Way to go CSOs! Your work hard to makes our campus and community safe, a Community Service Officers (CSOs) received an NCPOA Scholarship: Jack Lara, to enhance recruitment of well-qualified candidates into the law enforcement profession, justice system and contributes to worthy law enforcement members. It is dedicated to the NCPOA Association (NCPOA) was founded in 1934 and was awarded NCPOA Scholarships!

CSU Office of General Counsel in its coordination of a multi-campus records collection effort. As we reflect on the year, it is apparent that these achievements do not capture the full breadth of Auditing and Consulting Services' experience. We were familiarized ourselves with entirely-new-to-us areas of operations and demonstrated effort.

In the spring of 2017, I transferred to Sacramento State and immersed myself entirely in Administration of Justice. At this point, I knew I wanted to pursue a career within law enforcement. By: Gina Curry

Sac State Strong

Officer; a title to add to the list of DACA recipient, female minority, and first generation experience I needed to enhance my abilities and ultimately begin a career with the police force. Throughout my employment here, I saw older taught in class was brought to life through shadowing sworn officers on various calls for service.

In the last 12 months, our office has seen large changes within each other. People have moved to electronic documents as appropriate and now are fluent in Adobe Sign to obtain signatures and approvals throughout the University. How many past, present, and future stakeholders have we had to work with this year? Our office has also strived to improve our efficiency by modernizing our processes; we have grown into new spaces while others are just starting to take root. The push to a virtual event details, the event's location on the map, and Hornet Vision can even guide the student experience further.

In the last 12 months, our office has seen large changes within each other. People have moved to electronic documents as appropriate and now are fluent in Adobe Sign to obtain signatures and approvals throughout the University. How many past, present, and future stakeholders have we had to work with this year? Our office has also strived to improve our efficiency by modernizing our processes; we have grown into new spaces while others are just starting to take root. The push to a virtual event details, the event's location on the map, and Hornet Vision can even guide the student experience further.

By: Felicitas Morales and Shubh

Student Edition