-guidelines.html) in the Department of World Languages and Literatures consisting of:

1. A cover letter.
2. A one-page Statement of Purpose.
3. A five-page writing sample in Spanish that was graded by an instructor.
4. Two letters of recommendation if their BA is not from Sacramento State.
5. Official transcripts from all post-secondary institutions.

Departmental recommendation for Office of Graduate Studies acceptance into the MA in Spanish program is based on overall student scholastic achievement, the number of completed prerequisites, the quality of the applicant’s writing in Spanish, and letters of recommendation.

For more admissions information and application deadlines please visit the Office of Graduate Studies website (http://www.csus.edu/gradstudies) and the Department of World Languages and Literatures website (http://www.csus.edu/wll/spanish/ma-in-spanish/master-application-guidelines.html).

A decision regarding admission will be mailed from the Office of Graduate Studies approximately 6 weeks after the completion deadline.

Advancement to Candidacy

Each student must file an application for Advancement to Candidacy, indicating a proposed program of graduate study. This procedure should begin as soon as the classified graduate student has:

- removed any deficiencies in admission requirements;
- completed at least 18 units in the graduate program with a minimum 3.0 GPA, including at least four 200-level courses; and
- taken the Writing Placement for Graduate Students (WPG) within the first two semesters of coursework at California State University, Sacramento or secured approval for a WPG waiver.

The Advancement will list all of the courses presented for the degree and must be approved by the Spanish Graduate Coordinator and the Office of Graduate Studies.

Culminating Requirement

The comprehensive exams for the MA in Spanish can be taken in November or April. Students take an exam in each of the following areas: Spanish Linguistics, Spanish Peninsular Literature, Latin American Literatures, and Hispanic Culture. A passing grade is considered to be 80% or higher, and a student may only fail one exam, which must be re-taken the following semester.

Many students find that the acquisition of skills in Spanish is a valuable adjunct to their career goals in other areas such as business administration, public administration, international relations, etc.

Program Requirements

Spanish majors wishing to pursue a Single Subject Teaching Credential in Spanish should contact the Spanish credential advisor to have their transcript reviewed for courses currently required for the credential program and then have single subject competency assessed. Specific course requirements are the same as for the BA in Spanish plus successful completion of a proficiency examination in Spanish. The Single Subject Credential in Spanish is valid for teaching Spanish in grades K-12.

Teaching credential candidates must also complete the Professional Education Program in addition to other requirements for a teaching credential. Consult the department credential advisor for details. You may also obtain information about the Professional Education Program from the Teacher Preparation Credentialing Office, Eureka Hall 216, (916) 278-6403.

College of Business Administration

Mission Statement

The Sacramento State College of Business Administrative develops engaged, responsible, and inclusive leaders who enrich our communities.

Undergraduate Program Description

The College of Business Administration (CBA) offers a broad, professional education in Business. The Bachelor of Science program offers students a choice of 8 concentrations by which they may focus their goals. All students must choose a concentration to complete their requirements for the baccalaureate degree. Students who are uncertain about which concentration to choose are encouraged to select the General Management concentration, as it is the most comprehensive. The structure of the General Management concentration also provides an overlap with other concentrations, thus making changes in focus possible. Students who wish to customize their program may select to complete the requirements for additional concentrations as well. For example, students may elect dual concentrations such as General Management and Management of Human Resources and Organizational Behavior. For more information about program options, contact Undergraduate Business Advising Center, Tahoe Hall 1030, (916) 278-BIZZ (2499).

The College offers Minors in Business Administration, Human Resources Management, Marketing, Real Estate and Land Use Affairs, and Risk Management and Insurance. A Minor in Business Administration is valuable to the student majoring in another area who wishes to supplement his/her knowledge with a business background.

For more information about the College of Business Administration, please click here (http://www.csus.edu/cba).

Graduate Program Description

The College offers several general and specialized business graduate degree programs. They include Master of Business Administration (MBA), International Master of Business Administration (IMBA), Master of Business Administration for Executives (EMBA), Master of Science in Accountancy (MS/ACCY), Master of Science in Business Administration with option in Management Information Systems (MSBA/MIS - currently suspended), and Master of Science in Business Administration with option in Taxation (MSBA/TAX - currently suspended). The College also offers a Concurrent Master’s and Juris Doctoral with the McGeorge Law School, University of the Pacific.

Concentrations

MBA: Finance / Business Analytics in Healthcare/Entrepreneurship and Global Business

Special Features

- The College of Business Administration is fully accredited by the AACSB International-The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business.
- Operating a class schedule from 7:30 a.m. to 9:00 p.m., the College is designed to facilitate the full- and part-time student. Presently, the student populations of undergraduate and graduate business majors are 4,500 and 400 respectively.
- To help guide undergraduate students throughout their business programs, academic counselors are available in the Undergraduate Business Advising Center, located in Tahoe Hall 1030, (916) 278-BIZZ (2499). Graduate academic counselors are available in the MBA Program Services Office (MPS), Tahoe Hall 1030, (916) 278-6772. The two offices serve in all aspects of program advising and graduation evaluation approval for business students. In addition, the two offices conduct clearinghouse activities relating to most types of petitions.
- The College of Business Administration has an active internship program in the community. Petitions for Business internships may be obtained in the Business Student Services Office, Tahoe Hall 1030, and (916) 278-5875.

For more information regarding services and program options, please visit the CBA Web site at: www.csus.edu/cba (http://www.csus.edu/cba).

Undergraduate Program Description

The College of Business Administration (CBA) offers a broad professional education in Business. The Bachelor of Science program offers students a choice of 8 concentrations by which they may focus their goals. Additionally, the CBA’s Business Honors program provides an alternative path to its most capable students to prepare them for management opportunities. All students must choose a concentration to complete their requirements for the baccalaureate degree. Students who are uncertain about which concentration to choose are encouraged to select the General Management concentration, as it is the most comprehensive. The structure of the General Management concentration also provides an overlap with the other concentrations, thus making changes in focus possible. Students who wish a more customized program may elect to complete the requirements for additional concentrations as well. For example, students may elect dual concentrations such as General Management and Management of Human Resources and Organizational Behavior. For information about program options, please visit our website at: www.csus.edu/cba/ubac/programrequirements.html (http://www.csus.edu/cba/ubac/programrequirements.html).

The College also offers Minors in Business Administration, Management of Human Resources and Organizational Behavior, Marketing, Real Estate and Land Use Affairs, and Risk Management and Insurance. A Minor in Business Administration is valuable to the student majoring in another area who wishes to supplement his/her knowledge with a business background.

Note: The use of the words “business administration” throughout this section refers to courses designated as Accountancy (ACCY), Accounting Information Systems (AIS), Decision Sciences (DS), Entrepreneurship (ENTR), Finance (FIN), General Management (GM), Human Resources/ Organizational Behavior (HROB), International Business (IBUS), Management (MGMT), Management Information Science (MIS), Marketing (MKTG), Operations Management (OPM).

Accreditation

In addition to California State University, Sacramento’s full accreditation by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges, the Bachelor of Science, Master of Business Administration, and Master of Science are also individually accredited by the AASCS Internationally Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business.

Licensure and Credentialing Disclosure

Admission into programs leading to licensure and credentialing does not guarantee that students will obtain a license or credential. Licensure and credentialing requirements are set by agencies that are not controlled by or affiliated with the CSU and requirements can change at any time. For example, licensure or credentialing requirements can include evidence of the right to work in the United States (e.g., social security number or tax payer identification number) or successfully passing a criminal background check. Students are responsible for determining whether they can meet licensure or credentialing requirements. The CSU will not refund tuition, fees, or any associated costs, to students who determine subsequent to admission that they cannot meet licensure or credentialing requirements. Information concerning licensure and credentialing requirements are available from the Dean of Undergraduate Studies, Sacramento Hall 234, (916) 278-5344.

Graduate Program Description

The College offers several general and specialized business graduate degree programs. They include: Master of Business Administration (MBA), Master of Business Administration for Executives (EMBA), International Master of Business Administration (IMBA), Master of Science in Accountancy (MS/ACCY), Master of Science in Business Administration with option in Management Information Systems (MSBA/MIS - currently suspended), and Master of Science in Business Administration with option in Taxation (MSBA/TAX - currently suspended).

A key consideration for the EMBA Program is that it is tailored to the needs of full-time working professionals. The program is designed to meet the needs of highly engaged working executives and managers. The entire program can be completed within 15 months. The EMBA courses are only available through the College of Continuing Education.

The MS/ACCY program was developed in response to new developments in the accounting and business worlds. Increasingly, accountants who hold undergraduate degrees in accounting seek advanced degrees as the complexity of the accounting field increases. Accounting professionals are involved with an ever-widening range of careers including public accounting, corporate accounting, income tax accounting, not-for-profit accounting, and government accounting. Significant changes in the regulatory climate, including the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, have increased the need for graduate level education. One result is a heightened interest in forensic accounting, fraud detection, and information system security. The 150 credit-hour education requirement established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) also has significantly increased the demand for graduate education in accounting. The MS/ACCY program helps to qualify students to sit for professional accounting examinations that lead to credentials such as the CPA (Certified Public Accountant) and the CMA (Certified Management Accountant) designations. The MS/ACCY program uses an online platform to deliver a completely web-based degree. The MS/ACCY courses are only available through the College of Continuing Education.

The Master of Science in Business Administration with an option in Management Information Systems (MSBA/MIS) program is currently suspended.

The MSBA/TAX program is currently suspended.

Academic Policies and Procedures

The following is a summary of the Policies and Procedures that are unique to the CBA. Students who wish to request deviation from these articulated policies and procedures must petition the CBA Academic Standards Committee. Undergraduate students should submit their petitions to the Undergraduate Business Advising Center (UBAC), Tahoe Hall 1030. For graduate students enrolled in the EMBA program please contact the Director for Executive and Professional Programs, Tahoe Hall 1020. All other CBA graduate students should contact the MBA Program Services (MPS), through Tahoe Hall 1030. The Committee will not hear requests from students that disregard catalog policy. To see the full statement, please go to the web address: www.csus.edu/cba/ (http://www.csus.edu/cba).

Add/Drop Policies
Students are subject to being administratively dropped from business courses if they fail to meet academic standards for which they have not met the prerequisite requirements as prescribed by the CBA or by Sacramento State.

Rules for adding and/or dropping a course during the first few weeks of a semester differ substantially from the policies in effect after that period of time. Different procedures may apply for undergraduate and graduate students.

Adding Courses: Students normally enroll in courses during the registration period. After the registration period, students may be permitted to add courses only with the approval of the instructor and the Associate Dean for the Academic Programs.

Dropping Courses: The requirement for dropping selected courses becomes more difficult as the semester progresses. It is the responsibility of the student to maintain progress in each course in which the student is enrolled. Students who fail to continue in the course without an approved drop will receive a grade of “WU” or “F” for the course. Please visit the Academic Programs Office Tahoe Hall 2028. You may visit the Undergraduate Business Advising Center for Undergraduate courses. For students enrolled in the EMBA program, the MBA Program Services (MPS).

Course Repeat Policy
Undergraduate courses used for the CBA's major requirements may be repeated twice (for a total of three attempts). If the subject course is required and the student has not earned a grade of “A”, “A-”, “B+”, “B”, “B-”, “C+”, “C”, or “C-” in three attempts, the student will be disqualified from the CBA. If the course represents a computer literacy requirement, and the student has not earned a grade of “A”, “A-”, “B+”, “B”, “B-”, “C+”, “C”, “C-”, or “CR” in three attempts, the student will be disqualified from the CBA. Undergraduate business students must be passing the course at the time an “Incomplete” is requested. The issuance of an “Incomplete” is appropriate only when required by University policy or in situations such as:

- the student misses a final exam for reasons that are fully justifiable in the eyes of the instructor; or
- the student was granted an extension of time to complete a class assignment.

Except in those cases specifically approved by University policy, the course instructor has sole discretion over what constitutes a fully justifiable reason for an “Incomplete.”

Contract to Finish an Incomplete Grade
A petition for Incomplete Grade must be submitted with both the student's and course instructor's showing the work to be completed, the basis by which the student's final grade will be determined, the last date for completing the incomplete work, and the grade earned by the student at the time the petition was approved. All “Incomplete” grade petitions must be agreed to by the student, as indicated by the student's signature and date of signing. The contract must also be signed by the course instructor.

Open University Enrollment
The CBA restricts the enrollment in 100-level business courses through Open University to only six (6) units. The purpose of Open University is to provide opportunity for individuals from the community to enroll in certain courses for purposes of professional development. Matriculating and/or matriculated students in a CBA degree program are not to use Open University. See the Undergraduate Business Advising Center (TAH-1030) for undergraduate courses.

Simultaneous Course Enrollment
Students may not enroll in two or more courses that are offered on the same day and at the same time. In very rare circumstances, and with approval of the course instructors and the Associate Dean for the Academic Programs, students may enroll in courses that overlap by no more than 15 minutes.

Currency of Knowledge Requirement
All students must have what is considered “currency of knowledge” in courses they apply towards an earned degree. This applies to both majors and minors within the CBA. Courses that do not satisfy the currency of knowledge requirement must be repeated.

