Message from President Robert Nelsen

REDEFINE THE POSSIBLE

With the rapid growth and expansion of Sacramento State, it is more important than ever that we move forward with a unified brand and identity. In 2014-15, the Office of Public Affairs and Advocacy worked with partners across campus to establish and enhance our brand at Sac State. The following pages not only define the colors and styles we use as a university, but also reinforce the distinct experiences and memories that exist only at Sac State.

Creating a brand experience for the University builds a definitive connection to our external community, and defines the look and feel of our campus for our most important audience: our students. The consistent use of colors, designs, and logos as outlined in the following guidelines will ensure that as our campus expands we will be a united Hornet Nation.

“The consistent use of colors, designs, and logos as outlined in the following guidelines will ensure that as our campus expands we will be a united Hornet Nation.”
What Is Brand?

Brand is the sum of everything an organization is and does. It is a perception held in the minds of the organization’s audience, a perception formed from both facts and emotions.

Branding is how an organization establishes, reinforces and enhances memorable images and distinct experiences for its audiences. Branding begins with the essence of an organization and its promise to its audiences. Branding happens through consistent communications, experiences and visuals.

“[Brand is] the set of expectations, memories, stories and relationships that, taken together, account for a consumer’s decision to choose one product over another.”

Seth Godin
Author, entrepreneur and marketer

BRANDING AT SAC STATE

By presenting our brand consistently, we can positively influence how people think and feel about Sacramento State and amplify our impact. The guidelines and tools on the following pages are available to everyone on campus to help in building the University’s brand. A strong brand will help:

» Grow a reputation as an exceptional University with outstanding student success

» Build community through shared connections, camaraderie and pride

» Motivate audiences to attend, support and partner with Sacramento State

» Create passion and loyalty for continued growth and success

» Increase visibility and recognition locally, nationally and globally
Essence of Sacramento State

Sacramento State is the anchor institution in the capital city of our nation’s most influential state because of people, passion and ideas. A four-year university for today’s world, Sacramento State is essential to the region. It is the place to learn, connect and be part of the fabric of our city, our state and beyond. It stands for opportunity and for making a difference. Our students, faculty and alumni redefine the possible.

SACRAMENTO STATE’S MISSION STATEMENT
As California’s capital university, Sacramento State transforms lives by preparing students for leadership, service and success.

“Our brand is our very nature. It is who we are and what makes us shine.”
Brand Promise

Our brand platform captures the essence of Sacramento State. It defines our brand promise, principles, differentiators, personality and voice. It serves as the source from which we draw information and guidance for presenting our story to the world.

Redefine the Possible™

At Sacramento State, we foster an atmosphere of intellectual curiosity and cultural enrichment, and a passion for new possibilities. We are dedicated to the advancement of ideas and innovations to improve the lives of those in our community and beyond.

We take pride in our role as California’s capital university, and we believe there are no limits to the potential each of us has for excellence and success. Our students define themselves through their own efforts and achievements. They are empowered by faculty and staff who share their transformative ideals. Our graduates have the knowledge, guidance and expertise to thrive in a rapidly evolving world.

Through our collective success, we pay back countless dividends to the Sacramento region and deliver the next generation of leaders who are prepared for a new era. We redefine the possible every day at Sacramento State. This is our promise to students, faculty and staff, and to the community at large.
Brand Principles

Our brand principles are the core of Sacramento State. They define who we are and what we stand for.

| Principle          | It means...                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Proof points include:                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |

| Value of Degree                        | Our alumni are a preferred choice for many regional employers who recognize the value and strong work ethic of our students and graduates. A degree from Sacramento State represents an excellent investment, a top-notch education, an excellent employment opportunity and an unforgettable experience — all at a reasonable cost. | • More than half of Sacramento State graduates stay and work in the region
  • In-state tuition is as little as half the cost of other local higher education options
  • The Construction Management Department has one of the highest job placement rates of any program at any CSU
  • Fact: Individuals with a bachelor’s degree earn nearly a million dollars more over the course of their time than those with only a high school diploma                                                                 |
| Engaged Student Body                   | Sacramento State students are energetic, motivated and involved. They define themselves, work hard and thrive. Our students achieve — and often exceed — their goals.                                           | • About half of the students belong to at least one of 300 clubs and organizations
  • There are 36 Greek Life organizations, ranging in size from five to 60 members
  • More than one-third of students have participated in one or more internship programs                                                                                                                                  |
| Commitment, Expertise of Faculty and Staff | As leaders in their fields, faculty members are committed to providing unparalleled learning experiences for students, including one-on-one mentoring. Faculty and staff serve as advisors, organizers, promoters and in other roles to prepare students for success in the classroom and beyond. | • More than 98% of the faculty hold the highest degree in their fields
  • The professor-to-student ratio is 1 to 25, and the average undergraduate class size is 33
  • 80% of graduating seniors say their professors help them in achieving professional goals                                                                                                                                       |
| Involved, Successful Graduates         | Sacramento State graduates make positive contributions to our everyday lives and stay actively involved and connected — giving back to their alma mater and the communities in which they live.                             | • One in 20 residents in the region is an alumnus, and there are more than 7,000 active members in the Alumni Association
  • Distinguished Alumni Awards have recognized hundreds of alumni since 1972 for their achievements and community service
  • The Made at Sac State campaign highlights the impact of Sacramento State through its graduates                                                                                                                                  |
| California’s Capital University       | Our campus orbits within the gravitational pull of the state’s governance center, offering insights and access to myriad political and policy issues. We are a cultural and intellectual mosaic with a diversity of people and ideas, sharing a uniquely California perspective. | • Sacramento State is just six miles from the State Capitol
  • The Capital Fellows Programs are recognized as one of the top 10 internships in the nation
  • Minorities make up nearly two-thirds of Sacramento State’s student population
  • The Center for California Studies brings the resources of the state’s largest university system to the service of public discourse, civic education and state government                                                                 |
| Beautiful Campus                      | Our campus meshes smoothly with the metropolitan soul of Sacramento. Thousands of trees and flowers, a focus on sustainability and art, along with the river and bike trail, create a natural metaphor for Sacramento State’s energy, abundance and connection with our community. | • A Tree Campus USA, Sacramento State is home to more than 3,500 trees and 400 tree species, a 3-acre botanical garden, and a Japanese tea room and garden
  • The campus is rich with public art installments and art galleries
  • The WELL, a student recreation and wellness center, and the American River Courtyard, an on-campus residence hall, are LEED-certified                                                                 |

Sacramento State Voice

Sacramento State has three distinct tones of voice: standard voice, casual voice and formal voice. Each serves a particular purpose, and our brand personality should shine through each of them.

STANDARD VOICE
This is the most common voice. Engaging and informational, it is appropriate for use both on and off campus. The standard voice is used with many audiences, including students and their families, prospective students, faculty and staff, alumni, and community members. In standard voice, we are Sacramento State.

CASUAL VOICE
Communications for groups very familiar with the University, such as current students, recent alumni, and faculty and staff, can be more informal. Friendly, inclusive and energetic, they are focused primarily on campus. In casual voice, we are Sac State.

FORMAL VOICE
Reserved for distinctive events and communications, the formal voice is dignified and institutional by nature. It is used in official documents, announcements, and ceremonies as well as nationally and internationally. In formal voice, we are California State University, Sacramento.

Sacramento State’s Visual Identity and Style

IMPORTANCE OF VISUAL IDENTITY
Hundreds of messages are sent daily through a multitude of media — all vying for attention at all times. This makes it increasingly challenging for communications to be noticed and to have impact on audiences as intended. Consistent visuals make it easier to recognize messages from a single source, improving awareness of a brand and ultimately the success of its communications.

IDENTITY STYLE GUIDE
Sacramento State’s official identity and style standards are detailed in the following pages. They are intended to improve visual consistency for all University communications, addressing the use of logos and special marks, the tagline, colors, fonts, photography, design options, and much more. They are overarching and flexible to best meet the many and varying needs of campus.

APPROVAL PROCESS
To ensure that materials meet the required visual identity standards, they must be approved by University Marketing prior to finalization or “going live.” Send a PDF of the project to universitymarketing@csus.edu and briefly describe the goal, project, the intended audience, and how the approved item will be used or distributed. Allow no fewer than five working days for review. More time may be required for larger projects.

