

Name: Dr. Kevin Lovelace

Biography:

Dr. Kevin Lovelace is a lecturer in the College of Business (Management & Organizations). Dr. Lovelace completed his doctorate degree in Organization and Leadership (eLeadership) at the University of San Francisco in 2015 and holds an MBA in Management and MA in Education Leadership with a concentration in online education. Dr. Lovelace teaches business communication and organizational behavior courses at the undergraduate, graduate, and honors level. His research focuses on e-Leadership and assessment of leadership in high technology organizations. Kevin's academic contributions focus on remote work, leadership philosophy, and providing a framework for effective use of information and communication technologies. Dr. Lovelace is very active with student groups and mentoring future Sacramento State graduates.

Areas of Interest

Teaching Leadership, Communications, Management, Human Resources

Research eLeadership, Healthcare Leadership, Remote Work

Consulting Leadership, Information and Communication Technology, Management

Website Link: <https://www.linkedin.com/in/kevinjlovelace>

Profile Picture:

