I. Summary Memo to the Deans/Chairs/Program Directors

To: Chair, Department of Sociology
From: Office of Academic Program Assessment (OAPA)
Date: Fall 2015
Subject: Feedback for the 2014-2015 Annual Assessment Report
CC: Office of Academic Affairs

The 2014-2015 annual assessment reports are based on responses to the 2014-2015 Annual Assessment Report Template prepared by the Office of Academic Program Assessment (OAPA). The feedback for the 2014-2015 Annual Assessment Report is summarized below:

Section:	Details:
I	Summary Memo to Deans/Chairs/Program Directors
II	Detailed Feedback for the 2014-2015 Annual Assessment Report
III	Commendations and Recommendations
Appendix 1:	WSCUC “Rubric for Assessing the Quality of Academic Program Learning Outcomes”
Appendix 2:	Sacramento State Baccalaureate Learning Goals for the 21st Century & AAC&U’s 16 VALUE Rubrics
Appendix 3:	Important Considerations for Program Review and Assessment
Appendix 4:	Relevant Verbs in Defining Learning Outcomes
Appendix 5:	Background Information for Academic Program Assessment and Review

We have used appropriate rubrics from WASC Senior College and University Commission (WSCUC) for guidance on effective assessment practices in several areas, including the quality of learning outcomes, assessment plans, methods/data/analysis, program review, and the use of assessment data for curricular improvement, academic planning, and budgeting. These rubrics were provided in appendices in the Feedback for the 2012-2013 Annual Assessment Report, and will not be repeated here.

We hope all the previous feedback reports that you have received in recent years from OAPA (2011-2012, 2012-2013, and 2013-2014) in addition to the current one (2014-2015) will be used to help the academic unit (department, program, or college) determine the extent to which its current assessment system is adequate and what additional components or processes may need to be developed or improved for all the degree programs in the academic unit.

We would like to thank Dr. Don Taylor, Interim Assistant Vice President, and Academic Programs, Janett Torset, Kathy Mine, and our student assistants, Christian and Paul Schoenmann, for their support in this assessment review process.

If you have any questions or suggestions, please contact Dr. Amy Liu (liuqa@csus.edu), Director of OAPA.

Thank you.

III. Commendations and Recommendations

Commendations:

The program has made more improvement in its program assessment, has plans for program improvement over the next five years, and used the feedback from the 2013-2014 assessment report. The program is commended for addressing the following areas well:

Program Learning Outcomes and their Alignment:

- Clearly specified program learning outcomes and defined them in the context of this program.

Measures, Rubrics and their Alignment:

- Used a rubric specifically for the PLO.

Data Collection and Presentation:

- Randomly sampled 1/3 of their graduate cohort using pre- and post-tests

Use of Assessment Data:

- Used assessment data and feedback from the Office of Academic Program Assessment to improve many aspects of their program.

Recommendations:

As the program continues its annual assessment efforts we encourage it to:

Program Learning Outcomes and their Alignment:

- Clarify the relationship between the six subitems of PLO #8 and the many categories on the rubric.

Measures, Rubrics and their Alignment:

- Consider measuring progress toward this PLO closer to graduation.

Data Collection and Presentation:

- Please consider another way of presenting the data, such as the percentage of students who performed at each level. The averages presented can be easily skewed by an outlier.
- If the same students were not selected for the pre-test and post-test, then the results may not indicate growth in student learning, but a sampling error, where more capable students were selected for the post test than for the pretest.
- Consider embedding the assignment into student coursework so that more student papers could be used for assessment purposes. If the instructors collaborate to norm their grading, and perhaps bring in an outside faculty member to audit their work, the rubric could be used for both grading purposes and assessment purposes.
- Consider some kind of norming procedure for the faculty readers. The considerable variance in scoring suggests that the faculty could benefit from discussions of what expectations for student performance should be in the program.

Standards of Performance at Graduation:

- Please clearly give the standard of performance for the PLOs, expressed as a percentage of students performing at a desired level (e.g., 70% of students will perform at level 3 or above of the rubric).

Appendix 1: WSCUC “Rubric for Assessing the Quality of Academic Program Learning Outcomes”