IDENTITY STYLE GUIDE

THE UNIVERSITY NAMES
The University Names

SACRAMENTO STATE NAMING SYSTEM
The University has a common naming system that allows for standard, casual and formal uses. The designs for the identity package are based on this system. The officially recognized names are:

- SACRAMENTO STATE
  Standard name
- SAC STATE
  Nickname
- CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY, SACRAMENTO
  Formal name

Name variations that should NEVER be used include, but are not limited to:

- CSUS
- SACRAMENTO STATE UNIVERSITY
- CSU SACRAMENTO
- CAL STATE SACRAMENTO
- CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY AT SACRAMENTO
- CSU – SACRAMENTO
- CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY – SACRAMENTO

STANDARD NAME (STANDARD VOICE):

SACRAMENTO STATE
The common and most frequently used name and voice for the University is “Sacramento State.”

“Sacramento State” may appear as the first and only reference to the University. It is also the second reference when the formal name is used. The standard voice is preferred for most materials since it addresses a general audience. Such audiences usually include, but are not limited to: students, prospective students, campus employees, residents of the Sacramento region, residents of the state, donors and alumni.

NICKNAME (CASUAL VOICE):

SAC STATE
The nickname for the University is “Sac State” — a name that has been long used with affection by students, alumni and the local community. It should only be used on material intended for an audience that is highly familiar with and close to the University, such as current students, staff, faculty and recent alumni.

FORMAL NAME (FORMAL VOICE):

CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY, SACRAMENTO
The formal name of the University is “California State University, Sacramento.” This name should always include the comma, and should not include other elements such as a dash or the word “at.” An exception for comma is in the formal stacked logotype, because the break is implied (see Logos Section).

The formal name should be used on materials that are institutional in nature, as well as formal documents or materials that will be distributed primarily nationally or internationally. These items include, but are not limited to, diplomas, contracts, collateral for national conventions, and grant proposals. In text, the formal name may be used as a first reference with “Sacramento State” as a second reference.
Visual Identity Architecture

The identity architecture is a framework that organizes the University's many identities into defined categories for the application of the identity style guidelines. Categories are based on strategic and visual connections to the University.

Where Do You Fit? Presenting Your University Identity

Core identity and identity extension units should adhere to the standards established in the identity style guide. Sub-identities have their own style guides, and independent identities are not visually connected to the University.

*University Foundation uses the University identity
Non-Standard Identity Presentations

Some groups do not fit clearly within the University identity architecture. Some student clubs, sponsorships and customizable third-party web applications are among a few, their identity requirements are summarized here.

STUDENTS
Most student groups are restricted from using University logos/logotypes and graphic elements, such as the double S, in their club names or on promotional materials. They may attach the University name or nickname as an “at Sacramento State” or “at Sac State,” but they may not include the University name as part of the club name. For example, “Sacramento State Student Club” or “Sac State’s Student Club” are not allowed. These guidelines apply to informal student clubs and groups, as well as those sanctioned by Student Organizations and Leadership.

Student groups with exception to this rule include faculty sponsored academic clubs (e.g. debate club) and Sport Clubs. The Sport Clubs have and monitor their own set of identity guidelines, and faculty advisors assume responsibility for the use of University logos/logotypes and graphic elements used by academic clubs.

SPONSORSHIPS
Anytime a logo is needed to indicate Sacramento State’s support or sponsorship of an event, the vertical or horizontal primary logo with no tagline should be provided. If more than one unit is sponsoring an event, the primary logo should be used with the sponsoring departments identified in text.

NEED HELP?
Contact universitymarketing@csus.edu with questions about presenting University identities.

THIRD-PARTY WEB APPLICATIONS
Some third-party web applications allow for some range of visual customization. The core identity primary vertical or horizontal logo with no tagline should be used whenever possible. If additional color customization of the page is an option, Sac State green should be applied.
Symbolism

SHIELD AND THE FLAME
The University’s logo is composed of a shield, flame, rivers, University name and tagline. The curves of the flame within the torch create a double S that stands for Sacramento State. The solid stance of the torch and handle is the defining feature of the Sacramento State logo system and evokes a flame of knowledge. It is inspired by the quality of learning, diversity, unity, strength and leadership that a torch has long symbolized. Other elements of the logo include a shield (official, government representation), an arch (reminiscent of the Guy West Bridge) and a curved element (representing the American and the Sacramento Rivers. Both the double S and rivers can be used as separate graphic elements, see Graphic Elements Section.

UNIVERSITY NAME
The Standard name of the University is typeset in the font Trajan Pro Bold. Its all-caps evokes strength, while the thin serifs of the font are friendly and welcoming.

TAGLINE
The primary logos with the tagline, “Redefine the Possible,” should be the primary logos used for most external and internal communications.

The tagline can be integrated with the primary vertical and horizontal logos, as a tagline logotype, and in copy. For details on when and how to use the tagline and the tagline logotype, see Tagline Usage Section.

COLORS
University colors are Sac State Green and Sac State Gold. Logos have strict color guidelines. See Color Palettes Section for color breakdowns (Pantone, RGB, CMYK, HEX, etc.)
CORE IDENTIFY
The core identity represents the entire University. The names Sacramento State, Sac State and California State University, Sacramento and their correlating marks are the preferred University logos and logotypes.

LOGOS, LOGOTYPES AND OFFICIAL SEAL
The logos and logotypes in this section represent Sacramento State – its image, ideas, goals, personality and values. Consistent application and precise production will reinforce public awareness of the University, its colleges, departments and other areas.

When the logos are used properly with the University’s colors, fonts and graphic elements, a unique and effective visual style can be established. The primary logos are appropriate for most situations and should be considered first before other logos or logotypes.

Print- and digital-quality images of the logo and logotypes may be obtained online at www.csus.edu/brand. All materials using Sacramento State logos and logotypes must meet the Identity Style Guide requirements.

APPROVAL PROCESS
To ensure that materials meet the required visual identity standards, they must be approved by University Marketing prior to finalization or “going live.” Send a PDF of the project to universitymarketing@csus.edu and briefly describe the goal, project, the intended audience, and how the approved item will be used or distributed. Allow no fewer than five working days for review. More time may be required for larger projects.

Usage and Configurations with the Tagline

The primary logo has several configurations. The vertical configuration is the preferred version and should be considered first with the tagline. The primary logos with the tagline should be used whenever possible, especially in advertising and promotional materials.

The horizontal version is available for applications with restricted vertical spacing. The horizontal stacked configuration is an option when a smaller size is needed. It is legible at smaller size than the other configurations of the primary logo.

Primary Logos Clear Space

CLEAR SPACE

To ensure visual integrity, there must always be a minimum amount of white or clear space surrounding the logo or logotype. This clear space must be kept free of other elements.

The correct minimum amount of clear space shall be defined as “X” as shown. The measurement “X” is equal to the height of the “SACRAMENTO” letters in the logo.

Please note these are only minimum measurements.
Primary Logos Sizing

MINIMUM SIZE
The logo should be displayed prominently, relative to the size of the piece, in all applications. It should be visually clear to the audience that the material presented to them is from Sacramento State. When reducing the logo size for very small ads or small promotional materials, the logo must remain clear and legible. Whatever the reproduction technique, be sure the logo is always legible at its size and can be clearly executed/reproduced.

Minimum sizes have been established to the right. Logo size should be approximately 10% of the overall communication. There is no maximum size.
Primary Logos Colors

COLOR
Color plays an important role in communicating the University's identity. The 3-color version of the vertical logo is preferred in most applications. The 1- and 2-color versions are alternatives and are intended for 1- or 2-color printing or occasions when a 3-color logo does not have enough contrast with a background color or image.

LOGOS PLACED ON COLORED BACKGROUNDS

The 2- and 3-color versions should only be placed on backgrounds with at least 50% contrast.

NOTE: When the logo is presented on a white background, the torch handle should always be white.

NOTE: When the logo is placed on a background other than white, the torch handle should be the same color as the flame.

1-COLOR

Sac State Green or Sac State Gold or Black

The 1-color version can only be reproduced in one of the three approved colors — Sac State Green (PMS 343), Sac State Gold (PMS 4525), or black. Otherwise the logo must reverse to white out of a color from the approved color palette for the appropriate voice. See Colors Section.

