1. As a result of last year's assessment effort, have you implemented any changes for your assessment including learning outcomes, assessment plan, assessment tools (methods, rubrics, curriculum map, or key assignment etc.), and/or the university baccalaureate learning goals?

No changes

2. As a result of last year's assessment effort, have you implemented any other changes at the department, the college or the university, including advising, co-curriculum, budgeting and planning?

The painting and drawing faculty have devised an on-line advising tool that shows students which courses they should be taking in a particular semester. This faculty has also executed semesterly advising meeting with students in this emphasis area.

3. What PROGRAM (not course) learning outcome(s) have you assessed this academic year?

Sculpture, as a discipline, was to be assessed. Data were collected and posted to department assessment web site. Sculpture faculty were invited to discuss the data but did not show. Sculpture faculty was asked to complete this questionnaire and did not.

4. What method(s)/measure(s) have you used to collect the data?

Data were collected by faculty taking images of student work. The faculty member of the course selected the top 5 most successful pieces to locate how well students understood the assignment and embedded concept(s).

5. What are the criteria and/or standards of performance for the program learning outcome?

This would be determined through the faculty discussion of images collected of student work.

6. What data have you collected? What are the results and findings, including the percentage of students who meet each standard?

There are no results or findings due to the lack of participation from the Sculpture faculty.

7. As a result of this year's assessment effort, do you anticipate or propose any changes for your program (e.g. structures, content, or learning outcomes)?

No changes can be made until the Sculpture faculty participate in the assessment process.

8. Which program learning outcome(s) do you plan to assess next year?

Plans for which discipline to assess will be made at the beginning of the fall semester.