Currency of Course Prerequisites
All current course prerequisites must have been completed within seven years of enrolling in any course having prerequisites. This currency requirement may be waived in cases where more advanced courses in the same area than the listed prerequisites have been completed in the last seven years with a grade of “C-” or better.
Undergraduate Courses
Lower division courses used to satisfy major or minor requirements must have been completed within seven years of the date of admission to the business administration major or minor. Upper division courses used to satisfy graduation requirements must have been completed within seven years of the date of graduation.

The CBA Academic Standards Committee may grant credit for courses taken beyond the seven year requirement for extensive experience in the area. The burden rests upon the applicant to demonstrate how his/her experience satisfies the requirement of currency.

Graduate Courses
All program requirements, excluding the Foundation courses, must be completed within seven years of the date of expected graduation.

During the admission cycle, courses used to fulfill Foundation course requirements must have been completed within seven years of the date of admission. The CBA Academic Standards Committee, however, may approve currency for Foundation courses taken beyond the seven year requirement if a request is so filed. Waiving of the seven year requirement shall be based on the relevancy, level of responsibility, and duration of the applicant’s work experience. The burden rests upon the applicant to demonstrate how his/her experience satisfies the requirement for currency.

Course Transfer Credit Articulated Courses
The CBA has articulation agreements with a number of community colleges. These agreements stipulate the CBA has agreed that certain identified undergraduate courses are deemed to be "equivalent" between the respective institutions, and therefore credit will be awarded for those courses taken at another (articulated) institution, towards a degree from Sacramento State. Approval of courses submitted for articulation is subject to currency of knowledge stipulations. See the following Web site for an up-to date list of articulated courses: www.assist.org (http://www.assist.org/web-assist/welcome.html).

Course Transfer Credit Non-Articulated Courses
Courses taken at an AACSB International accredited college of business will be accepted for transfer credit if the course is regarded as equivalent to the course for which credit is requested. Business core courses and concentration courses will not be accepted for transfer credit from programs that are not AACSB International accredited unless taken at institutions that have national or international reputations of high quality programs.

Petitions for equivalency for undergraduate, non-articulated courses must be submitted to the Undergraduate Business Advising Center (UBAC). Petitions for equivalency for graduate, non-articulated courses must be submitted to the MBA Program Services (MPS). For all other CBA graduate programs contact the Graduate Programs Office. The CBA Academic Standards Committee will evaluate whether the institution satisfies the requirement of “national or international reputations of high quality programs.” Subsequently, faculty in the appropriate area will make the final determination of course equivalency, e.g., content, method of instruction, method of evaluating students, and/or course duration.

Change of Major
The undergraduate Business Administration Major is impacted. The students must meet the impaction criteria found at www.csus.edu/cba/ubac/impaction.html (http://www.csus.edu/cba/ubac/impaction.html).

Students who are declared in another major and wish to declare business administration as their minor, must file a Minor Request Petition.

Students must complete and return these petitions to the Undergraduate Business Advising Center, Tahoe Hall 1030. The deadline for the fall semester is March 1st; for the spring semester the deadline is October 1st.

Prerequisite(s): ACCY 111 and ACCY 112.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Specialized topics in partnership accounting; consolidated statements; foreign currency translation and financial statements.
ACCY 121. Cost Accounting. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Importance of the allocation of costs; the cost allocation techniques available to accountants; the techniques used by management to maintain and create enterprise value, e.g., CVP analysis; the accountant's responsibility for the management of inventory; and the ethical consideration in internal reporting.

ACCY 122. Advanced Management Accounting. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): ACCY 121.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Accountant's responsibility to provide financial and no financial information to managers; the planning techniques available to accountants; managerial control techniques that enhance the maintenance and improvement of enterprise value, and short-run and long-run analyses.

ACCY 131. Survey of Auditing, Attest, and Assurance Topics. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): ACCY 111, ACCY 112.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Survey of topics in auditing as a control activity in society. Covers a variety of opportunities in the auditing profession including external auditing, internal auditing, compliance auditing, and operational auditing as well as fraud examinations. Topics include evidence and documentation, professional ethics, auditing computer systems, statistical sampling, and internal controls.

ACCY 132. Accountants' Ethical and Professional Responsibilities. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): ACCY 111, ACCY 112.
Corequisite(s): ACCY 131.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

This course addresses professional responsibilities for the accounting profession, including the development of ethical standards, ethical reasoning, AICPA and California Codes of Professional Conduct, financial reporting fraud, corporate governance, and other relevant topics.

ACCY 161. Government and Nonprofit Accounting. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): ACCY 111
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Fundamentals of accounting and financial reporting for governmental units and institutions; accounting for various types of funds; accounting aspects of budgetary control.

ACCY 171. Federal Tax Procedures I. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Federal taxation concepts are used in effective decision making; a working knowledge of the concepts of gross income, deductions, tax rates, and property transactions as they pertain to C corporations, partnerships, S corporations, and individuals; and proficiency in the application of tax concepts as they pertain to business and individual taxpayers.

ACCY 172. Federal Tax Procedures II. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): ACCY 171.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Business entity formation, operation, and termination and business taxation principles and concepts used in effective decision-making. Students develop the ability to understand and apply business tax principles and the critical and analytical skills that are necessary in the study and application of taxation and tax law.

ACCY 190. International Accounting. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Accounting concepts, principles, and methods applicable to multinational transactions and global corporations. Contents include the translation of financial statements, comparative accounting systems, financial reporting, currency risk management, international accounting standards and organizations, taxation problems, and the managerial aspects of multinational transactions.

Topics include creating and formatting a worksheet; summarizing and analyzing data; using decision making tools; working with logical, statistical, database and financial functions, sharing data with other applications, etc.
Note: Not open to students receiving credit for CSC 6B.
Credit/No Credit

MIS 3. Presentation Graphics. 1 Unit
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

The course teaches Microsoft Power Point that establishes a student’s fundamental computer skills required to perform business related tasks. Topics include creating, refining and delivering presentations; working with graphics, tables and charts; inserting and enhancing pictures, shapes, sound and video; using templates, slide masters and text boxes, printing, securing and sharing presentations, etc.
Credit/No Credit

MIS 4. Database Applications. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Use of database management systems (DBMS) to provide students with fundamental information retrieval skills required to perform business related tasks. Topics include basic DBMS operations, working with tables, queries, forms, reports and data analysis.
Note: Students will be required to purchase an online learning application to facilitate skill development.
Credit/No Credit

MIS 10. Business Applications. 2 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

The course teaches the use of spreadsheets to establish a student’s fundamental computer skills required to perform business related tasks. Topics include basic spreadsheet operations, working with tables and graphs, application of formulas and spreadsheet presentation formatting.

MIS 15. Introduction to Business Programming. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Introduction to object oriented programming language. Topics include use of simple data structures and data types, arrays, strings, input-output functions, file processing, and flow control.

MIS 101. Computer Information Systems for Management. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Explores the application of computers to the organizational environment with a management perspective. Topics may include transaction processing systems, management reporting, decision support systems, strategic planning, security, controls and acquisition of hardware, software and services. The interface between the information systems professional and the manager will be defined. Case studies and use of appropriate software packages may be included.

MIS 120. Advanced Object-Oriented Business Programming. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): MIS 15.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Advanced course in programming principles using an Object Oriented (OO) programming language. Topics will focus on object-oriented (OO) programming including the design and development of OO applications, object classes, inheritance, polymorphism and encapsulation, and graphical user interface (GUI) application development including contrasting event-driven and procedural programming. Assignments will focus on problem-solving in a business context.
MIS 122. Object-Oriented Programming for Business in Java. 3 Units

Prerequisite(s): MIS 15 or CSC 15.

Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Advanced course in programming principles using an Object Oriented (OO) programming language. Topics will focus on object-oriented (OO) programming including the design and development of OO applications, object classes, inheritance, polymorphism and encapsulation, and graphical user interface (GUI) application development including contrasting event-driven and procedural programming.

MIS 124. Web Development for Business Applications. 3 Units

Prerequisite(s): MIS 120.

Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Examines the technologies and principles of modern Web development in the creation of Web-based business applications. Emphasis will be given to client-side and server-side technologies and include the topics of basic Web technologies, forms, database access, frameworks, and Web services. Topics are accompanied by design principles, tools, and techniques for Web application development.

MIS 132. Management Science Techniques. 3 Units

Prerequisite(s): DS 101.

Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Introduction to management science techniques for the solution and analysis of management problems. Topics include mathematical programming, decision theory, analysis of waiting lines, simulation, and Markov processes.

MIS 140. Business Data Communication. 3 Units

Prerequisite(s): Business majors only

Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Examines the basic terminology, hardware/software components, and issues with the establishment, configuration, and management of data communication networks in and across organizations. Topics include wired and wireless local area networks, wide area networks, the internet, and cloud infrastructure.

MIS 150. Database Systems for Business. 3 Units

Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Involves the study of generalized database management systems. The study will include logical data base models and physical base models based primarily on the relational and object-relational models. The student will create and manipulate a database utilizing an established database management system. The importance of data administration and other database related topics such as independence, integrity, privacy, query, backup, and recovery will be covered.

MIS 151. End-User Database Application Development for Business. 3 Units

Prerequisite(s): MIS 1, MIS 2, MIS 3 or approved equivalent.

Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Introduction to end-user database application development in the business environment. Topics will focus on issues in the development of business database applications and include database concepts, organization, storage and retrieval of data, query and analysis with interactive software tools, informative and performance management reporting.

Note: Not open to MIS students.

MIS 160. Systems Development Life Cycle. 3 Units

Prerequisite(s): MIS 101 and MGMT 102

Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Analyze, design, and develop business information systems to solve information needs of businesses and organizations. Topics include various systems analysis and design techniques, tools and methods for building new and/or integrated information systems.

MIS 161. Information Systems Practicum. 3 Units

Prerequisite(s): MIS 15, MIS 150, MIS 160, and Business major or minor.

Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

This course provides a comprehensive integration of MIS coursework through the completion of an information systems project. Topics include information systems development life cycle, project management, application development, database management, and security.

MIS 163. Business Process Engineering and ERP Configuration. 3 Units

Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

This course focuses on identifying and understanding business requirements, modeling business processes that incorporate the business requirements, and configuring the processes for their implementation in an enterprise resource planning (ERP) system. Students will gain insights to implementation issues and propose alternative solutions to overcome them. A project team environment further develops individual student's communication and team skills.

MIS 170. Information Systems Security. 3 Units

Prerequisite(s): MIS 140

Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

This course provides a comprehensive study of IT security principles and of information systems. Emphasis will be placed on understanding the framework of IT security in enterprise IT infrastructure. Topics include information security concepts, security risks and vulnerabilities, common attacking techniques, technical and administrative countermeasures for modern enterprise IT infrastructure, such as encryption, authentication, access control, security policies and standards, and IT risk management and audit.

MIS 171. Enterprise Resource Planning Systems. 3 Units

Prerequisite(s): MIS 101

Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Foundation, business functions, processes, data requirements, development, and management of ERP systems for sales, marketing, accounting, finance, production, supply chain and customer relationship management. Emphasis on re-engineering, integration, standardization, and methodologies of ERP systems.

MIS 173. Microcomputers for Managers. 3 Units

Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

For students who want to have more than the minimum required personal computer literacy knowledge. The topics covered are: hardware, system software, utility software, spreadsheet modeling, the Internet, and presentation graphics.

Note: Not open to MIS students.
MIS 181. Machine Learning Applications in Business. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): DS 101 and MIS 150
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Applies modern machine learning applications in business to data analysis and problem solving. Topics are presented in the context of decision support and may include knowledge representation, neural networks, genetic algorithms, rule induction, fuzzy logic, case-based reasoning and intelligent agents.

MIS 182. Topics in MIS. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): MIS 150, MIS 160.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Current topics will be presented regarding the technical, managerial, and organization considerations affecting computer-based information systems. Topics may include programming languages and techniques, emerging technologies, and MIS development and implementation issues. Readings, topical research, case presentations, and/or projects will be required.

MIS 183. Business Intelligence Applications. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): Business major and minor
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Advanced information technologies that extract non-trivial, actionable, and novel knowledge from data to achieve strategic goals of organizations. Emphasis on multidimensional data modeling, online analytic processing, data warehouse, and data mining.