Primary Logos Use & Misuse

IMPROPER USE
Shown here are examples of improper uses of the primary logo. The logo should always be used in the configuration in which it was designed and not combined or made part of other words or design elements. Always use the approved artwork and follow the guidelines when using it. If you are unsure, please contact universitymarketing@csus.edu for more information.

Clear Space & Sizing

Usage and Configurations

The nickname logo and logotype are intended for use on communications that have a casual voice. Informal materials that are intended for current students, staff, faculty and recent alumni can use this logo and logotype.

The nickname should not be used as a department logo or design element. It may never appear in conjunction with the official seal. There is not a version of the nickname logo with our tagline. The tagline logotype can be included in communications if it is outside of the nickname logo or nickname logotype’s clear space.

There are two configurations for the nickname; it should only be presented in one of the two styles shown.

Clear Space

To ensure visual integrity, there must always be a minimum amount of white or clear space surrounding the logo or logotype. This clear space must be kept free of other elements. The correct minimum amount of clear space shall be defined as ".5X", as shown. The measurement “X” is equal to the height of the “SAC STATE” letters. Please note these are only minimum measurements.

Clear Space

Usage and Configurations
The formal name should be used primarily on formal documents or materials which will be distributed primarily nationally or internationally, or otherwise benefit from the use of the formal University name. These include, but are not limited to, diplomas, contracts, national conventions and grant proposals.

The University’s formal name can be presented in one of two logotypes shown. The stacked logotype is the only instance where the comma after University is not required. Otherwise, a comma should always fall between “University” and “Sacramento.”

Clear Space
To ensure visual integrity, there must always be a minimum amount of white or clear space surrounding the logotypes. This clear space must be kept free of other elements. The correct minimum amount of clear space shall be defined as “X” as shown. The measurement “X” is equal to the height of the “CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY” letters in the logotype. LOGOS AND LOGOTYPES ON PHOTOS
Place the University mark on a neutral area. Try darkening or lightening the image behind the mark or using a soft drop shadow to help the logotype stand out.

Do not give the logotype a drop shadow.

Do not distort, squeeze, or stretch the logotype.

Do not place the logotype on an active area of an image.

Do not combine the logotype with a department/unit/club/program/project name.

Do not use any colors, in any combinations other than those designated as the logotype colors.

Do not use colors not designated as the logotype colors.

Do not use effects that interfere with the legibility of the logotype.

Contact universitymarketing@csus.edu for questions.
The Official Seal

USAGE
As the formal symbol of the University, the official seal is used selectively and with the distinction appropriate for such symbols. It is intended for formal occasions and materials. Examples include diplomas, certificates or medals given on behalf of the University, programs for presentations by dignitaries and collateral for formal events. The official seal is also used on University business cards, letterhead and envelopes for the President, the President’s office staff, Cabinet members, faculty and the President Emeritus.

The official seal is not for common use. It should not be used as a department logo or design element, on publicity fliers or in newsletters. Nor should it appear in conjunction with the nickname, nickname logo or nickname logotype.

The official seal is available by request only. Written approval must be secured in advance, and all materials using the official seal must be approved through universitymarketing@csus.edu. Allow a minimum of five working days for approvals.

Logos & Logotypes on Images

PLACING LOGOS AND LOGOTYPES ON TOP OF PHOTOS

When placing one of the University logos or logotypes over a photograph, it must remain completely legible. Use the following guidelines when choosing where to place it on your image:

- The image area behind and around the logo or logotype must have very little texture or activity.

- Allow for the logo or logotype individual clear space requirement. See Clear Space Section. The edge of the page, major color shifts, active areas and major elements of the image visually distract and should not fall within the clear space.

- Effects should only be applied to the logo or logotype to increase legibility and should not change the logo or logotype. Be cautious about:
  - using program filters to make the logos or logotypes look embossed or beveled
  - outlining the logos or logotypes
  - applying heavy shadows or glows

Identity Extensions are units that serve or support the University’s primary function – administrative units, colleges, departments, programs, centers, and initiatives, among others. They are visually represented by a University mark; they cannot be represented by a separate logo. They may use special marks in their communications, but it must be used in conjunction with a University mark, per the guidelines in the Special Marks Section.

Integrated Logos and Logotypes with One Position

Units can integrate their name with a primary logo or logotype to create a unique integrated University mark. Names can be integrated at one or two levels. Examples to the right show how a single campus unit should be presented. The type of unit determines the font. See the table on the following page for details.

Please do not re-create these integrated logos or logotypes. Contact universitymarketing@csus.edu for your unit’s integrated logos. Please allow a minimum of 7 business days.

INTEGRATED LOGOS AND LOGOTYPES WITH TWO POSITIONS

Two-position integrated marks allow for more than one unit to be identified. For example, both a college and a department can be integrated with a primary logo.

Examples to the right and on the following page show how two campus units can be integrated with any primary logo or logotype, including a formal logotype and a standard voice logotype for Sacramento State. This Sacramento State logotype is available only for two-position integration. An example is shown on the following page.

Any two related units can be integrated with a primary mark, but the overarching unit must come first. The type of unit determines the font.

Integrated Logos & Logotypes Two Positions

SPACING BETWEEN LINES
The spacing between the different units is based on the E at the end of the word STATE. The measurement is from the baseline of the E to the top of the letter middle bar, represented as Y.

SIZE OF TEXT
The height of the text representing each type of unit should equal Y.

WHERE TO BREAK THE WORDS
Both the primary vertical logo and formal stacked logo have a maximum width, so if it is necessary to break a unit name use the following formula for the leading: the space between the two broken lines is equal to 75% of Y.

The maximum width for the vertical primary logo is two sideways S’s on either side of the word SACRAMENTO. The formal stacked logo’s maximum width is not to exceed the word SACRAMENTO.

The standard logotype does not have a line break requirement.

THE SEPARATING LINE
The line that separates the parts of the logo or logotype is called a rule. The rule is equal in thickness to the bar of the capital A in Myriad Light after turning text to an outline. The rule is centered vertically in a space that is 2 times the amount of Y.

The rule length of each logo or logotype is at right.

Please do not re-create these integrated logos. Contact universitymarketing@csus.edu for your unit’s integrated logos. Please allow a minimum of 7 business days.
Integrated Logos Clear Space

CLEAR SPACE
To ensure visual integrity, there must always be a minimum amount of white or clear space surrounding the logo. This clear space must be kept clear of other elements.

Integrated logos each have a customized clear space formula as shown at right.

Please note these are only minimum measurements.

Integrated Logos Clear Space continued

CLEAR SPACE
To ensure visual integrity, there must always be a minimum amount of area surrounding the logotype that is kept clear of other elements. This is called the clear space.
Integrated logotypes each have a customized clear space formula as shown at right.
Please note these are only minimum measurements.

FORMAL INTEGRATED LOGOTYPES WITH ONE POSITION

- Standard integrated logotype clear space = 2X
- Formal integrated horizontal stacked logotype with one position clear space = 1X
- Formal integrated horizontal logotype with one position clear space = 1X

STANDARD AND FORMAL INTEGRATED LOGOTYPES WITH TWO POSITIONS

Integrated Logos & Logotypes Sizing

MINIMUM SIZE
The sizes indicated are the smallest size the integrated logos and logotypes can be reproduced. Certain production techniques may require a larger size to be legible. The integrated logo and logotype size should be approximately 10% of the overall communication. There is no maximum size.

Redefine the Possible

WHY THE TAGLINE
A tagline expresses an organization’s promise to the world. Sacramento State’s tagline, “Redefine the Possible,” was born of a campus-wide initiative to focus on progress, innovation and marshaling intellectual resources to build for the future.

“Redefine the Possible” is a rallying cry for faculty, staff and administration, and it is Sacramento State’s promise to the students and community it serves.

TRADEMARK
The tagline is trademarked, helping Sacramento State distinguish itself with “Redefine the Possible.” The trademark protects the University from others using or promoting similar messages, especially as it relates to higher education. To get the full benefit of the trademark it is recommended to include the TM trademark designation whenever appropriate. It is the University’s responsibility to monitor and report any trademark infringements.

The TM designation should be used whenever the tagline logotype is used separately from the logo. If the words “redefine the possible” are written in text, or if tagline is integrated with the logo, the TM is not necessary.

HOW TO USE THE TAGLINE
The tagline can be integrated with the primary logos (shown below), used as a tagline logotype, and in copy. The stand-alone tagline logotype can be used adjacent to, or separately from, University logos and logotypes.

