

The 47th Annual Festival of New American Music Call for Scores

The Festival of New American Music brings extraordinary musicians to Sacramento, California, each year to present high-quality performances of a broad body of recently composed or improvised music by some of America's most exciting artists. This year marks the 47th annual Festival – co-directors Dr. Shuying Li and Dr. Jordan Shippy are excited to announce the Inaugural Festival of New American Music Call for Scores. This annual Call for Scores is open to composers of any age. Applicants must reside in the United States, Mexico or Canada. International students on student visas and studying at Colleges and Universities in the US may also apply. The competition is judged by composition faculty and ensemble directors at the California State University, Sacramento School of Music as well as by nationally and internationally recognized festival guest composers. The winning pieces in each category will receive a performance at the 2024 Festival of New American Music.

To enter, or to learn more about the call for scores, visit the link below for the complete Rules and Guidelines.

Eligibility:

Open to composers of any age. Applicants must reside in the United States, Mexico or Canada. International students on student visas and studying at Colleges and Universities in the US may also apply.

Instrumentation:

Category A (Hub New Music): Submitted works may be scored for flute (doubles piccolo and alto flute), clarinet (doubles Bb, A, Eb, bass clarinet), violin, and cello. One work will be selected and performed by resident ensemble, Hub New Music.

Category B (Metaphor Percussion): Submitted works must be scored for two percussionists using a small to medium-sized percussion set-up and may include electronic elements such as digital playback, live processing, and video accompaniment.

Potential instrumentation could include mallet keyboard duo, multi percussion duo, or a combination of pitched and non-pitched percussion instruments. Submissions may include any percussion instrument, but instrument availability will be factored into choosing a winner. One winning work will be selected and performed by Metaphor Percussion.

Category C (Chorus): Submitted works must be scored for mixed choir in 4-6 parts, with moderate divisi, with keyboard accompaniment. One winning work will be performed by Sacramento State University Chorale with director Brett Judson.

Category D (Orchestra): Submitted works must be scored for no more than the following: 2.2.2.2 - 4.3.3.1 - timp +2 - strings. Chamber orchestra works are not accepted at this time. One winning work will be performed by Sacramento State Symphony Orchestra with director Ryan Murray. Concertos are not accepted at this time.

Length:

Compositions may not exceed 10 minutes in length.

Materials for Submission:

Applications will only be accepted via this link. The Application Form will allow up to four works submission (one work for each category).

Composers must include the following materials:

- Full score (PDF format only, do not include parts)
- Audio recording of the piece (MP3 preferable, though MIDI rendering is acceptable)
- Program notes
- Entry fee receipt

Fee: $15 entry fee per work submitted. Each composer can submit up to four works in total.

Judging and award:

A panel of judges will choose four winning compositions from four categories. All winning compositions will be performed at the 2024 Festival of New American Music (October 27-November 1, 2024), at Sacramento State School of Music. In addition, each winner will get a $300 award. It is strongly preferred that the composers be present at the Festival. However, the committee cannot guarantee financial support towards airfare and accommodation for travel arrangements.

Deadline:

Submissions must be time-stamped by 11:59pm PST on July 15, 2024. Winners will be announced by August 20, 2024. All parts are due by August 31, 2024.

Please direct all inquiries to shuying.li@csus.edu.