MIS 191. Culminating Experience. 1 Unit
Prerequisite(s): Completion of all coursework in minor.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Students demonstrate their knowledge and apply their skill sets from the minor to a working project, and conduct an executive-level, management-oriented presentation.
Note: Students must be in their final semester of the minor’s program.
Credit/No Credit

MIS 194. Cooperative Education Experience in Management Information Systems. 6 - 12 Units
Prerequisite(s): MIS 160, minimum Sacramento State overall GPA of 2.75.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
In-depth supervised work experience in management information systems for the purpose of exposing the student to comprehensive MIS experience in business, governmental, or service agencies. Open to all upper division students, subject to permission of the MIS Area. Petitions can be obtained from the Student Affairs Office, Tahoe 2065.
Credit/No Credit

MIS 195. Internship in Management Information Systems. 3 - 6 Units
Prerequisite(s): MIS 160, minimum Sacramento State overall GPA of 2.75.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Supervised work experience in management information systems for the purpose of increasing student understanding of the nature and scope of the operations of business, governmental, or service agencies. Supervision is provided by the faculty and the cooperating agencies. Open to upper division students, subject to permission of the MIS Area. Petitions can be obtained from the Student Affairs Office, Tahoe 2065.
Note: Open to declared business administration majors only.
Credit/No Credit

MIS 199. Special Problems in Management Information Systems. 1 - 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Individual projects or directed reading for students qualified to carry on independent work.
Note: Admission requires approval of the instructor and the Associate Dean. Petitions may be obtained from the Undergraduate Business Advising Center, Tahoe 1030.
Credit/No Credit

MIS 210. Information Systems I. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Introduction to business information systems planning and systems development methodologies. Various methodologies are explored and information systems development project planning is emphasized.

MIS 211. Information Systems II. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Introduction to basic and object-oriented programming concepts, data structures for information representation, and database management systems.

MIS 232. Management Science. 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Introduction to deterministic and stochastic models in operations research. Topics that may be included are: mathematical programming, inventory theory, analysis of waiting lines, Markov processes, game theory, decision theory and simulation. Various computer programs such as LINDO are used to assist in solution and analysis of management problems.
Note: Not open to students with credit for MIS 132.

MIS 240. Communications Technologies for Business. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): Graduate MIS status or instructor permission.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Focuses on the concepts, technology, applications, and management of data and voice communication with an emphasis on building, supporting, securing, and administering the requirements of network infrastructure and architecture to support businesses.
Note: May be taken twice for credit.

MIS 250. Data Management. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): Graduate MIS status or instructor permission, and MIS 15 or equivalent.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Focuses on database concepts, design and implementation in business. Topics include database design techniques, such as extended entity-relationship and unified modeling language, logical and physical data models for objection-relational database, object oriented database and relational databases, database implementation and administration issues, and the discussion of distributed database, web database, and database security.
Note: May be taken twice for credit.
MIS 251. Strategic Applications of Information Resources. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): MSBA/MIS students: MIS 210 and 211, or their equivalents. MBA students: MBA 260 and instructor permission.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Discussion of the techniques and methodologies to utilize information resource to improve an organization's strategic performance measures. Topics include data warehouse, data mining, online analytical transaction processing, and multidimensional database.

MIS 260. Systems Design. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): Graduate MIS status or instructor permission.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Involves the study of various methods used to analyze and design a computer-based information systems and emphasizes object-oriented systems development (OOSD) techniques.
Note: May be taken twice for credit.

MIS 261. Information Technology Integration for the Enterprise. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): MSBA/MIS students: MIS 260 or MIS 270; MBA students: MBA 260 or permission of instructor.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
IT presents many new opportunities at the enterprise level for the design and implementation of integrated organizational structures and business processes that better align the business to meeting its market demands and allow it to pursue new strategic relationships with other organizations. Enterprise IT primarily involves enterprise resource planning (ERP), supply chain management (SCM), knowledge management (KM), and customer relationship management (CRM) to support and coordinate business activities.
Note: May be taken twice for credit.

MIS 262. Business Project Management. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): MSBA/MIS students: MIS 260; MBA students: MBA 260 or instructor permission.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Examines various aspects of IT project management, including project selection involving feasibility, complexity, scalability and impact comparisons, project portfolio to direct the right resources to the right projects to sure their timely completion, risk assessment, key performance measures, and others.
Note: May be taken twice for credit.

MIS 270. Information Technology Operations. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): Graduate MIS status or instructor permission.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Note: May be taken twice for credit.

MIS 272. Strategic Information Technology Planning. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): MSBA/MIS students: MIS 270; MBA students: MBA 260 or instructor permission.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Strategic IT planning defines the direction a business chooses for its IT resources. It encompasses a vision, mission, strategy, and objectives that closely align to the business’ vision, mission, strategy, and objectives. Planning involves examining how IT will support the achievement of the business’ goals and objectives, and how IT can open new opportunities to create new business goals.
Note: May be taken twice for credit.

MIS 279. Information Technology Leadership. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): MSBA/MIS students: MIS 261 or MIS 262, MIS 272; MBA students: MBA 260 and instructor permission.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Leadership plays an important role in determining a business’ success with IT. It requires recognizing and leveraging the business’ competencies and core values, and championing initiatives and projects that work in the best interest of the business and create value. Because IT opens opportunities and enables the organization, IT leadership extends to both market (external) and organizational (internal) environments.
Note: May be taken twice for credit.

MIS 280. Decision and Knowledge-Based Systems. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): MIS 211 or equivalent.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Organizational use of information generated from transaction processing systems, management information systems, and decision support systems. The uses of information by managers for planning, control, and decision-making purposes will be discussed. The types of information systems implemented in various kinds of organizations will be covered.

MIS 281. Topics in the Management of Information Systems. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): Open to non-MSBA/MIS majors with credit in MBA 260 or equivalent; and to those who have completed MSBA/MIS Program Prerequisites.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Current topics will be presented regarding the managerial, behavioral, and organizational considerations affecting computer-based information systems. Includes topics such as project selection and justification techniques, system controls, security and privacy issues, strategic planning, and use/data processing department relations. Readings, topical research, and case presentations will be required.

MIS 295. Internship in Management Information Systems. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): Completion of two of the following: MIS 240, MIS 250, MIS 260, or MIS 270; minimum Sacramento State GPA of 3.0.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Supervised work experience in management information systems for the purpose of increasing and enhancing student understanding of the nature and scope of the organization’s operations of business, governmental, or service agencies. Supervision is provided by the faculty and the cooperating agencies.
Note: Open to second year MBA and MSBA/MIS students. Petitions to be obtained from Tahoe Hall 1037.

MIS 299. Special Problems in Management Information Systems. 1 - 3 Units

Prerequisite(s): Classified graduate status.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Individual projects or directed reading for students qualified to carry on independent work.

Note: Admission requires approval of faculty member under whom the individual work is to be conducted in addition to the approval of the Graduate Programs Office. Petitions to be obtained from Tahoe Hall 1035.

MIS 500A. Thesis. 1 - 3 Units

Prerequisite(s): Advanced to candidacy. Completion of MBA 244.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Completion of a thesis approved for the Master's degree.

MIS 500B. Project. 1 - 3 Units

Prerequisite(s): Advanced to candidacy. Completion of MBA 244.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Completion of a project approved for the Master's degree.

MIS 500C. Comprehensive Examination. 1 - 3 Units

Prerequisite(s): Advanced to candidacy; for comprehensive examination for MBA only (MGMT 500C, 1 unit), completion of program requirements (ACCY 240, MBA 230, MBA 240, MBA 241, MBA 270, MBA 280; for comprehensive examination for MSBA/MIS Degree, student must be in final semester of program.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

For MSBA/MIS.

MKTG 101. Principles Of Marketing. 3 Units

Prerequisite(s): You must be a Business major (any concentration), a business minor or in one of the following majors: Corns/Pub Relations, CM, MET, FACS (Apparel Mktg/Design), FACS (Cons Sci), GHPD, INTO (Mktg), Rec & Park Mgmt, Photography to enroll in this course.

BS in Business Administration
(Accountancy)

Units required for Major: 69
Total units required for BS: 120

Program Description
The objective of the Accountancy concentration is to provide conceptual and practical knowledge to students who will practice accounting or use accounting in business or other organizations. Students in Accountancy at Sacramento State have the opportunity to take courses of study in preparation for careers in public accountancy, private industry, and government. Studies in Accountancy give students a strong preparation in the fields of business, finance, insurance, banking, government agencies, tax authorities, and many other profit and nonprofit organizations. Some of these career opportunities may lead to professional certification such as Certified Public Accountants, Certified Internal Auditors, Certified Management Accountants, and Certified Governmental Financial Managers. An Accountancy undergraduate education provides a foundation for entry-level jobs and long-term careers in these areas, giving students familiarity with a range of employment opportunities.

Note: The use of the words “business administration” throughout this section refers to courses designated as Accountancy (ACCY), Accounting Information Systems (AIS), Business Administration (MGT), Entrepreneurship (ENTR), Finance (FIN), General Management (GM), Human Resources/Organizational Behavior (HROB), International Business (IBUS), Management (MGMT), Management Information Science (MIS), Marketing (MKTG), and Operations Management (OPM).

Note: Students graduating with a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration (all concentrations) will not be subject to the University’s Foreign Language Graduation Requirement. Students who change major may be subject to the University’s Foreign Language Graduation Requirement.

Note: At least 15 units of upper division business administration courses must be taken in residence at (or under the auspices of) California State University, Sacramento. Of these 15 units, a minimum of nine units must be in upper division courses in the concentration.

Pre-Requisite Requirements
A student may not enroll in any of the Major program or Concentration courses until he/she has completed the Pre-Requisite lower division program with a grade of “C-” or better in each course and an overall GPA of 2.0 (“C”), with the exception of MATH 24 which requires a minimum acceptable grade of “C” or better.

Students enrolled as Expressed Interest in Business may enroll in the following courses after completing the lower division pre-requisite requirements:

MIS 1, MIS 2 and MIS 3 are a prerequisite for all the above courses.

Computer Literacy
All business majors and pre-majors shall demonstrate computer literacy and competency prior to taking 100-level courses. This requires completing MIS 1, MIS 2 and MIS 3 (or equivalent), or passing scores on examinations in each of the following areas:

- Concepts covered in MIS 1: Word Processing
- Concepts covered in MIS 2: Basic facility with spreadsheets using the College’s standard spreadsheet package.

Students may acquire the requisite skills by successfully completing the MIS 1, MIS 2 and MIS 3 courses. Students who acquire the requisite skills by other means need only pass the examinations. Contact the Office of the Associate Dean for Academic Programs for more information or refer to Undergraduate Business Advising Center Computer Literacy and Competency website (http://www.csus.edu/cba/ubac/computerliteracychallengeexam.html).

Minimum Grade Requirements
The purpose of this requirement is to assure that all business administration students attain the minimum level of competency in all their coursework required for the business administration degree.

The minimum acceptable grade for any undergraduate course required for the business administration degree is “C-” with the exception of MATH 24 which requires a minimum acceptable grade of “C” or better.

A minimum grade point average of 2.0 (“C”) is required in the Pre-Requisite courses, Major Core courses, and the Concentration courses presented for the degree.

BS in Business Administration (Entrepreneurship)

Units required for Major: 63

Total units required for BS: 120
Program Description

The Entrepreneurship concentration is designed to meet the CBA Mission: “offering a quality business education that is responsive to the changing regional, global, and technology-driven environment” of the Sacramento region. It is to provide a solid understanding of entrepreneurial skills, principles, and strategies that build and maintain an effective organization. The curriculum is designed for students to develop entrepreneurial skills that will enable them to be effective in organizations that create new ventures, spin-offs, mergers, and other entrepreneurial activities. The courses of area emphasis are provided to develop the students’ breadth and functional orientation to focus their entrepreneurial skills.

Note: The use of the words “business administration” throughout this section refers to courses designated as Accountancy (ACCY), Accounting Information Systems (AIS), Decision Sciences (DS), Entrepreneurship (ENTR), Finance (FIN), General Management (GM), Human Resources/Organizational Behavior (HROB), International Business (IBUS), Management (MGMT), Management Information Science (MIS), Marketing (MKTG), and Operations Management (OPM).

Note: Students graduating with a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration (all concentrations) will not be subject to the University’s Foreign Language Graduation Requirement. Students who change major may be subject to the University’s Foreign Language Graduation Requirement.

Note: At least 15 units of upper division business administration courses must be taken in residence at (or under the auspices of) California State University, Sacramento. Of these 15 units, a minimum of nine units must be in upper division courses in the concentration.

Pre-Requisite Requirements

A student may not enroll in any of the Major program or Concentration courses until he/she has completed the Pre-Requisite lower division program with a grade of “C” or better in each course and an overall GPA of 2.0 ("C"), with the exception of MATH 24 which requires a minimum acceptable grade of "C" or better.

Students enrolled as Expressed Interest in Business may enroll in the following courses after completing the lower division pre-requisite requirements:

<table>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>HROB 101</td>
<td>The Management of Contemporary Organizations</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

MIS 1, MIS 2 and MIS 3 are a prerequisite for all the above courses.

Computer Literacy

All business majors and pre-majors shall demonstrate computer literacy and competency prior to taking 100-level courses. This requires completing MIS 1, MIS 2 and MIS 3 (or equivalent), or passing scores on examinations in each of the following areas:

- Concepts covered in MIS 1: Word Processing
- Concepts covered in MIS 2: Basic facility with spreadsheets using the College’s standard spreadsheet package.

Students may acquire the requisite skills by successfully completing the MIS 1, MIS 2 and MIS 3 courses. Students who acquire the requisite skills by other means need only pass the examinations. Contact the Office of the Associate Dean for Academic Programs for more information or refer to Undergraduate Business Advising Center Computer Literacy and Competency website (http://www.csus.edu/cba/ubac/computerliteracychallengeexam.html).