INTEGRATED WITH LOGO
The tagline can be integrated with these primary logo configurations. When the tagline is integrated with the logo, the tagline does not require a TM at the end. See Core Identity: Logo & Logotypes Section.

TAGLINE LOGOTYPE
When used separately from the logo, the tagline logotype must be used. The tagline logotype includes a TM at the end of the tagline.

Redefine the Possible Use & Misuse

Do use the logo with the tagline or the tagline logotype for:
- Advertising
- Brochures or other printed collateral
- Email signatures
- Student outreach and recruitment
- Orientation materials
- First Year Experience materials
- Newsletters and e-newsletters
- Invitations from Sacramento State (not for co-sponsored events)
- Giveaways and promotional swag (cups, pens, etc. — if space allows and event/promotion appropriate)
- Event signage (banners, tablecloths, etc.)
- Overall University messaging
- Press releases
- Presentation materials (PowerPoint, handouts, etc.)
- Web pages (csus.edu and other approved University pages, as appropriate)

Do not use the logo with the tagline or the tagline logotype for:
- Bad news (parking tickets, you owe fees, etc.)
- Institutional forms (time sheets, application for graduation, etc.)
- Letterhead and envelopes
- Certificates
- Partnership and co-sponsorship materials with multiple logos present
- Sponsorship materials for outside events and programs with multiple logos presented

IN HEADLINES AND BODY COPY

Using the tagline verbatim, playing on the words or changing the tense in copy is allowed, as long as it is used in a positive context and aligns with the priorities of the University. The tagline logotype nor the TM mark are required in copy.

Redefine your academic experience

Our graduates redefine the possible

Redefining expectations is…

Do not use capitalization unless specifically referring to the initiative or the tagline itself, in which case the phrase should also be in quotation marks. For example:

We redefine the possible by helping students realize dreams bigger than those they brought to college.

The “Redefine the Possible” Initiative focuses on…

DO NOT use the tagline sarcastically. For example:

Redefine the salary structure.

WHEN TO USE THE LOGO WITH TAGLINE

• The logo with tagline is appropriate — and preferred — for use in most communications from the University.

• The logo with tagline should be used in materials that promote and support the values of the “Redefine the Possible” Initiative, focusing on progress, innovation and marshaling intellectual resources.

• As a general rule of thumb, about 65 percent of Sacramento State communications should include the logo with the tagline.

WHEN NOT TO USE THE LOGO WITH TAGLINE

The logo with the tagline should not be used if it will make the logo smaller than the minimum required size, or the logo or tagline will be distorted or illegible as a result.
A Partnership for Innovation

The futures of the City of Sacramento and California State University, Sacramento go hand in hand. As the only four-year comprehensive university in the city, Sacramento State produces graduates who will drive innovation and supply the region's workforce in the 21st century.

Redefine the Possible
Use & Misuse

PRIMARY LOGO WITH TAGLINE MINIMUM SIZE

CLEAR SPACE

The tagline logotype can be used near other Sacramento State logos and logotypes, as well as sub-identity logos, as long as existing clear-space guidelines are applied. The TM should be attached to the tagline when used in these instances.

STANDING ALONE

When standing alone, the tagline logotype does not replace the logo. A University logo or logotype, with or without the tagline, still must be included to clearly indicate the communication comes from Sacramento State (see samples to the left).

IDENTITY STYLE GUIDE
VISUAL ELEMENTS
To maintain visual consistency across all University materials, use the University fonts whenever possible. The Trajan and Myriad family of fonts must be purchased. Any version of Trajan, Trajan Pro or Myriad, Myriad Pro including Myriad MM, can be used. If these fonts are not available, Adobe Garamond Pro should be used in lieu of Trajan, Trajan Pro, Myriad, Myriad Pro or Myriad MM. Garamond is available on all computers. Aleo, Lobster, Great Vibes, and Scriptina can be downloaded for free.

STANDARD VOICE FONTS
For materials in the standard voice, Trajan Pro and Myriad Pro (or any other version of Myriad, including Myriad MM) may be supported with several open source fonts. Standard voice may use Aleo and Great Vibes for headlines, subheads and short blocks of copy, such as pull quotes. Do not use either Aleo or Great Vibes for body copy. The script font Scriptina may also be used in small amounts such as short words in headlines.

CASUAL VOICE FONTS
Materials in the casual voice may use Myriad Pro (or any other version of Myriad, including Myriad MM) Aleo, Lobster and Great Vibes may be used for headlines, subheads. Aleo may also be used for short blocks of copy, such as pull quotes. Do not use Aleo, Lobster or Great Vibes for body copy.

FORMAL VOICE FONTS
For materials in formal voice communications, Trajan or Trajan Pro should be used for headlines and subheads, use Myriad Pro for headlines, subheads and body type in all documents whenever possible.

OFFICIAL SACRAMENTO STATE COLORS

Colors in these palettes have been thoughtfully chosen for use in Sacramento State communications. The palettes contain specific hues and tones that, individually and together, embody the unique attributes of Sacramento State as they apply to standard, casual and formal applications. Numbers indicated on each color swatch refer to the Pantone Matching System (PMS) ink colors, CMYK (process colors: cyan, magenta, yellow, and black) conversions are for 4-color process printing, RGB (red, green, blue) conversions and web (hexadecimal) conversions are to be used for electronic communications. Colors shown on the following pages of this document are CMYK conversions. If possible, please consult an actual Pantone swatch book to see the true colors.

PRIMARY COLORS

The primary colors for Sacramento State are Sac State Green (Pantone 343) and Sac State Gold (Pantone 4525). The consistent representation of these primary colors distinctly identifies the University and reinforces its brand.

The Sac State Green is dominant to the Sac State Gold. In the region, we like to think we own the color green.

COLOR COMBINATIONS TO AVOID

The color combination of blue and gold is not to be used as it can be construed as similar to the UC system. To further differentiate Sacramento State, the blues available in the expanded color palette are more teal and aqua than royal or dark blue. Avoid combining palette colors Hornet Yellow, Sac State Gold, Ginkgo Gold, California Poppy and No. 2 Pencil Yellow with American River Teal, Blum Gum Eucalyptus or Blue Book Cyan.

If you are not printing in Pantone colors please use the CMYK breakdown on this page (C=coated, U=uncoated.)

Add swatches using the “Pantone + Color Bridge Coated” when creating files in Illustrator and InDesign.

Avoid combining gold or yellow with teal, blue or cyan as they represent another local University’s colors.
Sacramento State is associated with the color green. It is the color of the University logos and logotypes, it embodies the lush landscape of our campus, implies new growth and reflects the community’s love of nature and the environment.

Sacramento State’s gold reflects strength, pride, sophistication, excellence and our geopolitical distinction as California’s capital university. The combination of the green and gold colors embody the essence of Sacramento State.

The formal palette is a family of greens and golds. It includes several tones of green ensuring creative options.

When creating official or formal Sacramento State collateral, green and gold should always be the prominent colors, with green the dominant color.

When creating a formal piece colors from the standard voice palette may be used as an accent. An accent in this case is defined as not covering more than 10% of the total communication.

Please note: American River Teal may not be used next to Sac State Gold, Ginkgo Gold, Hornet Yellow or California Poppy.

Formal voice materials MUST have 90% of the following colors with Sac State Green as the dominant color:

- Redwood Grove Green
  Pantone 560
- Sac State Green
  Pantone 343
- Stinger Green
  Pantone 341

STANDARD VOICE COLOR PALETTE

In University publications and correspondence where the standard voice is appropriate, color options are much more liberal than in the formal voice. As much as 70% of the total design area may utilize colors from the palette shown here. 30% of the design area must be dedicated to the primary colors.

The standard voice palette still skews heavily toward the greens and supporting golds. Standard voice materials make up a large share of the collateral seen by external audiences and should strongly represent the brand.

Please note: American River Teal may not be used next to Sac State Gold, Ginkgo Gold, California Poppy or Hornet Yellow.

Standard voice materials MUST include 30% of the following colors, with Sac State green as the dominant color:

- Sac State Green

Colors Casual Voice

CASUAL VOICE COLOR PALETTE

Because casual voice communications are primarily targeted to our current student community, the casual palette provides more latitude with brighter and friendlier colors. Up to 90% of the total design area may utilize the casual voice palette, while 10% should remain dedicated to the primary colors.

