"Our student employees are critical to our University's success - they are the heartbeat of our University. The work they do is critical to the operations of the campus. We all benefit from their perspective, their enthusiasm, and their passion for Sacramento State. One of the best parts of being at Sac State is working with our students. We cannot wait to see you all again when we can safely repopulate the University. Thank you for your hard work. Stingers Up!" - President Nelsen

Kayla Garcia
Manager: Mellonie Richardson, Director of Talent Acquisition
I cannot share enough wonderful things about Kayla, she is determined, committed, hardworking, and a true asset to the Human Resources/ Employment Services department. She is consistent and reliable and has shared information and trained permanent employees over years of transition. She holds and shares knowledge and is regarded by the entire team as an equal, a talent, a kind person, and a fantastic colleague. Our department is successful and thriving because of her daily contributions.

David Granicher
Manager: Josh Mandel-Sonner, Assistant Director, Student Organizations & Leadership
David is an incredibly well-rounded student employee who contributes to our program in a variety of ways, while wearing multiple hats. He is accountable, flexible, reliable, and respectful to everyone. David's moral compass is of the highest standard and truly guides his work and decision making on a regular basis. We have the utmost respect for David as an employee and as a person, and we feel extremely lucky to have had the opportunity to work with him and learn from him over the past several years.

Manager: Melissa Timpson, Administrative Support Coordinator II, School of Nursing

The School of Nursing has been lucky to have such a dedicated Student Assistant, Anthony Modesto, to be on our team. Anthony is patient and kind, and these qualities have contributed to him providing excellent customer service to all the students, staff and faculty with which he interacts. He is always generous with his time in assisting prospective nursing students with the admission requirements. I know his efforts have provided students the ability to navigate our competitive program. In addition to being an incredible Student Assistant, Anthony is a volunteer Firefighter and EMT. When Anthony graduates from Sacramento State this semester with a Bachelor’s degree in Criminal Justice, we will be proud to say he is Sac State made!