Minimum Grade Requirements

The purpose of this requirement is to assure that all business administration students attain the minimum level of competency in all their coursework required for the business administration degree.

The minimum acceptable grade for any undergraduate course required for the business administration degree is “C” with the exception of MATH 24 which requires a minimum acceptable grade of “C” or better.

A minimum grade point average of 2.0 ("C") is required in the Pre-Requisite courses, Major Core courses, and the Concentration courses presented for the degree.

BS in Business Administration (Finance)

Units required for Major: 66
Total units required for BS: 120

Program Description

The Finance concentration emphasizes a conceptual and applied approach to the development of professional skills necessary for careers in such fields as banking, investments, corporate financial management, financial planning, insurance, and financial services. Consideration and emphasis is given to the role played by financial markets, financial intermediaries, nonfinancial corporations, governments, and individual investors in the global economy. The curriculum is designed to familiarize students with the financial management of business operations, the operation and management of financial institutions and markets, and the financial aspects of investing, portfolio management, and risk management.

Note: The use of the words “business administration” throughout this section refers to courses designated as Accountancy (ACCY), Accounting Information Systems (AIS), Decision Sciences (DS), Entrepreneurship (ENTR), Finance (FIN), General Management (GM), Human Resources/Organizational Behavior (HROB), International Business (IBUS), Management (MGMT), Management Information Science (MIS), Marketing (MKTG), and Operations Management (OPM).

2 If not satisfied before entering Sacramento State, it may be satisfied in General Education Area C2 (Humanities). "C" or better required.

The alternative methods for satisfying the Foreign Language Proficiency Requirement are described here: https://www.csus.edu/wil/flgr/

Note: Students with a declared major of BS in Business Administration (all concentrations) are exempt from the Foreign Language Graduation Requirement.

BS in Business Administration (General Management)

Units required for Major: 66
Total units required for BS: 120

Program Description

The General Management concentration permits a focus upon the skills of the manager, whether the manager is an entrepreneur or operating at the corporate or agency level, with emphasis on the skills of decision making as taught through the case method. Managerial skills in planning, organizing, and controlling are highly transferable within private industry and within the public and nonprofit sector as well, thus permitting a wide variety of career goals.

Note: The use of the words “business administration” throughout this section refers to courses designated as Accountancy (ACCY), Accounting Information Systems (AIS), Decision Sciences (DS), Entrepreneurship (ENTR), Finance (FIN), General Management (GM), Human Resources/Organizational Behavior (HROB), International Business (IBUS), Management (MGMT), Management Information Science (MIS), Marketing (MKTG), and Operations Management (OPM).

Note: Students graduating with a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration (all concentrations) will not be subject to the University’s Foreign Language Graduation Requirement. Students who change major may be subject to the University’s Foreign Language Graduation Requirement.

Note: At least 15 units of upper division business administration courses must be taken in residence at (or under the auspices of) California State University, Sacramento. Of these 15 units, a minimum of nine units must be in upper division courses in the concentration.

Pre-Requisite Requirements

A student may not enroll in any of the Major program or Concentration courses until he/she has completed the Pre-Requisite lower division program with a grade of "C" or better in each course and an overall GPA of 2.0 ("C"), with the exception of MATH 24 which requires a minimum acceptable grade of "C" or better.

Students enrolled as Expressed Interest in Business may enroll in the following courses after completing the lower division pre-requisite requirements:

<table>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>HROB 101</td>
<td>The Management of Contemporary Organizations</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
MIS 1, MIS 2 and MIS 3 are a prerequisite for all the above courses.

Computer Literacy

All business majors and pre-majors shall demonstrate computer literacy and competency prior to taking 100-level courses. This requires completing MIS 1, MIS 2 and MIS 3 (or equivalent), or passing scores on examinations in each of the following areas:

- Concepts covered in MIS 1: Word Processing
- Concepts covered in MIS 2: Basic facility with spreadsheets using the College's standard spreadsheet package.

Students may acquire the requisite skills by successfully completing the MIS 1, MIS 2 and MIS 3 courses. Students who acquire the requisite skills by other means need only pass the examinations. Contact the Office of the Associate Dean for Academic Programs for more information or refer to Undergraduate Business Advising Center Computer Literacy and Competency website (http://www.csus.edu/cba/ubac/computerliteracychallengeexams.html).

Minimum Grade Requirements

The purpose of this requirement is to assure that all business administration students attain the minimum level of competency in all their coursework required for the business administration degree.

The minimum acceptable grade for any undergraduate course required for the business administration degree is "C-" with the exception of MATH 24 which requires a minimum acceptable grade of "C" or better.

A minimum grade point average of 2.0 ("C") is required in the Pre-Requisite courses, Major Core courses, and the Concentration courses presented for the degree.

International Business (IBUS) Concentration (21 units)
BS in Business Administration (Management Information Systems)

Units required for Major: 69
Total units required for BS: 120

Program Description

The Management Information Systems concentration provides the analytical framework and the methodology to analyze, design, implement, and manage complex computer-based information/decision systems.

Information is recognized as a resource of the organization and is the common link binding the elements of the organization together. As organizations grow in size and complexity, the need for better and more timely information and for improved decision making techniques becomes critical for effective management.

Note: The use of the words “business administration” throughout this section refers to courses designated as Accountancy (ACCY), Accounting Information Systems (AIS), Decision Sciences (DS), Entrepreneurship (ENTR), Finance (FIN), General Management (GM), Human Resources/Organizational Behavior (HROB), International Business (IBUS), Management (MGMT), Management Information Science (MIS), Marketing (MKTG), and Operations Management (OPM).

2 If not satisfied before entering Sacramento State, it may be satisfied in General Education Area C2 (Humanities). "C- or better required."
The alternative methods for satisfying the Foreign Language Proficiency Requirement are described here: https://www.csus.edu/will/flgr/

Note: Students with a declared major of BS in Business Administration (all concentrations) are exempt from the Foreign Language Graduation Requirement.

BS in Business Administration (Management of Human Resources & Organizational Behavior)

Units required for Major: 63
Total units required for BS: 120

Program Description

This concentration is a multi-disciplinary, integrated program designed to increase awareness and understanding of the relationship between human behavior and organizational effectiveness. Additionally, the program focuses on the development of a student’s capacity to effectively manage people in diverse, contemporary organizations. Courses are designed to instill generalist principles and theories and to improve analytical and interpersonal skills. Such skills are developed within the context of utilizing human talent to meet the needs and objectives of the organization in a manner compatible with legitimate individual goals.

Note: The use of the words “business administration” throughout this section refers to courses designated as Accountancy (ACCY), Accounting Information Systems (AIS), Decision Sciences (DS), Entrepreneurship (ENTR), Finance (FIN), General Management (GM), Human Resources/ Organizational Behavior (HROB), International Business (IBUS), Management (MGMT), Management Information Science (MIS), Marketing (MKTG), and Operations Management (OPM).

Note: Students graduating with a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration (all concentrations) will not be subject to the University’s Foreign Language Graduation Requirement. Students who change major may be subject to the University’s Foreign Language Graduation Requirement.

Note: At least 15 units of upper division business administration courses must be taken in residence at (or under the auspices of) California State University, Sacramento. Of these 15 units, a minimum of nine units must be in upper division courses in the concentration.

Pre-Requisite Requirements

A student may not enroll in any of the Major program or Concentration courses until he/she has completed the Pre-Requisite lower division program with a grade of "C-" or better in each course and an overall GPA of 2.0 ("C"), with the exception of MATH 24 which requires a minimum acceptable grade of "C" or better.

Students enrolled as Expressed Interest in Business may enroll in the following courses after completing the lower division pre-requisite requirements:

MIS 1, MIS 2 and MIS 3 are a prerequisite for all the above courses.

Computer Literacy

All business majors and pre-majors shall demonstrate computer literacy and competency prior to taking 100-level courses. This requires completing MIS 1, MIS 2 and MIS 3 (or equivalent), or passing scores on examinations in each of the following areas:

- Concepts covered in MIS 1: Word Processing
- Concepts covered in MIS 2: Basic facility with spreadsheets using the College’s standard spreadsheet package.

Students may acquire the requisite skills by successfully completing the MIS 1, MIS 2 and MIS 3 courses. Students who acquire the requisite skills by other means need only pass the examinations. Contact the Office of the Associate Dean for Academic Programs for more information or refer to Undergraduate Business Advising Center Computer Literacy and Competency website (http://www.csus.edu/cba/ubac/computerliteracychallengeexam.html).

Minimum Grade Requirements

The purpose of this requirement is to assure that all business administration students attain the minimum level of competency in all their coursework required for the business administration degree.

The minimum acceptable grade for any undergraduate course required for the business administration degree is "C-" with the exception of MATH 24 which requires a minimum acceptable grade of "C" or better.

A minimum grade point average of 2.0 ("C") is required in the Pre-Requisite courses, Major Core courses, and the Concentration courses presented for the degree.

BS in Business Administration (Marketing)

Units required for the Major: 66 units
Minimum total units required for the BS: 120

Program Description

Students may choose either the Marketing Track or the Supply Chain Management Track

The Marketing Track emphasizes the conceptual understanding and development of professional skills essential to marketing-oriented careers in such fields as e-commerce, advertising, public relations, product and service management, retail management, international marketing, marketing research, and sales management. Consideration is given to the roles of marketing in a global economy, in our society, and within both profit and not-for-profit organizations. The study of marketing includes human behavior, communication, entrepreneurship, problem solving, technological innovation, ethics, and environmentalism. For nonbusiness majors, the study of marketing provides a perspective of how organizations can satisfy the needs of their constituencies.

The Supply Chain Management (SCM) Track is concerned with organizations, methods, and processes employed in managing and improving supply chain and operations systems which provide goods or services to fulfill customer needs and wants in both local and global markets in a flexible, adaptable, reliable, cost effective and sustainable manner. Students who select the SCM Track are provided with a well-balanced program of qualitative and quantitative subject matter and should be able to assume first-line staff or management positions in supply chain and operations systems for manufacturing, service, or government organizations.

Note: The use of the words “business administration” throughout this section refers to courses designated as Accountancy (ACCY), Accounting Information Systems (AIS), Decision Sciences (DS), Entrepreneurship (ENTR), Finance (FIN), General Management (GM), Human Resources/Organizational Behavior (HROB), International Business (IBUS), Management (MGMT), Management Information Science (MIS), Marketing (MKTG), and Operations Management (OPM).

Certificate in Advanced Business Studies (CABS)

Program Description

The Certificate of Advanced Business Studies program is designed to give students a solid foundation in business that will provide them with the skills and competencies necessary to be successful administrators and managers. The program is intended for post-baccalaureate students whose degrees are in non-business fields. The courses of the certificate program will also satisfy the Foundation Requirements of the graduate degree programs in the College of Business Administration. The Certificate is offered by the College of Business Administration and is administered by the Sacramento State College of Continuing Education.

Certificate in International Accounting Information Analyst (IAIA)

Program Description

The International Accounting Information Certificate Program is carefully crafted to make the accounting professional more relevant in today's global environment. The curriculum is designed to equip the accounting professional with an essential foundation upon which he or she can build a new and expanded paradigm of his or her new role in a rapidly changing and ever more complex world. The IAIA Certificate Program is available only to students who are enrolled in the Master of Science in Accountancy program or in the Master of Science in Business Administration Taxation program. The Certificate is offered by the College of Business Administration and is administered by the Sacramento State College of Continuing Education.

Concurrent Master's and Juris Doctoral Programs

Program Description

An arrangement between the College of Business Administration (CBA) and the University of the Pacific McGeorge School of Law allows a student to earn credits toward an MBA degree and a juris doctor (JD) degree concurrently.

Applicants who are interested in both MBA and JD programs should consult this catalog for the requirements for admission to the MBA degree program and contact the Graduate Business Advising Center (GBAC), Tahoe Hall 1037 of the College of Business Administration for information on the current program.

Concurrent Master's Program

Program Description

A student may concurrently earn the MS/ACCY from Sacramento State and the MBA from Sacramento State. To earn the MS degree, the catalog requirements for that degree must be met, i.e., Foundation Courses, Program Requirements, Electives, and Culminating Experience (30-49) units. To concurrently and jointly earn the MBA degree, the student must satisfy the MBA Program Requirements (21 units) and the MBA Culminating Experience (3 units). Coursework from the MS program can be used to satisfy the nine-unit requirement for Elective Courses. For more information, contact the CBA Graduate Business Advising Center (GBAC), Tahoe Hall 1037.

MBA (Business Analytics in Healthcare)

Total units required for MBA: 33

Program Description
The MBA program has been developed to provide an education that is extensive and broadening rather than intensive or specialized within a limited functional area. The MBA is intended to improve the participant’s capacity for effective decision making, to facilitate his/her professional growth and development for increasing managerial responsibility, and to broaden his/her knowledge and understanding of management in the areas of:

- Accountancy
- Finance
- International Management
- Management Information Systems
- Supply Chain Management

The MBA is also appropriate preparation for teaching business education subjects at the community college level. Students are encouraged to obtain further guidance from the school districts in which they will teach.