While the casual voice palette offers two blue-hued options, the directive remains the same: avoid using blue, especially with gold or yellow, as a dominant color scheme in any voice.

Please note: Blue Gum Eucalyptus, Blue Book Cyan and American River Teal may not be used next to Sac State Gold, No.2 Pencil Yellow, Ginkgo Gold, California Poppy or Hornet Yellow.

Casual voice materials MUST include 10% of the following colors, with Sac State green as the dominant color:

- Sac State Green Pantone 343
- Sac State Gold Pantone 4525
- Sac State Gold has changed!
  Old Sac State Gold was PMS 4515, now PMS 4525.

Casual voice materials MAY have 90% of the following colors:

WEB COLOR GUIDELINES

Web communications reach broad audiences and should be presented only in standard or formal voice. The web colors shown on the right are from the University’s formal and standard color palettes with additional golds in the formal palette for web design only.

A formal voice web page must have 90% of its color come from the formal palette with Sac State Green as the dominant color. The remaining 10% of the page may use accent colors from the standard voice palette.

A standard voice web page must have at least 30% of its color as Sac State Green and Sac State Gold, with Sac State Green as the dominant color. Up to 70% of the page may use supporting standard and formal voice colors.

In web design, these color combinations should be considered for the page as a whole, as well as the “above the fold” view.

Please note: American River Teal may not be used next to Sac State Gold, Ginkgo Gold, California Poppy, Hornet Yellow or web-only colors: HEX aa985e, HEX cbb778, HEX cfb668, HEX e1c57a, HEX f0e1b0.
Graphic Elements Double S

DOUBLE S

An element in the primary logo is the flame or double S contained within the shield. This double S is the defining feature of the Sacramento State logo system and was designed to be used as a graphic element in a multitude of ways.

Partial use of the icon is acceptable. It cannot however, be stretched, manipulated or distorted in anyway; it must maintain its proportional shape.

The double S can be used in all types of communications, but is best suited to materials that will use the standard and formal voices.
HOW TO USE THE COLOR PALETTES WITH THE DOUBLE S ELEMENT

Only the formal color palette can be used for the double S element when it is not on a background. It can appear at 100% of a formal color, as a tint, screen, gradient, or tone on tone. The double S can also appear as a screen on color backgrounds from the formal, standard and casual color palettes. It can also be used in black.

Transparent overlay: 100% Sac State Green with 30% transparency
Graphic Elements Double S continued

The double S may be integrated with other graphic elements. However, the double S should not overlap or “dam” the rivers.

The double S works well in conjunction with the river shape. Do not use a pattern behind the double S.

Do not outline

Do not stretch, manipulate or distort

Do not turn the double S on its side

Do not turn the double S into a design, mark or logo

Do not turn the double S into a pattern
Graphic Elements Rivers

RIVERS GRAPHIC

The rivers graphic is derived from the curved element of the University’s logo. The curved element represents the American and Sacramento rivers, two very important features of our community.

In the rivers graphic, each river shape is represented as a different color, and where they intersect creates a third color. Much as the Sacramento and American rivers converge in reality; Sacramento State converges with its surrounding community.

Partial use of the graphic is acceptable. It cannot, however, be stretched or manipulated; it must maintain its proportional shape.

Sac State Green is always included as one of the river graphic colors. This is described in more detail in the following pages.

DOTTED RIVERS & RIVERS COMBINATION

---

RIVERS

DOTTED RIVERS

HOW TO USE THE COLOR PALETTES WITH THE RIVERS ELEMENT
Sac State Green is always included as one of the river graphic colors. In standard and casual voice, it is the intersecting area that must be Sac State Green. Use the palette colors at 100%, do not use tints or screens. This includes the dotted river element.

STANDARD RIVER GRAPHIC COLORS
When using the standard voice for your materials, there are many options for river colors. You may pull colors from the standard and formal color palettes, as long as the center convergence area of the graphic always remains Sac State Green.

CASUAL RIVER GRAPHIC COLORS
When using the casual voice for your materials, you have expanded options for river colors. You may pull colors from the standard, casual and formal color palettes, as long as the center convergence area of the graphic always remains Sac State Green.

FORMAL RIVER GRAPHIC COLORS
When using the formal voice for your materials, the two outside shapes are Sac State Gold and Sac State Green, the center convergence area of the graphic can pull a color from the formal palette.

DOTTED RIVERS
The position of the two rivers is locked in relationship to each other but the dotted rivers may be moved as needed. Dotted rivers should be 100% strength of a color from the palette and have enough contrast to be easily visible where it crosses the solid rivers. Dotted rivers should always be in front of the solid rivers, do not place them in the background.

Do not change the size or spacing between the dots. The rivers and dotted rivers elements must be scaled together in order to maintain proper proportion.

ALTERING COLORS
You may change the orientation of the dotted rivers to work with your usage of the graphic or not include them at all.

Dotted rivers should be 100% of a color from the palette and have enough contrast to be easily visible where it crosses over the solid rivers.

It is OK to flip the rivers horizontally.

In standard and casual voice communications the intersection shape must be Sac State green.

In formal voice communications the two outside shapes are Sac State Gold and Sac State Green.

MISUSE & IMPROPER ALTERATIONS

- Do not use colors that are not in University color palettes.
- Do not place dotted rivers behind the solid rivers.
- Do not skew the rivers.
- Make sure to scale the dots and rivers proportionally.
- Avoid combining gold with palette colors American River Teal, Blue Gum Eucalyptus or Blue Book Cyan.
- Do not alter the size and spacing of the dots independently of the rivers.
- Do not rotate.
- Do not place dotted rivers behind the solid rivers.
Graphic Elements Dot Swarm

DOT SWARM

The dot swarm is intended to add playfulness and energy to a design, with a subtle reference to a hornet swarm. The dot swarm element lends itself to casual voice and standard voice communications best but it can be used in formal materials as long as the proper colors are applied.

The dotted rivers and the dot swarm can be used with the rivers, but not together with the rivers.

Any color within the color palettes may be used as long as it fits within the standards of the voice you are using. The dot swarm may also be reversed out of a color or multiplied over a color.

You may flip the dot swarm horizontally or vertically, but do not skew the dot swarm or rotate it -90° or 90°. Do not alter the proportion or spacing of dots in the swarm shape, or the swarm shape itself.

INDIVIDUAL ELEMENT

!Individual Element

INCORPORATED WITH RIVERS

!Incorporated with Rivers

MISUSE & IMPROPER ALTERATIONS

- Do not use the swarm in any other color than those in the official Sac State palette.
- Do not combine the dot swarm and the Dotted Rivers with the river graphic.
- Do not skew the dot swarm.
- Do not change the proportion of dots to swarm shape.
- Do not rotate.

RIVERS AS A PATTERN

Patterns may be created by layering rivers. You may incorporate any graphic elements that mimic the river shape such as the dotted rivers and dot swarm. Do not incorporate the double S into your pattern.

The pattern can be contained within a frame or used to create a shape (see examples to right). All patterns must follow the rules established in the Color Palette and Rivers sections.

COMBINED RIVERS, DOTTED RIVERS & DOT SWARM

MISUSE & IMPROPER ALTERATIONS

Do not incorporate colors that are not in the color palette.

Do not rotate the rivers to a horizontal format OR incorporate the double S.
Graphic Elements Patterns continued

PATTERN USAGE
Dot and wave patterns are available for additional texture in design. The spacing between lines and dots must always stay proportional. Do not skew the dots or waves into different shapes.

---

DOT PATTERN

- Dot pattern may be scaled up or down as long as the spacing stays proportional.
- You may make the dots lighter or darker than the background color.
- Do not skew dots into an oval shape. Do not change the space between dots.

WAVE PATTERN

- Wave pattern may be scaled up or down as long as the spacing stays proportional.
- You may make the waves lighter or darker than the background color.
- Do not skew waves. Do not change the space between waves.

- Do not rotate waves.
- Do not use the wave as an element or photo frame.
Graphic Elements Shapes

RIVER SHAPE

The river shape may be used to create call-out boxes, image frames and more. You may use a portion of the river shape, but do not distort or alter the curves of the shape.

- Approved Usages
  - The river shape can be used as a photo frame.
  - Using a portion of the curve is acceptable. The shape can be filled with any of the approved textures.
  - It can be flipped horizontally or vertically.

