Chancellor's Doctoral Incentive Program

The Chancellor's Doctoral Incentive Program provides financial assistance to individuals who show promise as doctoral students and are interested in CSU instructional faculty positions. While enrolled in full-time doctoral study, selected participants may borrow up to $10,000 annually through the program, limited to $30,000 over a five-year period. If a participant obtains a full-time instructional faculty position at a CSU campus after completion of the doctoral degree, the loan principal and interest are forgiven at the rate of 20 percent of the original loan balance for each year of service.

Participation in the program is not limited to individuals with a prior connection to the California State University. However, applicants must be formally sponsored by a full-time, tenure-track member of the CSU faculty.

The application deadline is Wednesday, Jan. 31. For the application and more information, go to calstate.edu/cdip or contact the Graduate Diversity Office at 278-3834.