Admission Requirements
All applicants for post-baccalaureate degree programs in Business must have earned a baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited four-year institution of higher learning or the equivalent from a foreign institution. Admission requirements are different for each of the CBA Graduate Programs. The specific admission requirements for each degree program are listed within the program descriptions under "Admission Information" on the following pages. The College of Business Administration reserves the rights to revise its admissions standards and to limit enrollment in its graduate degree programs.

Applicants who are approved for admission will receive a letter from the Office of Graduate Studies informing them that they have been admitted as a Pre-Master or classified graduate student. Included with the Office of Graduate Studies informing them that they have been admitted as a Pre-Master or classified graduate student. Included with the correspondence will be an Acceptance Form which the new graduate student must then return to the CBA Graduate Business Advising Center (GBAC), Tahoe Hall 1037.

Admission Criteria for the MBA Program:

1. Index 1 of 1050 or Index 2 of 1100 (see description below);
2. GMAT Total score of 500;
3. GMAT Quantitative percentile of 30;
4. GMAT Verbal percentile of 30; and
5. 2.50 Overall Undergraduate GPA.

Index #1 - (GPA x 200) + GMAT total score. An index of 1050 is required using the overall undergraduate GPA.

Index #2 - (GPA x 200) + GMAT total score. An index of 1100 is required using the last 60 semester units (last 90 quarter units) undergraduate GPA.

Example: \(3.0 \times 200 + 500 = 1100\)

Note: We reserve the right to admit fewer applicants that those meeting the minimum criteria.

Deadlines
See the CBA Web site for current admission deadlines: www.cba.csus.edu/graduate/MBA

Special Admission Process
Applicants not meeting all the admission criteria may be admitted to the program based on evidence of potential success in the program provided by the applicant. Such evidence may include, but is not limited to: the applicant’s maturity, motivation, employment history, managerial potential, letters of recommendation, personal statement, community activities, and other accomplishments that support the applicant’s potential to successfully complete the program. An applicant so considered and recommended for admission may be approved by the Dean or Dean’s designee.

Application Procedures
All prospective graduate students must file all of the following documents by the application deadline with both the CBA Graduate Business Advising Center (Tahoe Hall 1037) and the Sacramento State Office of Graduate Studies (River Front Center 206) as noted below:

1. To the College of Business Administration, Graduate Business Advising Center:
   - 1 Set of Official Transcripts;
   - GMAT Scores;
   - Recommendation Letters (two letters are strongly preferred); and
   - Resume.
2. To Sacramento State Office of Graduate Studies:
   - Online CSU Graduate Application (www.csus.edu/gradstudies);
   - 1 Set of Official Transcripts; and
   - Application Fee as required by the CSU system (You can pay this when you are filling out your online application).

Note: Applications are not considered complete and will not be reviewed unless GMAT scores and transcripts are included. To facilitate processing your application so that you receive an admission decision more quickly, you must submit official transcripts from ALL colleges and universities previously attended (other than courses taken at Sacramento State) even if you attended Sacramento State as an undergraduate. You should arrange to have those official transcripts sent at the same time you submit your application.

International Students
All materials, inclusive of TOEFL scores, must be turned in to the International Admissions Office (Lassen Hall 2304). To ensure consideration, international students should submit their material, including GMAT and TOEFL test scores, to the International Admissions Office one month prior to the CBA Graduate Business Advising Center’s (GBAC) application filing deadline. For an application and details international students should visit The International Admissions Office Web site at http://www.csus.edu/oge/international-admissions/.

Application Submission
For Graduate Programs: MBA, MS/ACCY, and CABS:

College of Business Administration
Prerequisites

Prior to enrolling in the Foundation courses, students must be proficient in mathematics, statistics, and computer usage:

- Mathematics: at least one semester of calculus is strongly preferred;
- Statistics: an introductory course in probability and statistics; and
- Computer usage: ability to use common personal computer hardware and software, particularly word processing programs, spreadsheet programs, and internet browsers.

The faculty will assume that all MBA students have these proficiencies. A student may gain the necessary proficiencies in many ways: through coursework, review classes, self-study, or experience. No proficiency courses can count as credit towards program requirements.

Writing Placement for Graduate Students Exam

All graduate students are expected to have demonstrated writing proficiency at the undergraduate level as prescribed by the California State University System. Applicants for admission to graduate programs who have not fulfilled this requirement will be required to take the Writing Placement for Graduate Students (WPG) or take a Graduate Writing Intensive (GWI) course in their discipline within the first two semesters of coursework at California State University, Sacramento or secured approval for a WPG waiver. A student may be eligible for a WPG Waiver based on selected criteria (obtain a list of criteria and a WPG waiver from the Graduate Business Advising Center). Graduate students are required to meet this requirement before advancing to candidacy. No exceptions will be made to this policy.

Foundation Courses

The Foundation courses provide an academic background in the various disciplines of business. The MBA degree program is built upon this common background. Foundation courses should be taken after the student has attained the required entry proficiencies (prerequisites) and should be completed prior to taking program requirement courses. The Foundation courses are available through the Sacramento State College of Continuing Education.

A student who has a baccalaureate degree or a minor in Business Administration from an AACSB-INTERNATIONAL accredited university may have completed all or most of the Foundation requirements. However, the student will be required to take certain Foundation courses if she/he:

1. has not previously completed the comparable undergraduate course(s) for academic credit from an AACSB-INTERNATIONAL accredited institution or from a high quality program that has a "national or international reputation";
2. has earned less than an overall 3.0 ("B") grade point average (GPA) in the comparable undergraduate courses presented for waiver of required courses;
3. has received a "C" or lower grade in the comparable undergraduate course;
4. cannot demonstrate currency in these courses (7 year limit); or
5. has completed the bachelor's degree at a foreign institution.

Courses taken at AACSB-INTERNATIONAL accredited colleges of business will be accepted for transfer credit if the course is regarded as equivalent to the course for which credit is requested. Business Foundation courses and Core courses will not be accepted for transfer credit from programs that are not AACSB-INTERNATIONAL accredited unless taken at institutions that have national or international reputations of high quality programs.

Please contact the Graduate Business Advising Center (GBAC) Tahoe Hall 1037 to request petitions for equivalency for graduate, non-articulated courses. The CBA Academic Standards Committee will evaluate whether the institutions satisfy the requirement of "national or international reputations of high quality programs." Subsequently, faculty in the appropriate department will make the final determination for course equivalency, e.g., content, method of instruction, method of evaluating students, and/or course duration. To find out if your university is AACSB accredited go to www.AACSB.edu.

Pre-Master students who are registered in the last two Foundation courses must file an Application for Classification with the Graduate Business Advising Center (GBAC) Tahoe Hall 1037 to be able to enroll in the courses designated as Program Requirements. The student's academic status will be reviewed to assure that he/she meets the necessary criteria to be accepted as a classified graduate student.

A GPA of at least 3.0 ("B") is required in all Foundation courses taken at Sacramento State, and program requirement courses presented for the degree.

Foundation Courses (0-11 units)

The foundation courses are available through the College of Continuing Education after acceptance into one of the CBA Graduate Programs.

Note: To be completed after the student has demonstrated the required entry proficiencies and must be completed prior to taking Program Requirements in any of the Master's programs.

MBA (Entrepreneurship and Global Business)

Total units required for MBA: 33

Program Description

The MBA program has been developed to provide an education that is extensive and broadening rather than intensive or specialized within a limited functional area. The MBA is intended to improve the participant’s capacity for effective decision making, to facilitate his/her professional growth and development for increasing managerial responsibility, and to broaden his/her knowledge and understanding of management in the areas of:

- Accountancy
- Finance
- International Management
- Management Information Systems
- Supply Chain Management

The MBA is also appropriate preparation for teaching business education subjects at the community college level. Students are encouraged to obtain further guidance from the school districts in which they will teach.

Admission Requirements

All applicants for post-baccalaureate degree programs in Business must have earned a baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited four-year institution of higher learning or the equivalent from a foreign institution. Admission requirements are different for each of the CBA Graduate Programs. The specific admission requirements for each degree program are listed within the program descriptions under "Admission Information" on the following pages. The College of Business Administration reserves the rights to revise its admissions standards and to limit enrollment in its graduate degree programs.

Applicants who are approved for admission will receive a letter from the Office of Graduate Studies informing them that they have been admitted as a Pre-Master or classified graduate student. Included with that correspondence will be an Acceptance Form which the new graduate student must then return to the CBA Graduate Business Advising Center (GBAC), Tahoe Hall 1037.

Admission Criteria for the MBA Program:

1. Index 1 of 1050 or Index 2 of 1100 (see description below);
2. GMAT Total score of 500;
3. GMAT Quantitative percentile of 30;
4. GMAT Verbal percentile of 30; and
5. 2.50 Overall Undergraduate GPA.

Index #1 - (GPA x 200) + GMAT total score. An index of 1050 is required using the overall undergraduate GPA.

Index #2 - (GPA x 200) + GMAT total score. An index of 1100 is required using the last 60 semester units (last 90 quarter units) undergraduate GPA.

Example: [3.0 GPA x 200] + 500 GMAT total score = 1100

Note: We reserve the right to admit fewer applicants that those meeting the minimum criteria.

Deadlines

See the CBA Web site for current admission deadlines: www.cba.csus.edu/graduate/MBA (http://www.cba.csus.edu/graduate/MBA)

Special Admission Process

Applicants not meeting all the admission criteria may be admitted to the program based on evidence of potential success in the program provided by the applicant. Such evidence may include, but is not limited to: the applicant's maturity, motivation, employment history, managerial potential, letters of recommendation, personal statement, community activities, and other accomplishments that support the applicant's potential to successfully complete the program. An applicant so considered and recommended for admission may be approved by the Dean or Dean's designee.

Advancement to Candidacy

A student’s program requirements are governed by the catalog in effect at the time one is accepted into and begins graduate school or by the catalog in effect at the time advancement to candidacy is approved.

Prior to enrolling in Culminating Requirements, a student must advance to candidacy. Initiation of advancement procedures is the responsibility of the student. The application to advance must be filed no later than the semester prior to enrollment in culminating experience requirement.

Eligibility to advance to candidacy requires satisfactory scholastic achievement, presentation of a plan of graduate study, and demonstration of writing proficiency. A classified graduate student in Business Administration may apply to the Graduate Business Advising Center (GBAC) for advancement to candidacy for the Master’s degree after s/he has completed at least 12 units of the program requirements beyond the Foundation requirements. Students with a GPA deficiency or who have not fulfilled the Writing Placement for Graduate Students Requirement (WPG) cannot advance to candidacy.

Admission Criteria for the MBA Program:

The MBA program has been developed to provide an education that is extensive and broadening rather than intensive or specialized within a limited functional area. The MBA is intended to improve the participant’s capacity for effective decision making, to facilitate his/her professional growth and development for increasing managerial responsibility, and to broaden his/her knowledge and understanding of management in the areas of:

- Accountancy
- Finance
- International Management
- Management Information Systems
- Supply Chain Management

Admission Requirements

All applicants for post-baccalaureate degree programs in Business must have earned a baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited four-year institution of higher learning or the equivalent from a foreign institution. Admission requirements are different for each of the CBA Graduate Programs. The specific admission requirements for each degree program are listed within the program descriptions under “Admission Information” on the following pages. The College of Business Administration reserves the rights to revise its admissions standards and to limit enrollment in its graduate degree programs.

Applications who are approved for admission will receive a letter from the Office of Graduate Studies informing them that they have been admitted as a Pre-Master or classified graduate student. Included with that correspondence will be an Acceptance Form which the new graduate student must then return to the CBA Graduate Business Advising Center (GBAC), Tahoe Hall 1037.

Admission Criteria for the MBA Program:

1. Index 1 of 1050 or Index 2 of 1100 (see description below);
2. GMAT Total score of 500;
3. GMAT Quantitative percentile of 30;
4. GMAT Verbal percentile of 30; and
5. 2.50 Overall Undergraduate GPA.

Index #1 - (GPA x 200) + GMAT total score. An index of 1050 is required using the overall undergraduate GPA.

Index #2 - (GPA x 200) + GMAT total score. An index of 1100 is required using the last 60 semester units (last 90 quarter units) undergraduate GPA.

Example: [3.0 GPA x 200] + 500 GMAT total score = 1100

Note: We reserve the right to admit fewer applicants that those meeting the minimum criteria.

Deadlines

See the CBA Web site for current admission deadlines: www.cba.csus.edu/graduate/MBA (http://www.cba.csus.edu/graduate/MBA)

Special Admission Process

Applicants not meeting all the admission criteria may be admitted to the program based on evidence of potential success in the program provided by the applicant. Such evidence may include, but is not limited to: the applicant’s maturity, motivation, employment history, managerial potential, letters of recommendation, personal statement, community activities, and other accomplishments that support the applicant’s potential to successfully complete the program. An applicant so considered and recommended for admission may be approved by the Dean or Dean’s designee.