- MISUSE & IMPROPER ALTERATIONS
  - Do not alter the angle of the curves.
  - Do not skew shape.
  - Do not rotate shape.

The river shape can be flipped horizontally or vertically. It can be modified to be as tall as needed but do not alter the curves.

You may layer other graphic elements with the river shape.

SPECIAL MARKS
Special Marks

WHAT IS A SPECIAL MARK?
A special mark is a custom graphic composed of pictures and words or both.
Sacramento State Identity Extensions are allowed to create and use special marks to visually represent unique centers, initiatives, events, programs, campaigns or projects. These special marks support Sacramento State’s identity; they do not replace it. Special marks cannot be used on their own. They must always appear with a primary or integrated University logo/logotype.

LETTERHEAD AND SPECIAL MARKS
A special mark can be added to University letterhead, but in a position secondary to the primary logo. It can be shown only in black-and-white/grayscale or Sac State Green.
Special marks are not approved for use on University business cards.

CREATING SPECIAL MARKS
Special marks must be created using colors from the formal and standard University color palettes and fonts. The double S graphic element can be used in the design according to approved guidelines. See the Double S Section for details.
Special marks must:
- Have a color version and a black-and-white/grayscale version
- Have a version that includes the words “at Sacramento State” or “at Sac State”
- Always be used in conjunction with a University logo or logotype, including in email signatures
- Be submitted for approval through universitymarketing@csus.edu

SPECIAL MARKS IN ADVERTISING
Advertisements (standard/formal voice): Special marks can be integrated in the artwork, but a University or integrated University logo/logotype is required, and must have a larger overall presence than the special mark. Standard advertising guidelines apply. See Advertising Guidelines Section.

SPECIAL MARKS IN COLLATERAL USED OFF-CAMPUS
Fliers and posters (standard/formal voice): Special marks can be added into artwork, but a primary or integrated logo/logotype is required, and must have a larger overall presence than the special mark.

Brochures and programs (standard/formal voice): Highlighting the special mark is allowed, but the name of the University (logotypes are acceptable) must appear at the top of the cover. A University or integrated University logo/logotype must also appear elsewhere on the cover. University logo/logotypes must have a larger overall presence than the special mark. An integrated logo or logotype is also required on the back.

Postcards and invitations (standard/formal voice): Special marks can be added to artwork on the front of the postcard or on the cover of a fold-over invitation. An integrated logo or logotype is required on the back of the postcard and on the back of the invitation. The invitation must refer to Sacramento State in the text. These off-campus configurations may be used on campus.
Special Marks On-Campus Use

SPECIAL MARKS IN COLLATERAL USED ON CAMPUS ONLY

For communications used on campus only, the special mark can be a larger part of the visual.

Fliers/posters (casual/standard voice): Special marks can be the primary focus. A University core identity or an Integrated logo/logotype should appear in the lower third of the communication.

Brochures (casual/standard voice): Highlighting the special mark is allowed, but the name of the University (logotypes are acceptable) must appear at the top of the cover. A University or integrated logo/logotype must also appear elsewhere on the cover. The University logo/logotype must have larger overall presence than the special mark. An integrated logo or logotype is also required on the back.

SACRAMENTO STATE COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS

Our partnership/program coordinator reaches out to make connections with various organizations that want to work with Sacramento State. We also initiate partnership agreements (up to five years) that provide liability protection for student volunteers who work at off-campus sites.

HISTORY OF THE CEC

- Since 1996, approximately 50,000 students have worked with the CEC to contribute more than 1 million hours of volunteer work at more than 300 community partner sites.
- In a typical year, more than 100 campus classes incorporate a Service Learning component.
- More than 2,500 students participate in service-related activities and contribute more than 50,000 hours of service each year.
- The economic impact of this labor over the past 20 years is valued at close to $20 million. Yet, the impact of this work on the students who engaged in it, and whose agency or organization benefited from it, is priceless.

PHOTOGRAPHY & VIDEO
Photography Guidelines

PHOTOS
Photography is the face of the University, and Sacramento State imagery is a vital part of University communications. All photos used, taken yourself or stock, should be engaging and informative, advancing University messaging and brand identity at every opportunity.

When creating or choosing visuals, the overall goal of the communication, its audience, the message to be imparted and the action desired of the audience must be considered. Of equal importance is consistency with our University brand principles. Images should represent at least one of the categories below:

Student Success. Candid imagery of students actively and positively participating in the college experience — in the classroom, around campus, at athletic events and in the community — should be included whenever possible. Depictions of students bettering themselves, and having fun in the process, have wide appeal.

Excellent Education. The teaching and learning process is core to the University. Faculty leading students in innovative, challenging courses — often including advanced technology and practical research techniques — make compelling, storytelling visuals.

Leadership. Sacramento State students, faculty, staff and alumni have great influence in the region and are found in many leadership roles. This provides many visual opportunities. For communications on nearly any subject, a Sacramento State leader can be found and included.

Community. University ties to the community are strong and varied. Students, faculty and staff frequently participate in the community, and community members participate in many campus activities. Including these connections reinforces the real-world experiences the University provides and creates stronger visual communications.

Access. The inclusive nature of Sacramento State should be depicted in its visuals. Diversity in all its forms should be intrinsic to visual communications.

MANDATORY GUIDELINES
1. Students, faculty, staff, alumni and the campus are to be shown in a positive manner.
2. Illegal acts or violations of University policy should not be shown.
3. The University must only be referred to in the caption or shown within the image by one of the approved names: California State University, Sacramento; Sacramento State, or Sac State.
4. Only approved University fonts and logos/logotypes should be used. See Fonts Section.
5. Image releases or the equivalent must be obtained and kept on file for all identifiable people depicted.

ENCOURAGED GUIDELINES
1. Show diversity in gender, ethnicity, age, etc.
2. Show Sacramento State logos/logotypes and other campus visual references like buildings.
3. Do not show other campuses, logos or visual references to commercial products (usually found on T-shirts) in the background.
4. Do not depict the use of the drugs, alcohol or tobacco, legal or not.
5. Use the highest-resolution imagery possible for the medium.
6. Original media files should be securely archived. Visuals created for Sacramento State are the property of the University and may be reused.

An approved image release form is available at www.csus.edu/brand
A gallery of approved campus photography is available at www.flickr.com/photos/sacstate/sets
VIDEO
Like photographs, videos should be engaging and informative, advancing the University’s image and messaging at every opportunity. The mandatory and encouraged guidelines for photographs apply to videos as well. See Photography Guidelines section.

TECHNICAL GUIDELINES
1. Text, graphics and other elements that appear in videos should be inside the action-safe area (illustration at right).
2. Videos for public distribution should include an approved University graphic (“bug”) within the action-safe area on the lower left. It should appear for the entirety of the video. This lets viewers know the video originated from and is approved by Sacramento State (illustration at right).

VISUAL ASSETS
Approved video elements, including opening and closing graphics, lower-third banners, and the University “bug” are available for download.

WEB
REINFORCING THE BRAND IDENTITY
The web is often the first connection a person makes with Sacramento State, and it is the primary source for information about the University. This makes it one of the most important channels for establishing a strong brand identity.

To help achieve visual consistency among the University's web pages and affiliated sites, the following best practices and general design guidelines should be applied.

BEST PRACTICES & INDUSTRY STANDARDS
Best practices in web design indicate that pages should be accessible to all users, including individuals with disabilities (as required by law for a state university), as well as to users with multiple devices. Web pages should be responsive so that the content is readable on personal computers, tablets, and mobile phones.

CREATING PAGES
To match the style and look of Sacramento State’s web pages, it is recommended that units on campus use the web content management (WCM) system when designing and creating new pages. Many pre-designed and easy-to-use page templates are available. Accessibility requirements and responsive design concepts also are addressed within the templates. WCM-hosted pages are the only pages supported by IRT and its Web Services unit.

Pages and microsites that are created outside the WCM, but are “live” within the csus.edu domain, are required to use the standard University header and footer, and must use the University-approved web color palette and fonts.

WEB RESOURCES
More information on web policies, security, training, services, and accessibility compliance is available at www.csus.edu/irt/web.
Web Guidelines

University Header and Footer

The current Sacramento State web design supports a wide range of University departments, organizations, and content while maintaining the overall look and feel of the University. The elements that visually connect them are the University header and footer.