<http://www.wascsenior.org/search/site/Rubrics%20combined>

Criterion	Initial	Emerging	Developed	Highly Developed
1. Comprehensive List	The list of outcomes is problematic: e.g., very incomplete, overly detailed, inappropriate, and disorganized. It may include only discipline-specific learning, ignoring relevant institution-wide learning. The list may confuse learning processes (e.g., doing an internship) with learning outcomes (e.g., application of theory to real-world problems).	The list includes reasonable outcomes but does not specify expectations for the program as a whole. Relevant institution-wide learning outcomes and/or national disciplinary standards may be ignored. Distinctions between expectations for undergraduate and graduate programs may be unclear.	The list is a well-organized set of reasonable outcomes that focus on the key knowledge, skills, and values students learn in the program. It includes relevant institution-wide outcomes (e.g., communication or critical thinking skills). Outcomes are appropriate for the level (undergraduate vs. graduate); national disciplinary standards have been considered.	The list is reasonable, appropriate, and comprehensive, with clear distinctions between undergraduate and graduate expectations, if applicable. National disciplinary standards have been considered. Faculty has agreed on explicit criteria for assessing students' level of mastery of each outcome.
2. Assessable Outcomes	Outcomes statements do not identify what students can do to demonstrate learning. “Statements understand scientific method” do not specify how understanding can be demonstrated and assessed.	Most of the outcomes indicate how students can demonstrate their learning.	Each outcome describes how students can demonstrate learning, e.g., “Graduates can write reports in APA style” or “Graduate can make original contributions to biological knowledge.”	Outcomes describe how students can demonstrate their learning. Faculty has agreed on explicit criteria statements such as rubrics, and have identified example of student performance at varying levels of each outcome.
3. Alignment	There is no clear relationship between the outcomes and the curriculum that students experience.	Students appear to be given reasonable opportunities to develop the outcomes in the required curriculum.	The curriculum is designed to provide opportunities for students to learn and to develop increasing sophistication with respect to each outcome. This design may be summarized in a curriculum map.	Pedagogy, grading, the curriculum, relevant student support services, and co-curriculum are explicitly and intentionally aligned with each outcome. Curriculum map indicates increasing levels of proficiency.
4. Assessment Planning	There is no formal plan for assessing each outcome.	The program relies on short-term planning, such as selecting which outcome(s) to assess in current year.	The program has a reasonable, multi-year assessment plan that identifies when each outcome will be assessed. The plan may explicitly include analysis and implementation of improvements.	The program has a fully-articulated, sustainable, multi-year assessment plan that describes when and how each outcome will be assessed and how improvements based on findings will be implemented. The plan is routinely examined and revised, as needed.
5. The Student Experience	Students know little or nothing about the overall outcomes of the program. Communication of outcomes to students, e.g. in syllabi or catalog, is spotty or nonexistent.	Students have some knowledge of program outcomes. Communication is occasional and informal, left to individual faculty or advisors.	Students have a good grasp of program outcomes. They may use them to guide their own learning. Outcomes are included in most syllabi and are readily available in the catalog, on the web page, and elsewhere.	Students are well-acquainted with program outcomes and may participate in creation and use of rubrics. They are skilled at self-assessing in relation to the outcome levels of performance. Program policy calls for inclusion of outcomes in all course syllabi, and they are readily available in other program documents.

Appendix 3: Important Considerations for Program Review & Assessment

Please keep the following questions in mind when you (program, department, or the college) assess student learning outcomes and improve the programs:

- 1) What are your program learning outcomes (PLOs): what should your students know, value, and be able to do (at the time of graduation)? Are the PLOs aligned closely with the missions and vision of the university and the college/department/program? Is each program learning outcome aligned closely with the curriculum, the key assignment, pedagogy, grading, the co-curriculum, or relevant student support services?
- 2) Is each PLO assessable? What rubrics are used to assess a particular program learning outcome? What are the explicit criteria and standards of performance for each outcome? Have you achieved the learning outcomes: the standards near or at graduation?
- 3) What are the data, findings, and analyses for EACH program learning outcome? What is the quality of the data: how reliable and valid is the data? Other than GPA, what data/evidences are used to determine whether your graduates have achieved the stated outcomes for the degree (BA/BS or MA/MS)? If two or more pieces of assessment data are used for each outcome, is the data consistent or contradictory?
- 4) Are these PLOs (together with the data and the standards of performance near or at graduation) able to demonstrate the meaning, quality, integrity and uniqueness of your degree program?
- 5) Who is going to use the data? Are the data, findings, or analyses clearly presented so they are easy to understand and/or use? Is the data used only for the course or for the program where the data is collected, or is the data also used broadly for the curriculum, budgeting, or strategic planning at the department, the college, or the university?
- 6) Are students aware of these learning outcomes? Do they often use them to assess the learning outcomes themselves? Where are the program learning outcomes published for view, e.g., across programs, with students, in the course syllabus, the department websites or catalogs? Are they widely shared?
- 7) Has the program conducted follow-up assessment to evaluate the effectiveness of program changes made based on assessment data? If yes, how effective are those changes to improve student learning and success? If no, what is your plan to assess the effectiveness of those changes?
- 8) Is there an assessment plan for each unit (program, department, or college)? Have curriculum maps been developed? Does the plan clarify when, how, and how often each outcome will be assessed? Will all outcomes be assessed over a reasonable period of time such as within a six-year program review cycle? Is the plan sustainable in terms of human, fiscal, and other resources? Will the assessment plan be revised as needed?

Appendix 5: Background Information for Academic Program Assessment and Review

Ideally, academic program assessment and review at Sacramento State should be an ongoing process that facilitates continuous program improvement and includes the following areas<sup>1</sup>:

Assessment Plan: Each program needs to develop a program assessment plan which contains the following elements: Program goals and learning outcomes, methods for assessing progress toward these outcomes, and a timetable. This plan should be updated annually or frequently.

Annual Program Assessment Report: Program learning outcomes (PLOs) should be directly aligned with course learning outcomes (CLOs) and the University Baccalaureate Learning Goals (UBLGs). Programs are asked to provide the Office of Academic Affairs with an annual report (annual assessment report -AAR) on program assessment activities that occurred during the past academic year. These reports should identify learning goals and outcomes that were targeted for program assessment, measures used to evaluate progress toward those outcomes, data and analysis, and changes made or planned in response to the results. Annual program assessment and the assessment reports provide a solid foundation and data for the six year program review at Sacramento State.

Program Review: Each department undertakes an extensive program review every six years. As part of the program review process, departments are asked to use annual program assessment data to evaluate how well students are meeting program learning outcomes and university learning goals.

Thus, each department in our university should have in place a system for collecting and using evidence to improve student learning. So far, not all departments have established program learning outcomes and/or approaches to assess learning for all degree programs; it is essential to make these expectations explicit. This will help departments and colleges to assure that every degree program has or will have in place a quality assurance system for assessing and tracking student learning, and use this information to improve their respective programs. Importantly, departments should also present learning expectations, data, findings, and analysis in a way that is easy to understand and/or to use by the faculty, students, administration, the general public, accreditation agencies, and policy-makers.