Application Procedures

All prospective graduate students must file all of the following documents by the application deadline with both the CBA Graduate Business Advising Center (Tahoe Hall 1037) and the Sacramento State Office of Graduate Studies (River Front Center 206) as noted below:

1. To the College of Business Administration, Graduate Business Advising Center:
   - 1 Set of Official Transcripts;
   - GMAT Scores;
   - Recommendation Letters (two letters are strongly preferred); and
   - Resume.
2. To Sacramento State Office of Graduate Studies:
   - Online CSU Graduate Application (www.csus.edu/gradstudies (http://www.csus.edu/gradstudies));
   - 1 Set of Official Transcripts; and
   - Application Fee as required by the CSU system (You can pay this when you are filling out your online application).

Note: Applications are not considered complete and will not be reviewed unless GMAT scores and transcripts are included. To facilitate processing your application so that you receive an admission decision more quickly, you must submit official transcripts from ALL colleges and universities previously attended (other than courses taken at Sacramento State) even if you attended Sacramento State as an undergraduate. You should arrange to have those official transcripts sent at the same time you submit your application.

International Students

All materials, inclusive of TOEFL scores, must be turned in to the International Admissions Office (Lassen Hall 2304). To ensure consideration, international students should submit their material, including GMAT and TOEFL test scores, to the International Admissions Office one month prior to the CBA Graduate Business Advising Center’s (GBAC) application filing deadline. For an application and details international students should visit The International Admissions Office Web site at http://www.csus.edu/oge/international-admissions/.

Prerequisites
Prior to enrolling in the Foundation courses, students must be proficient in mathematics, statistics, and computer usage:

• Mathematics: at least one semester of calculus is strongly preferred;
• Statistics: an introductory course in probability and statistics; and
• Computer usage: ability to use common personal computer hardware and software, particularly word processing programs, spreadsheet programs, and internet browsers.

The faculty will assume that all MBA students have these proficiencies. A student may gain the necessary proficiencies in many ways: through coursework, review classes, self-study; or experience. No proficiency courses can count as credit towards program requirements.

Writing Placement for Graduate Students Exam
All graduate students are expected to have demonstrated writing proficiency at the undergraduate level as prescribed by the California State University System. Applicants for admission to graduate programs who have not fulfilled this requirement will be required to take the Writing Placement for Graduate Students (WPG) or take a Graduate Writing Intensive (GWI) course in their discipline within the first two semesters of coursework at California State University, Sacramento or secured approval for a WPG waiver. A student may be eligible for a WPG Waiver based on selected criteria (obtain a list of criteria and a WPG waiver from the Graduate Business Advising Center). Graduate students are required to meet this requirement before advancing to candidacy. No exceptions will be made to this policy.

Foundation Courses
The Foundation courses provide an academic background in the various disciplines of business. The MBA degree program is built upon this common background. Foundation courses should be taken after the student has attained the required entry proficiencies (prerequisites) and should be completed prior to taking program requirement courses. The Foundation courses are available through the Sacramento State College of Continuing Education.

A student who has a baccalaureate degree or a minor in Business Administration from an AACSB-INTERNATIONAL accredited university may have completed all or most of the Foundation requirements. However, the student will be required to take certain Foundation courses if she/he:

1. has not previously completed the comparable undergraduate course(s) for academic credit from an AACSB-INTERNATIONAL accredited institution or from a high quality program that has a "national or international reputation";
2. has earned less than an overall 3.0 ("B") grade point average (GPA) in the comparable undergraduate courses presented for waiver of required courses;
3. has received a "C" or lower grade in the comparable undergraduate course;
4. cannot demonstrate currency in these courses (7 year limit); or
5. has completed the bachelor's degree at a foreign institution.

Courses taken at AACSB-INTERNATIONAL accredited colleges of business will be accepted for transfer credit if the course is regarded as equivalent to the course for which credit is requested. Business Foundation courses and Core courses will not be accepted for transfer credit from programs that are not AACSB-INTERNATIONAL accredited unless taken at institutions that have national or international reputations of high quality programs.

Please contact the Graduate Business Advising Center (GBAC) Tahoe Hall 1037 to request petitions for equivalency for graduate, non-articulated courses. The CBA Academic Standards Committee will evaluate whether the institutions satisfy the requirement of "national or international reputations of high quality programs." Subsequently, faculty in the appropriate department will make the final determination for course equivalency, e.g., content, method of instruction, method of evaluating students, and/or course duration. To find out if your university is AACSB accredited go to www.AACSB.edu (http://www.aacsb.edu).

Pre-Master students who are registered in the last two Foundation courses must file an Application for Classification with the Graduate Business Advising Center (GBAC) Tahoe Hall 1037, to be able to enroll in the courses designated as Program Requirements. The student's academic status will be reviewed to assure that he/she meets the necessary criteria to be accepted as a classified graduate student.

A GPA of at least 3.0 ("B") is required in all Foundation courses taken at Sacramento State, and program requirement courses presented for the degree.

Foundation Courses (0-11 units)
The foundation courses are available through the College of Continuing Education after acceptance into one of the CBA Graduate Programs.
Note: To be completed after the student has demonstrated the required entry proficiencies and must be completed prior to taking Program Requirements in any of the Master’s programs.

All of the Foundation Courses below are required for the MBA and the MSBA/MIS programs. MSBA/Taxation and MS/Accountancy programs only require the following:

A graduate student may request a challenge for waiver of a College of Business Administration foundation or core course if it at least one of the following conditions is met:

- The student has taken an equivalent class elsewhere, subject to the GPA requirement in CBA academic policy. For core classes, the equivalent class must be at the graduate level; for the foundation classes, the equivalent class can be at the undergraduate level.
- The student has achieved appropriate professional or academic qualification.
- The student has appropriate professional work experience.

It is the responsibility of a student to provide sufficient documentation to support a waiver challenge application.

1 This requirement will be waived for students who achieve a score of 4.5 or higher on the Analytical Writing Assessment (AWA) section of the GMAT exam.

Minimum Units and Grade Requirement for the Degree

Units required for MBA: 33 (excluding the foundation courses)
Minimum Cumulative GPA: 3.0. The minimum acceptable grade for any graduate business course is “C.” No more than two (2) courses with a grade of “C” will be counted for satisfaction of graduate program requirements.

Advancement to Candidacy

A student’s program requirements are governed by the catalog in effect at the time one is accepted into and begins graduate school or by the catalog in effect at the time advancement to candidacy is approved.

Prior to enrolling in Culminating Requirements, a student must advance to candidacy. Initiation of advancement procedures is the responsibility of the student. The application to advance must be filed no later than the semester prior to enrollment in culminating experience requirement.

Eligibility to advance to candidacy requires satisfactory scholastic achievement, presentation of a plan of graduate study, and demonstration of writing proficiency. A classified graduate student in Business Administration may apply to the Graduate Business Advising Center (GBAC) for advancement to candidacy for the Master’s degree after s/he has completed at least 12 units of the program requirements beyond the Foundation requirements. Students with a GPA deficiency or who have not fulfilled the Writing Placement for Graduate Students Requirement (WPG) cannot advance to candidacy.

1 A graduate student may request a challenge for waiver of a College of Business Administration foundation or core course if at least one of the following conditions is met:

- The student has taken an equivalent class elsewhere, subject to the GPA requirement in CBA academic policy. For core classes, the equivalent class must be at the graduate level; for foundation classes, the equivalent class can be at the undergraduate level.
- The student has achieved appropriate professional or academic qualification.
- The student has appropriate professional work experience.

It is the responsibility of a student to provide sufficient documentation to support waiver challenge application. Academic credit for core courses is not earned by waiver. The requirement for completing a core course is waived, providing the student enrolls in and satisfactorily completes an elective course in that discipline or an elective approved to the appropriate faculty advisor who grants the waiver.

2 For a general MBA, elective courses may be chosen from a broad array of graduate Business Administration courses, nonbusiness graduate classes (6 units maximum), or supervisory coursework (6 units maximum; 3 units of Internship [a 295 series course], 3 units of Special Problems [a 299 series course]). Elective courses may also be selected to satisfy one or more of the concentration options shown below. For help with choosing electives, students should consult with the CBA Graduate Business Advising Center (Tahoe Hall 1037) and the concentration advisor(s).

MBA for Executives (EMBA)

Total units for EMBA: 41
Program Description

The EMBA program is offered through collaboration between the College of Business Administration and the College of Continuing Education. The degree is offered by the College of Business Administration and administered through the College of Continuing Education and the External Graduate Programs Office (EGP) in the College of Business Administration.

Our EMBA program is designed to help just that as well as help the region redefine the business community. The new millennium is about making choices to make our lives easier and more enriched. New technological advances are happening every day that provide us with a better quality of life and the opportunity to have more flexibility than ever before. That is where the Master of Business Administration for Executives (EBMA) Program at Sacramento State comes in. The College of Business Administration recognizes the need among working professionals to advance their careers in a flexible and supportive environment that has not been met in the Sacramento region ever before. We believe that business executives deserve to have an EMBA program tailored to their unique needs.

A key consideration for the EMBA Program is that it is tailored to the needs of full-time working professionals. The program is designed to meet the needs of highly engaged working executives and managers. The entire program can be completed within 15 months. The EMBA courses are only available through the College of Continuing Education.

The EMBA program consists of 41 academic units broken down by the following components: orientation, eight required courses, four elective courses selected for each cohort, and an individual project for culminating experience. A listing of the courses is given below.

Admission Requirements

Selecting candidates for admissions is a very critical decision for the EMBA program. That is why we have adopted a system that takes into account three primary areas of evaluation when making admission decisions:

1. Professional Experience (length, breadth, and depth of professional and managerial experience, and potential for career development);
2. Academic Qualifications (a baccalaureate degree from an institution accredited by a regional accrediting association, previous graduate level coursework if available, and performance on the Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT); and
3. Additional Relevant Criteria (Potential contribution to learning experience of the program, maturity and motivation, ability and willingness to commit the required time and energy to the program, community service and professional activities, and support of an applicant’s employing organization).

A candidate with good academic qualifications and a solid, but short, work record will have the same opportunity as someone with a strong, long, work record, but who has been out of school for a while. We believe candidates who have successful professional careers, solid education, and additional relevant qualifications will excel in our EMBA Program.

We do require that our candidates have a baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited institution. We also recommend applicants have at least 3 to 5 years of professional work experience. Professional work experience will provide the applicants and their peers with a more stimulating learning environment.

Deadlines

Since class size is limited, early applications are highly encouraged.

Please contact the EMBA Admission Help Desk (916-278-2895) or visit the EMBA Web site (csus.edu/cba/emb/a/admissions) for application deadlines.

Application Procedures

   The following are required for a complete application:

1. The Supplementary Application Form (http://www.csus.edu/cba/emb/documents/CBAApplication-Spring2010.pdf). You may print out a copy and manually fill out the form or fill out the form electronically by downloading the application form from www.csus.edu/cba/emb/documents/mba.html and save a copy on your computer. Please type or print clearly on the application. Give your full legal name and avoid abbreviations. You may use additional paper if you need more space to respond, but please put your name on each page, and attach the pages to your application.

2. Two copies of official transcripts. Please request 2 copies of official transcripts from all colleges and universities you have attended. A Transcript Request form (http://www.csus.edu/cba/emb/howtoapply.html) is included for your convenience. It is recommended that you have the transcripts directly sent to you in sealed envelopes.

3. Two letters of recommendation. At least one of these letters should come from supervisors and business associates who can discuss knowledgeably your managerial and academic abilities, accomplishments, and potential. Please use the Recommendation Letter Form (http://www.csus.edu/cba/emb/howtoapply.html) for the application.

4. Results on the Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT). The Computer Adaptive GMAT is administered at test centers throughout the world. To register, visit their Web site at www.mba.com. Please be sure to use the correct Sacramento State institutional code on your GMAT registration form.

5. Statement of career objectives. This statement should include a description of your long- and short-term career goals, and the ways in which you believe the EMBA degree will help you to achieve them.

6. A reverse chronological resume of your work experience. The resume should include job title, organization (nature of business, gross sales/revenues, number of employees), location, dates of employment, a summary of duties and responsibilities, and a description of your organizational unit (size, scope, budget, personnel, and reporting relationships) for each position held.

7. Corporate/Individual Sponsorship Form (http://www.csus.edu/cba/emb/howtoapply.html). Required to insure that your organizational sponsor will agree to allow you to attend classes on the mandatory

MBA International (IMBA)

Total units required for MBA: 36

Program Description

The College of Business Administration (CBA) in conjunction with the College of Continuing Education (CCE), proposes to offer a self-supported Master of Business Administration International degree program (IMBA).

The academic background of each applicant will be assessed to determine if they have the educational foundation to be successful in the program. Depending on their backgrounds and skills, individuals may be required to take up to three preparatory courses. They are:

- Statistics
- Financial Accounting
- Business Economics

The program consists of twelve 3 unit courses to provide in depth knowledge and skills for students. The twelve courses include eight core courses and four courses from a specific area of emphasis: Finance, International Management, and Information Technology.