Web pages created in the WCM automatically will contain an instance of the header and footer that will remain updated. Designers creating any HTML page outside the WCM must contact Web Services to obtain the current versions.

For more information, contact IRT Web Services at www.csus.edu/irt/web.
PAGE AND DESIGN ELEMENTS

Web Fonts

Headings on csus.edu pages typically will use the free web font Lato.

When coding web pages, fallback fonts must be provided for users whose display systems cannot display every character from the main fonts.

For any other text – such as paragraphs, captions, or links – use the following “font family” css: font-family: ‘Helvetica Neue’, Helvetica, Arial, sans-serif.

NAVIGATION

Navigation helps users find information both within and outside the site itself. It should be clear and concise. Relevant links at the top or on the side of the page, links within or below stories, or kickers at the bottom of a page all help the navigation.

It is recommended that complex sites for colleges and other large units use a navigation structure that is consistent across all pages.

Simpler sites should consolidate information to present it on as few pages as possible. This makes the information easier to access on devices such as tablets and mobile phones. As much as possible, links to secondary pages should be within the body copy of the page or below the main content as a button.

The kicker is another tool for aiding navigation. It appears just above the footer and typically is a call to action. The kicker can be specific to the unit it represents and should remain consistent across all of the unit’s web pages if possible.

TOP-LEVEL URL REQUEST

A top-level URL is a custom web address that follows www.csus.edu, such as www.csus.edu/example.

To request a top-level url, contact IRT Web Services at www.csus.edu/irt/web.
WEB GUIDELINES

Web Colors

Web communications reach broad audiences and should be presented only in standard or formal voice. The web colors shown on the right are from the University’s formal and standard color palettes with additional golds in the formal palette for web design only.

A formal voice web page must have 90% of its color come from the formal palette with Sac State Green as the dominant color. The remaining 10% of the page may use accent colors from the standard voice palette.

A standard voice web page must have at least 30% of its color as Sac State Green and Sac State Gold, with Sac State Green as the dominant color. Up to 70% of the page may use supporting standard and formal voice colors.

In web design, these color combinations should be considered for the page as a whole, as well as the “above the fold” view.

Please note: American River Teal may not be used next to Sac State Gold, Ginkgo Gold, California Poppy, Hornet Yellow or web-only colors: HEX aa985e, HEX cbb778, HEX cfb668, HEX e1c57a, HEX f0e1b0.

PROMOTING A STRONG UNIVERSITY IDENTITY

Whether in a newspaper, a magazine, an event program, on the web, or on the side of a bus, the consistent use of visuals in advertising, including colors, fonts, graphic elements, and logo placement help make an impact and promote a strong University identity.

GUIDELINES FOR PRINT ADS

These guidelines are for core identity and identity extensions, but are encouraged for use by sub-identities when appropriate. They are intended to keep advertisements visually related while allowing for design flexibility. The majority of the advertisement space is available for custom design that adheres to the identity style guide. To tie advertisements together, a Sacramento State logo (core or identity extension) is required in the lower left corner in one of the approved advertising footer styles. No other logos may appear in the footer. An optional identifying banner may also be included at the top of the advertisement.

PRINT AD COMPONENTS

Banner (optional)
- Sacramento State (Sac State Green, Sac State Gold, or black)
- California State University, Sacramento (Sac State Green, Sac State Gold, or black)

Ad content (custom design area)
- University colors and fonts (required)
- University graphic elements (recommended)
- Call to action (recommended)
- Tagline (recommended, if not included in footer)
- Sub-identity logos, special marks or sponsor logos (if needed, they may not appear in the footer)

Footer (required)
- University logo and URL (required)
- Social icons (optional)
- Tagline (recommended)

SAMPLE ADVERTISEMENT

Note: The tagline should appear somewhere in the ad, but does not have to be in the footer or part of the logo. If separate from the logo, the tagline logotype must be used.
Advertising Guidelines  Print: Banners

BANNERS FOR PRINT ADS (OPTIONAL)
The banner component is optional for print advertisements. Only the standard or formal names should be used, and it must be at the top of the advertisement. Sub-identities are strongly encouraged to include the banner whenever appropriate to strengthen the visual connection with the University.

SPECIFICATIONS
- Banners may be Sac State Green, Sac State Gold, or black with a contrasting rule line and drop shadow. Only the color combinations pictured at right may be used.
- The minimum banner height is 0.288” tall.
- The font is Trajan Bold and the minimum font size is 9 pts.

Note: Since the text is not a logotype, clear space requirements do not apply.

Contact universitymarketing@csus.edu with questions about the advertising guidelines.

FOOTERS FOR PRINT ADS (REQUIRED)
University advertisements are required to have an approved footer with a University logo anchoring the advertisement in the lower left corner.

COLORS

STYLES

Standard
A simple rectangular solid color block in one of the approved colors. The double S or dot swarm graphic element (see Graphic Elements Section) can be incorporated, but is not required.

Rivers
An approved rivers graphic element (see Graphic Elements Section) can be incorporated with the standard footer, appearing above the color block.

Rivers Lite
An approved river shape (see River Shapes Section) can be used instead of the standard rectangular block.

More examples of approved footers and required/optional elements are provided on the following pages.

Contact universitymarketing@csus.edu with questions about the advertising guidelines.

Advertising Guidelines  Print: Footers

FOOTER ELEMENTS

The following elements are required, recommended, or can be optionally included in advertising footers. A primary or integrated University logo must be presented in the lower left corner. Special marks or sub-identity logos may appear in the advertisement, but not in the footer. Elements and sample configurations are shown to the right. No additional elements may appear in the footer.

Required
- University logo
- University URL

Advertising Guidelines Outdoor

GUIDELINES FOR OUTDOOR ADS
To maximize the unique nature of outdoor media, the requirements vary slightly from print. Outdoor advertisements include, but are not limited to, billboards, outdoor posters, digital signs, bus shelters, and bench backs.

An approved banner must be included at the top of the ad or, alternatively, the primary logo can be prominently displayed in its own color block. A single, clear call to action is required and a University URL must be prominent. An official University logo – core identity, identity extension or sub-identity – must be used, and in some cases a special mark may be appropriate. Standard voice and name – Sacramento State – is appropriate for most outdoor advertising.

OUTDOOR AD COMPONENTS

Banner (required)
- Sacramento State (Sac State Green, Sac State Gold, or black)

Ad content (custom design area)
- University colors and fonts (required)
- Single, clear call to action (required)
- University or sub-identity logo (required)
- University URL (required)
- University graphic elements (optional)
- Social icons (optional, secondary to logo)

SPECIFICATIONS
- The banner component can appear only at the top.
- Banners may be Sac State Green, Sac State Gold, or black, with a contrasting rule line and drop shadow. Only the color combinations pictured may be used.
- Banner height must be no less than 9% of the ad, and must appear as a strong, readable element.
- If a separate primary logo is used, it must be its own color block equal to the height of the ad.
- The font is Trajan Bold.
- Social icons should appear in one color and presented secondary to the logo.

OUTDOOR BANNER OPTIONS

OUTDOOR ADVERTISING EXAMPLES

A footer can be used in outdoor advertising, but it’s not required if the format does not provide appropriate space.
Advertising Guidelines Digital, Mobile and Non-Standard

GUIDELINES

Digital, mobile, or other non-standard format ads may not have space for a banner or footer. In such instances, the following general guidelines apply.

The design should adhere to the identity style guide. University colors and fonts must always be used, and graphic elements incorporated as appropriate.

All ads should include:

- University logo
- University URL
- Call to action

Advertisements should be submitted to universitymarketing@csus.edu for approval prior to publication or going “live.” Please allow 5 business days.

The Testing Center

The Testing Center is an important resource for the University and for the Sacramento regional community. The Testing Center administers classroom exams to students registered with the Office of Services to Students with Disabilities (OSSD), as well as make-up exams for classroom exams, campus-specific exams, CSU system-wide exams, and national standardized exams to current and prospective students. All exams are administered in controlled classrooms with the strictest regard for testing security.

Accommodations

Accommodations are given in the classroom setting and include readers, scribes, wheelchair accessible tables, adjustable tables, adjustable computer stands, and computer assistive and computer-adaptive testing software. Please note that all accommodations are determined by the OSSD Coordinator. For additional information, please contact the Testing Center at (916) 278-6296 or send an email to testingcenter@csus.edu.

