All IRA Advisory committee members complete Conflict of Interest training on an annual basis and are recused from voting on proposals if a conflict of interest is identified.

A conflict is identified when:

- A committee member is directly involved with a department, program or project that puts forth a submission. This includes ASI student appointees who are employed by a department or are directly involved with a program or project.

Note: a student's declared major does not preclude them from voting on proposals that relate to that academic department.