Admission Requirements

All applicants for post-baccalaureate degree programs in Business must have earned a baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited four-year institution of higher learning or the equivalent from a foreign institution. Admission requirements are different for each of the CBA Graduate Program. The specific admission requirements for each degree program are listed within the program descriptions under “Admission Information” on the following pages. The Foundation courses are available through the Sacramento State College of Continuing Education.

A student who has a baccalaureate degree or a minor in Business Administration from an AACSB-INTERNATIONAL accredited university may have completed all or most of the Foundation requirements. However, the student will be required to take certain Foundation courses if she/he:

1. has not previously completed the comparable undergraduate course(s) for academic credit from an AACSB-INTERNATIONAL accredited institution or from a high quality program that has a "national or international reputation";
2. has earned less than an overall 3.0 ("B") grade point average (GPA) in the comparable undergraduate courses presented for waiver of required courses;
3. has received a "C" or lower grade in the comparable undergraduate course;
4. cannot demonstrate currency in these courses (7 year limit); or
5. has completed the bachelor's degree at a foreign institution.

Courses taken at AACSB-INTERNATIONAL accredited colleges of business will be accepted for transfer credit if the course is regarded as equivalent to the course for which credit is requested. Business Foundation courses and Core courses will not be accepted for transfer credit from programs that are not AACSB-INTERNATIONAL accredited unless taken at institutions that have national or international reputations of high quality programs.

Please contact the Graduate Business Advising Center (GBAC) Tahoe Hall 1037 to request petitions for equivalency for graduate, non-articulated courses. The CBA Academic Standards Committee will evaluate whether the institutions satisfy the requirement of "national or international reputations of high quality programs." Subsequently, faculty in the appropriate department will make the final determination for course equivalency, e.g., content, method of instruction, method of evaluating students, and/or course duration. To find out if your university is AACSB accredited go to www.AACSB.edu (http://www.aacsb.edu).

Pre-Master students who are registered in the last two Foundation courses must file an Application for Classification with the Graduate Business Advising Center (GBAC) Tahoe Hall 1037, to be able to enroll in the courses designated as Program Requirements. The student’s academic status will be reviewed to assure that he/she meets the necessary criteria to be accepted as a classified graduate student.

A GPA of at least 3.0 ("B") is required in all Foundation courses taken at Sacramento State, and program requirement courses presented for the degree.

Foundation Courses (0-11 units)
The foundation courses are available through the College of Continuing Education after acceptance into one of the CBA Graduate Programs.

Note: To be completed after the student has demonstrated the required entry proficiencies and must be completed prior to taking Program Requirements in any of the Master’s programs.

All of the Foundation Courses below are required for the MBA and the MSBA/MIS programs. MSBA/Taxation and MS/Accountancy programs only require the following:

Note: The EMBA program does not require Foundation coursework.

A graduate student may request a challenge for waiver of a College of Business Administration foundation or core course if it at least one of the following conditions is met:

- The student has taken an equivalent class elsewhere, subject to the GPA requirement in CBA academic policy. For core classes, the equivalent class must be at the graduate level; for the foundation classes, the equivalent class can be taken at the undergraduate level.
- The student has achieved appropriate professional or academic qualification.
- The student has appropriate professional work experience.

It is the responsibility of a student to provide sufficient documentation to support a waiver challenge application.

1 This requirement will be waived for students who achieve a score of 4.5 or higher on the Analytical Writing Assessment (AWA) section of the GMAT exam.

Minimum Units and Grade Requirement for the Degree
Units required for MBA: 36 (excluding foundation courses)
Minimum Cumulative GPA: 3.0. The minimum acceptable grade for any graduate business course is “C.” No more than two (2) courses with a grade of “C” will be counted for satisfaction of graduate program requirements.

Advancement to Candidacy

A student’s program requirements are governed by the catalog in effect at the time one is accepted into and begins graduate school or by the catalog in effect at the time advancement to candidacy is approved.

Prior to enrolling in Culminating Requirements, a student must advance to candidacy. Initiation of advancement procedures is the responsibility of the student. The application to advance must be filed no later than the semester prior to enrollment in culminating experience requirement.

Eligibility to advance to candidacy requires satisfactory scholastic achievement, presentation of a plan of graduate study, and demonstration of writing proficiency. A classified graduate student in Business Administration may apply to the Graduate Business Advising Center (GBAC) for advancement to candidacy for the Master’s degree after s/he has completed at least 12 units of the program requirements beyond the Foundation requirements. Students with a GPA deficiency or who have not fulfilled the Writing Placement for Graduate Students Requirement (WPG) cannot advance to candidacy.

Minor in Business Administration

Units required for the Minor: 24, all of which must be taken in Business Administration,* with the exception of the STAT 1 requirement.

Program Description

The College offers Minors in Business Administration, Knowledge Management Technology, Management of Human Resources and Organizational Behavior, Marketing, Real Estate and Land Use Affairs, and Risk Management and Insurance. A Minor in Business Administration is valuable to the student majoring in another area who wishes to supplement his/her knowledge with a business background.

Note: The use of the words “business administration” throughout this section refers to courses designated as Accountancy (ACCY), Decision Sciences (DS), Entrepreneurship (ENTR), Finance (FIN), General Management (GM), Human Resources/Organizational Behavior (HROB), International Business (IBUS), Management (MGMT), Management Information Science (MIS), Marketing (MKTG).

Note: Minimum required GPA: 2.0 (“C”) in Business Administration courses with the minimum acceptable grade for any course being a “C.”

Note: At least nine upper division units must be taken in residence. Business Administration¹ 195 and 199 courses may not be applied to the minor.

Note: A student shall demonstrate computer literacy and competency (MIS 1, MIS 2, MIS 3) prior to taking 100-level courses except HROB 101. See csus.edu/cba/ubac/computerliteracychallengeexam (http://www.csus.edu/cba/ubac/computerliteracychallengeexam.html) for information about the Computer Literacy Challenge exams.

MS in Accountancy

Total units required for MS/ACCY: 30

Program Description
The MS/ACCY program is offered through collaboration between the College of Business Administration and the College of Continuing Education. The degree is offered by the College of Business Administration and administered through the College of Continuing Education.

The MS/ACCY program was developed in response to new developments in the accounting and business worlds. Increasingly, accountants who hold undergraduate degrees in accounting seek advanced degrees as the complexity of the accounting field increases. Accounting professionals are involved with an ever-widening range of careers including public accounting, corporate accounting, income tax accounting, not-for-profit accounting, and government accounting. Significant changes in the regulatory climate, including the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, have increased the need for graduate level education. One result is a heightened interest in forensic accounting, fraud detection, and information system security. The 150 credit-hour education requirement established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) also has significantly increased the demand for graduate education in accounting. The MS/ACCY program helps to qualify students to sit for professional accounting examinations that lead to credentials such as the CPA (Certified Public Accountant) and the CMA (Certified Management Accountant) designations. The MS/ACCY program uses an online platform to deliver a completely web-based degree. The MS/ACCY courses are only available through the College of Continuing Education.
Admission Requirements

For students who have taken the GMAT, the five Admission Criteria are as follows:

1. Index #1 of 1050 or Index #2 of 1100 (see description below) AND
2. Minimum Total GMAT score of 500 AND
3. Minimum GMAT Quantitative percentile of 30 AND
4. Minimum GMAT Verbal percentile of 30 AND
5. Minimum 2.5 overall undergraduate GPA.

Index #1 - (index = (GPA x 200) + GMAT score). An index of 1050 is required using the overall undergraduate GPA.

Index #2 - (index = (GPA x 200) + GMAT score). An index of 1100 is required using the last 60 semester units (last 90 quarter units) undergraduate GPA.

Example: [3.0 GPA x 200] + 500 GMAT Score = 1100

For students who have not taken the GMAT, the Admission Criteria are as follows:

If the applicant has passed all four parts of the Certified Public Accountant examination but has not taken the GMAT, then a 500 GMAT score will be used to calculate admission indices #1 and #2. If the applicant has taken the LSAT but has not taken the GMAT, then the LSAT equivalent GMAT score will be used to calculate the admission indices #1 and #2. Actual GMAT scores take precedence over imputed GMAT scores as admission criteria for the CBA graduate business programs.

LSAT minimum score of 150.

1. Index #1 of 1050 (see description above) OR
2. Index #2 of 1100 (see description above) AND
3. Minimum 2.5 overall undergraduate GPA.

The proof for passing the CPA exam must be evidenced by one of the following:

1. Unlicensed applicants must supply a copy of their CPA exam grade report sent by the State Board of Accountancy or
2. Licensed applicants must supply a copy of their CPA license.

Deadlines

Please see the CBA Web site for current admission deadlines: http://www.cba.csus.edu/graduate/ACCY

Application Procedures

All prospective graduate students must file the following documents with both the CBA Graduate Business Advising Center (GBAC) and the Sacramento State Office of Graduate Studies (River Front Center, 206) as noted below:

1. To the College of Business Administration Graduate Business Advising Center, submit the following:
   a. One (1) set of official transcripts
   b. Results from GMAT, LSAT or CPA scores
   c. Recommendation Form Waiver
   d. Two (2) Recommendation Forms
   e. Current Resume.

   Mail all of the above documents to the following address:

   Graduate Business Advising Center (GBAC)
   Tahoe Hall, 1037
   College of Business Administration
   CSU, Sacramento
   6000 J Street

   Phone: (916) 278-6772
   FAX: (916) 278-4233
   Email: cba-gbac@saclink.csus.edu

   Please Note: Applications are not considered complete and will not be reviewed unless you complete all the steps as directed. You must submit official transcripts from ALL colleges and universities previously attended. Submission of official transcripts and test scores must be received no later than the application deadline.

International Students

International students will not be issued an F-1 student visa for this program as it is a completely online program. You may apply but you will not be issued a student visa to come to the United States. All materials, inclusive of TOEFL scores, must be turned into the Office of Graduate Studies. To ensure consideration, international students should submit their material to the International Admissions Office one month prior to the above CBA application deadlines.

TOEFL

The University requires a minimum TOEFL score of 550 (paper based), 80 (internet based), or 213 (computer based).

To understand the guidelines for your country please go to http://www.csus.edu/gradstudies/futurestudents/applicantswithforeigndocuments/index.html. Click on your country for detailed information.

California State University, Sacramento interprets "where English was the principal language of instruction" to mean that a school is located in a country where English is the native language (the daily medium of communication of the majority of the residents is English), and that the student received academic instruction in all subjects (except foreign language courses) at all levels of education in English.

Minimum Units and Grade Requirements for the Degree
Total units required for MS/ACCY: 30 (excluding foundation courses)
Minimum Cumulative GPA: 3.0. The minimum acceptable grade for any graduate business course is "C." No more than two (2) courses with a grade of "C" will be counted for satisfaction of graduate program requirements.

Advancement to Candidacy
A student’s program requirements are governed by the catalog in effect at the time one is accepted into and begins graduate school or by the catalog in effect at the time advancement to candidacy is approved.

Prior to enrolling in Culminating Requirements, a student must advance to candidacy. Initiation of advancement procedures is the responsibility of the student. The application to advance must be filed no later than the semester prior to enrollment in culminating experience requirement.

Eligibility to advance to candidacy requires satisfactory scholastic achievement, presentation of a plan of graduate study, and demonstration of writing proficiency. A classified graduate student in Business Administration may apply to the Graduate Business Advising Center (GBAC) for advancement to candidacy for the Master’s degree after s/he has completed at least 12 units of the program requirements beyond the Foundation requirements. Students with a GPA deficiency or who have not fulfilled the Writing Placement for Graduate Students Requirement (WPG) cannot advance to candidacy.

College of Continuing Education

College Overview
The College of Continuing Education (CCE) extends the mission of Sacramento State by providing access to educational and professional programming that meets student and industry demands. CCE provides access to both credit and non-credit offerings where you can prepare for promotion, improve your language skills, enhance your professional skills or seek a new career path. Many offerings do not require formal admission to the University.

CCE is also one of the top professional development providers in the capital region, helping public and private organizations improve employee effectiveness to support organizational success. Courses are scheduled for adults and working professionals, and classes are taught by university faculty and industry experts who offer real-world experience using adult learning methodologies.

For more information about the College of Continuing Education, please click here (http://www.cce.csus.edu) or call (916) 278-4433.

Professional Development Programs
CCE offers a wide variety of courses and certificate programs specifically designed for working professionals. Our programs feature quality curriculum that combines practice and theory, expert instructors with extensive industry experience, affordable fees to fit individual or organizational budgets, networking opportunities with business professionals, and convenient class schedules to accommodate work and family. Program areas include business operations, leadership and management, workforce development, public safety and more.

Degree and Credential Programs
On behalf of academic departments, CCE administers several degree completion and credential programs in convenient formats. CCE offers degree completion programs in multiple areas, such as early childhood development, criminal justice, communication sciences and disorders, and nursing. Visit The College of Continuing Education Website (http://www.cce.csus.edu) for the most current offerings.