BEST PRACTICES
OVERVIEW

Sacramento State recognizes that the use of social media to exchange news and information is highly effective and popular. At Sac State, there is a growing network of social media sites, including an official Sacramento State Facebook page at facebook.com/sacstate, a Twitter feed at twitter.com/sacstate, a YouTube channel at youtube.com/sacstatevideo, and an Instagram presence at instagram.com/sacstate.

It is important that University-related sites be managed well and consistently, even as the world of social media (e.g., Facebook, Twitter, YouTube, Pinterest, Instagram, LinkedIn) continues to evolve. To help, here are some general guidelines, plus some best practices gleaned from administering Sac State’s official social media.

General Guidelines

- Be professional. As an administrator of a University-related social media site, you are representing Sacramento State. As such, anything you post will reflect on the University. Therefore, always use civil language and appropriate images. And, please, check your spelling, punctuation and grammar.

- Be careful. Remember that social media sites are public and — despite their seemingly fleeting nature — permanent. Once words or images are posted, they are impossible to completely retrieve. Think before you post and, when in doubt, leave it out.

- Be courteous. Respond to questions and comments politely and promptly. Do not be drawn into arguments or heated debates.

- Be accurate. While timeliness is appreciated, so is having the correct information. Do your research when needed. And feel free to send visitors to the University’s website at www.csus.edu.

- Be vigilant. Sacramento State reserves the right to remove inappropriate or disrespectful language and images. Site administrators should follow the web policies outlined at www.csus.edu/web. In the case of Facebook, they also should abide by the University’s “Commenting Guide” as well as Facebook’s own “Statement of Rights and Responsibilities.”

- Be useful. Offer “news you can use.” And work cooperatively with administrators of other University social media sites, sharing information, links, video and photos. Note: When posting images, always check for copyright and use restrictions.

- Be fun. Use conversational and engaging language. Invite questions and comments. Use humor, but judiciously — everyone thinks they are funny, but not everyone is.
LAUNCHING A SOCIAL MEDIA SITE

When creating social media content for an official University department, program or college, here are some best practices to follow:

1. Prior to launching your new social media page(s), notify webmaster@csus.edu of your plans. This will allow them to assist by including this content on relevant University pages.

2. Use a department email account. Do not use a personal email account.

3. A manager or director must approve and have access to all social media content.

4. Apply the University’s Identity Style Guidelines when customizing any page that contains official University information.

5. Name your page appropriately:
   a. Acceptable examples — always identify the University name first:
      i. www.facebook.com/sacramentostate — (your unit name)
      ii. www.youtube.com/Sacstate — (your unit name)
   b. Unacceptable names — names that contain personal information or do not follow the style guide:
      i. www.facebook.com/csus/your unit
      ii. www.youtube.com/your name
      iii. www.linkedin.com/your unit name

6. Follow the University Identity Style Guidelines for creating profile pictures. Do not alter or distort University marks. Remember, these images appear extremely small when viewed on mobile devices and newsfeeds. Minimum size requirements may not be met.

Do not use a University logo for the avatar or create an icon with unreadable type at the smallest size used.
FACEBOOK AND BEST PRACTICES

Many universities now have flourishing social media sites, including a majority of sister CSU campuses. Inarguably, the most far-reaching of these sites is Facebook.

Sacramento State’s official Facebook page is overseen by the Office of Public Affairs. The mission of the page is to deepen a sense of community among students, faculty and staff while sharing University news and information. Further, it serves to strengthen brand awareness.

Here are some best practices gleaned from administering the Sacramento State Facebook page — as well as from campus feedback and by studying the pages of other universities.

1. Build it as a “fan” page. The two options on Facebook are personal “friend” profiles, which are optimized for individuals, and “fan” pages, which are geared specifically toward organizations, institutions and businesses. Sac State’s is a fan page. Fan pages have built-in applications to engage audiences and have no limit on the number of fans.

2. Actively maintain it with fresh content.

   As with all things, if you nurture it, it will grow.

3. But don’t be heavy-handed with posts. Too many posts, like too few, can result in the same thing: driving away users.

4. The key: Get to know your audience — and its rhythm. For example, one or two postings a day is generally sufficient, although on some Facebook pages (including Sac State’s), administrators have posted as often as half a dozen to a dozen times a day, which in turn has generated greater interest and traffic.

   Analyze the insights provided by Facebook to get a better idea of which hours and days work well with your audience.

5. Remember, variety is the spice. In any case, it’s usually best to mix it up. Even with pages that can sustain multiple daily posts, there is no need to post several times a day, every day. Also, stagger posts through the morning, afternoon and early evening — no one wants to read a bunch of missives sent in one clump.

   Change it up when it comes to the type of postings as well, keeping a good balance of “hard” news (e.g., Sac State’s President presides at a Budget Town Hall) vs. “soft” (a free film screening at the Union).

6. Find your page’s “voice” and have administrators use it consistently.

   For example, are the postings authoritative (“Try this!”) or more low-key (“You may want to try this”), casual (“Hey Hornets!”) or more formal (“A call out to students?”)? The most popular pages develop their own voice and “personality,” adding to the positive experience of users.

   Also: Keep postings short. Some people follow Facebook on their mobile phones — and posts that go beyond a screen can be irritating.

7. Be diligent in “tagging” other pages or posts.

   It’s like inviting friends over.

8. Use images and video often. They help grab the eye.

9. Stay current. Stay on top of activities and the news. Nothing kills a page faster than to be perceived as being static or out of touch.

10. Maximize your postings by using such applications as Hootsuite, which will allow you to time your posts as well as post on several social media accounts at once.

SACRAMENTO STATE’S FACEBOOK COMMENTING GUIDE

Sacramento State abides by Facebook’s Statement of Rights and Responsibilities* and the University asks that its Facebook fans do as well. In particular, we request that users please adhere to the following:

- Be respectful
- Make no personal attacks
- Do not “post content that is hateful, threatening or pornographic, incites violence, or contains nudity or graphic or gratuitous violence”
- Do not “post unauthorized commercial communications (such as spam)” or “do anything unlawful, misleading, malicious or discriminatory.”

Sacramento State is not responsible for content submitted by other users, and the University reserves the right to remove inappropriate or disrespectful language and images.
MOBILE TECHNOLOGY

The official Sacramento State app is available in both the Apple App store and Google Play. When evaluating mobile app alternatives in your area, consult with Information Resources and Technology (IRT) early in the process as there are authentication, accessibility and security considerations to be considered with all mobile applications. It is often unnecessary to develop a native mobile app and preferable to make your content mobile-aware.

Making Your Content Mobile-Aware

It’s important to start with “clean” accessible and valid HTML in order for your mobile-aware site to function efficiently on mobile devices.

Use the “Resources” links provided to the right to learn about HTML5 and CSS. Alternatively, contact the Service Desk to arrange for IRT to help build you a mobile-aware site with the campus Web Content Management System (WCM).

Building Your Mobile-Aware Site

Training is available to use special responsive designs within the WCM. By using the WCM, the burden of ensuring the correct branding, security and accessibility is carried by IRT.

Branding for Mobile Devices

In most cases, the branding for mobile devices is informed by our current web design guidelines (See Web Section). It is recommended that anyone building a mobile application follow our branding best practices for web design and include the following:

1. An official University logo.
2. Clear and usable navigation that avoids “hover states” (hover states are not usable on touch devices).
3. Our official web color palette defined in our web guidelines.
4. Search is very helpful for users and is strongly recommended.
5. Due to the smaller screens on mobile devices, it is important to consolidate and prioritize your content for best readability.
6. HTML is clean and uses valid HTML5 (see “Resources” at right).
7. Consider a grid system. Modern CSS grid systems make use of responsive design. We currently use Twitter Bootstrap and recommend it for building mobile-aware sites. The latest responsive templates in the WCM are built with the Twitter Bootstrap framework (see “Resources” at right).

SECURITY

Campuses must develop and implement controls for securing protected data stored on mobile devices. Protected data must not be stored on mobile devices unless effective security controls have been implemented to protect the data. Campuses must use encryption, or equally effective measures, on all mobile devices that store Level 1 data as defined in the CSU Data Classification Standard. Alternatives to encryption must be reviewed on a case-by-case basis and approved in writing by a designated campus official. Other effective measures include physical protection that ensures only authorized access to protected data.
