PROGRAM DETAILS

How do I charge to my account?

Simply visit the Hornet Bookstore or order your items online to purchase your books, supplies and/or laptop. If you are purchasing online, select the “charge to my student account” option. For in-store purchases, let the employee know you would like to charge to your student account.

What can I charge to my account?

New, transfer, and continuing undergraduate students enrolled in a minimum of six (6) units are allowed to charge a laptop and the books and supplies needed for their classes. Other items, such as clothing and accessories, gifts and collectibles, are not eligible.

What is the maximum amount I can borrow?

The maximum amount is $2,000.00 per semester, Fall and Spring.

Can I charge only a portion of my purchase to my student account?

Yes, you can pay a portion of the purchase out of pocket and charge the rest to your student account.

How will the charge look on my student account?

The charge would be listed as “Bookstore Loan.”

Will interest or fees be charged for a Bookstore Loan?

No, there is not a fee or interest charged. However, you are subject to late fees and placement with a 3rd party collection agency if it is not paid by the due date. Also, you will have a hold that prevents registration for the next term and prevents the release of your diploma.

When is my Bookstore Loan due?

October 11, 2021.

Will my financial aid pay my Bookstore Loan?

Yes. In order for your financial aid to pay your Bookstore Loan, you will need to charge your books at least 2 days prior to your aid disbursement. If your aid disburses prior to the Bookstore Loan posting to your account, you will be responsible for paying the loan yourself.

What other payment options do I have?

During the promotional Hornet Laptop Discount Program (August 2–September 10), new, transfer, and continuing undergraduate students are invited to apply a HEERF Grant discount towards an eligible laptop purchased through the Hornet Bookstore, and add the difference to their student account through the Bookstore Loan Program. The HEERF discount amount can be requested in advance through the Hornet Bookstore, and/or looked up with a Student ID and PIN prior to/during checkout at hornetbookstore.com. View full terms and conditions.

Students will be required to sign a contract (in-person) or agree to terms (online purchases) indicating their consent to post the charges to their student account each time they make a purchase.