Conference and Training Services
CCE’s Conference and Training Services unit is recognized throughout California as a leader in the meeting and event planning industry. We excel at creating partnerships where government, education and private industry come together to address community, regional and statewide issues. CCE provides assistance with conferences, training academies, strategic planning and teambuilding, stakeholder engagement, regional and statewide meetings, trade shows and fairs. We offer a full range of services designed to anticipate and facilitate all aspects of a successful event.
Custom Training
CCE offers a wide variety of custom training solutions specifically designed to meet the needs of your organization. From an initial needs assessment through program planning and delivery, we work closely with you to ensure that program content and learning outcomes are aligned with your organization’s objectives. Choose from our portfolio of existing programs or let us design a custom solution based on your organization’s specific needs. Our programs can be delivered on campus or onsite at your location.

English Language Institute
The English Language Institute provides international learners with opportunities to obtain an excellent education while becoming familiar with people and cultures from around the world. Supported by an outstanding, safe, friendly campus that offers a variety of educational and recreational opportunities, students experience American culture and develop their English language and communication skills for professional and academic success.

Open University
Open University is ideal if you wish to explore the university environment, raise your GPA or update your professional skills. This program allows you to enroll in regular university classes without going through the formal admission process. Upon department approval, you may be admitted in Open University courses on a space-available basis. Some courses may require prerequisites.

Special Sessions
Summer and Winter Sessions enable Sacramento State and visiting students to meet or accelerate degree requirements, pursue an area of interest, or reduce class load for the fall and spring semesters. Learn more at The College of Continuing Education Website (http://www.cce.csus.edu).

College of Education
College Overview
As a comprehensive college, we collaborate with our professional communities in preparing educators, leaders, and Deaf service providers to serve as agents of positive social change. We give access to professional careers for students with diverse identities and backgrounds, and contribute to their personal growth. We provide informed advice and applied research services to the local educational community.

Licensure and Credentialing Disclosure
Admission into programs leading to licensure and credentialing does not guarantee that students will obtain a license or credential. Licensure and credentialing requirements are set by agencies that are not controlled by or affiliated with the CSU and requirements can change at any time. For example, licensure or credentialing requirements can include evidence of the right to work in the United States (e.g., social security number or tax payer identification number) or successfully passing a criminal background check. Students are responsible for determining whether they can meet licensure or credentialing requirements. The CSU will not refund tuition, fees, or any associated costs, to students who determine subsequent to admission that they cannot meet licensure or credentialing requirements. Information concerning licensure and credentialing requirements are available from the Dean of Undergraduate Studies, Sacramento Hall 234, (916) 278-5344.

CHDV 23. Assessment and Observation in Child Development. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): CHDV 30, or CHDV 35, or equivalent

Purposes of and methodological issues involved in assessing and observing early child development and learning in educational and developmental settings. Topics include selection of appropriate observation methods, survey of standardized measures, ethics, and interpretation and implications of assessment data for teaching and learning. Focus will be on becoming objective and unbiased observers, use of both informal and formal assessment tools, and principles of observational assessment research. Students will be required to complete up to 10 hours of observation outside of class. APA style will be introduced to support the development of practical and scholarly communication and writing.

CHDV 30. Human Development. 3 Units
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Understanding Personal Development (E)
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Interdisciplinary study of human development with practical observations. Addresses physical, socio-cultural, intellectual and emotional aspects of growth and development from conception to death. A variety of field experiences will be required.

CHDV 31. Adult Supervision and Mentoring In Early Childhood Programs. 2 Units
Prerequisite(s): CHDV 30 or CHDV 35 or equivalent.

Term Typically Offered: Spring only

Study of research and exemplary practices in the supervision of early childhood teachers, other program staff, parents and volunteers. Content emphasizes adult learning.

CHDV 32. Administration and Supervision of Early Childhood Programs. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): CHDV 30 or CHDV 35 or equivalent.

Term Typically Offered: Fall only

Basic issues, procedures and practices in the administration and supervision of public and private schools. Requires administrative supervisory fieldwork in an early childhood program.

CHDV 35. Child and Adolescent Development. 3 Units
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Understanding Personal Development (E)
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Examination of theory and research on cognitive, social and physical human development from conception through adolescence. Content will include data-collection techniques such as observation. Some course material will be applied to an analysis of elementary schooling.

CHDV 35F. Human Development and Elementary Field Experience. 2 Units
Corequisite(s): Completion of or enrollment in CHDV 35.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Directed field experiences in elementary school settings. Students are required to work at an elementary school and attend an on campus seminar. Includes the integration of student field experiences with theory and research in Human Development. Issues in learning, social development, adult career selection and schooling will be explored. Credit/No Credit
CHDV 44. Community Service Learning in Developmental and Educational Settings. 1 - 3 Units
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Designed to provide a range of service learning experiences where students apply their academic knowledge and skills in community-based settings. The community-based experiences will be combined with classroom activities designed to develop student understanding of topics related to their service activities such as tutoring reading and math, mentoring students from disadvantaged backgrounds, working with special populations of children.

Note: May be taken up to four times for credit (maximum 12 units of credit).

Credit/No Credit

CHDV 131. Language Development. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): CHDV 133. CHDV 133 may be taken concurrently.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Investigation of the development of language and its relationship to school learning, cognitive development and social development. Both linguistic and communication competence are included. Specific attention to second language acquisition and principles underlying effective instruction in linguistically diverse children.

Note: Topic areas will vary by semester, and the course may be repeated.

CHDV 132. Fieldwork in Child Development. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): CHDV 123
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Directed field experiences in settings selected to meet students’ experience and needs. Students are required to work at the selected setting and attend an on-campus seminar to explore developmental content and issues. Discussion will also focus on attention to professional development and ethics in community and educational settings working with children and families.

Note: May be taken as a core requirement and repeated as an elective.

CHDV 133. Quantitative Methods in Human Development. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): CHDV 30, or CHDV 35, or equivalent
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Introduction to quantitative research methods and their philosophical underpinnings. Major topics include the structures, design and conduct of research inquiry, and the generation of research questions and hypotheses, and collection of data. Emphasis will also be on engaging in quantitative research as well as increasing students’ ability to locate, understand, critique, and report research findings. Students will be challenged to think critically about methodological issues in quantitative research. APA style will be introduced to support the development of scholarly communication and writing.

Note: For CHDV majors, must be taken prior to completion of 90 units; completion of 45 total units credit.

CHDV 134. Development of Young Children as Mathematical and Scientific Thinkers. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): CHDV 30 or CHDV 35 or equivalent.
Term Typically Offered: Summer only

Theory, research, and practice in development of the child’s thinking about mathematical and scientific concepts. Topics will include: (a) early emergence of conceptual reasoning connected with mathematics and science, (b) symbolic development and language of mathematics and science, (c) developmental sequences in mathematical and scientific thinking, (d) California Preschool Learning Foundations; (e) age-appropriate and culturally-relevant experiences to promote mathematical and scientific reasoning. Activities include lecture, discussions, presentations, cooperative learning assignments, and integration of course content with early childhood classroom practice.

CHDV 135. Crosscultural Child Development. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): CHDV 133. CHDV 133 may be taken concurrently.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Examination of the physical, socio-emotional and cognitive development in children from a crosscultural orientation. Will investigate cultural variables that influence child development from both inter- and intranational perspectives. Discussion of culturally universal and culturally specific behaviors, cognitions and experiences will be covered.
CHDV 136. Developmental Experiences, Methods and Curriculum. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): CHDV 123. CHDV 123 may be taken concurrently.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Examination of theory, research, and exemplary practices and programs for children through elementary school. Activities include discussions, presentations, demonstrations and cooperative learning assignments.

CHDV 137. Cognitive Development. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): CHDV 133.
Corequisite(s): CHDV 137L.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Cognitive development of children from conception through adolescence with consideration of biological and environmental influences. Lectures, discussions and participation in such classroom activities as presentations, demonstrations and cooperative learning assignments.
Note: Student must co-enroll in the corresponding section of CHDV 137L.

CHDV 137L. Cognitive Development Research Laboratory. 1 Unit
Prerequisite(s): CHDV 133.
Corequisite(s): CHDV 137.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Laboratory course to complement CHDV 137. Emphasis placed on the observation, interaction, documentation, and using a scientific approach to learn about cognitive development. Classroom, field, and research experiences supporting the study of cognitive development.
Note: Student must co-enroll in the corresponding section of CHDV 137.

CHDV 138. Social and Emotional Development. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): CHDV 133.
Corequisite(s): CHDV 138L.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Study of the social and emotional development of children from conception through adolescence with consideration of biological and environmental influences. Lectures, discussions and participation in such classroom activities as presentations, demonstrations and cooperative learning assignments.
Note: Student must co-enroll in the corresponding section of CHDV 138L.

CHDV 138L. Social and Emotional Development Laboratory. 1 Unit
Prerequisite(s): CHDV 133.
Corequisite(s): CHDV 138.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Laboratory course to complement CHDV 138. Emphasis placed on the nature of observation, interaction, and using a scientific approach to learn about social and emotional development. Classroom and field experiences related to the study of social and emotional development.
Note: Student must co-enroll in the corresponding section of CHDV 138.

CHDV 139. Educational Play: Theory and Practice. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): CHDV 30 or CHDV 35 or equivalent
Term Typically Offered: Summer only
Use of play as an educational vehicle in early childhood. Discovering how play helps children develop physically, socially, emotionally, cognitively and creatively through a variety of playful modes. Constructing appropriate developmental play materials and activities with emphasis on the active role of the adult in child's play. Activities include discussions, presentations, demonstrations and cooperative learning assignments.

CHDV 140. Coordination of Early Childhood Programs. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): CHDV 30 or CHDV 35 or equivalent
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Advanced methodology of coordinating early childhood programs, to include organization, staff development and community relations. Includes the functions of parents, aides, volunteers and varied early childhood organizational patterns.

CHDV 141. History of Childhood: International and Interdisciplinary Perspectives. 3 Units
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Humanities (Area C2)
Term Typically Offered: Fall
Examination of what it means to be a child in today's world by comparing social constructions of childhood across the broad historical periods and in contrasting parts of the world. Exploration of cultural beliefs, values and practices of childhood in different historical, social, and economic contexts. Comparative approach provides a critical framework from which to analyze scholarly inquiry about how children develop in families, schools, and broader society. Course content will interest students from a broad array of majors.

CHDV 143. Mind and Brain in Developmental Context. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): CHDV 30 or 35; Introductory Biology.
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Upper Division Further Studies in Area B5
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring, Summer
Investigation of the biological processes underlying child development, from conception through adolescence. Emphasis will be on the genetic, neurological, and endocrine processes related to cognition, social, and emotional development. Students will explore the bidirectional nature of psychobiological processes, with specific emphasis on the psychobiological mechanisms underlying the transaction between cultural, educational, and social-emotional related to educational, and mental and physical health functioning.

CHDV 144. Community Service Learning in Developmental and Educational Settings. 1 - 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): Instructor permission.
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring
Designed to provide a range of service learning experiences where students apply their academic knowledge and skills in community-based settings. The community-based experiences will be combined with classroom activities designed to develop student understanding of topics related to their service activities such as tutoring reading and math, mentoring students from disadvantaged backgrounds, working with special populations of children.

CHDV 145. Controversial Issues in Childhood Development, Education, and Social Policy. 3 Units
Prerequisite(s): GWAR certification before Fall 09; or WPJ score of 80+; or 3-unit placement in ENGL 109M or ENGL 109W; or 4-unit placement in ENGL 109M or ENGL 109W and co-enrollment in ENGL 109X; or WPJ score 70 or 71 and co-enrollment in ENGL 109X.
General Education Area/Graduation Requirement: Writing Intensive Graduation Requirement (WI), GE AREA D, Race & Ethnicity Graduation Requirement (RE)
Term Typically Offered: Fall, Spring

Discussion-based examination of controversial issues linking development, education, and cultural practice in which scholarly inquiry has substantial implications for social policy. Specific topics vary by semester and include topics of both historical relevance and contemporary debates. Content relevant to multiple disciplines including issues such as adolescent risk behavior, bilingual education, brain-base pedagogy, child care, children and the law, cultural diversity, developmental theory and educational practice, gender, literacy practices, motivation, parenting styles, school violence, special education, standardized testing, and technological change.

CHDV 150A. Early Literacy Development in First and Second Language. 2 Units
Prerequisite(s): CHDV 123 or CHDV 133. CHDV 123 or CHDV 133 may be taken concurrently.
Corequisite(s): CHDV 150B.
Term Typically Offered: Summer only

Students will become familiar with language and emergent literacy of young children from birth to eight. An overview of research-based developmental progression will be emphasized as it relates to the learning foundations for language and literacy. Other focal points will be home-school connections and cultural influences on literacy development. Assessment topics, including observation and other developmental strategies will be intergrated. An emphasis on increasing students’ ability to connect theoretical understanding to the practice offered in CHDV 150B.

CHDV 150B. Early Literacy Development in First and Second Language Practicum. 1 Unit
Prerequisite(s): CHDV 123 or CHDV 133. CHDV 123 or CHDV 133 may be taken concurrently.
